"The Illinois Department of Revenue will automatically send these new forms to senior and disabled persons who have filed Circuit Breaker applications in previous years," Huskey explained. "I have them for persons who are filing for the first time, and for others who do not receive a form from the Revenue Dept."

"However, the 1981 applications should NOT be sent to the Revenue Dept. before January 1, 1982," he stressed. "To do so only causes confusion, and can actually delay rather than speed up processing of the claim form."

The 1981 Circuit Breaker applications, Huskey says, must be filed between January 1 and December 31, 1982. To be eligible for part one of the grant -- relief of property taxes paid in 1981 -- applicants must be 65 or older, or 16 and older and totally disabled, before January 1, 1982. They must also be living in Illinois when the claim is filed; had a household income under $12,000 during 1981; and lived in an Illinois residence during 1981 that was subject to the property tax, or in a mobile home subject to the privilege tax.

The second part of the Circuit Breaker grant provides additional tax relief of $80 to the claimant. Persons who qualify for property tax relief are automatically eligible for this program, too. Senior and disabled residents who live in residences not subject to property taxes may also apply.

Savickas drops out of Russo race

"Marty's Magnificent Multitude" has received the best New Year's present they could have ever hoped for -- Frank Savickas has dropped out of the race for Congressman of the 3rd District. To have it any other way would have been a slap in the face for all of the Democrats who have worked so hard over the years to change the Republican image in the south suburbs.

At this point it matters little who made this timely decision, only that someone had the brights to see the inner party damage being done. It would have been ironic for the statemakers that chose Savickas to win the battle in the primary only to lose the war to the Republicans by irate Democrats crossing over in November.

Congressman Marty Russo has served his constituents more than well and the voting public has proven this by returning him to Congress for four terms with a larger number of votes each year. He may not have been a party man as the city wanted him to be but he delivered more votes to the Democrats from the suburbs than the Republicans could deliver for President Reagan.

Russo is very personable, intelligent, has an impeccable background and also has the respect of many Republicans. He has been most visible thru his workshops that criss-cross over the 3rd District and give pleasure to all of those attending. The workshops are on his own time while home over the weekend. If there is another Congressman that does this, it is a well kept secret.

The workshops have been fun for those who want to know what is going on in Washington and have no other way to ask questions but by attendance. Russo talks, the people talk, Russo gets angry, the people get angrier and they all love it.

Russo is allowed funds for offices for information to serve the people. He is one of the few persons elected by the voters that has two offices located to serve those who put him in office. Just like Russo the offices work too. His people are professional, polite and if they can't get you answers today you will get them yesterday. No service is better than that.

What do you think?

Russo Reports from Washington

by Congressman Marty Russo

The House of Representatives has passed a $12 billion foreign aid authorization bill supported by the Administration. Congressman Marty Russo opposed the bill, calling it too costly and a distortion of the nation's real needs.

"The foreign aid bill did contain some good provisions and funding for programs I could support," Russo said. "But it also had too high a price tag and includes programs that do not necessarily serve our best interest as a nation as far as I'm concerned. In addition, some of the aid programs do not directly benefit the people overseas they are designed to serve."

"I think it is unconscionable to be cutting to the bone or eliminating the programs that serve our own citizens and to send billions and billions of dollars overseas. The crunch is being felt already on some of the cut-backs in government services, but it's only just begun. And while we're cutting back on everything from school lunch programs and senior citizen nutrition programs to revenue sharing for cities and transportation programs, we're supposed to be in a position to send money for U.S. military assistance to Argentina? This isn't meeting the nation's real needs."

The bill authorizes $6 billion in fiscal year 1982 and $6.2 billion in fiscal year 1983 for foreign military, development and economic assistance programs. Major programs funded by the bill include military sales, grants, training and the Agency for International Development (AID). The bill also repeals the prohibition on U.S. aid to Argentina.

"The Administration is backing an aggressive foreign policy stance, and I have no argument with this until you carry it to extremes at the cost of other necessary goals for our country," Russo commented. "The Administration is requesting a massive increase in military assistance programs, and paralleling its domestic priorities, has called for reductions in development assistance. I think their priorities are distorted -- in programs overseas and at home. There are more important steps to be taken to ensure our national security than propping up the government of El Salvador, for example."

"Our foreign assistance bill serves as the major legislative vehicle for expressing congressional will with regard to U.S. foreign policy," Russo noted. "It should respond to a range of U.S. strategic, political, economic and humanitarian interests in a wise and prudent way. This legislation did not do so and it is consistent with the inconsistency of this Administration's foreign policy program, which I have been concerned about for some time, as have our allies. This was not the best bill for the times."

machinery to assure small business an equal chance to have its views considered when honest differences of opinion exist.

Approval of this legislation - along with the recent enactment of the regulatory flexibility act and the bill raising small business size standards for state purchasing will help small business survive and prosper," Rep Yourell added.

Elderly paying more tax than law requires

Millions of elderly Americans pay more federal income tax than the law requires! In order to assist older taxpayers in paying only what they owe and no more, volunteers are needed to offer their services in the Tax-Aide Tax Counseling for the Elderly Program. The free tax counseling service is sponsored by the National Retired Teachers Association and the American Association of Retired Persons.

Volunteer tax counselors are needed in the suburbs of Chicago to assist older persons in filing income tax forms, according to Barney Freehill, serving as district coordinator for Tax-Aide Tax Counseling for the Elderly in northern Illinois.

Additional volunteer tax counselors are needed so that more elderly persons may receive free tax service at neighborhood sites. NRTA-AARP is the nation's largest organization dedicated to helping retired persons achieve lives of independence, dignity and purpose.

Tax-Aide, a community service of NRTA-AARP, is conducted in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service. Classes for training of volunteer tax counselors will be conducted by NRTA-AARP and the IRS in January. Persons willing to devote at least 4 hours a week to the Tax-Aide Program during the tax season in February, March and until April 15 may register for the class by telephoning NRTA-AARP Area V Office at 298-2852, 9 am to 5 pm. Volunteer counselors do not have to be members of either NRTA or AARP.

The local Tax-Aide program will offer assistance to older residents at convenient neighborhood locations from February 1 until April 15.

Landmark legislation for small businesses

Rep Yourell announced that both houses of the General Assembly overturned the veto of SB 355 by Governor Thompson.

Yourell said that this landmark legislation provides equal access to justice for businesses - especially small firms - in contested cases initiated by a state agency. It allows for small firms to recover reasonable expenses, including attorney fees incurred in defense against a government allegation proven untrue or without reasonable cause.

"For too long, small business has been unable to defend itself on those occasions where big government finds itself in error," Rep Yourell said.

Rep Yourell stated that "This important measure does not add to or subtract from the imposition of government regulations; it does, however, provide

St. Linus players return for Way Off Broadway '82

The St. Linus players have been rehearsing since September to once again thrill their audiences with their fabulous performances in Way Off Broadway '82.

Way Off Broadway consists of three mini-musicals along with the ever popular Palace Revue.

In times of rising costs, their ticket prices remain reasonably priced at $6 for Friday and $7.50 for Saturday performances. Each ticket includes admittance to all four shows.

Way Off Broadway is returning as was promised in 1980. At that time, the theme was the best of Way Off Broadway, commemorating their 10th consecutive anniversary of shows.

Enthusiasm is building stronger than ever by the some 800 parishioners working together as cast and crew in an atmosphere of love. This coming together and working for a common cause has had a profound effect on their parish community.

Tickets may be purchased now at Village Pharmacy, 5019 W. 95th Street, Oak Lawn. Ticket Central will be open in early January. Make your plans now to attend on one of those two big weekends of February 12-13 or 19-20 at St. Linus School, 103rd & Lawler, Oak Lawn.

The beautiful Sabre Room was the scene for the annual Oak Lawn Trust & Savings Bank Christmas Party held Tuesday, December 8. Hors d'oeuvres, dinner and live entertainment were enjoyed by all directors, officers and staff.

The evening was highlighted with "Cartwright's Cabaret," a display of fine musical, singing and acting talent presented by some 35 of the bank's 70 people. Directors, officers and staff alike joined in the fun in a Christmas show coordinated by Assistant Vice President Roberta Cartwright.

"It's great that a staff this large can get involved to this degree and have so much fun together," stated Director Emil Siganti. "1981 was a year of constant challenge for our industry. This party was a chance for all of our people to relax together and share the rewards of another fine year," stated President LeRoy Corradino.

'Morath built the bandwagon'

Max Morath, master of ragtime piano, will bring his artistry, wit and charm back to Moraine Valley College by popular demand at 3:30 pm Sunday, March 21.

Morath's first appearance at Moraine in 1980 was an overwhelming success. Since then community residents repeatedly have asked to have him back as part of the concert series.

Morath presents an exhilarating tour of turn-of-the-century America, the ragtime years. Happily in tune with another era besides his own, Morath has selected his material with a knowing eye on today's temper and ideas.

The Minneapolis Tribune probably expressed it best in its review of his show. "Morath's not jumping on a bandwagon. Morath built the bandwagon."

For additional information or advance tickets contact the Community Services Center, 700 Building, 10900 S. 88th Avenue, Palos Hills; 974-4844.

Heavy snow, ice, high winds and frigid temperatures are enemies of reliable electric service. So before -- and after -- winter storms rip thru our area, knocking out power, there are a number of steps you should take to help you and your family thru any outage.

If your lights go out, check to see if power is out in the neighborhood or if only your house is affected. If it seems to be affecting only your house, call the local utility office and report the problem. Otherwise, wait a few hours before calling to avoid overloading the switchboard. Chances are, the crews are already on their way.

SXC plays

The delightful comedy, "Butterflies are Free" is scheduled on February 19, 20, 21, 24, 26, 27 and 28. The play tells the tender story of a blind boy who falls in love with the "dizzy" girl next door.

"Equus," by Peter Shaffer, will be presented April 23, 24, 25, 28, 30 and May 1 and 2. This stunning drama tells of a boy who blinds six horses and a doctor who attempts to exorcise the boy's fury without killing his passion for life.

televisions. Also, keep doors and windows shut and drapes and curtains drawn.

If you spot a fallen power line or burning transformer, don't hesitate to give the utility a call. However, do not attempt to move the power line yourself and do not step in nearby puddles. Extra care should be given so that children do not wander near fallen lines.

Always keep a fresh supply of batteries on hand and place a flashlight in a convenient location so you can find it quickly. Transistor radios come in handy, too. Stay tuned to local stations to keep informed about the outage and when the utility expects to have power restored.

Food will stay fresh in a freezer for up to 24 hours but for less time in a refrigerator. It's a good idea to keep refrigerator and freezer doors closed as much as possible so the cold air does not escape. If it appears that the outage may be lengthy, you might want to put dry ice into the refrigerator or remove the contents altogether and store them at the home of a friend or relative who does have electricity.

While electricity is, usually restored within a few hours, damage caused by severe winter ice storms may take longer to repair. This is because heavy ice may cause large sections of wire to fall, and crews must exercise extreme caution when working under these dangerous conditions.

Remembering and practicing these few suggestions will help you and your family through a power outage.

TO SLEEP IS HUMAN. TO SLEEP DURING THE DAY IS DIVINE.

If you were in our shoes, you'd think so too.

Because the way things are now, when nearly everybody's up during the day, it's not so divine. The cost of producing electricity goes up.

You see, the eight million people we serve use an enormous amount of electricity before they go to bed. And our main generating stations, the ones that run on coal and uranium, have an impossible time handling the demand. It takes our oil burners to pull us through.

But oil is far more expensive than coal and uranium. So during the day, electricity costs far more to make. Up to four and a half times more.

Of course, if half of us would volunteer to start sleeping during the day, it would hold down the demand.

Which would also hold down the amount of oil we have to burn, the number of new generating stations we have to build, and the size of the electric bills you have to pay every month.

Since that's asking an awful lot, though, you'll be relieved to know there are other ways to get the job done. Nothing earthshaking. Just conserving a little more in the daytime.

Like not running the dishwasher till 9 or 10 p.m. Or the clothes dryer. Or other easy things like that. When enough people go along, they really can make a difference.

All we have to do is do it together. That's the key. To keeping costs down. To getting some control over tomorrow.

If we only wake up.

Smoke detectors proving disaster prevention measure

In a news release from Chief Fire Inspector R. Murray he stated that on December 24 at approximately 5:15 pm, Mrs. Julie Giranda, who was returning from work, entered the hallway at 10430 S. Mansfield, a ten-unit apartment building. As she entered the hallway, she heard the sound of a smoke detector and then saw smoke oozing from around an apartment door. She quickly ran to the outside of the unit and began to pound on the patio door to notify the occupant. After she received no response, she proceeded to notify another tenant who, in turn, notified the Oak Lawn Fire Department. The fire department responded in four minutes to find a large volume of smoke coming from around an apartment door and had to forcibly enter the unit.

Once in the unit, they found a couch on fire in the living room; the occupant, Dave Carstensen, was still in the bedroom. Carstensen stated that he had been working very long hours and had retired for the evening two hours before the fire was discovered. He also stated that the first thing he heard was crash of the door and then the smoke detector.

In the opinion of the fire department, a disaster was prevented because of the early activation of the smoke detector and the actions of Mrs. Giranda.

The electric smoke detectors were installed in July of 1981 in compliance with the Oak Lawn Fire Department's multiple family code, and it is the hope of the fire department that all residential occupancies install smoke detectors.

Russo urges curb on specialty steel to foreign countries

Congressman Marty Russo has written to U.S. Trade Representative William Brock urging formal acceptance of a petition filed by the United Steelworkers of America and the Specialty Steel Industry of the United States calling on the President to curb imports of specialty steel from government-owned and subsidized steel mills in seven foreign countries.

"I am particularly concerned with the impact that imports of specialty steel are having on our domestic producers," Russo said in his letter to Brock, "and would appreciate prompt and vigorous efforts on your part to consult with foreign governments to end or substantially curtail subsidization by those governments of specialty steel producers."

The petition before the USTR was brought under section 301 of the Trade Agreements Act of 1979 which forbids unfair trade practices like subsidization of exports from abroad. The petition also requested the President to take action under the Subsidy Code of the General Agreement Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Assuming violations are found and consultations with foreign governments do not remedy the situation, the President can impose duties or other import restrictions, or suspend or withdraw various benefits of trade agreement concessions under the Multilateral Trade Negotiations.

The action is believed to be the largest section 301 unfair trade practice case ever filed.

"Subsidized imports have contributed directly to plant closings, increased unemployment, and the significant financial difficulties of some of the most efficient U.S. companies," Russo commented, "and unemployment in specialty steel mills is now well over 20 percent."

"Imports have almost doubled since the first quarter of the year and will go even higher unless our government takes forceful action to enforce our trade laws and the GATT agreement. No matter how efficient our industries, foreign companies can always undercut us on price because almost all of them are either owned outright or heavily subsidized by their governments. It's time our government took a hard look at what is happening in the international trade arena and to insist that other countries abide by the same rules that our workers and industries must abide by."

The seven countries named in the petitions are Belgium, France, Italy, the United Kingdom, Austria, Brazil and Sweden.

Uncle Sam wants everyone

to take a $2,000 tax deduction!

This year, for the first time, all wage earners are eligible to open an IRA (Individual Retirement Account) in an amount up to their legal limit . . . $2000 for individuals. Federal income tax will be deferred on this amount and on the interest earned! Imagine your tax savings or refund for 1982 - $1000 if you are in the 50% tax bracket - $700 in savings in the 35% bracket. Both you and a working spouse may contribute up to $2000, your maximum legal limit, for a total tax deduction of $4000. Best of all, you may take this tax deduction every year.

RAPID GROWTH AT HIGH INTEREST

Your IRA account compounds rapidly. For example: beginning at age 30, depositing $2000 per year, the $70,000 deposited by age 65 would have grown (assuming 12% interest) to a staggering $1,161,139! At 15% interest it would be $2,719,428! Rates may vary at renewal. IRA plans are subject to substantial penalties for early withdrawal before age 59½ and cannot be used as collateral. You must begin to withdraw funds in the year you turn 70½.

FOUR HIGH-INTEREST PLANS

We believe we have one of the most beneficial IRA plans available anywhere. We have four customized savings plans, including our 18-month floating rate account which follows the market conditions monthly. ## Huskey child neglect bill now in effect

Cook County parents can now obtain help collecting delinquent court-ordered child support. Initiated thru legislation sponsored by State Representative Herb Huskey (R), the new program took effect January 3. It requires court-ordered child support payments in Cook County to be made directly to Circuit Court Clerk Morgan Finley. He will automatically notify the parent responsible for paying support within two weeks of a delinquency. If payment is still not made, the matter will be referred to Cook County State's Attorney Richard Daley for enforcement proceedings.

"At long last, the court is not going to tolerate child neglect in Cook County," Huskey said.

"Until now, too many parents who are responsible for the support of their youngsters chose to forget them," he stated. "The very large problem of clothing, feeding and in other ways caring for these children has been forced solely on the custodial parents."

"Most of these parents have been confronted with the unpleasant alternative of either bearing the financial expense and time securing the services of an attorney to collect what the court has already awarded in child support, or they are forced to go on welfare," Huskey explained. "I believe so strongly in this new program that I devoted some five long years of continuous work to see it become a reality."

Both non-public aid and public aid recipients are eligible to participate in the child support collection program. Additional information and assistance can be obtained from Finley's

Firefighter teaches kindergarten children

Firefighter Dan Czarnecki taught fire safety to the kindergarten classes at the Lawn Manor Primary Center in School District 125. Dan used a T.V. viewer to show the children a cartoon filmstrip on correct safety procedure if clothing catches on fire. The children took turns stopping, dropping and rolling to put out a paper flame the fireman placed on slacks or shirt sleeves.

The children beamed when Firefighter Dan gave them each a shiny red firehat for being such an attentive and cooperative audience. The children proudly wore their hats for the remainder of the day.

I cut through the IRA confusion and opened my retirement account with an old friend-Chesterfield Federal.

I work hard and I want a secure retirement. So I decided to open an IRA Retirement Account. For anyone who's working it's a great way to save taxes now, while building a substantial retirement fund. But I'll admit I was confused about where to open my account. It seemed everywhere I looked there was someone else saying something different. I was lost, luckily I had an old friend to turn to... Chesterfield Federal. At Chesterfield they cut through the confusion and set me up with a simple to understand IRA account. They showed me how a person like myself, married with a non-working spouse, could put aside up to $2,250 a year for retirement, and that this money was completely deductible from my income tax. They explained how the tax-deferred deposits and interest allowed my account to grow at a rate much greater than a regular taxable account. Most importantly, unlike some other IRA accounts, my Chesterfield IRA is fully insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC.

There are all kinds of IRA plans around, but why trust your retirement to a stranger? I'm staying with an old friend - Chesterfield Federal.

Associate judgeships open

Chief Circuit Court Judge Harry G. Comerford has announced that ten associate judgeships are now available in the Circuit Court of Cook County.

Judge Comerford said the vacancies will be filled by appointment by April 27, 1982, following screening of applicants by the Circuit Court Nominating Committee. Nominees for the judgeships will be chosen from applicants screened and found qualified by a committee of the Chicago Bar Association, Judge Comerford said.

The vacancies were created by three vacancies and by legislative action making new judgeships.

Additional judgeships created by the legislature will be filled later this year, Judge Comerford announced.

Attorneys licensed to practice law in the state are eligible to file for the judicial vacancies.

Applications may be obtained from the Administrative Office of the Illinois Courts, 30 N. Michigan Avenue, Room 2010, Chicago 60602. They must be filed with Chief Judge Harry G. Comerford, 2600 Richard J. Daley Center, Chicago 60602, and with Roy O. Gulley, Director of the Administrative Office of the Illinois Courts, on or before Wednesday, February 3, 1982.

Tax levy down in District 126

The tax levies made by School District 126 in July 1981, for property taxes to be collected in 1982, will result in a tax rate decline in the August 82 tax bills reported Reed Powers, School Board President. He noted that the District 126 School Board in July 81 reduced the tax levies in 4 funds and made no increases in 4 funds. Only one fund was increased. "The result will be a lower School District 126 tax rate for residents in August 1982," said Powers.

The charge of County Clerk Kusper and Assessor Tom Hynes of "local taxing bodies over levying", is not true in District 126 according to Supt. Smith. "Just the opposite is true. For 4 consecutive years the District 126 tax rate has been reduced," said Dr. Smith. He noted that the $2.70 tax rate of 1974 has been reduced 16% to $2.26 in 1981.

Not only have levies in some funds been reduced, but the Special Education Building Fund levy was discontinued in 1979 and there was no Life Safety Fund levy in 1980. "We

Chicago Circle concert January 20th

Chicago choreographer Maggie Kast will present three of her works, including the premiere of a new group dance composition, at a concert at 1 pm, January 20 at Illinois U, Chicago Circle.

The concert, free and open to the public, will include the first performance of Kast's "Under-surface," choreographed for the six members of the Chicago repertory group Akasha & Company. Contrasting the superficial routine of daily urban living with the dreams, wishes and fears that parallel everyday life, the dance includes vocals and rhythmic sounds by the dancers and traditional English folk songs. Costume design is by Rick Paul and lighting design is by Ken Bowen.

The program will also include "So to Speak," Kast's collaboration with the video production group After Image in which she performs a duet with a life-sized video image. Critically acclaimed following its premiere last spring, the piece includes an original score by Alan Gerber. A third work, "Dies Irae," also will be performed.

The concert will be held in the Illinois Room of Chicago Circle Center, 750 S. Halsted Street. For additional information call 996-2628.

Children find learning can be fun

Students of Miss Margaret Scott, Developmental Resource Teacher, look forward to visiting the resource room at the Lawn Manor Primary Center in School District 125. The children work individually or in small groups on specific subject areas. Miss Scott uses a wealth of games, manipulatives, and learning aids that make learning so much fun, the

First grader, David Wills, thinks mastering games seems more like play than work in Miss Kathleen McClowry's Learning Resource class at the Lawn Manor Primary Center. David finds hands on activity both interesting and rewarding.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice of Proposed Changes in Schedule To Patrons of Commonwealth Edison Company

Commonwealth Edison Company hereby gives notice to the Public that it has filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission on January 8, 1982 proposed changes in its rates and charges for electric public utility service in all of the areas in which it provides retail service.

Such changes involve and would effect a general rate increase, providing for estimated increases in charges for the following classes of customers: Residential - 19.5%; Residential Space Heating Customers - 19.5%; Water Heating - 19.5%; Commercial, Industrial and Governmental - 19.5%; Governmental Pumping - 19.5%; Transit Services - 19.4%; Street and Area Lighting - 14.3%.

The proposed charges would increase the bills of a residential customer using 300 kilowatthours in any month by $4.73 per month (19.0%) averaged over the year. If the customer used 600 kilowatthours a month, the corresponding increase would be $9.47 (19.5%) and if 1,000 kilowatthours, $15.76 (19.6%). The increases shown include estimated average 1983 fuel adjustment and revenue taxes but exclude charges for optional light bulb service. The proposed increases may, therefore, vary slightly from the above amounts depending on place of residence and whether the customer has chosen bulb service.

A copy of the proposed changes in schedule may be inspected by any interested party at any business office of this Company.

All parties interested in this matter or who desire further information with respect to these changes may obtain information with respect thereto either directly from this Company or by addressing the Office of the Chief Clerk of the Illinois Commerce Commission, Springfield, Illinois 62706.

STICKING OUR HEADS IN THE SAND WON'T SOLVE THE PROBLEM.

These are tough times. Inflation, high interest, recession, all at one time.

Like most every company today, we've already done every prudent thing possible to cut expenses. But like everyone else, we've been hit by one unrelenting cost increase after another during the past year.

Unfortunately, they're jeopardizing our ability to maintain reliable electric service and meet the future needs of northern Illinois. And bringing us face to face with an enormous problem.

On the one hand, we can stop our plant construction program. Or postpone it.

Or we can keep going, and ask for a nineteen-percent rate increase. Not only to help finish the plants, but also to cover those rising costs.

This won't be popular, and we know it's going to hurt; but that's the course we're forced to take.

Because popularity isn't the issue. The issue is the reason why. Why it's absolutely essential that we finish the nuclear generating stations well underway at Byron, Braidwood and La Salle.

It's not just because of the billions of dollars stopping construction now would waste. Or the millions of dollars a year it would cost every year we delay. Or that northern Illinois will ultimately need the electricity those plants will produce.

It's because those plants are the best available way to put a damper on rising electric rates. To keep future increases small when they are necessary and below increases in the cost of living.

The fact is, the nuclear fuel required to make a kilowatt-hour of electricity only costs one-fifth as much as coal. One-tenth as much as oil. And too much of our electricity is still generated from oil.

So finishing those nuclear plants will eliminate the need for a lot of that expensive coal and oil. Especially the oil. And literally save you billions of dollars in the process.

A coal or oil plant may cost less to put up, but not to operate. When you consider the huge fuel savings over the useful life of these nuclear plants, they're far, far cheaper in the long run.

So in the long run, continuing our construction program is the best solution there is.

Park Lawn School residential center closer to reality

It was a happy occasion for members of the Park Lawn Association recently when the purchase of the Worth Township building made their dream of a residential center a little closer to reality.

Pictured at the closing at First National Bank of Evergreen Park were Dr. Joseph McCarthy, Worth Township Supervisor; Mr. Tom Stepanek, Director of the Park Lawn Association, Mrs. Kathy Supanich, Secretary, and Mr. William Wood, President of the Park Lawn Association.

Renovation of the building is expected to be completed in the spring at which time the center's mentally retarded will take up residence at the facility.

Park Lawn invites organizations, churches, and other community groups to participate in the creation of this center. Park Lawn has served the mentally-retarded in school, workshop, and other programs for the past 27 years with much support from the community. Such help will continue to be needed with this additional residential service.

For information, call Mrs. Durante, 425-3344, during school hours Monday through Friday.

Senator Ozinga steps aside for Maher

"The recent dilemma over reapportionment has caused a great deal of confusion and frustration among those of us who have been serving in the legislature, as well as our constituents," according to a recent statement by Senator Frank Ozinga.

"I find that Evergreen Park, my residence, has been swallowed up by the City of Chicago's new District 15," Ozinga said. "Many of my friends and former constituents now live in the Palos-Orland-Tinley areas and have urged me to seek the Senate seat from that area -- new District 19. Included amongst those encouraging me to continue in the Senate was our Republican Leader, Senator Pate Phillip. The decision by the panel of judges who redrew the southern tip of that District to include my good friend and seatmate, Senator Bill Maher of Homewood, caused me to reconsider. To continue the race would only serve to create unnecessary expenditure of funds, division in the party, and the risk of ill feelings that often accompany political campaigns.

"I have served the people of the State of Illinois for 26 years as their Senator," Ozinga continued. "During that time many things have changed. My children have grown up, and I now have grandchildren. Expansion and complexities in our state government have made many changes during that

Russo named delegate to Democratic National Party Conference

Congressman Marty Russo has been named to serve as a delegate this summer, at the National Party Conference sponsored by the Democratic National Committee. The Conference is the kick-off for the 1982 Democratic campaign and will provide a forum for discussion of public policy issues, party building and party leadership activities.

Russo was chosen by his congressional colleagues of the Illinois, Kentucky and Indiana zone to be their zone representative at the Conference, and the full House Democratic Caucus gave final approval to that choice this week.

"I am gratified by this honor," Russo commented. "As a Democrat I am particularly pleased to have the opportunity to work on party issues and purpose at a time when our country is in great need of a strong and unified Democratic party."

Also attending the Conference in Philadelphia this summer will be 23 additional participants chosen by the Democratic Caucus in the House, members of the Democratic National Committee plus those chosen by the Democratic State Central Committee and other party organizations which hold membership on the Democratic National Committee.

Congressman Russo was previously a delegate both to the Democratic Convention in 1980 and the Inaugural Mid-term Convention held in Kansas City in 1974. "My participation in those two party conclaves has given me the background of knowledge that can now be utilized by taking a more active role in the formulation of much needed initiatives in the Democratic Party and I intend to make my presence felt this time," said Russo.

to take a $2,000 tax deduction!

This year, for the first time, all wage earners are eligible to open an IRA (Individual Retirement Account) in an amount up to their legal limit ... $2000 for individuals. Federal income tax will be deferred on this amount and on the interest earned! Imagine your tax savings or refund for 1982 - $1000 if you are in the 50% tax bracket - $700 in savings in the 35% bracket. Both you and a working spouse may contribute up to $2000, your maximum legal limit, for a total tax deduction of $4000. Best of all, you may take this tax deduction every year.

RAPID GROWTH AT HIGH INTEREST

Your IRA account compounds rapidly. For example: beginning at age 30, depositing $2000 per year, the $70,000 deposited by age 65 would have grown (assuming 12% interest) to a staggering $1,161,139! At 15% interest it would be $2,719,428! Rates may vary at renewal. IRA plans are subject to substantial penalties for early withdrawal before age

59½ and cannot be used as collateral. You must begin to withdraw funds in the year you turn 70½.

FOUR HIGH-INTEREST PLANS

OLCHS Annual Jazz Festival

Oak Lawn Community High School is getting ready for the 23rd Annual Oak Lawn Jazz Festival on Saturday, February 13. Five performing centers will run from 8 am to 4:30 pm at the school, 94th and Southwest Hwy in Oak Lawn.

Fire Department advice prevents scalding burns

How hot is your hot water? One of the leading causes of burn injuries suffered in the home is scalding. The main tragedy of this is that most of these injuries occur to children.

Check the temperature setting on your hot water heater. If you do not absolutely need to have it set high, lower the temperature. You'll save money and lessen the chances of you or one of your children suffering a painful burn if you turn down the heat on the tank.

The Oak Lawn Fire Department's Fire Prevention Bureau will be more than happy to assist you with any questions you may have relative to fire and burn prevention. Call 422-0388 if you need assistance.

Southwest Hwy in Oak Lawn.

The jazz festival will host 90 high school and junior high school groups that represent a broad spectrum of jazz; big bands, combos, show choirs, jazz vocalists, and swing. Over 2000 musicians will perform thruout the day to an estimated audience of 7000 jazz music enthusiasts.

Following the competition a faculty combo from the American Conservatory of Music, featuring top pros from the Chicago area and guitarist Jack Peterson from the leading jazz college in the country, North Texas State, will perform in the Spartan Gym at 4:45 pm. Admission is free to this portion of the festival.

The evening program will begin at 7:30 pm and will feature the ten outstanding ensembles selected from the daytime competition. They will be competing for the best of festival traveling trophy, awarded by the Oak Lawn Community High School Band Parents Assn.

'55 Alive Mature Driving'

"'55 Alive-Mature Driving", a new innovative driver education program designed by the National Retired Teachers Association and the American Association of Retired Persons specifically to help older drivers improve their driving skills, is being offered in a two-day classroom refresher course Thursday, Feb 11 and Friday, Feb 12-12:30 til 4:30 both days, at Oak Lawn Library, 9444 S. Cook Ave.

The effects of aging and medication on driving, basic driving rules, local driving hazards, accident prevention measures and re-licensing requirements for older drivers are among the topics to be covered.

A course fee of $5 helps offset overall program costs. Reservations may be made with Mr. Ray Ristow, Instructor, Phone 423-4373.

Men and women 55 years of age or older, who are licensed drivers, are eligible to participate in the program and may even qualify to become driver instructors. For further information, send your name, address and phone number to Ray Patten, "'55 Alive" State Coordinator, 7951 LaVergne Ave., Burbank, Ill. 60459, phone (312) 422-8060.

"'55 Alive-Mature Driving" was developed with data collected from state motor vehicle departments throughout the country and from a number of professional groups, including the American Medical Association, American Optometric Association and American Automobile Association.

Since its institution, the retesting procedure has made many older Illinois citizens more aware of a potential problem with their driving. Developed by NRTA-AARP, "'55 Alive-Mature Driving" is the only course of its kind geared to the particular needs of older motorists.

New nutrition program developed at LCMH

As most of us know, the experts advocate good nutrition for healthy bodies. However, good nutrition may be even more important at a time when our bodies are dealing with the onslaught of various forms of cancer treatment.

According to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, doctors and researchers have found that patients who eat well during their treatment period, regardless of the type of treatment, are better able to stand the side effects and may, in fact, even be able to withstand a higher dose of certain treatments.

To this effect a new Oncology Nutrition program has been developed by oncology dietitians at Little Company of Mary Hospital to provide specific advice on good nutrition for cancer patients.

Held from 1:30 pm to 2:15 pm each Wednesday, in the sixth floor solarium, the meetings will touch upon such topics as overcoming a lack of appetite and the change in protein and caloric needs. In addition, special dishes will be prepared for taste testing and recipes will be available.

For further information on this program, please call the hospital, 422-6200, extension 5830.

Chicago Lung Association offers Nordic Ski Trek

A Nordic Ski Trek, sponsored by the Chicago Lung Assn, February 26-28, will offer three days of wilderness cross country skiing and camping in Michigan's Allegan State Game Area.

"Skiers will experience the ultimate in winter adventure, demonstrate the need for good lungs and clean air and help others while doing so," said John Binder, special events director for the Lung Association, who will lead the group.

A diverse three-session training program to help trekkers develop skills for winter self-reliance will be held at Campfitters Ltd., 924 Davis Street, Evanston, on January 28, February 3 and 10 at 7 pm. Skilled outdoor experts from the Illinois National Guard, the Evanston Recreation Department and other groups will instruct the trek participants about suitable outdoor clothing, equipment and packing, navigation and travel, cold injuries, winter survival and acquaint them with the wilderness ethic.

"This is a new challenge for the outdoor person," said Binder. "Advanced training and skilled leadership will help people to feel comfortable and competent in the cold so they can enjoy the wilderness safely while preserving its natural beauty. In a setting like this, it's nearly impossible not to have fun."

Each trek participant who must be over 17 and in good health will be keeping a commitment to raise $200 in pledges from friends and business associates to protect the environment and lung health. There will also be a grand prize for the trekker who raises the greatest amount in pledges as well as special incentive prizes. Chicago Lung Association will provide food and logistical support.

For further information about the Nordic Ski Trek contact John Binder at Chicago Lung Association by calling 243-2000, ext., 47.

Yourell blasts leniency in drug charge

Rep Harry "Bus" Yourell criticized a federal judge and the Drug Enforcement Administration for releasing a suspected drug pusher on his own recognizance instead of setting bail. The person was charged with possession of controlled substance with intent to distribute.

Yourell just recently sponsored HB 249 which became law and sets bail for suspected drug pushers at the same amount as the street value of drugs seized during the arrest. HB 249 also provides that upon conviction state and local judges shall set the fine at the full street value of the drugs seized in addition to any other fines.

Yourell's bill hits the dope pusher where it hurts them the most, in their pocket-book. "Drug dealing is a multi-million dollar business that requires lots of money and time to stop," said Yourell.

Yourell stated that unfortunately his law applies only to state and local courts and has no jurisdiction in the Federal courts. Yourell is now in the process of sending a copy of his bill to the entire Illinois delegation urging them to take action. "In the meantime, I urge all Federal agencies to look what we've done on a state level and implement this as much as possible before letting dope pushers out on the street with no 'bail'."

Savickas right on target

Just recently, State Senator Frank D. Savickas urged the Chicago Board of Education to "conduct hearings" in suburban areas effected by the new plan to desegregate schools by the threat of busing. We believe that the Senate Assistant Majority Leader was right on target and we have printed his statements in full for the benefit of our readers.

Savickas explained that "since this scheme provides the mechanisms to enforce busing between suburban and city schools, it is then incumbent upon the Board of Education to solicit the opinions and criticisms of suburban parents, schools and taxpayers".

Savickas criticized the board's plan for racial busing "since it will only result in 'school busting' and not in enhancing the quality of education for a single child." He cited the fact that even the proposed "Plan" states that busing on such a large scale has never succeeded before.

"Busing is not a racial issue to those children and parents affected," said Savickas taking a firm stand on the issue. "I have yet to meet a black, white or brown parent that wants to see their children spend as much time on a bus as they spend in the classroom. Therefore, on behalf of all parents of all races touched by this social experiment, I oppose busing of our children for purposes of desegregation because it's nothing but a means of social experimentation! It hasn't worked in the past, it is opposed by all those affected and is destroying quality education in our classrooms. It's wrong and that's all there is to it!"

Savickas called the new plan a means of "reverse discrimination made obvious by the fact that it refers to the present 17 percent white school population as a 'majority' and the remaining 83 percent as a 'minority'."

Savickas urged the board to become more concerned with "teaching our children in their neighborhood schools the basic education to become successful in life and stop spending so much time and money on reporting on how many blacks are in one school and whites in another. That's not what taxpayers are paying educators to do."

In attacking numerous areas of the plan, Savickas asked: "Where will the authors of this social experiment called 'busing' be when our children start to ask why we let them be used as guinea pigs for society's racial concerns?"

In explaining that the responsibility for busing being forced upon us, Savickas stated that "it directly lies on the federal governments doorstep and that is why we must ask our Congressional delegation why they continue to vote in favor of funding the Justice Department's activities."

In concluding his remarks, Savickas urged "that we resolve to ask those questions now that our children will ask later, before it's too late, before we go any further towards destroying their education and our neighborhoods."

What do you think?

Taxpayers losers in delayed medicaid payments

Rep. Harry "Bus" Yourell claimed that the taxpayers are the losers because of the mismanagement of the Department of Public Aid in late payments to medicaid vendors.

Under a bill sponsored by Yourell in 1979, it required prompt payment by the state for goods and services by reducing the 60 day period to 30 days and the 90 day period to 60 days. If payment is not made, a 1 percent interest penalty will be applied each month to any amount approved by the state that remained unpaid.

Yourell continued by saying "that not only do the taxpayers lose in regard to the use of their taxpaying dollars, but also in reduced services and higher costs by hospitals, doctors, pharmacists, nursing homes and others who provide medical care since these costs are passed on to the consumer."

Yourell explained "that the intent of his bill was to

Supplemental Security recipients must report changes

People who receive Supplemental Security Income must report changes which affect the amount of their checks promptly, or run the risk of having to pay a penalty. Mrs. Rosalie Thompson, district manager of the Evergreen Park Social Security Office said recently that individuals who fail to report certain changes in income and living arrangements may have to pay a penalty amounting to $25 for the first late report, up to $100 for repeated failures to report.

Mrs. Thompson listed several specific situations which require reports to Social Security when a person receives an SSI check: a move, or any change of address; separation from a spouse, or starting to live together again after a separation; an increase in earnings, or in a spouse's earnings; receiving help or money from someone else to pay bills; selling a home, car or other personal property; receiving an increase in other pensions, or an increase in the value of bank accounts, or the interest paid on bank accounts.

Mrs. Thompson said that this money penalty for late reports is unique to the Supplemental Security Income program, which is a welfare program administered by the Social Security Administration and supported by both State and Federal funds. This particular penalty rule does not apply to people receiving retirement, survivors, or disability payments under the Social Security Law.

There are, however, fairly severe criminal penalties on both programs. These penalties apply when a person is found to have deliberately given false information or concealed information, in order to get payments, or to get larger payments than are actually due. The punishment for giving false information can amount to one year in prison and a fine of $1,000.

The Supplemental Security Income program relies heavily on volunteer reporting from SSI participants. The Social Security office reviews most SSI claims every year, but the annual review, alone, is not enough to keep all payments correct and current, she says.

Questions about the SSI program, and reports of changes which could affect SSI checks should be sent to the nearest Social Security office. Telephone inquiries can be made Monday through Friday between 9 am and 4:45 pm. The number to call is 239-1200 (city); 594-2876 (suburbs).

provide quicker payment by the state and thus make itself more attractive to business concerns contemplating business with the state."

Yourell called upon

Governor Thompson to act swiftly in correcting the problem. "With budget cuts hitting all departments it makes no sense to be paying a 1 percent per month for late payments."

NEW GOLF COURSE COMPLETED WILL OPEN SPRING - 1982

In reply to several inquiries about the new Cook County Forest Preserve District Golf Course at 163rd and Central Avenue, I am happy to advise that the project is virtually completed and will be opened for play in the Spring of 1982.

As previously reported this is a championship course on 295 rolling acres costing over one million dollars, with additional features such as four tee positions on each hole permitting players to travel 5,550 to 7,170 yards in 18 holes. There are eight retention ponds doubling as water hazards, some 60 sand traps and automatic watering of fairways with average to large greens. An illuminated driving range was in operation from July thru October, 1981, and will reopen in early Spring, 1982. Energy propelled carts will be available at reasonable rates. Congenial Ralph Maroney, Superintendent, who has been living on the property will be glad to answer any additional questions relative to this beautiful facility after the actual opening date February 1, 1982. Phone 429-6886.

The green's fees for the new course have not been determined as yet, but if past practice is observed the charge for Seniors for 18 holes, Monday thru Friday, would be $3.50 or $1.00 more than presently paid at Pipe O Peace, 131st and Halsted.

I would suggest that all interested golfers take a ride out to the new golf course to get a first hand impression of this superb establishment.

People Responsible To Report Events

People who receive Social Security retirement or survivor benefits have important responsibilities to report events that may affect the receipt of or the amount of their monthly checks, a Social Security spokesperson said recently.

Any change should be reported promptly so that checks can be stopped or started with as little inconvenience to the person as possible. In addition, a person could also be penalized some checks if a change is not promptly reported, the representative said.

Changes that must be reported are:

- Change in mailing address. The post office should also be notified.
- Earnings of more than the annual limit—In 1981, $4,080 for people under 65 and $5,500 for people 65 and over.
- A person goes outside the United States or works outside the U.S.
- Divorce or annulment of marriage.
- Marriage
- Adoption of a child.
- Child leaves the care of a parent.

- Child nearing 18 is a full-time student or is disabled.
- Change in school attendance for student 18-22.
- If a person becomes unable to manage his or her own funds.
- If a person receiving benefits dies.

More information about reporting can be obtained at any Social Security office. A free booklet, Your Social Security rights and responsibilities—Retirement and survivors benefits is available which contains more detailed information about reports.

'Quit Smoking Clinic' at St Francis Hospital

Your New Year's resolution to quit smoking can soon become a reality by attending the "Quit Smoking Clinic" at St. Francis Hospital in Blue Island, scheduled for February 9 through 12 and 15. The clinic is co-sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Designed to offer group support, information and methods of modifying behavior, the clinic will run for four consecutive evenings, Tuesday through Friday, from 7-9 pm in the St. Francis assembly hall. A follow-up meeting will be held at the same time and place the following Monday.

It is one of the many

February 1982 raises the curtain on the 50th year, The Golden Anniversary, of Service Electric Company.

In the depths of the Great Depression, 1932, two partners, Emil De Haan and William Veldhouse, opened their store at 9019 South Cottage Grove. They advertized, "We Service and Repair Anything Electrical. No Job Too Small". They did, indeed, live up to their ads. If electric current propelled it, Service repaired it quickly and at a minimal charge. There is a paid invoice still in evidence with the company indicating a home service charge of $1.00.

The years passed, the partners worked long hours, often seven days a week, plowing every spare dollar programs developed by St. Francis to provide south suburban residents an opportunity to achieve maximum good health.

Among the topics to be discussed at the clinic are: Health effects of smoking, why you smoke, triggers and coping skills, withdrawal symptoms, benefits of quitting, deep breathing and relaxation skills and behavior and lifestyle changes.

Pre-registration is encouraged for this well-attended program. There is a $10 fee to registrants.

To register, call the St. Francis Hospital, Community Relations Department, at 597-2000, extension 5603, weekdays, 8 am - 5 pm.

Service Electric celebrates 50th Anniversary

back into the company. And the seed took hold and the company grew and their reputation for honesty and efficient work grew with them.

New employees were added, always with an eye toward the future. The employees were carefully screened and trained. Some are now on pension after spending a working lifetime with Service. That same training and promotional policy is still followed today.

After the war, 1945, came the building boom. New homes blossomed in prairies like the flowers they replaced. Service left the Cottage Grove Store in favor of a larger location at 209 East 79th Street. The lighting fixture showroom, always an integral part of the company, was greatly expanded.

In less than ten years, Service again outgrew its premises. In 1953, the company moved into its own specially constructed building at 8345 South Ashland. The name Service Electric became a household word for most of the south-side and the southern and western suburbs. Service's large fleet of red and white trucks ranged far in all directions, always in contact by two-way radio with the shop dispatcher. In the past 35 years, Service has wired more than 100,000 new dwellings, plus hundreds of commercial, industrial and institutional structures.

Service continued to prosper and grow. In 1971, the inevitable happened. The company became too big for its walls. Once again plans were drawn to construct a modern place in Alsip, incorporating all the latest electrical techniques of electrical service and supply. Spacious stockroom areas were formed to assure a back up inventory for more than a thousand fixtures and lamps displayed in the showrooms. The showroom manager has assembled a variety of lighting fixtures, lamps and decorator items unmatched in beauty and style.

On March 25, 1972, Service occupied its present building, 11400 South Cicero in Alsip. The new building stands as a monument to the two partners, Emil De Haan and William "Bill" Veldhouse, and to their wives, who worked at their side, and to the hundreds of faithful employees, who made it all possible.

In the play, the Queen Mother does not wish her son ever to marry and so she invents impossible tasks to discredit the royal claims of any princess. As each young lady fails, the kingdom becomes increasingly uneasy, for no one in the kingdom can marry until the prince is betrothed.

If you find water in your basement, remember the basic fact that water and electricity don't mix.

A great potential for risk of injury from electric shock exists if your body completes a path for electricity.

Don't be fooled by the nonobvious; the water may be covering an extension cord on the floor, covering the motors in dryers, furances, refrigerators, or covering an electrical outlet - so don't think that the potential danger is not there simply because it cannot be seen. Water may have worked its way into contact with the electrically "live" parts of such equipment and is itself electrically alive.

The first think that must be done is to shut off all electrical power, if the power can be shut off without going into the wet basement. Place all switches or breakers in the distribution panel in the "off" position. If you don't know how to do this, or you have to go thru the water to reach the main panel, call your local fire department. They know how to deal with the possibly lethal combination of water and electricity.

Will rubber boots protect you? Not always! Wearing boots or other protective equipment may not be the answer to wading thru water to reach a panel. Water can work its way thru very small holes or cracks in protective footwear or clothing and may contact parts of your body and complete a path to ground.

If, after careful consideration with complete knowledge of your basement's electrical circuits and supply, you have concluded that water is not contacting live parts, still be extremely careful about walking in the water and turning on lights or touching electrical equipment. Under no circumstances go barefoot. Remember that both feet implanted in water provides a complete conductive path for electricity to go to ground thru your body.

After the water has subsided, allow a drying out period before using any of the electrical equipment, and send any water-logged appliances to their manufacturers' service center for reworking. If you have to clean any piece of equipment, be sure that the equipment is disconnected from the source of electricity by pulling the plug or opening the circuit breaker or switch.

Indiana State seek women for free mining engineering course

Indiana State University Evansville, is seeking female applicants for a tuition-free program in mining engineering technology. Twenty-three women will be accepted for the Women in Mining Engineering Technology program, which is funded with a $99,731 grant from the National Science Foundation. On completion of the intensive 14-month program, these women will be able to enter well-paying jobs in a field where few women are employed.

Applicants must hold a bachelor's degree and have course work in general chemistry, general physics, and calculus. Classified as a "re-entry" program, it is intended to aid the woman who has been out of the work force for a period of time and needs new skills to allow her to enter a different field. Applicants are being sought thruout Indiana, Kentucky, and Illinois.

According to Sylvia Weinzapfel, project director, a strong candidate for acceptance might be a woman who studied mathematics or science, perhaps in preparation for teaching, then left her career to devote time to a family. "The requirement for science and mathematics is a necessity because the technical courses these women will pursue demand an understanding of basic scientific and mathematic theory," she says.

Weinzapfel also pointed out that the job placement possibilities for graduates are excellent. "Only three percent of all engineers are women. The projected figure for job growth in the 1980s is better than 22% for engineers and the expected job growth for mining engineers is a phenomenal 58%," she explains. "The career possibilities are tremendous, the career development unlimited, and the financial rewards excellent."

Not all mining engineering technology graduates accept jobs as mining engineers. Other job opportunities exist in designing, surveying, teaching, mine equipment sales, and with state and federal mining agency inspection and enforcement.

The number of women entering mining engineering technology programs is increasing, but slowly. It is hoped this program will re-train women in mining engineering technology so they have highly marketable skills in an industry which has trouble filling personnel requirements.

In addition to course work, participants in this program will benefit from a semester in a co-op position in the mining industry.

Funds from the National Science Foundation will cover all tuition costs for each student accepted in the program. In addition, for those who qualify, there is a small stipend available. This program is one of several NSF-funded programs in the United States, and is one of 15 re-entry programs funded by NSF this year.

Persons interested in applying for admission to the program should immediately contact Sylvia Neff Weinzapfel, Indiana State U, at 812/464-1863.

January 10th's record cold came awfully close to crippling us here in northern Illinois.

Most of us stayed in, turned up the heat, turned on the TV, the hi-fi, the electric blanket, anything and everything that'd make life more comfortable.

Our people couldn't stay inside. Commonwealth Edison linemen, nearly 400 strong, fought the bitter cold, repairing broken power lines. A thousand more came out to work on other weather-related problems.

The power flowed. In spite of the frozen fuel oil lines at our generators. In spite of frozen coal piles. In spite of the frozen coal-handling equipment that kept us from getting fuel to our boilers.

What picked up the slack, what saved the day, was our backup power and our strong base of nuclear stations. Most of all, our nuclear stations. They continued uninterrupted, unruffled by the cold or the wind.

Thanks to nuclear power and the dedication of our employees, over 98% of our customers in northern Illinois went untouched. Of those customers who did experience any outage, most had service back within minutes to a few hours.

It's a record we're proud of. A record of reliable service all of the employees of Commonwealth Edison intend to maintain, whatever comes up.

But weatherproof energy requires continual maintenance. And finishing the new nuclear facilities now under construction.

That'll keep us moving. So you can keep getting the kind of service you did on the coldest day in history.

I cut through the IRA confusion and opened my retirement account with an old friend-Chesterfield Federal.

I work hard and I want a secure retirement. So I decided to open an IRA Retirement Account. For anyone who's working it's a great way to save taxes now, while building a substantial retirement fund. But I'll admit I was confused about where to open my account. It seemed everywhere I looked there was someone else saying something different. I was lost, luckily I had an old friend to turn to... Chesterfield Federal. At Chesterfield they cut through the confusion and set me up with a simple to understand IRA account. They showed me how a person like myself, married with a non-working spouse, could put aside up to $2,250 a year for retirement, and that this money was completely deductible from my income tax. They explained how the tax-deferred deposits and interest allowed my account to grow at a rate much greater than a regular taxable account. Most importantly, unlike some other IRA accounts, my Chesterfield IRA is fully insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC.

There are all kinds of IRA plans around, but why trust your retirement to a stranger? I'm staying with an old friend - Chesterfield Federal.

Oak Lawn Fire Department offers free babysitting course

The Oak Lawn Fire Department will conduct a free babysitting course beginning on Thursday, February 25, and running thru Thursday, April 1, from 7 to 8:30 pm each Thursday night. The six week course will be conducted by Chief Fire Inspector Ron Murray, head of the Fire Prevention Bureau.

The course will be open to all Oak Lawn residents

Classes will be held at the Church of the Nazarene, 6343 W 90th Place. The purpose of the course is to instruct students in the handling of emergencies and to insure Oak Lawn parents that their children are being taken care of by a qualified and competent individual.

The first session, February 25, will be an orientation program by Chief Inspector

Murray and Lieutenant Moran. Subjects covered will be "Why we are here", "When to call the Fire Department", and "How to call the Fire Department", and a movie, "Amy".

Session two, March 4, will be "Common Emergencies"; burns, poison, bleeding, shock, etc, conducted by Inspector Dan Czarnecki and the Fire Department paramedics; and the "Parents' Viewpoint" of good and bad babysitters, such as use of refrigerator, T.V., phone, and wages, conducted by Yvonne Woulfe.

St Linus Church, 10300 Lawler, Oak Lawn, is both delighted and proud to announce the opening of their "Way Off Broadway" Production. For those unfamiliar with the Way Off Broadway Show, it is described at St Linus' musical fantasy trip to that famous street in New York fondly known as Broadway. They have labored hard and lovingly to create for their guests a camelot of make believe in a time when society seems to have lost the art of relaxing and fantasizing.

Way Off Broadway made its debut in 1971. Although many physical changes have occurred, because of enthusiastic audiences, the general musical theme has remained the same. "The St Linus Players" will again present three mini-musicals and the show stopping "Palace Revue". In addition to the four main shows, there are entertainment filled lounges, "Midway", game of chance area and the newest addition, "The Copa Nightclub".

After 10 successful years, Way Off Broadway ceased its productions in 1980. The general thought was to take a year off and return "anew in '82". General chairlady, Jean Byrnes stresses the point that all performers are members of St Linus Parish. Auditions for the '82 show were held in September and rehearsals began in early October.

WOB, as the show has fondly been dubbed, is the result of some 800 enthusiastic parishioners working together in an atmosphere of love. About 150 parishioners participate on stage while the remainder work behind the scenes building sets, painting scenery, making costumes and organizing committees for the various areas of production. This coming together has had a profound effect on the "St Linus Family". The closeness of the people involved and the genuine caring for one another is clearly visible thruout the community.

With all systems GO -- the general public is invited to come out and enjoy the result of their efforts; an evening of musical relaxation.

Show nights are Friday and Saturday, February 12-13 and 19-20. Tickets, which include all four shows are $6 for Friday nights and $7.50 for Saturday nights performances. Purchase your tickets early as attendance will be limited for your comfort and enjoyment. Tickets and further information are available by calling Ticket Central, 424-7800. Ticket Central, located in the St Linus Rectory, will be open Monday - Saturday, 10 am to 5 pm and Sundays, 9:30 am to 1:30 pm. Tickets are also available at Village Pharmacy, 5019 W 95th Street, or M'Lord Barber Shop, 8100 W 95th Street, Hickory Hills.

Christ Hospital, Mrs Copps.

Session five, March 25, will be "A Police Officer's View", conducted by Sergeant Macke of the Oak Lawn Police Department, and will cover the safety to and from sitting jobs, prowlers, and phone pranks. A written test will be given at this session.

Session six, April 1, conducted by Chief Inspector

Murray and Lieutenant Moran, will review the written test, and present awards and babysitting kits.

If you are interested in this course, apply at the Village of Oak Lawn Annex Building, 9630 Southwest Hwy, or call 422-0388 weekdays from 8:30 am to 5 pm. The course is limited to 75 students, so early registration is encouraged.

Sister M. Mildred Radziewicz, LCM, Chairman of the Board, is pictured above accepting the initial check from Michael J. Carey, Director of Personnel, Johnson and Johnson Products, Inc., as Paul R. Wozniak, President, LCM

Hospital, looks on. The grant will begin in five installments over a period of five years and will be used in payment for a new Intensive Care Unit Room.

Little Company of Mary has received a grant of $25,000 from the Johnson and Johnson Associated Industries Fund for their new thirty-one million dollar addition now under construction on the front lawn of the hospital.

Work on the three-story building is underway and will be completed in 1984.

Abandoned assets list

State Representative Herb Huskey has joined efforts with the Illinois Department of Financial Institutions to locate Eighth District residents who may have abandoned assets.

"Approximately 190 area residents have personal property in excess of $100 waiting to be claimed," Huskey said. "It can consist of abandoned paychecks, cash, dividends, accounts receivable, checking and savings account surpluses, and other personal property of value, such as safe deposit box contents," he stated.

According to Huskey, financial institutions and corporations throughout the state notified the Department about this property after it was inactive for seven years, and after all their attempts to reach the rightful owners failed. The Department will hold the property still abandoned after mid-April in trust until the rightful owners claim it.

Those listed from Oak Lawn are: Elvy T. and Gordon F. Aaneruo, Franziska M. Ballin, Bradley W. Barton, Jr., Joseph P. Cairo, June G. Campbell, Ray Carlton, Grace E. Christie, Thomas Cook, Jerry G. Nurses today are well-educated, highly skilled professionals working in many settings and capacities — as health providers, health teachers, and health advocates. Through their professional organization, the

INA, Illinois nurses work together to promote passage of good health care legislation, advance the status of the profession, and maintain high standards of nursing education and nursing practice. 1982 marks the 23rd consecutive year that INA has sponsored Illinois Nurses' Week.

The money given by Johnson and Johnson has been allocated for a five million dollar capital fund campaign initiated by the hospital. To date, $1,800,000 in cash and pledges has been received towards this goal since the drive began a little over a year ago.

This major addition will include a new Emergency Room and waiting area, enlarged Admitting Department and new Radiology Department, a Materials Service Distribution Center, surgical suites and recovery rooms, an ambulatory surgical area and an expanded Laboratory Department, a 26-bed Intensive Care Unit, and 100 private rooms for surgical patients that will be divided into four 25-bed units.

The expansion and renovation of Little Company of Mary Hospital is a project in which everyone can become involved. By supporting this essential building program, foundations, corporations, community residents, businesses and fraternal organizations served by the hospital will be insuring for themselves and their families the highest quality health care in a most up-to-date facility.

Responsible for raising these funds are Francis X.

Gallagher, Director, Community Relations and Development, and Sister Margaret Christina Hoban, LCM, hospital Vice President. They are assisted by twenty-five community leaders who serve on the Development Advisory Board.

Additional information regarding this fund raising campaign can be obtained by calling LCM Hospital at 422-6200, extension 5045.

Recipients to work for General Assistance

Joseph J. McCarthy, Supervisor of Worth Township, is intensifying the workfare program in township General Assistance.

Senate Bill 176 provides for this program thruout the State of Illinois. The bill states that recipients of General Assistance who are able to work, be placed in the local community at municipalities, public work departments, libraries, and not-for-profit organizations. This provides the recipient a means of working for their General Assistance Grant.

Supervisor McCarthy feels the program is fair and equitable to the township

Klein discusses campaign strategy with Governor Thompson

Oak Lawn resident Carl L. "Clean Water" Klein, Republican candidate for Metropolitan Sanitary District Board of Greater Chicago, discussed campaign strategy with Governor James R. Thompson and J. Robert Barr, chairman of the Republican Central Committee of Cook County, at a recent gathering of state and county-wide candidates.

Anderson would debate

Lester E. Anderson, candidate for Republican Committeeman of Worth Township, has challenged his opponent in the race to a debate on the vital issues affecting the GOP in Worth Township.

"I believe that the Republican voters deserve no less than an honest and open discussion on the past and present state of the party in Worth Township," Anderson stated. "The GOP voters should be able to hear what plans each candidate has to improve the party performance in a wide variety of areas."

"I believe that the debate should be sponsored by a neutral party and I invite the participation of the local newspapers in Worth Township to sponsor and moderate such a debate," Les Anderson stated. "If the GOP candidates for President of the United States could accept the invitations to debate before the primaries in 1980, I think the Republicans in Worth Township deserve an honest debate among candidates for Worth GOP committeeman, then let them decide to whom they want to entrust the future of the Republican Party in Worth Township."

Herb Huskey, present Committeeman of Worth Township, said that he would look forward to a debate where the issues could be discussed in length.

Huskey went on to say that he would have appreciated being approached personally on the debate rather than the proposal going to the newspapers.

Anderson, who is a member of the Worth Township Regular Republican Organization, has been involved in campaign activities since 1969 to the present time.

Anderson is also a trustee in the Village of Oak Lawn, is in his second term and is currently the senior member.

and the recipient. It will provide local taxing bodies with additional personnel that recent budget cuts may have eliminated. However, workfare will never replace any employed person at any of the work sites.

Supervisor McCarthy will fully explain the new program at a Breakfast Meeting at the Holiday Inn, 4140 W 95th Street on Wednesday, February 17 at 9 am to all the representatives of the local governments, libraries, public work departments and school districts located in the township.

Acorn quarterly recalls another hetic winter

In the midst of a winter destined for the record books, the Oak Lawn Historical Society's "Acorns" quarterly recalls a winter when all that stood between Oak Lawn and disaster was Fire Chief Elmore Harker Sr. and a 2½ inch hose line. The winter of 1944-45 brought an unusually deep freeze to the area. The water table was driven hundreds of feet lower than usual in the well that provided the main water supply to the village. Water production dropped 400%, and then Oak Lawn Mayor Al Brandt banned bathing. The only thing standing between Oak Lawn and drought was the ingenu-

Elrod's association offers second scholarship Going to Florida?

Sheriff Richard J. Elrod, in cooperation with the Illinois Sheriffs' Association, has announced that a scholarship program will be offered again for the second consecutive year. The Association's goal is to provide financial assistance to worthy students in furthering their education and training.

Seven scholarships in the amount of $500 each will be awarded in Cook County with 28 scholarships being awarded statewide to students pursuing courses in vocational training or attending institutions of higher learning.

"The scholarships will be awarded to deserving students based on merit, character and sincerity of purpose in reaching his or her goal," said Sheriff Elrod. "There is no restriction on applicants by reason of race, creed, color, age, sex, national origin or the course of study to be pursued. The only limitation is that applicants be permanent residents of Illinois and of Cook County, and that the scholarship be utilized at an institution of higher learning within the State."

Last year's winners indicated the $500 scholarship helped supplement their financial needs. Steven Carlson, of Rogers Park, a straight "A" Northwestern U engineering student, who now lives on campus, expressed thanks to Sheriff Elrod and the Illinois Sheriffs' Association, saying, "...otherwise, things might have been very difficult."

Sheriff Elrod advised all interested students to consult the administrator of the school they are attending or contact Domingo Sanchez at the Cook County Sheriff's Youth Services Department, 1401 S Maybrook Drive, Maywood, IL 60153 (phone 865-2900) before the deadline of March 1, 1982. Award recipients for the academic year 1982-83 will be announced by May 1, 1982. Any permanent resident of Cook County (except Sheriff's employees and their families) is eligible to apply.

State Representative Herb Huskey has a publication available for area residents which explains how these monies are spent.

Financial aid guides available to students

State Representative Herb Huskey has made copies of a new student financial aid guide available to Eighth District residents thru various local public libraries.

Published by the Illinois Office of Education, the 1981-82 edition of "Financial Aids to Illinois Students" discusses career and educational opportunities, available scholarships and other forms of aid, approved schools under the Cold War G.I. Bill, and Illinois scholarship laws. It also gives college and university information, and contains a bibliography of related publications.

"Because of the costs involved with printing this 187-page publication, I was not able to secure enough copies to fill individual requests," Huskey explained.

"Therefore, I'm donating

The month of February, 1982, has been officially declared to be Prevention the books I have received to the Alsip, Oak Lawn, Evergreen Park, Worth, Blue Island, Crestwood and Chicago Ridge libraries," he said. "I urge area residents to use the financial aid publication at their local library, as it contains information that can be helpful to high school, college graduate and undergraduate students."

of Mental Retardation Month by Governor James R. Thompson. This announcement came from the office of the Association for Retarded Citizens of Illinois.

In his proclamation, the governor noted that mental retardation is a significant health and education problem which affects over 300,000 Illinois residents. He stated that the Prevention of Mental Retardation Month would encourage those persons responsible for the health of the unborn, newborn and young children of Illinois, to take the action necessary to promote their healthful development and reduce the incidence of this condition.

The February campaign will be an intensive part of an ongoing effort by ARC/Illinois to educate the public to the fact that 50% of mental retardation can be avoided.

The members of the Park Lawn Association, 10833 S LaPorte, highly endorse the governor's proclamation as they fully understand the need for such action to reduce the incidence of mental retardation. Park Lawn is now in its 27th year of service to the mental retarded. The organization serves 123 children and adults in school and workshop programs and plans have been made to open a residence at 5831 W 115th Street, Alsip, for adults in spring, 1982.

Park Lawn salutes Gov Thompson and the Illinois Association for Retarded Citizens for bringing this matter to the attention of the public.

TO SLEEP IS HUMAN. TO SLEEP DURING THE DAY IS DIVINE.

If you were in our shoes, you'd think so too.

Because the way things are now, when nearly everybody's up during the day, it's not so divine. The cost of producing electricity goes up.

You see, the eight million people we serve use an enormous amount of electricity before they go to bed. And our main generating stations, the ones that run on coal and uranium, have an impossible time handling the demand. It takes our oil burners to pull us through.

But oil is far more expensive than coal and uranium. So during the day, electricity costs far more to make. Up to four and a half times more.

Of course, if half of us would volunteer to start sleeping during the day, it would hold down the demand.

Which would also hold down the amount of oil we have to burn, the number of new generating stations we have to build, and the size of the electric bills you have to pay every month.

Since that's asking an awful lot, though, you'll be relieved to know there are other ways to get the job done. Nothing earthshaking. Just conserving a little more in the daytime.

Like not running the dishwasher till 9 or 10 p.m. Or the clothes dryer. Or other easy things like that. When enough people go along, they really can make a difference.

All we have to do is do it together. That's the key. To keeping costs down. To getting some control over tomorrow.

If we only wake up.

Commonwealth Edison
Don't take tomorrow for granted.

July 3rd will officially open festivities of the 100th Anniversary of the Village of Oak Lawn. They will be ushered in by the first of what will become an annual Art Fair, whose purpose is to promote and encourage cultural growth and cultural awareness of Oak Lawn on the occasion of its 100th Anniversary.

Heading the Fair is Linda Vorderer, a Commissioner of Special Events of Oak Lawn, and Chairman of the event. An accomplished artist in her own right, Linda has been busy structuring the Art Fair for many months, with special help from the Burbank Art League.

This will not be a "catch-as-catch-can" art fair. Entrants will be judged by a jury and must submit 3 slides or photographs of their work. Each must include a self-addressed stamped envelope for return of the material and each submission must be clearly marked with the submitters name and address. Linda also requests that all slides be marked top or bottom.

The Centennial Art Fair will take place on the driving range of Oak Lawn Community High School, 95th and Southwest Hwy, and will open Saturday, July 3 at 10 am, running until 6 pm. It will open again on Sunday, July 4 at 11 am, concluding at 5 pm that evening. There will be no alternate dates in case of rain. A nominal fee of $20 per space is required, and will be refunded if material is not selected. Entry forms are now available and being mailed thruout the State, with Oak Lawn residents encouraged to participate.

Commissioner Vorderer has selected an outstanding panel of judges. They are Dr. Phyllis Kozlowski, Moraine Valley College and Robert Dominiak, Art Dept Chairman at Oak Lawn High School. Prizes will total approximately $1000.

Each artist must provide for his or her own display, and must be identified with a name tag on white poster board 9" x 2". Display space will be approximately 10' x 12'.

In order to present a pleasant shopping atmosphere, each artist will be expected to keep their display area neat. Packing materials must be out of sight and his/her area kept clean and left that way before leaving each evening. No alcoholic beverages will be allowed and the Village of Oak Lawn, the Special Events Commission and the Oak Lawn High School will not be responsible for loss, theft, or damage to the art works exhibited.

The Centennial Art Fair is expected to attract many drop-in-lookers during its two days of operation and convenient parking and food concession stands will be available.

It is requested that all Oak Lawn residents send a brief resume along with their entries for possible use in local press releases. Entry forms may be submitted to Linda Vorderer, Commissioner, 8915 S Parkside, Oak Lawn, IL 60453. Make entry checks payable to the Oak Lawn Special Events Commission, and all entry forms must be returned by April 1, 1982.

OL Fire Department warns of heating tapes

Recently, the Oak Lawn Fire Department has experienced several house fires which were apparently caused by heating tapes used to prevent the freezing of water pipes. While these devices are not, by themselves, inherently dangerous, precautions must be taken when utilizing them.

Only purchase heating tapes which have been approved by a recognized testing agency such as Underwriters Laboratories. Periodically inspect the tapes to make sure that the insulation covering the wires is intact and in good condition. Do not install these devices in an area where the tapes cannot be visually inspected. Also, heat tapes should only be plugged in when the outside temperature is extremely cold.

A much safer and probably cheaper method of preventing water pipes from freezing is to keep a trickle of water flowing thru a cold water faucet during extremely cold weather. This method eliminates the dangers associated with having a lightweight energized electrical cord operating in a concealed space in your house.

State Representative Herb Huskey is doing a survey of state roads in the south suburban area to determine the location of dangerous potholes.

"I encourage area residents to send me the specific locations of dangerous potholes on state maintained routes," he said. "Road repair funds will be limited, so it's important that transportation officials know about the hazardous streets in our area soon."

Pothole locations can be sent to Huskey at either 6201 W 95th Street, Oak Lawn 60453 (424-5000) or 2061 Stratton Building, Springfield 62706.

Russo Reports from Washington

by Congressman Marty Russo

Last year the third White House Conference on Aging was held in Washington, D.C. and as usual, this Conference, in contrast to so many such gatherings in D.C., drew national attention and produced realistic and substantive suggestions. It was the direct result of past Conferences that we now have such important programs as Medicare and the Older Americans Act.

I want to share with the public some of the informative report of our own Third District Representative to the Conference, Al Winkler, who not only wrote a summary for me, but was interviewed by a member of my staff as well.

While the four day Conference, in which 600 resolutions were passed, covered a wide range of topics, Winkler indicated that "what was most on the minds of the Delegates was the Social Security System and the concern with economic well being. Out of 14 committees, 10 passed resolutions relating to keeping Social Security as it is. The clear message: don't cut".

Other suggestions which came out of the Conference Committee were:

*To modify Housing and Urban Development regulations so that two persons not related by marriage be income-eligible for subsidized housing apartments.

*To establish in-home health care as an alternative to institutional care with appropriate changes in Medicare reimbursement policy to accomplish this.

*The creation of a national policy to ensure minority representation at all levels in the planning of elderly programs and to eliminate language barriers for the minority elderly.

*Stronger penalties for fraud in Medicare and Medicaid.

Not included in the summary report, Winkler said, but verbal from the platform, was the recommendation that any increase in the defense budget should be matched by equivalent increases in social programs that have been cut.

Working on the Research Committee, Winkler made the following proposal: "The Food and Drug Administration should expedite the approval of geriatric medicine for elderly people who suffer from arthritis and strokes and establish a realistic time-table for such approval." It was approved by his committee by a vote of 47-31.

The Conference as a whole adopted a more general statement: Research results need to be disseminated faster so that the results can be quickly applied to the situations of the elderly.

Another proposal is to appropriate 2% of all the money designated for people over 65 for research and that financing for aging should approximate the level of funding in the private sector.

A summary report will be reviewed and presented to the President in June, and then proposals based on the report will be sent to Congress.

As a former member of the Select Committee on Aging, I have had the opportunity to work directly with the multiple problems confronting senior citizens. I fully appreciate the effort of Winkler and I salute the organization and success that he and the other Delegates have achieved both this year and in the past. Their persistence and practicality is something we can all benefit from.

The first story, "Peter Rabbit," actually began as an illustrated letter. Thru the years she wrote many such letters. In 1901, at the suggestion of a friend, she put a collection of her letters into book form. In her lifetime she wrote 23 books.

Richards' students attend Leadership Conference

On Nov. 19-20, Marketing and Distributive Education students Don Brooks, Kathy Kowarsch, Rita Morong, and Rita Rainsford attended the 1981 Distributive Education Clubs of Illinois Leadership Conference, held at the Marriott Hotel, Chicago. These four students took a rigorous qualifying examination to be part of the DECI Ambassador Program.

This program is designed to develop a student's abilities in the areas of public relations and promotion. All four students passed this test, thus completing Phase I of the program. Phase II is the actual "hands-on" community activities. Two of these activities must be completed by Feb 1, 1982, and two more by March 1, 1982. If the four activities measure up to certain standards, the students become full-fledged Ambassadors at the DECI State Career Development Conference held in Peoria in March. Good luck to those students in completing Phase II.

Article published for OLCHS instructor

Mr. Lawrence Land, machine shop and welding instructor at Oak Lawn Community High School, recently had an article published in the "School Shop." The monthly publication serves the interests of persons working in Industrial Vocational-Technical Education.

Land's article explains a tungsten inert gas (TIG) tester he designed that gives students realistic practice before actually starting TIG work. The tester helps students develop techniques for keeping a consistently short arc.

Use of the TIG tester has reduced electrode consumption and has improved students' performance of basic welds on steel and aluminum.

Oak View enjoys Japanese visitors

Representatives of the Japanese Consulate recently visited Oak View Elementary School, 4625 W 110th Street, Oak Lawn. ## Oak Lawn Chamber gifts cadets with radio equipment

In recognition for their contribution to the community, the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce presented to the Police Cadets radio equipment needed to facilitate their work. One of the cadets' many functions is that of assisting with crowd control, which has been a tremendous help to the Chamber for parades and other events.

Traffic fines dip in Oak Lawn

The best way to get a traffic ticket if you live in the suburbs is apparently still to live in the northwest portion of Cook County.

That's one of the gloomy facts revealed by an analysis of suburban traffic revenue released by Circuit Court Clerk Morgan M. Finley. He noted that 16 of the 31 villages that generated over $100,000 in fines from traffic matters were in the northwest area of Cook County. The same situation existed in 1980.

Local municipalities file all their traffic violations with the court. Revenue collected from the fines is turned over by Finley's office to local government.

"Revenue from traffic operations in 1981 was a major part of the local budgets of most villages," Finley noted.

A total of $8,964,063 was returned to local governments in the suburbs last year, an increase of 7.7% over 1980, he said.

There are 130 villages and/or park districts which funnel their cases thru the Circuit Court of Cook County. Of that number, 12 either had no tickets in 1981 or a very small number.

Since traffic fine rates are consistent among the five suburban court districts, a ranking by revenue will reflect a ranking by the number of tickets issued, Finley noted.

It was this ranking which showed that northwest Cook County still holds the dubious distinction of handing out more traffic tickets than the other four areas.

Since there are different numbers of villages in each district, however, Finley's office also computed the

English accepts reappointment to Congressional Tourism Board

Joseph J. English, General Manager and Vice President of the Holiday Inn - Oak Lawn, has been reappointed to the U.S. Congressional Travel & Tourism Caucus Advisory Board for the year 1982.

English, who served as chairman of the Advisory Board formed in the 3rd Congressional District, was honored recently by a resolution from Congressman Marty Russo for having served his first term in 1981 in a most professional manner.

The overall purpose of the Caucus is to develop more awareness concerning the importance of tourism to our economy and to promote tourism in the midwest. Energy and how it is regulated and allocated is one of the foremost concerns of this caucus since it began its work.

Areas of concern other than energy are the adoption of a national tourism policy, improving transportation services, the promotion of international travel and tourism, federal tax policy and other special projects.

The 3rd District Advisory Board members met several times this past year and the thoughts, and any important conclusions, are trans-average income per village for each district. This computation showed that northwest villages had an average income of $93,437 and that the southern suburbs averaged only $44,413 per village. Those in the north area averaged $86,416, those west $67,400 and those southwest $61,247.

Lions name March National Eye Bank Month

There are at least 300 people in Illinois alone who are waiting for the miracle of sight.

They are waiting because there aren't enough corneas available for corneal transplants to restore sight.

"It is very difficult for people who know that something could be done to make them see, but who have to be told they have to wait," said Roger Brunner, 1100 S Tenth Street,

Oregon, state chairman of the Eye Donor Registry program of the Lions of Illinois Foundation, the charitable arm of the state's 678 Lions Clubs.

The Lions want to ensure that the wait ends -- during the month of March, Lions all over the state will be intensifying efforts to secure eye donor pledges from Illinois citizens. The month was chosen because it has been designated National Eye Bank Month by the Eye Bank Assn of America.

"Any person at least 18 years old may sign a pledge card," Brunner said. "It doesn't matter whether your eyes are healthy, old, young, or whatever. Every eye counts."

Eyes cannot be designated for a specific person. They are used for the next person on the eye bank's waiting list.

A person who wants to become an eye donor signs a pledge card, witnessed by two non-relatives. It is a legal contract, but it may be revoked by the signer at any time during his or her lifetime. The signer is given a card to carry and an eye donor sticker for a driver's license.

The Lions do not charge fees for the program. It is a non-profit humanitarian service funded by voluntary contributions and proceeds from Candy Day, held the second Friday of every October.

Information about the Eye Donor Registry is available from the Foundation, 1515 N Harlem Avenue, Oak Park; any Lions Club; or the following Lions committee member: Manual Marnotes, 3051 N Troy St, Chicago.

PTA offering scholarship funds

Since 1935 the Illinois PTA has demonstrated its commitment to the educational growth and development of the children of this state by providing scholarship money to graduating high school students. Reaffirming their belief in the future of public education, the PTA has designated that the 1982 PTA Scholarship Program be used to encourage students to enter the field of education or education-related degree programs. College and University Departments of Education have worked with the PTA to project teacher shortages for 1985-1986. They have identified several areas: agriculture, chemistry, mathematics, physics, science, school psychology, speech pathology, industrial arts, vocational subjects, special education, learning disabilities, and combination subjects, especially with coaching.

Dorothy A. Klemptner, Illinois PTA Scholarship Chairman, advises that applications for scholarships have been sent to all public high schools in the state of Illinois. Three students in

Alzheimer disease support group

PLOWS Council on Aging in Oak Lawn would like to hear from relatives of people suffering from Alzheimer's disease.

The disease is a brain disorder characterized by the loss of memory and other intellectual functions, general confusion, and often personality changes. It has no known cause or cure. Since its symptoms can also be caused by organic factors that are curable, however, a complete medical assessment is necessary for accurate diagnosis.

Alzheimer's disease can be as devastating to the family as it is for the patient. Those close to the patient often have great difficulty coping with the relative's deterioration. Simply talking things over with others in the same situation can help.

PLOWS Council on Aging, a comprehensive social service agency for southwest suburban senior citizens, invites family of those with Alzheimer's disease to call if they are interested in such a support group.

The agency's number is 422-6722 or 422-6769.

All matters concerning the application of health care, including staff appointments and staff changes, must be approved by the committee.

Local artist teaches upside down painting

by Helen Macie

Long black hair waving about her shoulders; high cheek bones accentuating her Latin features; expressive hands continually in motion; lilting laughter punctuating her heavy Spanish accent; she is Nelida Ryl Kuchar, Argentine born artist, mother, and home maker. Nelida is at home in Oak Lawn with her three children. Between PTA meetings, chauffeuring the children to school events and music lessons, supervising home work and music practice, she paints and teaches oil painting in her home and in her studio in the Fine Arts Building in Chicago's loop.

Her portraits run the gamut of famous Chicagoans to character lined fishermen. They have been displayed at the Civic Center, art shows, banks, and libraries. Her lovely ballerinas have graced the walls of Merrill Chase and other galleries.

Nelida's love of music takes her to Grant Park in the summertime. Here she sets up her easel and paints conductors and musicians alike, while enjoying the concert.

She is a dedicated teacher, adhering to the precepts of her technique. All students begin with tonal studies in black and white. The subject is a photograph turned upside down. The purpose is to concentrate only on tone and ignore the nature of the subject. This experience is rather frustrating for beginning students, but when it is mastered, the work is clean and precise. After months of studies in monochromatic tones, students progress to color.

Many of Nelida's students are displaying their work at art shows, libraries, and banks. The first sales are gratifying experiences. Plaudets to this talented lady and to her dedication to fine art.

RUSSO ANNOUNCES LBJ INTERNSHIP

Third District Congressman Marty Russo has announced that he is now accepting applications for an internship assignment in his Washington office for this summer.

Interns can be employed by Members of Congress to assist with office operations under the Lyndon Baines Johnson Congressional Internship Program, for students in institutions of higher education or for teachers of government or social studies in secondary or post-secondary schools. Russo says he is seeking bona fide students attending a college, university or similar institution of higher learning this academic year.

The interns must perform the duties of their employment in the Washington, D.C. office and job responsibilities are determined by the Member. The salary is established at the total gross sum of $1620 for the two-month period payable at the rate of not to exceed $810 per month.

"The internship provides a wonderful opportunity for first-hand experience of our government and on a day to day basis for learning the functions, services and demands of a congressional office," Russo commented. "I only wish we had more positions available," Russo continued, "because in the past, the office also has benefitted greatly from the new insights and enthusiasm our interns bring."

To obtain an application write: Office of Congressman Marty Russo, 10634 S Cicero Avenue, Oak Lawn, IL 60453. Deadline for accepting applications is April 15, 1982.

"It is important to me," Yourell said, "that this program reach every eligible citizen of my district."

Let's try Lisbon

...the capital city of Portugal. Lisbon is so picturesque and handily compact that this is an entertainment in itself and one trip World Travel Mart highly recommends. There are certainly no people in Europe more friendly and helpful than the Portuguese, and no city less worrying to be lost in than Lisbon.

The keynote of Portuguese cuisine is variety. Sea food and fish are the basis for the most exciting plates, but beef, lamb, pork, poultry and game are each prepared in several different and elaborate ways.

Fado is the typical music of Portugal. It is usually haunting in tone and tragic in theme. Most often it is sung by a woman in black wrapped in a shawl and accompanied by two men on guitars. Most of the fado houses are in the old sections of Lisbon.

Lisbon is built on hills, many of them very steep. The sightseer who plans to go far on foot would be well advised to wear comfortable shoes. They can arrange for guided tours for either day or evening.

There are concerts, operas and art galleries. . . serious theater and the ballet. World Travel Mart can arrange delightful plans for your stay in this charming city with side tours to nearby places. Stop in at 5615 W 95th Street and let them tell you about Lisbon.

This is one of the many places they can work into your plans for your trip abroad. These are the plans they can make up for you at no extra charge - its all included.

NIU HONORS LIST

The latest Honors List compiled at Northern Illinois University shows the following area students have earned at least a 3.75 grade point average based on a 4.0 grading scale.

Karen L. Dangremond, BFA, visual communications; Marianne Gerhard, BS, marketing; Gary Edwin Green, BS, marketing; Mary Frances Houlihan, BS,

by John Hogan

News Information Supervisor
Commonwealth Edison Co.

As all of us know, the record-breaking cold temperatures this winter have had an impact on home heating bills. The news is not all bad, however, because many individuals and families are now eligible for financial aid under the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program (IHEAP) to help pay those heating bills. This program offers grants of $215 to $360 to electric heat customers, based on income level and the size of the household. Differing amounts are available to utility customers who use other heating fuels.

The IHEAP program continues thru October 31, or nursing; Daniel Joseph Kjlilg, BS, comp. science, general data process; Pamela Ann Mahoney, BS, marketing; Anna Teresa Marchese, BS, comp. science, general data process; Daniel John Peel, BS, Ed, high incidence handicapped; Sandra Ann Perrino, BS, general math; Kimberly Ann Reis, BS, nursing; Laura Ann Schieve, BS, medical technology; Beth Anne Smoots, BS, general management; Carol Ann Troemel, BS, coordinated dietetics; Barbara Ann Twardy, BS, child development, early child education; Linda Ann Schramek, BS, trainable mentally handicapped.

until the funds are exhausted. This year, the program has $80.8 million to distribute in Illinois.

Eligibility is determined by the Community Service Agency in your neighborhood which considers family size and total gross annual income. To qualify, your income level must be no more than the Bureau of Labor Statistics lower living standard, which ranges from $5,388 for an individual to $12,924 for a family of six.

To become eligible, you'll need to file an application at your nearest Community Service Agency office. But first, it's a good idea to give the agency a call to learn if you qualify, to determine the location of the nearest office, or to ask other questions. The number of the toll-free Energy Hotline is: 1-800-252-8643.

When you go to the agency, be sure to bring the following documentation: *proof of income for the past 90 days, *social security card, *most recent heating bill (an overdue bill or cutoff notice is not required), *name and social security numbers of all family members who receive in their own names food stamps, Aid to the Aged, Blind and Disabled (AABD), Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) or Supplementary Security Income (SSI).

You'll be notified within 30 days whether or not you've been accepted into the program. If you do qualify, a one-time payment, usually to your utility, will be issued within 15 days.

The Illinois Dept of Commerce and Community Affairs has produced a pamphlet explaining IHEAP. Copies may be obtained at any of Edison's customer service offices. In addition, the company's credit and telephone customer service personnel are available to answer questions about the program and provide the locations of local Community Service Agency offices.

Oak View School closing doors

The School Board of District 126 the Alsip, Hazelgreen and Oak Lawn Elementary Schools, voted to close Oak View School, 110th and Knox, effective June 14, 1982. The 112 Oak View students in grades K-6 will attend Stony Creek School, 117th and Kolin in September 1982. Oak View enrollment has dramatically declined from 422 in 1970 to 125 today. There are now only 9 in kindergarten and 14 in 1st grade and 13 in 2nd grade according to

Supt William Smith. The School Board decision of March 17 to close Oak View School was preceded by 5 School Board meetings reported Reed Powers, Board President. He noted that citizen attendance at each meeting was over 100. A staff meeting was held February 8, a Public Information meeting February 10, a School Board meeting February 17, and on February 24, and a public hearing March 10. Prior to that, a 100+ page report

Mayor Kolb, realizing one out of five Americans suffer from medical problems or conditions that cannot be easily seen or recognized, has proclaimed April 4 - 10 as MEDIC ALERT WEEK. He hopes this will make the citizens aware of the identifying symbols that would call attention to a person's problem or condition in an emergency situation.

The Medic Alert Foundation International can provide a bracelet or necklace with the Medic Alert symbol. Engraved on the back is the person's problem or condition and the 24-hour toll free telephone number of MEDIC ALERT, this insuring emergency personnel or doctors of further medical information.

The National Safety Council can provide a Medical Identification Card containing a microfilm of a person's medical history. The card contains a lens enabling emergency personnel or doctors to read the film.

Applications for either of these emergency medical help aids can be obtained from the Oak Lawn Fire Department. Call 422-6440. Multimedia Cablevision of Oak Lawn will air a program explaining both emergency medical help aids and the Oak Lawn Fire Department's Home Fire Safety Survey Program. Applications will be in the survey packet. Check Cablevision's program channel for airing dates and times.

Dress up with old fashioned look

Villager's, business establishments, homes, municipal buildings, entire blocks -- everyone and everything, will be provided a great opportunity to "dress up" this year, not in the latest styles -- but with an old fashioned look. The reason is the 100th Anniversary Celebration of the Village of Oak Lawn to be held July 3 thru 11, 1982.

A few beards are beginning to show up, but there will be a lot more -- you can make book on it! Any male villager caught without one during celebration time will be placed in a special Anniversary Jail or else he must pay a fine to be a part of the many festivities planned during the Anniversaries 10 big days of fun.

A Centennial Art Fair; a Big 4th of July Celebration, including an Ecumenical Service, Pancake Breakfast, Square Dance, games in various park locations and gigantic Fireworks Display; a Village Dinner, Show and Dance; an Anniversary Food Fest and finally an Exciting Parade are all being planned as part of the attractions. Before these events take place however, the Village of Oak Lawn will officially dress up and take on a "100 Year Old Look".

The Decoration Committee of the Special Events Commission is headed by Bill Strickfaden, and they have adopted Official Rules and Guidelines for decorations. Categories are: 1 - Store or place of business, either indoor or outdoor; 2 - Combined block decorations, commercial or residential; 3 - Homes. Theme is a late 1800 motif. Copy is "A Century of Growth".

Individual decorations must be in place by June 15 and remain intact thruout the Celebration until July 12, 1982. Judging is to take place between June 15 and

July 1, with winners announced prior to the beginning of events. This will allow residents and visitors to look over the winners. It is requested by the Commission that anyone erecting decorations, check with the Oak Lawn Fire Department for approval of materials. Their number is 422-3121.

There will be a First Prize for each category, with one Grand Decoration Prize. Additional copies of the Rules and Guidelines may be picked up at the Oak Lawn Village Hall. The Commission also requests that anyone entering the decoration contest please notify them so that the Judges can cover each contestant. Send your entry notification to: Anniversary

Decorations, P. O. Box 122, Oak Lawn, IL 60454.

Start making plans now. Decorations must be completed and in place within a little more than 90 days. In addition to personal designs, the Commission has made plans to install colorful green and white Anniversary Posters with bunting at 35 sites thruout the Village. Also special store front displays will be made available to merchants to add more color to an already colorful event. In addition, hundreds of American flags will be displayed.

Beards, costumes, decorations, events -- they will all be part of Oak Lawn's 100th Anniversary Celebration -- and they all add up to fun. Don't miss out. "Dress up!"

Bullet Proof Vest Fund

Lou Kole was commended this past week for the effort being made, on his own, to supply the members of the Oak Lawn

Police Department with bullet proof vests.

Kole would like to see everyone in the village involved in this undertaking. Some vests have been supplied already but an additional 70 vests are needed.

Kindly send your contribution, large or small, to the "Bullet Proof Vest Fund", c/o First National Bank of Oak Lawn, 94th & Cicero, Oak Lawn, IL 60453 or you may send it to Lou Kole, c/o Kole Pontiac, 9301 S Cicero, Oak Lawn, IL 60453.

Oak View School is an 18 classroom school, with 39,000 sq ft. Board President Reed Powers encouraged any organization wishing to lease the building to contact Supt William Smith, 389-1900. "Our intent is not to sell Oak View School, but to lease it," said Powers.

At a recent village board meeting Trustee Jay Bergamini voiced his great concern over the many school closings in Oak Lawn. He asked that village administration make every effort to find a reliable tenant for Oak View and one that would also be compatible to the neighborhood.

Commissioners honor Frank Ozinga

The Oak Lawn Park District Board of Commissioners at a recent board meeting honored State Senator Frank Ozinga for his concern and legislative achievements on behalf of park districts in the State of Illinois. "In his many years of dedicated public service, Senator Ozinga has been a loyal friend and supporter of parks and recreation thruout the State of Illinois," said Park Board President Donald V. Andersen.

Dr Nolan monovision expert

Dr. Joseph Nolan, Optometrist in Worth, IL and recognized authority in contact lens research, just returned from Mazatlan, Mexico where he lectured to the Educational Conference of the Illinois Optometric Association on the subject of monovision with glasses.

Dr Nolan is one of the leading researchers in the world on monovision with contact lenses. The paper presented in Mazatlan was a result of months of study by himself, his son Dr John Nolan and Dr Patricia Hart on monovision with glasses.

According to Dr Nolan the monovision system can replace the need for bifocals, reading glasses and half-glasses. "The mono-

vision system is possible because there is a constant alternation in dominance between the right and left eye," stated Dr Nolan. "This alternation takes place about ten to thirty times per minute. With the monivision system when you look at something close, the reading eye becomes dominant immediately and you don't even know it's happening. Computer technology with video screens have created new demands on our eyes," stated Dr Nolan. "As with contact lenses, the monovision system requires certain guidelines for each patient. Today more than ever before occupations and eye use should determine the method of eye correction. As consultants to manufacturers of computers we are constantly researching and reviewing eye stress and uses in today's technical world," stated Dr Nolan. "The monovision system has opened many new areas of understanding and eye freedoms to both the contact lens and eye glass wearer."

Dr Nolan practices with his son, Dr John Nolan and Dr Patricia Hart at the Optometry Building located at 114th and Harlem Avenue, in Worth, IL.

On March 27 twenty four French students arrived in Oak Lawn as part of a foreign exchange program sponsored by the Oak Lawn Community High School Foreign Language Dept.

The French students are staying with families of OLCHS foreign language students and participate in various activities thruout their visit. The students who attend school at the C.E.S. Jean Vilar, a junior high school in Herblay, France, a suburb of Paris, vary in ages from 14 to 16.

The foreign exchange program was planned by Marilyn Williams, French teacher at OLCHS and Liliane Pena, the English teacher of the French students, a college friend of Ms Williams. Williams wanted to sponsor the program in order to give first-hand experience to her French students in the practice of the French language, as well as an improvement in international understanding.

This year's French students will participate in a variety of exciting activities. Some of the highlights include a tour of ethnic Chicago with the geography classes and a trip to Water Tower Place to see the musical, "They're Playing Our Song." On all the trips the French students will be accompanied by OLCHS teachers and students. Their stay will also be highlighted by a soccer game (French vs OLCHS) and an international dinner for the French students and their host families.

Local bank offering 'Heritage hare'

Heritage Standard Bank employees, (l to r) Barbara Sherman, Assistant Vice President of Personnel, Virginia Connell, Switchboard Operator, and Laura Kresse, Assistant Vice President of Marketing, are attracting the attention and interest of customers with the sign, posted in each lobby of the bank, which asks "guess what's coming to Heritage Standard Bank?"

People who visited the bank at this time last year can probably guess the answer, and will remember and welcome the familiar character that is coming to both the Evergreen Park and the Oak Lawn offices. Known as the "Heritage hare," this unique stuffed animal will again be available to those customers who deposit $500 or more to a savings account. And, because the original character was so popular last year, a second character will be at Heritage Standard Bank.

The "Li'l Heritage hare," a smaller version of the same design, will also be available, but for $2.50 when the larger hare is given for free with the qualifying deposit.

A larger, five-foot, forty pound version of the same design is also spending the weeks before Easter at each of Heritage Standard Bank's offices. Members of the community are invited to stop into either office to see their "hare" and find out how to win him. So...be sure to rush to your neighborhood Heritage Bank now, to learn "what's coming to Heritage Standard Bank," the bank at 2400 W 95th Street in Evergreen Park and 4001 W 95th Street in Oak Lawn, that is "not just a little hare better."

Corrigan family seeking blood donors

On Sunday, April 4, Christ Hospital will head a blood drawing sponsored by St Catherine of Alexandria Church for the Corrigan family of Oak Lawn, whose four sons and three grandchildren, ranging in age from 38 to 8, suffer from hemophilia. Hemophilia is a blood disease which inhibits clotting and results in dangerous hemorrhaging. The slightest bruise, bump, or fall can cause internal bleeding into the muscles, joints, or vital organs. In 1981, the boys needed a total of 384 transfusions equal to approximately 1536 pints of blood. Since the boys require only the anti-hemophilia factor, or about 1/9 of the entire pint of blood, for each pint of whole blood made available, eight other patients can be helped. Because of the large amounts of blood used by the boys, the Corrigan family feel a strong obligation to help replace the blood they use. The need for blood is especially great this year because of the bad winter which has greatly reduced the number of blood donors.

The blood drawing will be held from 9 am until 2 pm in the Alexandria Hall, 10621 Kedvale. Any one in good health between the ages of 17 and 66 can be a blood donor. Any inquiries can be made to Christ Hospital, 425-8000, ext 5551. An appointment is not necessary.

Anyone who would like to bake or donate cookies, cupcakes, cakes, or fudge, please call Pat Sullivan at 312-636-5087.

Plan Oak Lawn Porchlight Parade

Toni Lang, Chairwoman of the Oak Lawn Unit of the American Cancer Society, announced April 4 as the day for the 1982 Oak Lawn Porchlight Crusade. Your neighbors will be knocking on doors from 1 to 5 pm to seek contributions toward the financial goal of $34,000, part of a statewide goal of $7,000,000. Toni explains that all residents will be asked to light the way for these crusaders by leaving their porchlights on. So, don't forget to flip the switch and join in the Crusade.

The crusaders will also be delivering an exciting new leaflet about cancer and how you can prevent it. It's entitled "Eleven Things That Don't Cause Cancer". So often people feel that all they can do is live with the fear of getting the disease without knowing that they can actually

Pedestrian rules of the road

State Representative Herb Huskey (R-Oak Lawn) says Illinois has rules of the road for pedestrians as well as drivers.

"For example, pedestrians are prohibited from standing on any part of the roadway to ask for a ride from the driver of a vehicle," Huskey explained.

"Also, they must yield the right-of-way to all vehicles on the roadway if they cross at any place other than a crosswalk at an intersection," he said.

"These pedestrian rules are outlined in Rules of the Road, and I have copies available for interested persons."

Requests can be sent to Huskey at 2061 Stratton Building, Springfield, IL 62706. Additional information can be obtained by calling 424-5000.

Authors contend public schools are short-changed

Some school districts are short-changed by the way public schools are financed in Illinois, contend a number of authors in the current issues of "Illinois School Board Journal."

The "Journal," published by the Illinois Association of School Boards (IASB), offers four different viewpoints of what ails Illinois school finance methods. Each viewpoint represents a particular kind of school district organization -- a small unit district, a large unit district, an elementary district, and a high school district.

All four writers agree that the Illinois school aid program discriminates against certain types of districts and ignores some realities of school costs. Unfortunately, the writers do not agree on how the system should be revamped, only that it is unfair and does not treat all students equitably.

A related article describes the new federal block grants program enacted by the Reagan administration. "Beginning with the 1982-83 school year, the Act is supposed to give greater flexibility and control over federal funds and programs to local schools," according to author Jean Williams, legislative staff assistant to the president of the Illinois Senate.

"The Act also attempts to reduce overly prescriptive regulations and administrative burdens. Paperwork and regulations are out," Williams says. Yet she cautions there will be considerably less money for certain purposes, including at least 25% less for the remedial learning needs of economically disadvantaged students.

"For example, Chicago and East St. Louis will lose millions of dollars next school year," Williams writes.

Williams predicts an increase in the competition between special interest groups at the local level over spending when policies and priorities about education are set by school boards instead of by the federal government.

Another article of note in the newest issue of the "Journal" features an interview with IASB Executive Director Harold P. Seamon on tax credits for private school tuition. Seamon argues that tax credits to reduce the federal income taxes paid by parents of private school children would be financed "through

Brother Rice Dinner Auction

"We gave at the wheelbarrow" is the latest quote at Brother Rice High School these days. Students are generously tossing their pennies into a bright yellow wheelbarrow in the school foyer. The money will be used to purchase a power lawn mower -- the students' contribution to the Brother Rice Dinner Auction to be held Friday evening, April 2, at the Chateau Bel-Aire, 10312 S Cicero Avenue.

Proceeds from the event will be used to enlarge the computer literacy program for the students at Brother

Rice.

The Auction Committee, headed by Mrs. Richard Mundo, promises something for everyone.

The silent auction, which will include over 200 items valued from $20 to $100, will begin at 5:30 pm with dinner at 7:30, followed by the live auction of 75 items valued from $100 to $800. At the Duck Pond will be Donald Duck himself selling $5 chances for prizes valued up to $25. Cocktails will be served thruout the evening.

The cost for an entertaining evening of dinner, cocktails and a chance to bid on all of the fabulous items is $20 per person. For reservation information call 779-3410.

Richards East studies effects of smoking

Under the leadership and direction of Sandra Morrison, sponsor of the Student Council, students at Richards East recently participated in a school wide classroom and activity approach to learn more about the harmful results of smoking.

Assisted by Scott Osterman, treasurer, and Stephanie Kurczak, president of the class, Morrison developed and implemented a week long succession of activities in and out of the classroom from January 6-10.

Math teachers worked with teachers in computing the daily, weekly, and annual cost of smoking. English teachers assigned written projects relating to the health hazards while physical education teachers tied in the smoking impact on physical fitness.

Morrison, Osterman, and Kurczak planned the week long activity as an out growth of an area youth conference on smoking which they attended in October. Morrison was high in her praise of Aaron Spitzer and the Park Forest Office of the American Cancer Society for their enthusiastic cooperation in providing printed materials and loaning of displays.

In response to this support, the Student Council is planning a fund raising activity with the proceeds to go to the Cancer Society.

Chemistry student takes first

Christina Boudos, a Richards High School chemistry student from Oak Lawn, was awarded a first place medal in a science competition with students from 15 other area high schools at a science convention hosted by Thornton Comm. College recently.

She constructed a tightly packaged egg enclosed in a container suspended in mid air within a larger container and was able to achieve the highest score based on calculations

Tourism Caucus begins drive for renewal of Midway

A meeting of the U.S. Congressional Travel and Tourism Caucus was called on Saturday, March 27, by the Caucus Chairman, Joseph English, to discuss the urgent need to revitalize Midway Airport. Invited to the breakfast meeting, along with the members of the regular committee, were members of the local chambers of commerce, members of associations in the area of concern, representatives of travel agencies, local officials, the news media and Jim Sherman representing Congressman Marty Russo.

After two hours of invigorating discussion, and recognizing the obvious interest and need for the full operation of Midway Airport, the consensus was that an ad-hoc committee be formed to develop a campaign with the full intent of activating Midway Airport.

A presentation, made to business leaders of the Midway Airport, was discussed later at great length during the meeting at the Holiday Inn - Oak Lawn.

The thrust of the presentation was that the City of Chicago is nearing completion of a comprehensive master plan study to guide the development of Midway Airport thru 1995 and is ready to start implementing its recommendations.

The development plan is divided into three stages. Stage I, to be completed between today and 1985, focuses on revitalization of the airport, providing additional facilities for corporate and general demand, and providing for improved aircraft circulation and increased operational capability. Stage II, to be carried out between 1986 and 1990, focuses on providing a new passenger terminal consistent with Midway's role as a short-haul air carrier and general aviation reliever airport to O'Hare. Stage III, to be accomplished between 1991 and 1995, completes the redevelopment of Midway Airport and provides facilities for additional corporate and general aviation demand.

Part of the redevelopment of Midway Airport that does not require environmental approval is expected to get underway this year. A decision on submitted proposals is expected to be announced shortly. The City is also considering making a number of other immediate improvements now that the sale of the airport is complete.

The proposed development plan is expected to have a substantial economic impact on local economy. Total employment, as a result of Midway's increased activity level, is expected to almost triple by 1995 to over 13,000 jobs with a payroll of over $130 million. Airport related expenditures are expected to more than triple to over $260 million. Also, air travelers are expected to spend over $400 million in the local area by 1995. In summary, the total economic impact, as a result

The Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce has selected this year, as recipient of the redevelopment of Midway Airport and increased activity levels, will more than triple by 1995 to over $840 million per year.

According to Joseph English, it will now take constant effort by himself, the caucus committee and the ad-hoc committee to insure that all the proposals are not just "pie in the sky" and push for earlier completion dates than those given in the presentation.

Serving on the ad-hoc committee are: Sandy Dorgan, Jim Vondrak, David Butler and Lynne Cunningham (Greater Southwest Development Assn), Bob Eckert (Southwest Federal Savings and Loan) and Art Alaniz.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

The EPA decision to cut back on toxic waste inspection and regulation) is a short-term savings plan which can lead to long-range disaster.

Experiences at Love's Canal, N.Y., Wilsonville, and in our own Chicagoland area have highlighted that there are unscrupulous, uncaring individuals willing to risk the lives and health of you and me to make a few dollars today.

Governmentments are now involved in discovering, cleaning up all toxic waste dumps, after the damage has been done. Nobody knows how many years it will be required to alleviate the situation; and how long the problems of these toxic dumps can last.

It is essential that government regulation be reduced to a strait-jacket position. However, the deregulation must be careful to keep the essential regulations and

PUBLIC SERVANTS RECEIVE THANKS

I think as much as we all hear about the troubled economy and budget problems, we need some "good news" along with reports in these areas. Today I wish to pay tribute to some dedicated public servants and tell you about a new service at the Chicago Public Library.

I recently had a nice letter from a constituent who enclosed a copy of her letter to the U.S. Postal Service, commending the postmen for their tireless efforts during harsh winter weather. She reminded me of how we do, too often, take for granted the work of some of our public servants.

During the winter months, a burden is added for, not only our postmen, but also our firemen, our policemen and all those who must still venture out and serve the public needs. I think my constituent makes a good point in saying that we tend to overlook all these fine men and women and particularly the quiet service of the postmen. They live up to the words, "Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds."

We're a world grown accustomed to advanced technology and we have our computers and calculators and modern gadgets at home. They do add to our lives. But the simple act of someone delivering to our homes the thousands and thousands of personal and business letters remains essential - and impressive. Thank you, postmen, for getting through all that snow on "your appointed rounds".

We now have the world's first "Talking Encyclopedia" at the Chicago Public Library's Cultural Center. This means the visually handicapped now will have the same reference and educational resource as do sighted individuals.

Known as the Talking World Book, it was developed as a non-profit project by World Book, Inc. and the American Printing House for the Blind. It consists of 19 volumes which house 219 long-playing cassettes and indexes both in Braille and large type.

A sophisticated component of the system is an easy-to-use cassette player which automatically searches out the desired article on the tape. This means that within some 30 seconds a blind or partially sighted individual can hear what a normally sighted individual would read.

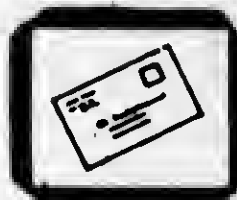

Library Commissioner Amanda Rudd recently accepted the donation from Chicago-based World Book, Inc. on behalf of all visually handicapped residents of the area.

The action of cutting down regulations and supervision of toxic wastes is a mistake - a short-sighted aberration opening the flood gates of unsupervised toxic waste pollution.

'Home Ownership' the American Dream Expo

Chicago Real Estate Board (CREB) President Robert W. Prendergast has announced plans this week for "Home Ownership: The American Dream Expo", to be held April 29 and 30 and May 1 and 2, 1982 at McCormick Place West (Donnelly Hall), 23rd Street and Lake Shore Drive. The Expo is being sponsored by the CREB in cooperation with the REALTOR Boards of metropolitan Chicago.

According to Prendergast, "The Home Ownership Expo (HOE) will be the only major, public show for Chicagoland's housing, home furnishing, home entertainment, lawn/garden and home improvement markets. The HOE has a target audience of 100,000 Chicagoland consumers, who will be attending the Expo to satisfy the demand for home ownership, home products and home services which has been put aside for almost three years. The HOE has been planned to give consumers a first time opportunity to see what is currently available and to catch up on what has been happening over the last few years. . . all under one roof".

Prendergast further detailed that 60,000 new and existing homes. . . town-houses, condominiums, mobile homes and investment opportunities will be made accessible to consumers attending the Expo thru 15 Chicago area REALTOR Boards. Products and services to beautify homes, inside and outside which can add to the comfort and enjoyment of home ownership will be displayed. Current and often confusing methods of home financing and the ancillary services which play a very important role in the buying and selling of a home, from savings and loan institutions, banks, title companies, home inspection and warranty companies, home owner's insurance, etc. will be featured at information booths and at free, educational lectures and seminars. These programs will complement the full spectrum of Chicagoland housing and housing products and services, currently available, to make one's home "The American Dream Home". One hundred informational sessions are planned in all, for the four day Expo.

Gilhooley's 'A Touch of Tiffany'

"A touch of Tiffany," Jules Cheret posters and the legend of the Great Gilhooley, promise to make the new Gilhooley's Grande Saloon a Chicago trendsetter in fashionable, drinking establishments.

Gilhooley's southside location at 3901 W 103rd Street, also dispels the myth that drinking and mingling in grand style can only be found in Chicago's near north areas.

Now open, Gilhooley's patrons will marvel at the priceless antiques and craftsmanship that surround this spacious, bi-level bar. Whether it's the Mark Twain gazebo highlighted by "The Girl in the Crescent," by Tiffany (from the Connecticut home of "Mark Twain"), the large Victorian chandeliers or the bronze Statue of Liberty replica perched at its saloon doors, Gilhooley's unique 1890's character makes it a natural for lively conversation.

The central bar, surrounded by handmade oak tables, is stocked with enough spirits, imported beers and premium wines to make Gilhooley proud. The bar features all call and premium brands starting at $1.50 and special house drinks are also available.

Stressing high quality in food, but adhering to Gilhooley's philosophy that it is served "only for the convenience of our drinking patrons," the menu features popular appetizers; individually formed, seasoned and char-broiled burgers; soups, salads and desserts. Owners Richard Driehaus and Tom McCarthy have spent considerable time perfecting the Gilhooley philosophy to "abandon solids and embrace liquids," and now welcome others to join the fun at their exciting new meeting place.

Gilhooley's Grande Saloon is open Monday thru Saturday from 11 am to 2 am and Sunday noon to others has been working on planning of this event for nearly one year. Entrants are restricted to either establishments located in the Village or residents with restaurants. All these will be divided so that each tent will have a variety of foods and ample signs will be displayed telling customers what tents will have specific dishes. There will also be stands outside the tents with light snacks such as popcorn, cookies, etc. available for eating enthusiasts. Tent locations are planned west of the library, east of the library, east of the village hall on Dumke Drive and at Cook Avenue and 96th Street.

During the Food Fest, continuous entertainment consisting of German, Greek, Polish, disco, contemporary, dixieland and rock groups, plus variety acts will keep the event in a festive mood. In addition, the Senior Citizens are planning and rehearsing a show of variety acts to be held in their center. Pat Havlik, Entertainment Chairman has been interviewing musical groups who will be entertaining thruout the three big days.

Wine and beer booths will be run by the American Legion, VFW, Fireman's Club, Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis, Oak Lawn JC's and Bootleggers Pub. No hard liquor will be served, but it is anticipated many establishments located in the vicinity will do a brisk business.

No cash transactions will be allowed in the tents. Attendants will be sold ticket books consisting of 25¢, 50¢ and $1 denominations for use during the Food Fest.

Other attractions planned is a tent on Cook Street devoted entirely to Arts and Crafts, with rides available on Wabash and a portion of the VFW lot. There will be sidewalk vendors displaying Anniversary memorabilia ranging from t-shirts, pennants, balloons, mugs, and a host of other items for Anniversary collectors. ## Yourell charges 'back door approach' to raising taxes

Representative Yourell lashed out at Governor Thompson recently for failing to provide adequate funds for Illinois public schools, thus forcing local districts to raise additional money thru increased property taxes.

While elementary and secondary education leaders have said they must have at least $225 million to support existing education programs, Thompson will cut the education budget by $35 million.

"This is the second year the governor has cut into funding for our public schools," said Yourell. "And when you compound the state cutbacks with federal cutbacks the only recourse local districts have to make up lost revenue is thru increased property taxes.

"This is simple the back-door approach to hiking real estate taxes.

"I don't intend to stand by while the governor short-changes our school children," Yourell said. "The 1970 framers of our Constitution noted that adequate funding for education was the soundest investment in our future."

"Our schools have made enough sacrifices. Now is the time to invest in the real resources of this state - our children. We need to put our money back into public schools," Yourell concluded.

Saucer flying over Holiday Inn-Oak Lawn

Is it a plane? Is it a rocket? Is it a spacecraft? No! It's a dish! And it's located atop the Holiday Inn of Oak Lawn, the hotel known for being No. 1 in People Pleasin'.

For centuries the word "dish" has signified to earthlings something out of which food is served. Not so in this case. Don and Polly Forst, officers of Satel Vision Corp explain that the dish they have placed atop the Holiday Inn represents the greatest phenomena in the tele-communications industry since the advent of television. Also known as an "earth station" this dish "serves" a wealth of entertainment and information from satellites orbiting the western hemisphere at approximately 22,500 miles above the equator. Currently there are about 11 satellites which in total offer approximately 160 channels of programming to the earth station owner, providing he has equipped his system with a motorized tracking unit or manually rotates his "dish" to a position where a signal can be received from one of the 11 satellites.

Until recently, owning your own earth station was financially impractical. Today, earth stations are popping up in back yards thruout the country and are affordable to the individual home owner, churches, schools, hotels, condominiums and apartment units.

Satel Vision offers good news to aspiring earth station owners: Chicago and vicinity happens to fall in the primary footprint path and therefore an excellent studio-quality picture can be downlinked to your earth station on one of the smaller, 10' antennas.

Atmospheric conditions are of little concern to the earth station owner as they have very little effect on the durable, fiberglass and aluminum antennas with respect to reception. Placed on a sturdy mount, the antenna can withstand winds up to 120 miles per hour.

Satel Vision, warns potential earth station owners to be certain, when considering the purchase of a system, that the seller provide them with a site test before allowing installation of their system to make certain that a quality signal can be received.

Unlike the cable television system, earth station ownership allows access to a wealth of international programming thru the ability to track thru the sky and receive signals from a variety of satellites. By 1985 a great many more satellites will be orbiting the earth.

"Heaven" only knows how many will be up there," says Satel Vision's Vice President, Polly Forst. "Viewers call it the 'hottest' dish around."

Satel Vision's executive offices are located in the Oak Lawn Holiday Inn and although plans are in the offing to allow viewing of the system at the company's offices, Forst suggests that anyone interested in seeing a demonstration call by dialing "GALAXY 8". What else?

Oak Lawners open business in the village

Oak Lawn Mayor Ernie Kolb (l) and Oak Lawn Village Clerk Jane Powers (r) are shown with Betty Cole as they cut the ribbon for the grand opening of Playtime Cut or Curl located at 5629 W 87th Street in Oak Lawn.

Betty Cole and her husband, Bill, have distinguished themselves in the Village of Oak Lawn. Betty was the former owner of Betty's Cut or Curl located on south Cicero for 12 years before selling the business because of illness. She presently holds a real estate broker's license in addition to her beauty operator's license and is co-broker in C & K Realty World Real Estate. Her husband Bill recently retired from the Oak Lawn Police Department as a lieutenant after 25 years of service. The Coles have resided in Oak Lawn since 1952.

The opening of Playtime Cut or Curl is a dream-come-true for Betty. "Ever since I had to sell my beauty shop, I wanted to get back into the business," stated Betty. "Twelve years later I finally did it. I look forward to seeing many of my dear customers and providing the same level of professionalism for the entire family that I provided in the past," stated Betty.

Garage jungles need spring cleaning

Now that spring is, according to the calendar, here, many of us will start to sort thru the jungle that our garages have become thru the winter. The Oak Lawn Fire Department's Fire Prevention Bureau would like you to take this opportunity to think about all of the material that we all eventually stuffed into our garages.

First of all, think about the combustibles we have: paper, oily rags, scrap wood, etc., not to mention the cans of gasoline, paint thinner, propane cylinders, and the like. Are we protecting these things from accidentally catching fire?

Where are the ignition sources? If you have a furnace, water heater, or other gas fueled appliance in your garage, is it raised off of the floor 18 inches to prevent accidental ignition of gasoline fumes coming from your car?

Those of us with attached garages have some built in protection - a one hour fire rated separation between the house and garage. During the nice days of spring, we all eliminate this protection by keeping the connecting door propped open.

Please give some thought to these items when you start your spring clean-up. If you have any questions, feel free to contact the Fire Prevention Bureau at 422-0388.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

POTHOLES - NOT A WAY OF LIFE

Area residents recently proved that State Government can do positive things when citizens and the bureaucracy work together.

Several weeks ago, I issued a pothole alert, asking residents to tell me the location of dangerous potholes on State roads. Various people responded and, within 24 hours, the Illinois Department of Transportation did the necessary repairs. This combined effort prevented accidents that could have involved serious personal injuries and extensive damages to vehicles.

I want to thank area residents for getting involved, and the Department of Transportation for doing its job well.

Judge threatens dry-dock for child support evader

The drive to enforce child support orders in Illinois caught a Lake Bluff attorney and labor negotiator in its web and he spent a night in jail before raising $5000 and avoiding a 45-day jail sentence for contempt of court.

Court officials disclosed the case Thursday.

James P. Martin, 54, Lake Bluff, whose income was estimated at being in excess of $100,000 a year, was before Judge Richard H. Jorzak, presiding judge

Represents AFL-CIO in Japan

Lane Kirkland, President, of the AFL-CIO, designated Eugene P. Moats, International Vice President of the Service Employees International Union, to represent the AFL-CIO at the Japan Institute of Labour on March 13 thru 26, in Tokyo, Japan.

of the Circuit Court of Cook County's new Support Division last Monday.

His wife Sally, 51, Evanston, had complained that Martin was two months behind on a $2500 a month court order for unallocated maintenance (included child support). The couple was married in 1953 and divorced in 1981. They have eight children, several of them grown.

Martin told Jorzak that his debts had grown to such proportions that he was unable to make the maintenance payments. He told the judge that he even had to borrow $5000 to make the payments on his 41 foot boat.

Jorzak told Martin that borrowing $5000 to pay for a boat but not finding a means to pay $5000 in court-ordered child support payments wasn't the right way to handle one's responsibilities and found him in contempt of court.

"I think you're going to have a hard time operating your boat from the County Jail because you're going to be dry docked," Jorzak told the defendant.

The judge said Martin could purge himself of contempt by paying his former wife the $5000. The money was paid Tuesday and Martin was released.

Huskey pushes for driver liability insurance

State Representative Herb Huskey (R) has joined efforts with the Secretary of State to make all Illinois drivers carry liability insurance. Huskey, who is chairman of the House Motor Vehicles Committee, says his committee is "ready to tackle the compulsory insurance issue" this spring.

"There should not be one uninsured motorist on our streets and highways," Huskey said. "All insured drivers are subsidizing the uninsured motorists' disregard for safety and financial responsibility. If a driver is not willing to show responsibility by buying car insurance, than he or she should not have the privilege of driving in this state."

Public support, Huskey says, is crucial to the passage of a compulsory insurance law. According to the Secretary of State's proposal, motorists would be required to show proof of insurance before being permitted to register a car with the State. They would also have to carry some type of card provided by insurance companies to prove they are covered. Police officers would be authorized to check for proof of insurance any time a vehicle is stopped for a traffic violation or other offense.

A driver with no insurance would have to pay a $100 fine for a first offense. Any further violations would carry a $250 fine and suspension of the driver's license and vehicle registration for six months.

Persons in favor of a compulsory insurance law can register their support with Huskey at either 6201 W 95th Street, Oak Lawn 60453 (424-5000), or 2061 Stratton Building, Springfield 62706 (217-782-8161). Letters and comments, he says, will be submitted as testimony when the compulsory insurance legislation is considered by a House committee.

Jesus Christ Superstar with Oak Lawn High

"So stunningly effective, a theatrical experience... in short, a triumph," so says the New York Daily News.

"An exciting show... it's certainly reverential," claimed Variety at its London opening.

"Jesus Christ Superstar" is one of the great rock musicals of all time.

The Oak Lawn Community High School Theatre Arts Department will present its spring rock opera "Jesus Christ Superstar" on May 20, 21 and 22 at 8 pm in the auditorium gym.

The opera relates the last seven days in the life of Jesus of Nazareth honestly, passionately and reverently. The music is rock and soul, the words are modern and open, the message is basic and honest -- how we treat our fellow man. Love, hate, deception, denial, fear -- all are feelings within the followers of Christ and within each one of us. As Jesus says to Judas, "Who are you to criticize her? (Mary Magdalene). ...I'm amazed that men like you can be so shallow, thick and slow. There is not a man among you who knows or cares if I come or go."

This production, under the direction of Tom Dzurison, musical director Jim Detloff, and student director Laura Walsh features Scott Carollo (Jesus), Jayne Andersen (Judas), and Carolyn Daum (Mary Magdalene).

Tickets are available at the high school, 94th and Southwest Highway, Oak Lawn, 424-5200 and are priced at $3.50 for adults and $2.75 for senior citizens and students with an I.D. Tickets can also be purchased at the auditorium gym box office the night of the performance.

County Board. His office has always been open and available to any citizen seeking his assistance and guidance. Ron's standing in the recent primary election is evidence of the support his constituents have always given him. However, we feel he now needs our financial support to insure victory in November. ## Secretaries peek at executive floor in Holiday Inn-Oak Lawn

The 8th Annual Holiday Inn Secretaries Lunch, in honor of Secretaries Week, was held on Tuesday, April 20 in Oak Lawn.

As each secretary arrived she received her choice of color corsage and then joined others in a delightful and informal cocktail hour.

Art Alaniz, Director of Sales, was in charge of master-minding the menu for the lovely affair and consisted of assorted melon balls in scalloped grapefruit shells, beef tenderloin with complimentary vegetables and topped off with a sundae (a la Alaniz) and served in their beautiful glassware.

Art Alaniz, who also takes on the roll of MC, credited Celia Corr and Pearl Arger with "putting it all together". He then thanked Pearl Kelly and her staff for serving in the grand manner. Also included in the introductions were Assistant Managers, Gerry Mulloy, John Hughes and Brad Rucker, who assisted with the serving of the luncheon.

The highlight of the day was accompanying Joseph English, Vice President/General Manager of the Holiday Inn, to visit the 5th floor where construction and refurbishing were in process. It was explained by English that these rooms were all to be executive suites. To reach the 5th floor a lock will be installed in the present elevator with special keys that will be the only means of entry to the suites.

English, who has superb taste, color coordinates the rooms with his choice of carpet, furnishings, drapes, even to the pictures on the walls. The Governor's Suite and the Presidential Suite, both having two rooms, are truly exquisite. The remaining rooms, all doubles and some kings, have been decorated in the same handsome blue tones.

English explained that the floor will have special services, TV in each room with remote control night stands and other amenities. The executive suites are planned for a July 1, 1982 opening.

To return to the lunch, the many prizes for the ladies created great excitement as the names were called by Art Alaniz and assisted by Celia Corr.

Called as the winners of bottles of champagne were Mary Dvorak (Oak Lawn Fire Dept); C. Norris (McDade & Company) and Maureen Murphy (3M Company).

Bottles of wine were won by Mildred Sujka (George Washington Savings & Loan); Berniece Ragner (Christ Hospital); Ruth Lake (Central Steel & Wire); Linda Kolosh (National Auto Theft) and Pat McCormack (Evergreen Savings & Loan).

Elena Hls (National Lacquer & Paint Company) and Shirley Palolo (Central Steel & Wire) both won $25 Gift Certificates.

A delicious Sunday Brunch was won by Diann Gardner (H. B. Smith Paper Company).

One night at the Holiday Inn was secured by Joan Zolecki (eM Company) and one night for two was taken by Emilee Sland (McDade & Company) and Jayne Repetsky.

War Veterans plan Annual Fund Raiser

A luncheon meeting was held for the directors and friends of the Hospitalized War Veterans on March 10 at the Oak Lawn Holiday Inn. This meeting was required by the State of Illinois Non-Profit Organization law.

The group reviewed the outings of the past year and discussed their 2nd Annual Fund Raiser to be held on Thursday and Friday, June 10 and 11. The 1981 Fund Raiser was a huge success bringing in close to $3000, thanks to the hard work of Chairmen Gene Swanson and Hank Latas. Out of this money, they paid for the insurance, flag pins, safety vests and ID badges. The only outlay of money for this year's fund raiser should be the insurance for the two days which the Village of Oak Lawn requires under their ordinance.

For further information call Pat Sullivan, 636-5087.

News Information Supervisor Commonwealth Edison Co.

Many newspapers around the country recently carried a tragic photograph showing the body of a young man who was electrocuted atop a utility pole in Long Beach, Cal., that he had climbed to retrieve a model airplane tangled in the electric wires. Like so many other fun activities, model airplane flying has its own set of safety rules, but this unfortunate young person apparently broke the basic rule: Never fly a model plane near power lines of any type.

High voltage transmission lines run through all types of terrain, through cities, towns and open country. In many areas it's difficult to find open, level land, so it's natural for model airplane pilots to head for open areas below overhead transmission lines. Unfortunately, since the lines are high in the air, it's sometimes easy to ignore them. The control lines for the model can be longer than the flyer thinks!

Another area of trouble is that many people think that the fiber lines used with many models will not conduct electricity. Wrong! When fiber lines get oily or damp, they will conduct electricity — enough to kill or seriously injure the user. Steel control lines present an even greater potential hazard.

It's not only the high voltage transmission lines that can cause trouble to model plane pilots. They can also suffer injury or death if they come in contact with lower voltages such as they might encounter in a backyard or local park where overhead lines exist.

A beginning control line flyer — perhaps a youngster who received the model as a holiday gift — will have his hands full to get the plane up and down in one piece, with the flight in between erratic to say the least. Many things can happen to cause the plane to drift into or near a power line. The wind can shift, the engine can quit, a line can snap or the flyer could wander from the spot where he started.

The inexperienced flyer might well lose control of his plane and get it lodged in the wires. Never try to dislodge a stuck air craft with a pole or rope or by climbing. And never assume that utility poles carry only telephone wires; they could and probably do have power lines on them as well.

A few other things to remember:

— Like swimming, it is safer and more fun to fly with one or more friends.

— Treat all power lines as if they were "live" at all times.

— Safe flying is no accident.

— Smart pilots obey the rules of safety.

Condominiums at Crestline Arms in Oak Lawn are located at 97th and Karlov Avenue (4100 West). Model and sales office is open from 1 to 5 pm Monday thru Friday and from noon to 5 pm Saturday and Sunday.

The Health Revolution

To some the term "The Health Revolution" might conjure up visions of joggers in the park, but to a growing number "The Health Revolution" represents an alternative to impersonal "take two aspirin and call me in the morning" medicine.

The Wholistic Health Center of Oak Lawn, 9411 S 51st Avenue, is one of eight primary care, family practice centers throughout Chicago and the suburbs offering an alternative.

"Life-changes such as loss, stress or grief, which only the patient can articulate, can leave a person vulnerable to illness," said Dr. Edward Lichter of Wholistic Health Centers and head of the department of Preventive Medicine and Community Health at Illinois U.

Wholistic Health Centers are fully staffed with medical doctors and nurses but are unique in that they are housed in church buildings and have pastoral counselors as full-time staff members.

Working as a team, the Wholistic Health Center's staff and patient strive to determine a possible cause behind an illness. Great emphasis is placed on pastoral counseling which Dr. Lichter believes is more inclined to delve into a patient's feelings of alienation or loneliness, "factors which contribute to disease," he added.

Congressman Russo has again shown his superb support for policemen and firemen throughout the City of Chicago and the County of Cook.

A physician is on duty during office hours to treat colds and other physical complaints, but the main emphasis is on preventive medicine.

"We try to keep people out of the hospital," said Dr. Lichter. In addition to the staff/patient relationship to reach this goal, Wholistic Health Centers also sponsor community health education seminars.

It is the personal touch that keeps patients coming back to Wholistic Health Centers. Many patients return as volunteers. Vol-

Eligibility disability benefits depends on nature of impairment

An individual's physical or mental impairment must be the primary reason for the person's inability to work if he or she is to be eligible for Social Security disability benefits. Rosalie Thompson, Social Security district manager in Evergreen Park, said recently.

"Moreover," Thompson added, "the physical or mental impairment must be medically determinable—that is, the condition must be subject to verification by medically acceptable clinical or laboratory diagnostic techniques." In addition, the impairment must have lasted, or be expected to last, at least 12 months.

Being displaced from a job as a result of technological changes in an industry, or being laid off from work because of adverse economic conditions, does not make a person eligible for Social Security disability benefits, Thompson pointed out. "The impairment must be of such a serious nature that the individual is unable to engage in any substantial gainful work that exists in the national economy, regardless of whether such work is available in the immediate area in which the person resides.

"Neither can consideration be given to whether a specific job vacancy exists or whether the person would even be hired if he or she applied for the job."

Additional information about eligibility requirements under the Social Security disability insurance program may be obtained from the Evergreen Park Social Security office located at 9730 S. Western Avenue. The phone number is 239-1200 in Chicago and 594-2876 in the suburbs.

Huskey working against religious organization tax abuse

State Representative Herb Huskey (R) has launched an effort to curb tax abuse by religious organizations "established only to evade the payment of taxes."

"After my legislation (H.B. 1913) to curb abuse of the reddish-colored Charitable Vehicle (CV) license plates got widespread attention," Huskey stated, "I uncovered much more abuse by many organizations in terms of evading payment of property, income and sales taxes."

"Illinois Attorney General Tyrone Fahner helped me get access to the records of titled vehicles sold in Illinois so I could have a more accurate picture of the extent of the sales tax exemption," he explained. "I was astonished to learn that there were mobile homes, campers, motorcycles, snowmobiles and luxury cars sold with the tax exempt status."

"My proposed legislation (H.B. 2539) gives the Illinois Department of Revenue the authority it needs to refuse a tax exemption to illegitimate organizations."

"In order to show my colleagues in the General Assembly just how easy it is to get a tax exempt status, I answered magazine ads from about seven different religious organizations which were selling ordained ministerial credentials for anywhere from $3 to $35," Huskey explained. "The price for obtaining a charter-member church ranged from $35 to $2000."

"My credentials were sent to me without ever questioning my motives or my theological experience," he stated. "The Mother Earth American Fellowship Church, Inc. in California also sent me a 76-page book describing in detail how non-profit can be profitable."

VFW purchases American Flags for display in the Village of Oak Lawn

The Johnson-Phelps Post 5220 Veterans' of Foreign Wars of Oak Lawn recently presented a check covering the purchase of sixty American Flags to be displayed throughout the village. These flags will be added with many others which, along with specially designed displays of the 100th anniversary, will add color and distinction along 95th Street and other areas of Oak Lawn. In addition to the flags, the Johnson-Phelps Post will be active participants in the 100th Year Anniversary which will take place July 3rd thru 11th.

"The Disciples of Divine Rights in Florida say that an ordained minister with a charter from that church can obtain a sales tax exemption certificate to show a seller when buying any state-taxable items like furniture, appliances, clothing, jewelry, autors, hardware, lumber and so forth for the church," Huskey said.

"This church could be a dining room, clothes closet, or any place large enough to hold the three people needed to establish the church -- a president, secretary and treasurer."

The House Rules Committee and the House Judiciary II Committee have already approved Huskey's House Bill 2539. It is now on the House floor for debate.

(Copies of the above mentioned credentials Huskey received were included with this news release.)

Portable TTY Unity in use at LCMH

Hearing impaired patients at Little Company of Mary Hospital can "talk" to their families and friends from their hospital rooms thru the hospital's newly acquired portable TTY (teletype) phone.

Dianne Witte, a recent surgical patient at LCMH, was one of the first deaf persons to make use of the unit which transports typed messages over a traditional telephone to any other TTY. Her enthusiasm was obvious as she typed out messages of thanks to the hospital staff for their continuing efforts to meet the needs of the hearing impaired.

LCMH also has a permanent TTY located in the Emergency Department. The TTY number is 422-6904.

The awards were announced by Morgan M. Finley, Clerk of the Circuit Court of Cook County. Finley is co-chairman of the 35 member Justice Day Committee along with Eugene Heytow, President of Amalgamated Trust and Savings Bank. The not-for-profit committee privately raised funds for the awards.

First place district winners in both divisions receive $200 U.S. Savings Bonds. Second place district winners receive a $100 bond.

The first place winners will go on to compete for a $1000 scholarship award in their respective divisions. The two scholarship awards will be announced May 17 at a dinner to be held at McCormick Inn for the District winners, their parents, teachers and public officials.

Yourell asks Small Business Division

State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell (D) has introduced legislation to create a Small Business Division within the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs.

"With more than 200,000 small businesses in Illinois, it only makes sense to allocate some of our state resources to provide specialized services for the small businessman," Yourell said.

Yourell's legislation, House Bill 2494, would create a centralized office to provide technical, managerial and legal assistance for small business and to act as an ombudsman for small business in dealing with state agencies, rules and regulations.

The legislation is similar to programs that have already been established in 17 states. The bill follows model legislation developed by the Federal Small Business Administration and combines the best elements of the various state programs already in existence.

One of the main goals of the program would be to provide technical assistance and counseling to small businessmen. "Most small businesses can't afford to hire expensive advisors," Yourell said. "My legislation would provide an expert staff that will concentrate solely on the

The Oak Lawn Community High School Theatre Arts Department will present its spring rock opera "Jesus Christ Superstar" on May 20, 21 and 22 at 8 pm in the auditorium gym.

The opera relates the last seven days in the life of Jesus of Nazareth honestly, passionately and reverently. The music is rock and soul, the words are modern and open, the message is basic and honest -- how we treat kind of audience or age group. Everyone can empathize with the themes of love and cooperation in the home.

man among you who knows or cares if I come or go."

This production, under the direction of Tom Dzurison, musical director Jim Detloff, and student director Laura Walsh features Scott Carollo (Jesus), Jayne Andersen (Judas), and Carolyn Daum (Mary Magdalene).

Tickets are available at the high school, 94th and Southwest Highway, Oak Lawn, 424-5200 and are priced at $3.50 for adults and $2.75 for senior citizens and students with an I.D. Tickets can also be purchased at the auditorium gym box office the night of the performance.

All campers must be ambulatory and able to perform self-help skills.

Campers are guests of Illinois Lions Clubs and the Lions of Illinois Foundation, 1515 N. Harlem, Oak Park, the charitable arm of the state's 678 Lions Clubs. Camp funds come from clubs, from proceeds from Candy Day, and from private contributions.

The regular camping sessions are filled on a first-come, first-served basis. Information and application blanks are available from Sharon Altobelli, Camp Registrar, at the Foundation office. All applications must be received by the office by June 1. For further information either write or call Altobelli at 383-1900.

OUR DEAREST FRIEND

*Radiant, brilliant, forever burning,
Like a kaleidoscope twisting and turning
My patterns will vary in shape and design,
With beauty and splendor they'll sparkle and shine.
Be my companion; I'll be your guide,
Come journey with me; see where I abide.
To both poor and homeless I'm hope for tomorrow,
Consoling the mourners in their grief and sorrow.
I comfort the aged when their days are dreary,
Rewarding their labors, giving rest when they're weary.
Proud parents know me when they see my fair face,
In the eyes of their children whose hearts I embrace.
Arrayed with bright colors I come into view
Reflecting with mirrors each trait and virtue.
All children cling to me, filled with emotion.
Couples will know me through constant devotion.
To he who has prospered, I'll glisten and gleam,
Bestowing my riches, fulfilling his dream.
Majestic as heaven, you've seen me since birth.
I live among mankind; my home is the earth.
I've been with you often, you know me as love.
My free-flowing spirit soars on the wings of a dove.
Now that our travels have come to an end,
I'll tell you of my mission, and the message I send.
I'm here to bring peace, so rejoice do not pine
Love will be with you always, till the end of time.*

Russo legislation would benefit officers families

Congressman Marty Russo has introduced legislation that would extend death benefits assistance for the families of public safety officers to include medical conditions caused by emergency situations. At present, only situations such as a gunshot wound or the collapse of a building are covered.

"I feel that we owe a degree of financial security to the families of those who have given their lives protecting us," Russo commented, "and that is why I was a sponsor of the Public Safety Officers Benefits Act that provided a death benefit of $50,000 to the survivors of a state or local firefighter or law enforcement officer who died as the result of a direct physical injury sustained in the line of duty. This was good legislation as far as it went.

"The reasons for the original death benefits program were the dangers inherent in these occupations and the inability of many smaller jurisdictions and volunteer fire departments to provide adequate benefits. The same reasons would apply to an extension of the law to cover medical conditions such as heart attacks."

"Families of some public safety officers find themselves in severe financial straits after a death caused by a heart attack. They may not even be able to collect from private insurance companies because of clauses excluding hazardous activities, and this is why this bill is necessary. We cannot really ever repay the families of those who have lost their loved ones in service to the public, but we can certainly recognize our responsibility to ease their financial problems."

The original Public Safety Officers Benefits Act was passed in 1976. The legislation extending coverage to include medical conditions has been referred to the Crime Subcommittee of

Applications available for Circuit Breaker program

State Representative Herb Huskey (R) says approximately 6,900 area senior and disabled residents received property tax relief benefits for 1980 from Illinois' Circuit Breaker program.

According to Huskey, 1,806 Oak Lawn residents received these benefits. The average grant was $282.51.

The Circuit Breaker grant, Huskey says, provides tax relief for qualifying persons who own their homes, rent, or live in a mobile or nursing home. The maximum amount of the 1980 property tax relief grant was $700 minus 5% of household income.

"When a senior citizen's or disabled person's property tax bill exceeds 3 1/2% of their household income for a year, the Circuit Breaker halts an overload by granting relief for taxes paid above that level," Huskey explained. "Persons who rent their housing may use 30% of their annual rent figure.

In addition, Huskey says, the Illinois Department of Revenue approved approximately 7,780 area applications for additional tax relief. Also under the Circuit Breaker program this grant is calculated strictly on the basis of income, and ranged between $50 and $100. Persons in tax exempt housing are eligible for it. (Effective January 1, 1982, this grant total is a flat $80.)

"A single form is used to apply for both the property tax and additional tax relief grants, and I urge all qualified senior and disabled residents to file for 1981 benefits before the deadline on December 31 of this year," Huskey said.

To be eligible for 1981 Circuit Breaker property tax benefits, seniors must have been 65 or older by December 31, 1981, had a 1981 household income under $12,000, and lived in an Illinois residence or nursing home that was subject to the property tax, or in a mobile home subject to the local service tax.

If disabled, persons must have been at least 16 years

Huskey wants information for senior directory

State Representative Herb Huskey (R) says the second edition of his senior citizen directory, "Update", will be available soon.

"The response to the first edition of this publication was so overwhelming," Huskey said, "that I'm putting the final touches on an updated version.

"However, I have still not heard from all of the senior citizen clubs and organizations which I contacted for verification of their meetings and services," he said. "In order to be included in "Update", I need to hear from them soon."

According to Huskey, the 1982 edition of "Update" will include information about ongoing programs and benefits for senior citizens, and new laws of special interest to them. A directory of state agencies most frequently called and a listing of area senior citizen clubs will also be in the book.

"There will also be new pleasant features," Huskey said, "which I think senior citizens will find helpful. "If any senior citizen wants to share information with me about clubs or any related services in our community, I urge them to contact me now."

Material for "Update", Huskeys says, can be sent to him at 2061 Stratton Building, Springfield, IL 62706. Additional information is available from him at 424-5000.

Yourell bill gets tough on adult sellers

The House Judiciary II Committee this week approved legislation co-sponsored by State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell (D-Oak Lawn) to require tough jail sentences for adults who sell drugs to school children.

House Bill 1425 provides that anyone 18 years or older who sells a controlled substance to a minor at least two years his junior would be guilty of a Class X felony punishable by a jail term of 6 to 30 years with no chance for probation.

"We must put a stop to these pushers who prey upon our children and put these pushers behind bars where they belong and keep them there," Yourell said.

Yourell said he introduced the legislation because of the growing drug problems in schools.

"Adults openly sell drugs on the school grounds, hooking our kids into expensive drug habits and forcing them into a life of crime to support that habit," Yourell said.

Yourell said his bill places drug dealers who sell to children in the same criminal category as rapists, armed robbers and people who attempt murder. Only murder itself carries a tougher sentence.

"Putting drugs in the hands of children is the same as giving a kid a pistol to play Russian roulette," Yourell said. "Who knows when a young man or woman will go too far, take too much and die of an overdose?"

Yourell said he expects to gain quick passage of his bill this session so the law can take effect later this year.

Huskey announces public state auction

The Illinois Department of Administrative Services will hold a public auction to sell surplus state property on Saturday, June 12 at the State Fairgrounds in Springfield, says State Representative Herb Huskey (R-Oak Lawn). Registration, he says, will be conducted from 7:30 - 8:30 am. The sale is set for 8:30 am in warehouse buildings 25E, 25F, 25G, 25H, 25J and

"Typewriters, printing equipment, mail sorters, hospital and dental equipment, adding machines, filing cabinets and many other items of miscellaneous furniture and equipment will be sold," Huskey said. "Buyers must take possession of all goods purchased at the conclusion of the auction."

According to Huskey, payment for the merchandise must be made either in cash, money order, certified check or travelers check in increments of $100 or less. Company and personal checks exceeding $1000 may be submitted if they are fully supported by a letter of credit issued by a bank having its principal place of business in Illinois. The letter must be on the bank's stationery, and designate the maximum amount of the credit approved.

Municipalities and local governmental units will be able to inspect this same merchandise thru, and including, June 9. Appointments can be made by calling (217) 782-7786 or (217) 786-6366.

Local governmental units and municipalities purchasing merchandise must pay 10% to 25% of the merchandise's initial purchase price. Payment must be made by check drawn on the governmental unit's or municipality's account, and made payable to the State of Illinois, Department of Administrative Services.

Property not sold to these governmental units will be auctioned to the public on June 12.

Who are these five?

WHO ARE THESE five, who sit on the Illinois Commerce Commission and decide we will pay 8% more in addition to the increased summer rate for our electricity?

WHO ARE THESE five, who seem to totally disregard the plight of our people on a fixed income, our 10.4% unemployed, our senior citizens who worked all their lives to own their homes but now cannot afford the taxes or utilities and will be forced to sell in a deflated market - to go where?

WHO ARE THESE five, who are contemplating an additional 11.5% increase because the 8% is only an interim raise?

WHO ARE THESE five, who are not accountable or responsive to you the electors for their actions?

WHO ARE THESE five? THEY ARE: Commissioner Charles Stalon, Commissioner, Daniel Rosenblum, Commissioner Andrew Barrett, Commissioner Helen Schmid and Chairman Michael V. Hasten.

Appointed by the governor with the consent of the state Senate. DO SOMETHING! Write to them, the governor, your senator, your representative.

For addresses and telephone numbers of the above, call the office of Joan P. Murphy, Clerk, Town of Worth, at 371-2900, 8:30 am - 4:30 pm daily.

County law rules cat and dog inoculation

Animal bites are among the most frequently reported statistics in Medical Emergency Rooms.

The Cook County Dept. of Animal Control program of door to door survey for current rabies vaccination certificates has helped reduce the number of reported animal bites from 29,102 in 1971 to 14,357 in 1981.

Dr Robert J. Keough, Administrator of the department says that the person to person contact has been important in reducing the number of bites. Trained personnel advise the public about responsible animal ownership. They are the eyes and ears of the department. They assist in solving local problems, discover the location of new animals that must be inoculated with rabies vaccine, and in general, inform the public about rabies and proper animal care.

MAYOR AND CLERK SEND THANKS

On behalf of the President and Board of Trustees, we wish to express our sincere appreciation to all of the Oak Lawn residents who attended Oak Lawn Night at White Sox Park, May 18th.

As you are well aware, this community night was the kick-off of Oak Lawn's 100th Anniversary being celebrated July 3rd thru 11th. We found it most gratifying to witness the enthusiasm and spirit that was so apparent among our citizens and feel assured that with the participation and cooperation of our residents, the Centennial Festivities will be a "Once In A Lifetime" good time for all of us.

Again, our thanks for your support of our night out at the ball park!

Check IRS-ID

Persons posing as employees of the Internal Revenue Service occasionally attempt to harass taxpayers, or collect money for what the imposter claims are unpaid taxes, the IRS says.

Taxpayers should request to see the credentials of any individual claiming to represent the IRS. Every IRS employee who makes contact with the public is required to carry distinctive identification and must show this when conducting official business.

Generally, taxpayers who owe money to the IRS will receive written notification before being contacted in person.

Taxpayers who doubt the validity of the credentials offered can verify the person's employment by contacting the nearest IRS office.

A message for the Graduates

you're what's happening

You Make

Congratulations from the Sisters and Staff of
LITTLE COMPANY of MARY HOSPITAL

Best wishes to the graduates on their very special day. May all the good things in life be theirs as they step into their wider horizons that now await them. VILLAGE VIEW has not listed all the names of the many, many graduates as we tend to think in terms of high school and forget about the little "kindergarteners" that have graduated to 1st grade — the elementary grads that have left 8 years behind them — the high school grads that will leave their homes, towns and villages to go to various colleges all over the country. Last but surely not least, those grads who have completed college and may be coming back to where it all began.

The list of names would be prohibitive. We do want them all to know that the persons, businesses and organizations on these pages of VILLAGE VIEW are very proud of all of them and wish them "Godspeed" in all of their future endeavors whether it is continuing on the higher education or going into the world of business.

Plan Shakespeare and Shaw workshop at Moraine

Shakespeare and Shaw in Four Parts is the title of a summer workshop at Moraine Valley College.

Kate Wulle, MVCC professor of drama, is the instructor. She will lead students through reading Shakespeare, speaking the language and understanding the plots. Those attending Shakespeare and Shaw are linked because of the popularity of their works and because Moraine Valley College is sponsoring a trip to the Stratford Shakespearean Festival, Canada, on August 20, 21 and 22. The trip also includes a visit to Niagara-on-the-Lake.

The class meets four times, separated to allow some reading and viewing. The dates are Thursday, June 17 and 24, July 29 and August 5. The hours are 7:30-9:30 pm.

The sessions will be helpful also to high school students preparing to try out for plays and to those involved in community theater. All ages are welcome duty during the Oak Lawn Lions Law and Order Awards Night.

Oak Lawn Police Chief John J. Haberkorn cited Police Officer John Lesniewski, who responded to a call of a robbery in progress at a beauty shop, just after dark, and apprehended one of the burglars after a chase down an unlighted alley. The other offender was captured later. The arrests culminated in 25 identifications during police show-ups and solved cases ranging from Evanston to DuPage County, including a robbery where a woman was shot in the stomach.

Fireman Gerald Danaher was praised by Oak Lawn Fire Chief Elmore Harker for saving an elderly, crippled woman from a house sheathed in smoke and flames. Gerry, wearing a breathing apparatus, entered the house and found the woman sitting in a chair in a rear bedroom. She had suffered a stroke while smoking and her clothing and 30% of her body was burnt. Unfortunately, three weeks after the rescue, she died.

Applauding at the presentations were: Dan K. Webb, U.S. Attorney for the northern district of Illinois, Oak Lawn Mayor Ernie Kolb, Oak Lawn Village Clerk Jane Powers, and Village Trustees Charles Meloun, Les Anderson and Ron Stancik, and also, Worth Township Supervisor Joe McCarthy. From the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce were Vina O'Malley, President, and Linda Macfarlane, 2nd Vice President, along with special guests, Michele McBride, and Jim and Edna Banser.

Fire Department warns of swimming pools hazards

This is time of year that homeowners who have swimming pools begin their seemingly endless trips to the pool supply store so that they may utilize their pools.

Along with the enjoyment, a swimming pool brings certain hazards. Some of the obvious dangers are drowning, neck and back injuries caused by misuse of diving boards, and possible electric shocks when outdoor circuits are not properly protected by "ground fault interrupters".

One hazard that members of the fire service have noticed is the improper storage of pool chemicals. The chlorine that you use in your pool should be stored separately from your other pool chemicals. Chlorine, in granulated or crystal form, coming in contact with certain other materials, can cause spontaneous heating which may result in a fire.

The Oak Lawn Fire Department Fire Prevention Bureau wants everyone to have a happy and safe summer. Please don't ruin your summer by ignoring safety.

For further information, feel free to contact the Fire Prevention Bureau at 422-0388.

Arbor Day with Park District a community project

Arbor Day, May 1, 1982 was a community project when the Oak Lawn Park District Board of Commissioners, assisted by local citizens who had contributed to the Park District's Memorial Tree Fund, planted trees in two park sites. Contributions to this fund are donated not only in memory of a loved one, but as a special gift for the living as evidenced by little

Individual trees were donated by the Johnson-Phelps Auxiliary to Post 5220, the Cook County Adult Probation Department employees, and John A. Pohl.

Mayor Ernest Kolb joined Park Commissioners Marjorie Ann Joy, Richard Barrett, Alex Kazmierczak, Janet Swanson, Park Director Martin Larson, Jr., and local citizens for the tree planting ceremonies.

In conjunction with Conservation.

Arbor Day, the Cub Scouts from Hannum Troop 3610 planted 250 Pine seedlings in Lewandowski and Central Parks on May 4. These trees were donated to the troop by the Department of

All in all, Arbor Day was exemplified in Oak Lawn with people of all ages participating in the beautification of parks to be enjoyed now and by generations to come.

Navy scholarships for qualified students

Scholarship applications are now being accepted for the Navy's 4 year NROTC college scholarship. Students that are strong academically with high ACT or SAT scores, have a good chance of qualifying. Applications are available from high school counselors or local Navy recruiters and will be accepted from now thru December 1, 1982.

The NROTC scholarship, available at more than 50 leading colleges, pays full tuition, books, fees and provides a tax-free stipend of $100 per month to help with living costs. In addition, it offers 4 weeks of paid summer training as a Navy Midshipman. These scholarships are offered to both male and female high school students who will be graduated and ready to enter college in the fall of 1983.

NROTC midshipmen on scholarship lead essentially the same campus life as other undergraduates. They make their own arrangements for room and board, pursue academic studies leading to a bachelor's degree, primarily in technical/scientific fields, and participate in extra-curricular activities. They study specific subjects that will train them for professional Naval Officer duties.

Upon graduation from college the scholarship students are commissioned as officers in the U.S. Navy and serve 4 years of active duty. Many elect to stay in the Navy and continue their careers in aviation, nuclear submarines, or surface ships. Those who decide to return to civilian life do so with 4 years of managerial responsibilities and experience added to their excellent college background and are recognized by civilian employers as proven leaders.

Full details are available from high school counselors, local Navy recruiters or by calling 800-942-4839 toll free, or write to NROTC Scholarships, Building 41, NAS, Glenview, IL 60626.

DON'T SPEND SUMMER SPINNING YOUR WHEELS.

Northern Illinois winters taught us to make the most of northern Illinois summers. But you have to work at it.

Because the minute the air conditioner goes on, those little dials on the meter start moving faster. Sending most electric bills higher than in any other season of the year.

Partly, because air conditioning naturally eats up a lot of electricity. And partly, because summer rates are higher than in any other season of the year.

It's been that way since 1979, when we stopped using the old, uniform, year-round rate. Raised it in the four summer months when electricity costs more to make. And lowered it the other eight to compensate.

Obviously, one of the big benefits was getting you to conserve. To help cut back on the growing demand for electricity every summer.

It's not impossible. Far from it. Those little dials don't have to move so fast. In fact, we know of at least a hundred things you can do to slow them down.

They're listed in our Waste Watcher's Guide, which is yours free.

(Write: Department AV, Box 767, Chicago, IL 60690.)

It'll help you conserve electricity, so you can save your money.

And spend your summer.

Plan excellent array of talent at Centennial Dinner and Show

Commissioner LeRoy Corradino, Chairman of the Centennial Dinner/Show, goes over details with Mayor Kolb, Commissioner Sharyn Guerin (l) and Coordinating Director and Show Chairman, Jerry Malloy (r).

One of the "sure fire hits" of the up-coming Oak Lawn 100th Anniversary Celebration is going to be the Centennial Dinner and Show. It will be held at the Sabre Room in Hickory Hills, Tuesday, July 6.

One thousand people will attend, and LeRoy Corradino, Commissioner of Special Events and Chairman for the event, has created an evening of fun and entertainment along with Show Coordinating Director Jerry Malloy that will be second to none.

Beginning with cocktails at 6:30, a strip steak dinner will be served at 7:30, followed by an outstanding 90 minute show presented by the Centennial Players. As a matter of record, there will be no speeches or centennial rhetoric - just a good time of relaxation and merriment.

The show, which will consist of acts depicting events and songs leading from 1882 until the present, will be presented by performers from St Germaine, St Catherine, St Linus, St Gerald, St Louis de Montfort, the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce, the Oak Lawn Park District, St Alexander and St Michaels. People of the Oak Lawn community and those surrounding it are familiar with the high quality shows presented yearly by these groups. There will be comedy, quartets, song melodies, dance numbers and chorus combinations depicting Show Boat scenes, Vaudeville acts of the early 1900's, a takeoff on Broadway and acts moving thru the 40's, 50's, 60's, 70's and on into today. Background music is all professional and live, with the show opened and closed by the lovely Sabrettes. If you want good entertainment - this is one evening you can't afford to miss.

Commissioner Corradino has announced that tickets are going fast. They may be purchased at the clerk's office of the village at the village hall for $17.50 each. Reservations are required, with no tickets sold at the door.

Chairman and Coordinating Director of the show, Jerry Malloy, has had the production in rehearsal for weeks and it is shaping up to the finest ever presented by local talent in the Oak Lawn community.

Don't miss the Dinner and Show. Circle July 6 on your calendar now, then scoot on over to the village hall and get your tickets. The evening will be one to remember!

Senior citizens plan many activities for Centennial Celebration

The Oak Lawn 100th Anniversary Celebration which will be held July 3rd thru the 11th, will include many activities hosted and participated in by the Senior Citizens of the Community.

One of their big events planned is an Old Time Vaudeville Show to be held at the Senior Center on 95th Street, July 10 at 1 pm. Acts are under rehearsal and the show will be staged in the center. Background for the show is a 14 foot painting of the first Oak Lawn Railroad Station, painted by them on canvas. Ladies of the center are also busy completing a special centennial quilt which will be displayed thruout the celebration.

They will also participate in many of the other events. Their Senior Council float in the parade will be a horse drawn wagon with 20 senior citizens on board, each dressed in appropriate costumes.

The senior citizens also purchased a table for the Dinner and Show at the Sabre Room on the 6th, and many will be driving and putting at the Centennial Golf Outing on the 7th. In addition, they had two full bus loads of senior

A Western Style meal is planned for 8 pm with the free cocktail hour beginning at 6:30 pm. The outstanding Merrill Baines Orchestra will be performing for your dancing pleasure and an exciting raffle will also be held. Among the many fabulous gifts that will be raffled are a portable color TV, donated by the First National Bank of Oak Lawn; a fountain, donated by Fasel and Sons Nursery, and a golfing set, donated by the Oak Lawn Trust and Savings Bank. The winner of the World's Fair Raffle will also be drawn at this time. (See Page 9 of the VILLAGE VIEW.) Informal Western Garb for this affair is optional.

Friends of the Library 4th annual book sale

The Friends of the Oak Lawn Library will accept donations of paperback and hard cover books beginning June 1, for their fourth annual Book Sale to be held on June 23 - 26.

Books may be brought to the library, 9427 Raymond, during regular library hours. Proceeds of last year's Book Sale were used to purchase needed equipment such as various types of cassettes including the video cassettes and an 8mm projector, all available to Oak Lawn residents.

Mrs Dee Kopf will be in charge of this week-long project and needs volunteers to sort and classify the books on Monday and Tuesday, June 21 and 22. Please call her at 422-0488 if you can spare an hour or two to help.

At the recently held annual dinner of the Friends of the Library the officers elected for the coming year are Ramona Griffin, President; Dee Kopf, Vice President; Dorothy Bergstrom, Secretary; and Dorothy Wolf, Treasurer. # What is the Oak Lawn Centennial Walk?

To dream... the possible dream... The Oak Lawn Centennial Walk. A beautiful idea, nourished by a handful of people... encouraged further by the civic minded, and the end result a constant memorial for Oak Lawn's 100th Anniversary.

What is the Oak Lawn Centennial Walk? Let's start in the area of Lake Shore Park at 54th and 95th Avenue. For the present this will be the hub, proposed as a starting point as much of the scenic beauty is already there.

The four pictures on the upper right are the artist's rendering of how the finished recreation area will appear: a bandshell, activity center, benches and park area.

Both a meandering walk and a bicycle path will run as shown in photo marked "1" to the Oak Lawn Creek, going further west of Austin and tie in with Stony Creek. Reversing back and following Stony Creek, past Richards High School, on the north at 105th, it will continue to where it will end on Oak Lawn Park District property at 109th & Laramie.

The photo marked "2" shows the grand beginning and the first challenge confronting Chairman Janet Swanson and the hard working committee.

The Oak Lawn Centennial Walk will belong to the residents of Oak Lawn. It is intended to be a project with the finished product inspired by offers of labor, love and funds.

During the Centennial there will be an all out push for donations. The committee wants you to be aware of the plan and, if you give a little or a whole lot, you will have already become part of the beautification of Oak Lawn.

On July 8, 7 pm, as part of the Centennial celebration, there will be an "All Star Softball Game" played in Pacetti Field at Southwest Park, 102nd & Major. The Radio Station Disc Jockey All Stars and the Chicago Bears will play a game with two of the Oak Lawn Park District's men's teams. The cost is only $3.00 with 50% of the proceeds going to the Pop Late registration will be accepted at Prairie Junior High prior to the 3:30 pm start of the contest.

The Alsip "Open" Spelling Bee is co-sponsored by School District 126 and the Alsip Summerfest Committee. Co-calling will be William Smith, 126 Superintendent and Kathy Cunningham, Prairie Junior High Teacher.

Planting-digging-call Julie

If you're planning any digging -- putting in a fence, adding to your home or just planting a tree -- Northern Illinois Gas (NI-Gas) suggests calling JULIE before reaching for the shovel.

JULIE -- Joint Utility Locating Information for Excavators -- is a tollfree hot line designed to notify NI-Gas and nearly 140 other participating Illinois utilities of digging projects that might disturb underground services. The number is 800-892-0123.

Much of the equipment needed to serve customers, including gas mains, and telephone, electric and television cables, is underground. The gas service is usually buried in a straight line, running from the meter set to a main paralleling the street. It can be damaged or ruptured by a shovel blade or other excavating equipment. Even a small dent can create problems months later when ground frost causes the pipe to expand and contract slightly. A phone call to JULIE can avoid problems.

Yourell legislation would relax Medicaid spend down provision

Legislation aimed at alleviating the plight of senior citizens and the handicapped who are being forced into poverty in order to qualify for Medicaid benefits passed the Illinois House of Representatives according to State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell (D-Oak Lawn).

"House Bill 1119 will relax the 'spend down' provisions for Medicaid which have compelled many elderly and disabled persons to scramble for money to pay large medical bills up front before they could qualify for a 'green card,'" Yourell said.

Yourell explained that the current system compels those in need of Medicaid to pay for a certain amount of medical bills before they qualify for a green card entitling them to free medical care. Yourell said that under House Bill 1119, the needy and elderly would pay less initially in order to qualify for Medicaid, and would make smaller monthly payments over a period of time.

"20,000 people in Illinois are faced with the prospect of going broke before they can get the help they so desperately need," Yourell

The Suburban Cook County Area Agency on Aging is seeking proposals for the provision of Congregate Nutrition Services and Home-Delivered Meals for older persons age 60 years and over in suburban Cook County. The source of funds is the federal Older Americans Act (Title III-C) which provides for nutrition meal sites in accessible locations, where a daily meal which meets 1/3 of the daily nutritional requirements for the older person is served in the company of other older persons at least five days a week. A separate allocation of funds is for home-delivered meals to homebound older persons.

The Area Agency is responsible for planning and coordinating senior services in suburban Cook County under the director of the Department on Aging which administers the Older Americans Act in Illinois. Funds for in-home, access, legal and senior citizen services are also distributed by the Area Agency in a separate grant process which took place in April. There are 13 designated Area Agencies on Aging in Illinois with the Suburban Cook County Area Agency serving in that role for the Cook County suburbs since 1974.

Congregate nutrition services are currently provided from 18 nutrition sites in suburban Cook County under a grant with the Community Economic & Development Association of Cook County (CEDA). Under the law, the Area Agency is to award funds for congregate nutrition through a competitive process, but the existing provider has preference unless a competing proposal would be more effective and efficient in serving older persons in a nutrition site service area.

For fiscal year 1983, which begins October 1, 1982, the Area Agency is seeking proposals that will attempt to maintain the provision of the same number of meals served in fiscal year 1981, in the same areas of the County now being served. Some consolidation of nutrition centers may be necessary to adjust for funding reductions, and a greater emphasis is being placed on community involvement in the operation of sites, provision of nutrition education and use of outreach efforts already in the community; $875,869 are anticipated to be available for congregate nutrition services in FY 1983.

Home-Delivered Meals are provided from nutrition centers or from hospitals, caterers or nursing homes to homebound older persons. Currently CEDA, the Senior Assistance Center in Norwood Park Township and the Proviso Council on Aging receive Older Americans Act funds for the service. The request for proposals emphasizes the provisions of special diet meals for health reasons and coordination with all existing home-delivered meals in the suburban area: $224,688 are anticipated for home-delivered meals in FY 1983.

Organizations may apply for funding to provide congregate, home-delivered meals or both services. Please call Betty Cyko at 341-1400, for the Request for Proposals and application packet. Proposals are due on Monday, June 21, 1982 by 12 noon. The Area Agency's voluntary Advisory Council and Board of Directors will review all proposals and make decisions on funding by July 22, 1982. Minority operated organizations or businesses are encouraged to apply.

like myself, probably have never had any driving checks other than the license test, which is very minor," he said. "House Bill 2540 will make us better drivers at absolutely no cost to the taxpayers."

House Bill 2540 passed the House by a 147 to 4 vote. It will next be considered in the Senate. Additional information is available from Huskey at 424-5000.

Huskey credits seniors for auto insurance discounts

State Representative Herb Huskey (Oak Lawn) credits a "cooperative effort by area senior citizens" for obtaining House approval of his legislation implementing a new auto insurance discount for drivers age 55 and older.

"Senior citizen groups have asked that they be given the chance to earn this discount," Huskey said. "House Bill 2540 as amended is a product of their testimony at my public hearing in March."

"It not only gives senior citizens the opportunity to earn an insurance discount so they can save money," he said, "but it also allows them to upgrade their driving skills to avoid injuries and death."

According to Huskey, senior citizens aged 55 and older who successfully complete a specified 8-hour defensive driving course can obtain a discount in the liability insurance premium effective July 1. His legislation allows individual insurance companies to determine the amount of the rate reduction, and allows the new reduction to be in addition to other senior insurance discounts that many companies now offer. The Illinois Department of Insurance, Secretary of State, and the insurance industry support House Bill 2540.

"Individuals with a pilot's license have to take a flight test with a qualified instructor every two years to correct any bad habits that he or she may have developed," Huskey said. "An unknown bad habit could cost the pilot and passengers their lives."

"Most senior citizens,

Russo co-sponsors Conservation Corps to hire youths

A bill to establish an American Conservation Corps (ACC) to hire youth to work on public lands was approved by the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee last week. The bill, co-sponsored by Representative Marty Russo is pending in the Education and Labor Subcommittee on Employment Opportunities where hearings were held on May 5. The bill calls for the establishment of a conservation corps as part of the Department of the Interior that would approve and oversee the work projects.

"I am pleased to be a co-sponsor of this bill because it responds to a number of areas of national concern - unemployment among youth, conservation of our natural resources, and preservation of historical landmarks," Russo said. "Because the program is so comprehensive, it should be able to successfully deal with all these areas to the benefit of those who will enjoy the public lands and the youth who will be employed by the ACC. Such employment will also have an impact by decreasing some problems relating to unemployment, such as crime and welfare."

Russo noted that enrollment in the program will be limited to unemployed youth between the ages of 16 and 25 (for summer programs, the age bracket would be from 15 to 21). Participants would be paid the minimum wage, but no conservation center would be funded if the program would displace other permanent employees.

"The program would also aid in the effort to conserve our natural resources," Russo concluded. "Many of the public lands, national forests, and national parks are experiencing decay of park facilities which need to be improved or repaired. Furthermore, some of the resources themselves are in danger of being destroyed. Proper care of the soil, animals, foliage and fauna is essential to the beauty and well-being of our national parks, and the ACC would specifically address these needs." Russo added that the work of the ACC would take place not only in the countryside and wilderness areas, but also in our cities and towns.

It has been proposed that the funding come from Commissioners: Charles Stalon, Daniel Rosenblum, Andrew Barrett, Helen Schmid, Michael V. Hastein, stating that: "We the undersigned residents of the County of Cook, State of Illinois and recipients of Commonwealth Edison Services do hereby object to your granting any further rate increases to Commonwealth Edison Company".

All petitions must be returned to the clerks office no later than June 30, 1982.

Irish American group plans September rally

During February of 1981, a group of persons concerned over conditions in Ireland, formed The United Irish & American Society of Illinois. Patrick Hennessy was the founding president of the political action group. During the year the members have progressed to the point of filing an application in Washington to become a "federal lobbying group".

The Irish American Society hopes to make it quite clear they are not a fund raising group for any political activists in Northern Ireland. The prime intent is to form an umbrella organization to embrace all Irish organizations so they may all work together.

The society is working to grow in strength and numbers to influence the President of the United States to intercede for a continued peace in Ireland. They have written to all Illinois Congressmen and Senators of their opposition to both House Bill 5227 and Senate Bill 1940. They are seeking an amendment to Title 18 of the United

Yourell would make duplicate IDs crime

Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell (D-8th) is co-sponsor of legislation that would make it a crime to duplicate, manufacture or sell ID cards resembling the official State ID unless they bear disclaimers differentiating themselves from the cards issued by the Secretary of State.

The Oak Lawn Democrat previously sponsored legislation raising the legal drinking age in Illinois to 21, which went into effect in January, 1980.

States Code with respect to extradition. The members want jurisdiction taken from the judiciary and transferred to the Secretary of State for persons accused of political crimes in Northern Ireland. They believe it is the responsibility of the State Department to implement foreign policy and not to make judgement as to a persons guilt or innocence. This change would allow justice, for those so accused, now denied them in their homeland.

Congressmen who replied were: Harold Washington (D-1); Marty Russo (D-3); Frank Annunzio (D-11); Phil Crane (R-12); Robert McClory (R-13) and Robert Mitchell (R-18). There was no reply from Senator Charles Percy.

A rally is planned for September at the Richard J. Daley Center, Chicago, where over 5000 people are expected to plead for support of the Irish American program.

On June 6, 1982, a meeting was held to elect officers for The United Irish

Since then, according to Representative Yourell, bartenders and bouncers have complained that minors can obtain fake State IDs that are indistinguishable from the real thing.

"This is particularly troublesome on college campuses, making enforcement of the legal drinking age difficult, Yourell said. The new measure would toughen state laws against abuses of the official State IDs by clarifying the section dealing with facsimile IDs.

and what to do while visiting New Zealand.

For the sportsman, New Zealand offers many opportunities for fun. You can hunt for elk, chamois, goat, deer and other animals in the mountain foothills. You don't need a license to hunt in New Zealand and there's open season all year. Water sports are also popular here. Swimmers and sunbathers love the miles of white, gold and black sand beaches. New Zealand is a fisherman's paradise. The rivers and lakes provide some of the world's best trout fishing and there's excellent deep sea fishing too. Golfers will enjoy the many fine

James Buschbach courses that are open year 'round. New Zealand mountains are known for excellent skiing.

On this enchanting land where the sheep population outnumbers the people,

Fireworks are illegal and dangerous

With Independence Day approaching, caution your family about the dangers of fireworks. Besides being illegal, fireworks are dangerous. Make sure that your children know enough not to handle supposed "dud" firecrackers and sky rockets. These items have enough explosive material in them to cause painful and permanent injuries.

Many municipalities and civic groups stage gala fireworks demonstrations to commemorate Independence Day. These displays are operated by personnel trained in the handling of pyrotechnics.

In conjunction with the Village of Oak Lawn's Centennial Celebration, a fireworks display will be conducted over the Fourth of July weekend.

The Oak Lawn Fire Department's Bureau of Fire Prevention wants everyone to enjoy this summer, so "let's be careful out there". Center at 3450 W 97th Street and other locations. For information regarding the location nearest you, please call Barry Forte, Youth Director, at 499-0664 or 422-1551.

Program Chairperson, Eileen Topp, has announced that there will be a Judicial Panel on Tuesday, July 6 at 8 pm for the Chicago Police Wives Association at Timothy J. O'Connor Police Academy, 1300 W Jackson in Chicago.

Judge Frank Orlando

Robert Buckley. He has been a judge for 24 years. He has served in all phases of the Circuit Court system. For the past 12 years, he has been assigned to the Domestic Relations Division at the Daley Center, except in 1976, he was assigned to the Criminal Division at 26th and California in Chicago.

Counsel for the City of Chicago prosecuting criminal cases. Judge Czaja is a member of the Polish National Alliance. He was appointed an Associate Judge of the Circuit Court of Cook County in 1977.

pass on this knowledge to their students.

At earlier sessions, the teachers learned about chemistry of fire, fire prevention, burns, and home escape planning. The session pictured is spent on actual hands-on training of portable fire extinguishers. Also, different types of clothing materials are burned, demonstrating to the teachers the need to instruct their students about "Stop, Drop, and Roll". Finally, actual home furnishings are set on fire, showing the teachers the amount of smoke and toxic gases that are created by a small fire.

It is the hope of the Oak Lawn Fire Department that the teachers will pass on this knowledge to their students, which in turn will reduce the fire statistics.

Chesterfield Federal

new lobby hours

New lobby hours, which go in effect on July 12, have been announced by Chesterfield Federal Savings and Loan Association, 10801 S Western Avenue. "In response to countless customer requests, Chesterfield's lobby will now be open on Friday nights until 8 pm," said William DeHaan, President. "Customers had indicated that Friday was the evening they liked to shop and take care of financial needs. We feel that Friday evening hours provide our customers with added convenience." DeHaan also announced that Chesterfield Federal will eliminate Tuesday and Thursday evening hours and close at 4:30 pm. The new lobby hours are: Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, 9 am - 4:30 pm; Friday, 9 am - 8 pm; and Saturday, 9 am - Noon.

The elimination of Tuesday and Thursday evening lobby hours was possible due to the great customer acceptance of the new Drive-In Facility located at 107th and Western Ave. The Drive-In is open Monday thru Friday from 2 until 8 pm, and Saturday from 9 am until 2 pm. These hours make it possible for customers to cash a check, make a loan payment, or a deposit each evening after the lobby has closed.

"Our new hours are just one more way that Chesterfield Federal is working to improve our service," DeHaan concluded.

This period of time will feature the Anniversary Food Fest, continuous entertainment and a gigantic parade, beginning Friday, July 9th, then continuing on thru Saturday, July 10th and Sunday, July 11th.

Four big tents will house the areas leading restaurants who will offer Centennial visitors a total variety of mouth watering foods to appease any appetite. Credit for lining up this great array of dining delight goes to Food Chairman, Jim Pirman.

Likewise, Entertainment Chairman, Pat Havlik has selected an outstanding line up of entertainment. All entertainment is staged before the Village Hall and is truly a star studded array of talent.

If you attend the parade on Sunday, expect one of the largest ever staged. Parade Chairman, Bob Gaul states it is larger than the St. Pat parade held in the loop . . . and still growing. Incidentally, the famous Budweiser horses will be on display all weekend and one of the highlights of the parade. The parade begins at 1 pm on 95th Street - Cicero Avenue to Southwest Highway.

Plan excellent array of talent at Centennial Dinner and Show

Commissioner LeRoy Corradino, Chairman of the Centennial Dinner/Show, goes over details with Mayor Kolb, Commissioner Sharyn Guerin (l) and Coordinating Director and Show Chairman, Jerry Malloy (r).

One of the "sure fire hits" of the up-coming Oak Lawn 100th Anniversary Celebration is going to be the Centennial Dinner and Show. It will be held at the Sabre Room in Hickory Hills, Tuesday, July 6.

One thousand people will attend, and LeRoy Corradino, Commissioner of Special Events and Chairman for the event, has created an evening of fun and entertainment along with Show Coordinating Director Jerry Malloy that will be second to none.

Beginning with cocktails at 6:30, a strip steak dinner will be served at 7:30, followed by an outstanding 90 minute show presented by the Centennial Players.

As a matter of record, there will be no speeches or centennial rhetoric — just a good time of relaxation and merriment.

The show, which will consist of acts depicting events and songs leading from 1882 until the present, will be presented by performers from St Germaine, St Catherine, St Linus, St

Gerald, St Louis de Montfort, the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce, the Oak Lawn Park District, St Alexander and St Michaels. People of the Oak Lawn community and those surrounding it are familiar with the high quality shows presented yearly by these groups. There will be comedy, quartets, song melodies, dance numbers and chorus combinations depicting Show Boat scenes, Vaudeville acts of the early 1900's, a takeoff on Broadway and acts moving thru the 40's, 50's, 60's, 70's and on into today. Background music is all professional and live, with the show opened and closed by the lovely Sabrettes. If you want good entertainment — this is one evening you can't afford to miss.

Commissioner Corradino has announced that tickets are going fast. They may be purchased at the clerk's office of the village at the village hall for $17.50 each. Reservations are required, with no tickets sold at the door.

Chairman and Coordinating Director of the show, Jerry Malloy, has had the production in rehearsal for weeks and it is shaping up to the finest ever presented by local talent in the Oak Lawn community.

Don't miss the Dinner and Show. Circle July 6 on your calendar now, then scoot on over to the village hall and get your tickets. The evening will be one to remember!

has special plans in the making to help highlight Oak Lawn's Centennial season. To dramatize thoughts and memories of a former day, there will be special features in conjunction with the Worship Services on July 4 and 11. Trinity will also have a special float in the Centennial Parade.

A Proud Salute To Oak Lawn

Happy birthday Oak Lawn! Here's a proud salute to you from an old and trusted neighbor — the Heritage Bank of Oak Lawn. Since our founding in 1973, we've been pleased and proud to be an integral part of Oak Lawn. We've made the loans that helped to build many of your fine homes. We're providing the banking services in the stores where your people shop and in the places where they work. And we've helped to make your schools, park district, library and municipal government more profitable — with the wise investment of tax dollars. Every day — in dozens of ways — we're working with you to make sure Oak Lawn is prosperous and financially secure. We're growing with you, too. And we're proud of our very special place on your famed "Street of Flags." At our location on 95th Street and Southwest Highway we're flying a flag of our own — a bright, new, red, white and blue flag — a new look for an old neighbor. So happy birthday Oak Lawn. We're proud to be here, proud of your success and proud to know that we had a hand in at least a part of your first 100 years. We'll be here — right with you — as you grow into your second 100 years!

Centennial Art Fair

Centennial Walk 'All Star Game'

Commissioner Linda Vorderer, Chairman of the Centennial Art Fair, reviews an artist application with Jayne Powers, Village Clerk.

Oak Lawn is not without outstanding talent and to date 24 residents have been selected as part of the artists participating in the event.

Dr Phyllis Kozlowski of Moraine Valley College and Robert Dominiak, Art Department Chairman of Oak Lawn Community

High School have been selected as judges, with prizes totalling $1000.

During the Art Fair, which will kickoff week-long Anniversary Festivities on July 3 and 4, there will be entertainment and light food concessions for those attending.

To dream...the possible dream...The Oak Lawn Centennial Walk. A beautiful idea, nourished by a handful of people, encouraged further by the civic minded, and the end result a constant memorial for Oak Lawn's 100th Anniversary.

What is the Oak Lawn Centennial Walk? Let's start in the area of Lake Shore Park at 54th and 95th Avenue. For the present this will be the hub, proposed as a starting point as much of the scenic beauty is already there.

The four pictures on the upper right are the artist's rendering of how the finished recreation area will appear: a bandshell, activity center, benches and park

Commissioner Vorderer has stated plans for this event to be held in Oak Lawn on an annual basis. Entry forms may be submitted to her at 8915 S Parkside in Oak Lawn. Linda's telephone number is 422-3108.

area.

Both a meandering walk and a bicycle path will run to the Oak Lawn Creek, going further west of Austin and tie in with Stony Creek. Reversing back and following Stony Creek, past Richards High School, on the north at 105th, it will continue to where it will end on Oak Lawn Park District property at 109th & Laramie.

The Oak Lawn Centennial Walk will belong to the residents of Oak Lawn. It is intended to be a project with the finished product inspired by offers of labor, love and funds.

During the Centennial there will be an all out push for donations. The committee wants you to be aware of the plan and, if you give a little or a whole lot, you will have already become part of the beautification of Oak Lawn.

On July 8, 7 pm, as part of the Centennial celebration, there will be an "All Star Softball Game" played in Pacetti Field at Southwest Park, 102nd & Major. The Radio Station Disc Jockey All Stars and the Chicago Bears will play a game with two of the Oak Lawn Park District's men's teams. The cost is only $3.00 with 50% of the proceeds going to the Pop Warner Football League and 50% to the Centennial Walk. A fun evening is promised for all.

Borge joins Viking

Ship Restoration

Victor Borge, world-famed humorist and pianist, has just joined other prominent Scandinavian personalities who are now members of the Viking Ship Restoration Committee, it was announced by Ernest G. Harboe, Chairman, Special Events Committee, Viking Ship Restoration Committee, Evanston, IL.

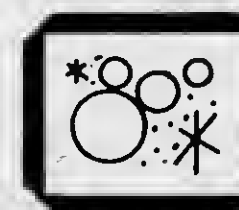

The "Viking" an exact replica of the 9th Century Gokstad Ship in Oslo, was originally built in Norway in 1893, and then sailed to Chicago for the World Columbian Exposition, following the precise route of the Viking navigators and explorers. The ship, when restored, will be housed in a new pavilion at the Museum of Science and Industry -- once the Palace of Fine Arts at the Esposition. The Restoration Committee is a pan-Nordic organization, under the direction of Chairman Carl R. Hansen.

According to Borge, "I consider the preservation of the Viking to be a matter of much concern and merit. The ship represents the proud traditions of our Nordic heritage, and will remind Americans of Scandinavian courage, independence and seafaring skills when it is fully restored and displayed at the Museum."

Further illustrating his pan-Scandinavian interests, Borge has established a foundation, "Thanks to Scandinavia," which provides assistance for talented musical students from the Nordic countries to study in America.

Victor Borge is the recipient of many awards and honors from all the Nordic countries for his many philanthropic efforts in both Europe and America.

Mail order abuses curbed

The Illinois House has approved two measures sponsored by State Representative Herb Huskey (Oak Lawn) aimed at curbing abuses by mail-order religions and phony charitable organizations.

One, House Bill 2539, gives the Illinois Department of Revenue the necessary authority to refuse a tax exemption to illegitimate organizations "established only to evade the payment of taxes".

"The state is losing millions of dollars annually because self-serving people who hide behind the cloak of religion do not pay taxes that other citizens, ministers, rabbis and employees of legitimate churches and synagogues do pay," Huskey stated.

"These fake organizations evade payment of property, income and sales taxes," he said. "They make a mockery of responsible religious and charitable groups, and of all taxpayers."

"Minnesota recently set up an 'early warning system' for taxpayers who try to avoid taxes by forming churches," Huskey stated. "The same needs to be done in Illinois."

House Bill 2539, Huskey says, defines a religious organization for tax exemption purposes. It passed the House by a 98 to 39 margin, and will not be considered in the Senate.

Also sent to the Senate was Huskey's legislation (H.B. 1913) requiring vehicles with a Charitable Vehicle (CV) license plate to have the name, logogram or trademark of its owner painted, or otherwise firmly affixed, on both sides of the vehicle. This information would have to be readable

Favors nuclear safety programs

State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell (D-Oak Lawn) voted in favor of a bill to increase start-up fees for nuclear power plants to help finance safety programs. The bill, House Bill 2496, passed the House from the distance of 100 feet in daylight.

"This scalpel approach at CV plate abuse will help weed out abusers without, in any way, unfairly penalizing legitimate religious and charitable groups," Huskey said.

House Bill 1913 passed the House by a 129 to 13 vote. Additional information is available from Huskey at 424-5000.

of Representatives by a vote of 160 to 3.

"With the growing use of radioactive materials in the state and increased transportation of radioactive materials it is possible there could be a nuclear accident," Yourell said. "This additional money will help to ensure safe conditions at our state's nuclear power plants."

Under the proposed legislation nuclear power plants would be assessed a start-up fee to pay for safety checks of their plants and special monitoring programs. Among those programs is a computer system linking plants to a central office in Springfield which would measure radioactivity, thus allowing for speedier response in case of emergency.

New nuclear power plants would pay a start-up fee of $590,000. Existing plants would pay $240,000, according to the proposal. In addition, each nuclear reactor would be charged a yearly fee of $180,000, an increase of about $105,000.

"Illinois is among the leading states in the development of nuclear power facilities," Yourell said. "We must also take the lead in safeguarding this new industry. Nuclear safety must be our foremost concern," he said. The bill is awaiting action in the Senate.

The last of the world's traditional, big tented circuses with a free menagerie is coming to Oak Lawn, on July 25, 1982, for one day only.

The great Carson & Barnes 5-Ring Wild Animal Circus, featuring a herd of 25 performing elephants, will give two shows on Sunday, July 25 under sponsorship of the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce in the Gaddis School lot, 94th and Keeler.

It is a mammoth show—with an all-new edition of entertainment, spectacular wild animal displays, troupes of somersaulting trapeze artists, and a myriad of other thrilling acts, climaxed by the renowned Carson & Barnes performing elephants in all five rings.

Performances on circus day will be at 2 and 4:30 pm, with doors opening one hour earlier to allow time for viewing the wild animals.

"Our organization is bringing America's largest wild animal circus here to enable the children of our area to enjoy wholesome entertainment which is uniquely American," said Vina O'Malley, President of the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce.

Bob Gaul, Chairman of the circus, promises a day filled with fun and excitement for all attending.

A special thank you to Christ Hospital, for providing accommodations for parking; Holiday Inn, for housing the visiting animals; and of course Gaddis School, for without their joint co-operative efforts the circus would not have been possible.

During the ceremony, Roberta Sreniawski received the highest academic award; Cynthia Graziano and Karen Kedzior tied for second highest academics; Catherine Reilly received the "School Spirit" award; Antoinette Buchholz received the leadership award and Roberta Sreniawski received the Frances Moore Memorial Award for Excellence in Nursing.

Seek owners of old insurance policies

State Representative Herb Huskey is trying to locate area residents who may have abandoned assets listed at the Illinois Department of Financial Institutions.

According to Huskey, this property consists of unclaimed life insurance policies. In accordance with Illinois law, life insurance companies notify the state about these assets after seven years of inactivity, and after all attempts to reach the rightful owners have failed. If not claimed from the life insurance companies by early October the assets will be held in trust by the state until the owners can be located.

"The department and I are trying to put these owners in direct contact with the life insurance company holding the policies," Huskey explained. "We do not know any specific details about this property."

Anyone on the abandoned property list should write directly to the Illinois Dept. of Financial Institutions, 421 East Capitol, Springfield, IL 62706. All correspondence should include a name, current address and the county of current residence.

Huskey says some 27 area residents are on the list for unclaimed insurance policies. They are:

Blue Island: Brad Lamore, Margaret Freeman and Evelyn M. Twardowski; Bridgeview: James and Jimmy Gawel and Marlene's Catering, Inc.; Evergreen Park: Albert Marshall and Scott M. Robinson; Homewood: Norma Conley and Lemont: Charles W. Wolske.

Even the kitchen sink Oak Lawn man honored in arson clean-up on sale at Moraine

A tremendous array of surplus items - including three houses with everything down to the kitchen sink - will be sold at auction by Moraine Valley College on Saturday, July 17.

Dozens of tables and chairs in various styles, window air conditioners, bicycles, shelving, coat racks, cabinets, easels and gym mats are among the scores of items on the auction inventory.

Other unique items include an x-ray machine, lectern, tape recorder, milk crates, study carrels and even an assortment of voting booths and ballot boxes.

The auction will clear college storage areas of hundreds of items accumulated over the years for which the college has no further use except for their auction value.

"We could have disposed of these items any number of ways," noted Moraine Valley trustee Lee Harris, "but this was an opportunity to make them available to the college's public. While virtually all the items to be auctioned are used, most are still quite serviceable and could be very good bargains."

The items will be on display the Friday before and morning of the auction for public inspection during daylight hours on the lawn in front of the houses to be auctioned.

The three one-story houses, two of brick and one of wood, are on the college's Palos Hills campus at 10900, 10950 and 10956 88th Avenue. Originally single-family residents, the houses have served the college in a variety of functions but now must be cleared from their sites in preparation of continued campus development.

Persons interested in viewing the interior of the houses prior to the auction may arrange to tour them by calling the auction supervisor, John Cannatello of the college's Plant Operations department, at 974-4300, ext 325, and setting up an appointment.

Rain or shine, the auction begins at 10:30 am July 17 and will continue until all items are sold or until dusk. All sales will be cash and carry. Beverages and food will be sold from a concession stand located in the garage of the house at 10950 88th Avenue.

On January 29, 1982 James. Anderson, who resides in Oak Lawn, spotted two suspects running from a garage fire at the home of one of his neighbors. Anderson then gave chase and apprehended the suspects who were juveniles. Because a neighbor said he knew the two boys, they were released that night, but Anderson had their names and description.

A further investigation conducted by the Oak Lawn Fire Department and the Oak Lawn Police Department lead to the arrest of four suspects including the two boys running from the fire on the night of January 29, 1982. This arrest cleared up nine arsons in the Village of Oak Lawn over the past year. The total damage was in excess of $25,000.

Garden Club flower show winners

The winners of the May 27 Oak Lawn Garden Club flower show were as follows. In the violet category, the judges awarded two prizes for best of section, one to Ken Sembach for his high-scoring plant, and the other to Pamela Banks for her extraordinarily large and luxuriant plant. Mrs. Marie Veague won best of section in the foliage, succulent, cacti and cut flower categories. No award was given in the flowering foliage section. ## Wraps up distinguished career

After 42 years of teaching and administrative service in suburban and Chicago public and private schools, George Triezenberg will be retiring at the close of this calendar year from his current position of Assistant Superintendent for Administrative Services in District 218 which includes Eisenhower, Richards and Shepard High Schools along with the Sauk Area Career Center.

Triezenberg is making public his retirement plans early to permit the district time to complete a thorough search for his replacement. He will continue in this post until December 31 at the request of Supt. Dr. Gene Cartwright, to work with the successful applicant to insure an effective continuity of operations.

Triezenberg came into the district in 1970 from the principalship at Fenger High School, in Chicago to become the principal of Eisenhower High School in Blue Island where his exceptional leadership was credited with being primarily responsible for restoring a school climate and atmosphere conducive to teaching and learning. Several prior years of turmoil there had resulted in frequent stoppages and interruptions of classes as the community feared for the physical safety of its students. The Board of Education and the City of Blue Island publicly commended him on his leadership and performance during these critical years of student unrest.

Throughout his 42 year career Triezenberg has distinguished himself on many educational fronts and in community service.

In 1978 the Illinois State Board of Education named him as one of the most outstanding administrators in the state and presented him with a citation. The Illinois High School Principal's Assn elected him President of their assn after several terms as Secretary of the group.

Several governors appointed him to state wide advisory committees as did the State Superintendent of Instruction.

Eleven diversified professional periodicals on the national, state and local level have published his timely articles on critical issues in education. He has also been a frequent speaker on national and local levels of meetings of educators.

In addition to being principal of Fenger and Eisenhower, Triezenberg was also the principal of Gallistel and Moseley schools and assistant principal at Hyde Park High

Russo renews support for travel and tourism caucus

Congressman Marty Russo renewed his support along with over half of his fellow U.S. Representatives as a member of the U.S. Congressional Travel and Tourism Caucus. The caucus, founded in November, 1979, was formed because of a shared belief that travel and tourism makes a significant, but often overlooked, contribution to the social and economic welfare of the nation.

Joseph J. English, General Manager and Vice President of the Holiday Inn - Oak Lawn, is chairman of the Caucus Advisory Board in the 3rd District.

"Tourism is this nation's third largest retail industry and is forecasted to be the world's largest industry by the year 2000", said Russo in announcing his membership in the caucus. Russo continues to serve on the caucus' 15 member Steering Committee. "Its importance is evidenced by the more than 6.5 million jobs dependent on this industry and the tremendous contribution it makes towards alleviating our balance of payments deficit. The caucus played a major role last year in the enactment of our first national tourism policy."

School in Chicago. He taught at Edward J. Tobin (Burbank), Chicago Christian High, Bloom Township High, Carver High, Calumet High and Chicago State U.

"We want to ensure that jobs, tax dollars, and foreign revenues are guarded against any improper action either in the Congress or the Executive agencies," Russo emphasized. "The House Tourism Caucus, the largest on Capitol Hill, has the collective strength to nurture tourism's potential."

Russo said the 285 member caucus provides a forum for the members to educate each other and share ideas to foster tourism's growth and contribution to the national economy.

"The State of Illinois has an important stake in the caucus since some 122,400 jobs are supported thru the $4.6 billion spent by tourists in our state."

WHO NEEDS HIGHER PROPERTY TAXES

Our Republican State Representative recently led an effort to transfer control of the Chicago Park District to the Cook County Board.

It is difficult for my neighbors and me to understand how this represents our interests. We have our own parks, which we support with our own taxes. Why would we want to pay for the upkeep of Chicago parks with a county-wide tax?

The Chicago Park District might bring patronage workers to Republicans if it were under county-wide administration. But we in the suburbs don't want to pick up the bill with higher property taxes!

/s/ George Ondreska

KLEIN SPEAKS TO METROPOLITAN SANITARY DISTRICT TAX LEVY

The Metropolitan Sanitary District is not revealing the whole story of its increase in budget and tax levies.

The story as reported in the papers says 20% increase in tax rate - BUT - there is also an increase in valuation and the multiplier which keep the increase at only 20% on the rate.

However, the true facts show a tremendous 34% increase in the total tax levy from 1980 to 1981 -

The 1981 levy is: $196,693,000.00

The 1980 levy is: $147,444,498.00

Increase in dollars: $ 49,258,502.00

One year increase percentage wise is a whopping 34%.

This 34% increase is caused by a Bond and Interest Levy which rose from $56,000.00 in 1980 to $95,000.00 in 1981, an increase of 68% in one year.

This is due to the fact that the Metropolitan Sanitary District's bonded indebtedness is now 694 million, plus 312 million in interest. Because of the size of this debt, revenues including taxes have to go up and up and up; and the bond-purchasing community has begun to refuse to buy Metropolitan Sanitary District bonds at the interest rate offered. Instead Metropolitan Sanitary District is borrowing millions on Bond Anticipation Note Agreements for a short 6 months period at excessive rates.

Oh yes, and the district also owes $4.7 million plus interest for the purchase of 101 East Erie Street and $45 million under the Bond Anticipation Notes.

In other words, Metropolitan Sanitary District is over $1 billion in indebtedness and the 34% jump in tax levy may be just the first of many increases.

Yourell and O'Connell call for quick action on unemployment

State Representatives Harry "Bus" Yourell (D-Oak Lawn) and John O'Connell (D-Western Springs) recently called for immediate action to combat the serious and far reaching unemployment problem facing the Cook County suburbs and the State of Illinois.

"With thousands of men and women out of work, the time has come to bring to the forefront of public debate the seriousness of this problem," said Yourell. "Unemployment figures in my district and thruout Cook County range from 9% to over 15% in some communities."

Yourell and O'Connell announced a three point program to begin addressing the unemployment problem.

First, the Governor should declare an economic emergency and establish a joint legislative-executive task force to recommend concrete proposals to put people back to work, such as innovative uses of state funds for job creation.

Second, the Governor should initiate a reorganization within the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs to create an Office of Job Security to establish an aggressive program for job maintenance and creation, expand existing business, be alert to plant closing and work to prevent such closings, initiate and coordinate job training, assist in site selection by keeping comprehensive files on vacancies, and begin long-term planning to insure job security.

Third, the Illinois Industrial Development Authority should expand its direct and guaranteed loan program and target the assistance to existing business in areas of highest unemployment.

"I am deeply concerned with the lack of leadership and progress of the Thompson Administration in dealing with unemployment in this state. Instead, the administration has been cheerleading for Reaganomics which clearly has only aggravated the problem," said O'Connell.

"With unemployment in this state at levels unseen since the Depression, I think it is unconscionable that this problem be allowed to continue and go unrecognized. The trend that has developed and from all indications will likely continue with even higher unemployment rates resulting, is highly disturbing."

"I am willing to listen

Buschbach likes tone of Prince Edward Isle, Canada

If you choose Prince Edward Island, Canada as a vacation destination, here are a few things you should know... the Island has been divided into three scenic drives, each with a different character and ambience and each deserving at least one day of your visit. . . no trip to the Island is complete without a visit to the to anyone that has new and innovative ideas for putting people back to work. Clearly the current plan, if one exists, is not working," Yourell and O'Connell concluded.

Cavendish resort area with its many recreational attractions but for the finest in beaches try the Brackley-Stanhope-Dalvey sections on the north shore and also the white sand beaches between Souris and Bothwell on the eastern shore. . . another good trip is in order to the capital city of Charlottetown to see the many cultural attractions offered by the Confederation Centre and nearby Province House, site of the deliberations that led to the birth of the Canadian nation.

While in Prince Edward Island be sure to do at least a few of these: go horseback riding, play golf, attend a country auction, have a lobster dinner at a church hall, try clam digging, get out deep-sea fishing, browse thru the Charlottetown antique shops, see a musical production like "Anne of Green Gables", and don't forget to bring swimsuits, diving gear, and lots of suntan oil.

There is a great deal of fun up in this area for a great vacation. Stop in at World Travel Mart, 5615 W. 95th Street, Oak Lawn, and chat with them about this easy-going vacation idea.

Nancy's 'Number One' for pizza

Kathy Byrne, Dale Clevenger and Pasquale Bruno have selected Nancy's stuffed pizza as "Number One" after visiting three Chicago pizza restaurants. The panel undertook the survey as a feature of the "Chicago Favorites" program shown on WLS-TV.

Kathy Byrne, daughter of Mayor Jane Byrne, is associated with Gapers Caterers; Dale Clevenger, French horn player with the Chicago Symphony, is also a noted jazz musician and gourmet; Pasquale Bruno is the owner of Cook's Mart and is writing a book about pizza.

The trio visited Nancy's, Gino's East and Baccino's. Nancy's received a 99-plus rating, ranking first among the three restaurants.

They particularly acclaimed the fine balance among the ingredients, cheeses and sauce of Nancy's stuffed pizza.

John Gambino and Dave

Howey are the co-owners of Nancy's Restaurants at 4007 W 103rd Street in Oak Lawn and at 8600 W 159th Street in Orland Park. In the tradition of the Nancy Restaurants, they offer a great range of Italian and American dishes in addition to the famed stuffed pizza.

However, the stuffed pizza heads the list.

Plan trip for Tiffany exhibit

A trip to view the Treasures of Tiffany exhibit at the Museum of Science and Industry will be sponsored by Moraine Valley College on Tuesday, August 3.

The tour, which will depart from the college's Palos Hills campus at 6:30 pm, include air-conditioned transportation, dinner and a semi-private viewing of the show for a total cost of $23 per person.

The exhibit features the works of Louis Comfort Tiffany, son of the founder of the famed Tiffany & Company jewelry store. Young Tiffany grew up appreciating beauty and transferred much of his experience with jewelry and gems to his art. Visitors will see more than 400 items including lamps, stained glass windows, jewelry, pottery and paintings. A highlight of the show is the Tiffany-designed chapel first shown at the World's Columbian Exposition held in Chicago in 1893.

Tiffany's grand mansion, Laureiton Hall, is recalled thru a generous selection of furniture, lamps, windows, and architectural elements. In addition to the windows and lamps for which he is renown, Tiffany produced decorative tiles, vases, goblets and paperweights, which will be on display. Additionally, enamel and metal work as well as photographs - art techniques not usually associated with Tiffany, are among the treasures of the show.

Trip reservations and additional information is available by telephoning the college's Community Services Center at 974-4844.

Commonwealth Edison Co.

It's now easier for people who have a hearing or speech impairment to communicate with Commonwealth Edison. The company is beginning a new service that makes it possible for a customer with a hearing or speech handicap to type a message over a specially equipped telephone and receive an answer in the same way.

By calling a toll-free number, the customer has easy access to an Edison customer service representative using a teletypewriter known as a Telecommunications Device. The number, which is to be used only in connection with the special equipment, is 800-572-5789. A customer service representative using the Telecommunications Device is available to answer calls to the toll-free number from 8 am to 4:30 pm on regular business days.

The new equipment displays messages on a digital readout and printout, then transmits this information over telephone lines to a similar receiver. When the customer dials the toll-free number, the phone will be answered and immediately attached to the Telecommunications Device. The customer service representative will then be able to provide the service requested.

Edison expects that the majority of calls will concern the connection or disconnection of electrical service or involve questions about bills or service.

The Chicago Hearing Society estimates that there are between 40,000 and 60,000 hearing impaired people in the greater Chicagoland area alone. The society also estimates that there are about 3000 to 5000 teletype-telephone units in the same area. Edison feels this service is important to these customers.

Customers should contact their local telephone company office for information about the Telecommunications Device.

Cold shoulder for Moraine

Dr Fred Gaskin, president of Moraine Valley Community College, Burton Odelson, chairman of the Moraine board and trustees Maureen Pecor and Blase Olivares appeared before the Oak Lawn Board of Trustees to introduce the Master Plan for Moraine's new College Center Building and the new Institute for Economics and Employee Development. The item had been included on the agenda.

Trustee Jay Bergamini was the first to speak to the subject and stated that the concern at this point in time was the five elementary schools and two high schools located in Oak Lawn. He asked that this matter be postponed and delegated to the village manager, Dick O'Neill.

Trustee Charles Meloun then asked how "we became involved in college politics" and seconded the motion to postpone. The roll was called and the motion passed 5-1.

It appeared as though Odelson misunderstood the motion and asked if he could make the presentation.

Bergamini said, "The subject matter has been postponed." (When a postponement has taken place there can be no further discussion.)

In other matters, because of his knowledge in this field, a resolution was read appointing Fred Dumke as a consultant on the sales of Oak Lawn water. The resolution was approved unanimously by the board of trustees.

New avenues opened to develop small business

State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell announced the passage of legislation that would allow banks to pool funds for venture capital loans to small businesses. Senate Bill 1375 makes revisions in the 1965 Development Credit Corporation Act to remove limits on the amount of capitalization financial institutions could invest and loan.

"This legislation opens up a whole new avenue for financial institutions to invest in the developing small business of their community," Yourell said.

"This bill will stimulate an increased flow of capital to businesses unable to obtain loans thru conventional sources, even though they are otherwise considered to be credit worthy," Yourell added.

Rep Yourell noted this revision breathes new life into an old law that had fallen into disuse because of the capitalization obstacle.

In addition to providing a new source of capital for small businesses, the legislator said the changes will allow financial institutions to collectively invest in businesses they otherwise couldn't loan to individually plus it will create a mechanism for assistance to small business that will not drain local and state tax revenues.

"More so, this law will encourage private sector economic growth that can create permanent, well-paying jobs," Yourell said.

"I would hope that every community leader who is interested in promoting small business in his community would get together with his local bankers as soon as possible and set up their own Development Credit Corp.," Yourell said.

He added that he would provide whatever assistance he can to help establish these small business assistance programs.

Park Lawn has return engagement for Grand Market, Bazaar and Craft Show

The market will be held on August 19 and 20 from 9 am to 8 pm on both days. Their reason for the extended evening hours is to accommodate those individuals who were unable to attend the previous Grande Market because of their daytime work schedule.

To add to the excitement and concerns of working men and women... in our view your candidacy meets these standards."

Cosentino stated that this endorsement is further evidence of the "overwhelming support for my campaign among working people in Illinois."

ment of each day's "market" there will be door prizes for which the sellers are eligible. For information or table reservations, call Laura Ipema during school hours, Monday thru Friday, at 425-3344.

Huskey and Grossi to study cause of crime to transit riders

State Reps Herbert Huskey and Patrick Grossi (R-Glenwood) will work together on a House subcommittee to study causes of crime affecting mass transit riders, the Chicago Transit Authority and the Regional Transit Authority.

House Speaker George Ryan (R-Kankakee) appointed them to the subcommittee, which will hold Rich Barrett, and longest length, Bill Mason.

public hearings this summer.

"Thousands of people in my district must ride buses and trains every day," said Huskey, "but many of them never relax because they think they may be the next victim of criminals on a bus or train or platform."

Grossi said feelings are similar among residents of his district.

"No matter how hard

CTA and RTA officials and high-ranking law officers try to convince the public about mass transit safety, people believe riders are the targets of criminals. They do not feel safe and, even though they may be wrong, they think many crimes go unreported for one reason or another."

Grossi and Huskey said the subcommittee will take testimony from riders and other concerned citizens, CTA and RTA officials, law officers and other public officials.

Hearing dates and locations will be announced soon, they said.

"Because mass transit is so important for so many people," Grossi said, "I expect these hearings to attract considerable attention."

Taste of Evergreen Festival hears OL Babershop Group Christ named Resource Hospital

Marty Ozinga introduces the Oak Lawn Babershop Group, the featured entertainment at the Second Annual Taste of Evergreen Festival which raised $3000 for the American Cancer Society.

The Evergreen Park Unit of the American Cancer Society held its Second Annual Taste of Evergreen Festival on Saturday, June 26. The event raised over $3000, a 50% increase over the 1981 event.

Special Events Chairman Marty Ozinga suggested that the Third Annual Taste of Evergreen will be even more successful in raising funds to combat cancer and he added, "We wish to thank the many Evergreen businessmen who contributed so generously and the volunteers who gave of their time for this worthy cause."

The menu featured a dinner which consisted of chicken, hot dogs, chops, watermelon, cookies, pop and coffee, and a breakfast served by the Evergreen

Park Lions Club.

The highlight of the day was a performance by the Oak Lawn Babershop Group which was video taped by Multimedia. The program is being rebroadcast on Channel 10 at various times. Twenty-five local artists and craftsmen also exhibited thruout the festival.

Yourell asks multiplier freeze

State Senator Jeremiah E. Joyce (D-28) and State Representative James F. Keane (D-28) and Harry "Bus" Yourell (D-28) joined Cook County Assessor Thomas C. Hynes this week in calling on Governor James R. Thompson to convene a special session of the General Assembly to freeze the state property tax multiplier and to increase the protection of the Homeowner's Exemption by $500.

They also urged taxpayers to join the efforts of People United for Tax Reform who are circulating a petition to put the question of eliminating the multiplier on the November ballot.

Hynes said, "The Governor's Department of Revenue has increased the Cook County multiplier 31% in the last four years. These increases have permitted local taxing bodies, such as school districts, to raise their spending and property tax revenues more than would otherwise be possible and weakened the protection of the Hynes Homeowner's Exemption. The result is higher real estate tax bills.

"Governor Thompson's multiplier saves his own budget by transferring the cost of schools onto the backs of local taxpayers. In the four years that multipliers have been going thru the roof, the state's share of supporting local schools has declined from nearly 50% to 42%, despite the constitutional requirement that the state bear the primary responsibility of funding education.

"Senator Joyce and Representatives Keane and State Representative Herb Huskey (R) joined efforts with Christ Hospital in Oak Lawn to secure its designation as a Resource Hospital in Illinois' Emergency Medical Services Mobile Intensive Care System.

State Public Health Director William Kempiners approved the hospital's request last week. He had met earlier with Bridgeview Mayor John Oremus; Burbank Mayor John Fitzgerald; Oak Lawn Mayor Ernie Kolb; Dr. Bernard J. Feldman, chairman of Christ Hospital's Dept of Emergency Medicine; and Huskey to discuss the matter.

"Suburban residents and local fire departments will benefit greatly from Christ Hospital's designation as a Resource Hospital," Huskey explained.

"There can now be direct communication between the paramedics who care for the seriously ill and injured, and the physicians in the emergency dept at Christ Hospital," he said. "This will enable the same physician to direct patient care both in the emergency room and prior to reaching the hospital.

"Local suburban paramedics who bring patients to Christ Hospital will also be helped by the new designation," Huskey stated, "because their ongoing education will be provided by those very same physicians with whom they work on a daily basis.

"Presently, fire department ambulance paramedics are required to take medical orders from physicians they rarely see who are located in hospitals many miles away from Christ Hospital," he noted. "This arrangement makes little sense, since the local paramedics transport almost all of their patients to Christ Hospital.

"The new Resource Hospital designation will allow Burbank, Bridgeview and Oak Lawn to have direct input into decisions that affect pre-hospital medical care in our area," Huskey said. "I was happy to have played a role in securing the Resource Hospital designation."

According to Huskey, Christ Hospital also received support for its request to be a Resource Hospital from citizens of the communities which it serves, municipal leaders, community organizations and the local fire departments.

Yourell were all sponsors of legislation this past session that would have put a stop to multiplier increases and increased the Homeowner's Exemption, but these bills have all been bottled up in the legislature.

"If Governor Thompson is sincere about tax relief, he can call the special session of the legislature that we are asking for. The bills to freeze the multiplier and increase the Homeowner's Exemption could pass in one day with his support."

Have to say 'this' about 'that'

The recent success of the 100th Anniversary Centennial Celebration proved that Oak Lawn cannot, and will never be a member of the planned "second city" that is continually popping up in the news.

What valid reason could Oak Lawn have for joining the surrounding villages and cities and weakening this village in the process. When you start hacking away at the ingredients that has made Oak Lawn the largest and strongest village in the southwest suburbs the foundation will start to crumble. Like Humpty Dumpty there would not be enough forces to put Oak Lawn together again.

The sheer perfection of the Centennial Celebration, from the administration down to the bottom man, the cooperation between all of the various departments tells us what professionalism is all about. All of this would be lost were we to become one of many grouped together. We would lose the people that know Oak Lawn from a sign post in the northwest to a sewer in the southeast. Our police and fire departments would diminish in strength for those who have paid to make them the outstanding forces they are at this time. We would not know our trustees as we do now and would not have personal contact that we now enjoy.

There are those that would have us believe that the "Second City" may be an excellent idea -- however none of them live in Oak Lawn.

What do you think?

IRA available for non-working spouse

Married individuals, whether or not they are covered by a pension plan at work, may be eligible to set up an Individual Retirement Arrangement (IRA) for themselves and a separate one for their non-working spouses, the Internal Revenue Service said.

A spousal IRA is a savings program which allows husband and wife to set aside money for their own retirement. Contributions to an IRA are tax deductible and earnings accrued are not taxed until they are distributed, usually upon the individual's retirement.

To qualify for the spousal IRA, an individual must be married at the end of the tax year, and the spouse cannot be an active participant in a qualified retirement plan or receive compensation during the year.

Beginning in 1982, the amount deductible each year for a contribution to an IRA and spousal IRA is $2250. Under the old law a maximum deduction of $1750 was permitted.

Moreover, under the new law contributions are no longer required to be equal for husband and wife. For example, instead of having to contribute $1125 to his IRA and $1125 to his wife's, a man can now contribute $2000 to his plan and $250 to his wife's.

To set up a spousal IRA, individuals may use trust and custodial accounts, or annuity and endowment contracts approved by the Internal Revenue Service.

Complete information on taxation aspects of spousal IRA's can be found in IRS Publication 590, "Tax Information on Individual Retirement Arrangements." It is available free by writing to the IRS.

Open meeting on insurance rate increases

State Representative Herb Huskey (R) will host a meeting with officials from the Illinois Department of Insurance and Blue Cross - Blue Shield to investigate recent health insurance rate increases.

The meeting will be held on Tuesday, August 10, at 7 pm in the Community Room of Alliance Savings and Loan Association, 4740 W 95th Street. Area residents, Huskey says, are urged to attend.

"Effective July 1, the Health Improvement Assns (HIA) - Blue Cross rates increased dramatically for many people," Huskey explained. "This increase ranged from 131% for under age 65 coverage in suburban Cook, Lake and DuPage Counties, to 88% for downstate under age 65 coverage. In some cases, this amounted to $200 per month in additional premiums.

"In response to my outrage over that action, the Insurance Department has agreed to investigate," he said. "We need to know if HIA/Blue Cross acted legally; what, if any recourses, are available to those clients; and what changes in insurance rules and laws should possibly be made to prevent this type of action from happening again.

"Soaring insurance rates are a concern for most people, regardless of age," Huskey said. "If we want to do something about those increases, this hearing is the best avenue to begin."

According to Huskey, the new senior citizen auto insurance discount that took effect July 1 will also be explained at this meeting. Other insurance areas -- renters, homeowners, compulsory auto and so forth, he says, can also be discussed.

Additional information is available from Huskey at 424-5000.

Fire department offers barbeque safety hints

With the onset of warmer weather, people are starting to barbeque more and more often. Please take a few minutes to review safety precautions before moving your cooking operations outside.

When lighting your charcoal, make sure you are in an open area, away from the house or garage. Use only regular charcoal lighting fluid or an electric charcoal igniter to start the charcoal briquets. NEVER use gasoline to light charcoal! Gasoline is far too volatile; and besides, it will make whatever you're cooking taste like an oil refinery. Read and follow the directions listed on the can of charcoal lighter fluid. Do not attempt to make the charcoal burn faster by adding fluid after the fire has started.

Observe the normal precautions associated with cooking when you are barbequing. Keep children away from the coals, do not wear loose fitting garments which may come in contact with the grill, and be prepared for grease flareups when grilling hamburgers.

chance to display their military uniforms and skills in preparation for Flag Day ceremonies. The Annual Formal Inspection is one of three events held each year. Others include the Trustees Drill in December and The President's Drill, held in April. Flag Day is the traditional culmination of the school year and features military competition and presentation of awards for scholarship, leadership and good citizenship. This year's Flag Day Ceremonies were held June 13.

Glenwood is a private, nonprofit home and school for boys from single-parent homes throughout the Chicago area. Since 1887, Glenwood has helped more than 14,000 boys by providing quality care, guidance and education.

Glenwood School for Boys earns huge award

Two representatives of The Coleman Foundation toured the campus of Glenwood School for Boys recently, observed classes in the academic school, and visited several residences.

The guests were Jean D. Thorne, Executive Director, and John E. Hughes, Director of the Chicago foundation that awards grants for educational, cultural, medical research and religious purposes.

Glenwood received a $100,000 grant for operating expenses from the foundation last year.

During their tour, Thorne and Hughes were treated to a special performance by Glenwood's band director and his colleagues. They also visited the academic school's learning resource center, where Glenwood boys receive individualized tutoring to meet specific learning needs. Tours of the residences offered an opportunity to see Glenwood's family-oriented living arrangements.

Thorne and Hughes also stayed to watch the Annual Formal Inspection, which gives Glenwood boys a

TO THE CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE

I would like to express my appreciation to all of you for the great job you did for the celebration of the 100th birthday of Oak Lawn.

You did all your homework thoroughly, covered all areas and as a result -- we all enjoyed the festivities from beginning to end. I have never been happier that I live in Oak Lawn.

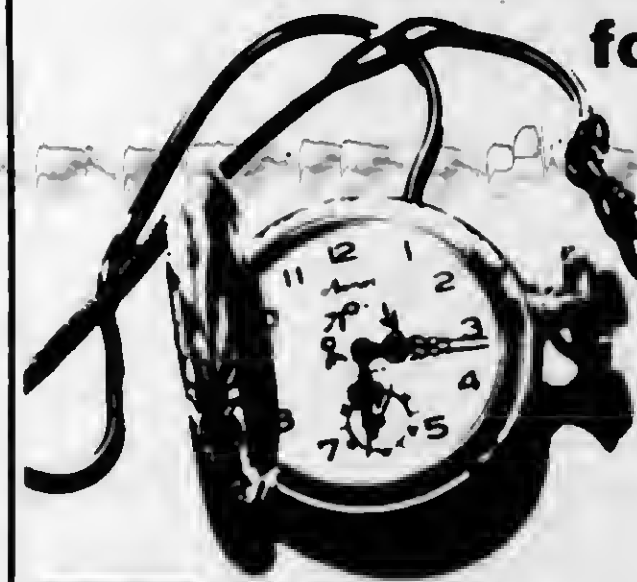

The cooperation and participation of all the governmental agencies -- police, fire departments, public works, library and park districts, historical society, the clubs and organizations, the Oak Lawn Chamber, the Scouts and Police Cadets showed the strength in unity. The Ecumenical Services provided the churches with a united Christian event. It was great!

Thanks again to all those who spent endless hours to make it a success.

Plaza offering big band sounds of Dorsey, Elgart and Ferguson

The great 'Big band' sounds of Tommy Dorsey, Larry Elgart and Maynard Ferguson will ring thru Evergreen Plaza in outstanding free concerts this summer and fall.

This exciting concert series has been arranged because of the resounding success of the first free concert June 7, when the Glenn Miller Orchestra thrilled more than 6000 visitors to the center at 95th Street and Western Avenue in Evergreen Park.

The crowds roared their approval of the concert and clamored for more. Evergreen Plaza management officials decided to accommodate them. Here is the lineup for the free concerts, each set to start at 7:30 pm and end about 9:30 pm.

August 23 (Monday) - Tommy Dorsey Orchestra.

September 20 (Monday) - Larry Elgart Orchestra.

October 18 (Monday) - Maynard Ferguson Orchestra.

Each of the concerts was arranged by Carol Vining, Director of Promotions and Advertising for the 1,250,000 sq ft in-town regional center and by Radio Station WJJD, which recently switched music formats from country-western to 'big band', and discovered a tremendous audience.

Visitors to these early evening concerts are urged to come dressed for comfort, bring folding chairs if they wish, then settle back and enjoy the music of a generation ago.

The shopping center offers extensive food selections, from hot dogs and popcorn, thru McDonald's fare and Lenardo's Pizza, to sit-down meals. The stores and shops in the center close at 9 pm.

"We want visitors to come early or late, make themselves comfortable and simply enjoy the evening," said Vining. "This is a little

'thank you' gift to the community."

Evergreen Plaza is celebrating its 30th anniversary this year. It opened in 1952, the first in-town regional shopping center in metropolitan Chicago.

The problem of acid rain continues to receive widespread media coverage, with some politicians and editorial writers calling for massive expenditures by utilities to correct the situation. Much of the rhetoric has reflected the view that we face imminent environmental peril if massive control action is not taken immediately. Unfortunately, however, the logical approach of first determining whether or not a problem exists, then defining its nature and scope, is not being followed in the acid rain debate.

The only adverse effect of acid rain which has been documented is the acidification of certain local water bodies. As the General Accounting Office has noted, many allegations of serious ecological impacts either "do not reflect the current state of knowledge or exaggerate available evidence."

The causes of the acidification which has been documented are not clear. Moreover, what contribution, if any, power plant emissions lend to the problem is not known. As a result, it is not known whether emission reductions would retard or reverse the acidification. Requiring the electric utility industry to further substantially reduce power plant emissions would impose a great economic burden on our already weak national economy without any assurance of equivalent benefits to the public. Just to put scrubbers on Commonwealth Edison's generating stations that burn coal would cost customers an additional $1.4 billion - an enormous burden when air quality in the Chicago area has continually become better, not worse.

Cook County's Environmental Control Department has reported that the air is the cleanest it's been in 19 years. At Commonwealth Edison, we've reduced sulfur dioxide emissions from our stations by more than two-thirds over the past dozen years. Since 1969, it has cost us $2.2 billion to improve the quality of the environment. The source of that money is the electricity customer, who now pays an average of $70 a year for environmental quality. That's 17% of the average residential bill, and higher for industrial customers.

Meantime, the experts are divided on how acids are formed, where they come from, how far they travel and most importantly, what can be done to control them. According to one study, acid formation may vary more with temperature, humidity, and air movement than with emissions.

The sensible course is to define the problem, take far less costly interim actions, then tackle the causes - not indulge in multi-billion dollar experiments financed by electricity users.

Asthmatics needed for research

Chicago Lung Assn has been selected by the American Lung Assn as one of 20 sites for a nationwide study of a new self-help program for young asthmatics and their parents. The study will examine how well the program works in teaching new ways to manage asthma and how it can be improved. One hundred subjects are needed for the research, which will begin in October, 1982 and continue until September 1983.

Parents of asthmatic children, 8 - 11 years of age, as asked to contact the Chicago Lung Assn immediately for details. Participation consists of completing report forms at established intervals during the year. All personal information gained in the study will be kept strictly confidential, although national results will be shared upon completion.

For further information, contact Linda Bernas at Chicago Lung Assn, 243-2000, ext 52.

Pixie Playtime Program learn dental hygiene

Recently, the youngsters of the Oak Lawn Park District's summer Pixie Playtime Program were visited by Dr Glenn E. Bailey, an Oak Lawn Dentist, and Dental Hygienist, Mary Bailey. Dr Bailey instructed the children thru stories relating to visiting their dentist and proper dental hygiene which allayed most fears children normally have regarding dental visits.

Pictured above are Dr Bailey and Mary Bailey answering the children's questions. Also, using a mock set of teeth, young Timothy O'Reilly learned the proper brushing procedure while his classmates watched. Each child received a complimentary dental hygiene kit which included a tooth brush. The response to the presentation was very enthusiastic, and park district instructor Judy Dennis said that she will invite Dr Bailey back in the fall to address the Tiny Tots and Pre-School programs.

126 grade level above national norm

Recent Reading Achievement test scores in School District 126, the Alsip, Hazelgreen and Oak Lawn Elementary Schools were more than one grade level above the national norm. The tests given in March 1982 indicated that the average District 126 student is one to two grade levels above the national norm at every grade level, Kindergarten thru 8th grade.

At the 8th grade level the average 126 student scored at 9.6 grade, one full grade level above the national norm of 8.6. This was the eighth consecutive year that the average Prairie Junior High 8th grader scored well above the national norm. "Prairie Junior High students can read and read well," said Harry Hansen, Prairie Junior High Principal.

At other grade levels, the reading scores were Kindergarten and first grade one grade above the national norm; 2nd grade +1.2 above; 3rd grade +1.3 grades above; 4th grade +2.0 grades above; 5th grade +2.0 grades above and 6th grades +1.8 grades above the national norm.

In 1981 and 1982 reading has been one of the key district goals selected by the School Board. "We are heartened to see such high reading scores," said Janet Dal Ponte, School Board Secretary and Education Committee Chairman.

The reading tests used were the S.R.A. in the primary grades, the Metropolitan in the intermediate grades and the Stanford in 8th grade. Another important fact according to Ken Wassberg, Board Member, is that most of the reading scores are slightly better this year, over last year.

Chesterfield Federal announces Robert Howe Art Exhibition

Evening of new adventure for the handicapped

Artist Robert Charles Howe (l) and his painting "Bob Howe painting Bob Howe in the Rockwell Manner" which appeared on the cover of the Saturday Evening Post.

Chesterfield Federal is proud to announce a special art exhibition featuring the work of American Artist, Robert Charles Howe. The exhibit will be held in their main lobby at 10801 S Western Avenue and runs August 16 thru September 13.

Howe, a native of Evergreen Park, gained national fame when he was chosen the winner of the Saturday Evening Post's Norman Rockwell Talent Search. His self-portrait - "Bob Howe painting Bob Howe in the Rockwell manner" - was published on the cover of the Saturday Evening Post. His efforts brought him the encouragement of Rockwell himself, plus a contract with the Post to do more cover illustrations.

Howe's illustrations have been used in Chesterfield Federal's advertising during the past couple years. One of his favorite paintings, "Saturday Morning", was reproduced on this year's Chesterfield calendar. The painting is a delightful street scene depicting his childhood home and the block of 93rd and Millard. Neighbors and family can be clearly recognized in the painting. The illustration was so popular that Chesterfield has commissioned Howe to do an original painting for the upcoming 1983 calendar year.

Howe's exhibit will feature several of his works including some of the original artwork which has been used in Chesterfield's advertising.

"We're very excited to exhibit Bob Howe's work and share his talent with the community," stated William DeHaan, President of Chesterfield Federal. "I personally invite everyone to stop in our main office and view the work of this outstanding young artist."

Last month the Oak Lawn Park District Special Recreation Programs Young Adults and their families enjoyed an evening of new adventures. They boarded the Oak Lawn Park District bus with Diane Johnson, Director of Special Recreation, and her staff and traveled to Lake Michigan's Burnham Harbor where they embarked upon the "Free Spirit" 55 ft charter yacht. Cruising along Chicago's skyline there were many attractions such as Buckingham Fountain, Navy Pier, Silver Side Submarine and Planetarium.

Refreshments were enjoyed by all and Cindy Murnane, one of the special children, celebrated her birthday.

As the sun set, the evening stars made the Chicago lake-front come alive. When the cruise came to an end, there was still more to come as they ventured to Meigs Field, where Pilot LeBeau of the Chicago Fire Dept showed them the fire trucks and helicopters.

The evening concluded with everyone having a memorable time. "Capt Rich" Borrowdale, owner of the "Free Spirit" was so touched by these young people that he and his wife, Judy, invited them back as their guests on August 2.

For those interested in chartered trips such as these call 636-3615.

Celia Dumke honored on 90th birthday

Oak Lawn's great lady will be honored on her 90th birthday with an "Open House" at the Holiday Inn - Oak Lawn, 4140 W 95th Street, Thursday, August 19 from 5 to 8 pm.

Celia Dumke is a popular and visible person not only in Oak Lawn but also in the surrounding villages. She is an honorary member of the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce and a long time member of the Oak Lawn Business & Professional Women.

Age in no way has deterred her from selling peanuts for the Oak Lawn Lions Club Peanut Day, selling candy for the Oak Lawn Lions Club Candy Day promotion or tagging for the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Dearest to the heart of Celia Dumke is the Park Lawn School for the Handicapped, 10833 Laporte. For over twenty years she has devoted most of her free time working for the success of their fund raising projects. Never seeking publicity she has also given her time to other activities at Park Lawn, and like organizations, that never reach the news media.

Fred Dumke and his wife, Martha will host the Open House at the Holiday Inn. Dumke said that everyone is welcome to share in this celebration of his mothers 90th birthday. Refreshments will be served.

Public hearing on District 126 budget scheduled for Wednesday, August 18

The 1982-83 tentative budget for District 126, the Alsip, Hazelgreen and Oak Lawn Elementary Schools will total $4,793,715 in expenditures, an increase of $508,000 or +10.5% as compared to last year. Nearly 50% ($225,000) of the increased expenditures are in the Life Safety Fund for roof repair at Stony Creek and Lane Schools. Expenditures in only 5 of the 10 funds will increase according to the tentative budget now available for public review in the Administrative Center, 5201 W 115th during the regular office hours.

The public hearing on the budget is scheduled for Wednesday, August 18, 7:30 pm at the Administrative Center. The public hearing on the total budget will be preceded by a public hearing on the specific tax levies for next year. Four of next year's tax levies are down and 5 are increased according to Supt William Smith. The 1981 "Truth in Taxation Act," requires a taxing body to hold a public hearing if its tax levies are more than 5% greater than the previous year.

Tax levies for next year are: Educational Fund $2,700,000, Building Fund $437,500, Special Education Building $35,000, Bond & Interest $90,000, Retirement Fund $55,000, Transportation $180,000, Rent $50,000, Working Cash $87,500, Life Safety $87,500, Liability Insurance $10,000.

Budgeted. Expenditures for 82-83 are: Education Fund $3,283,215, Building $652,800, Life Safety $275,000, Special Ed Building $60,000, Liability Insurance $50,000, Transportation $219,600, IMRF $96,300, Rent $66,800, Bond & Interest $90,000.

The largest sources of revenue are local taxes $3 million; Replacement Personal Property Tax $400,000; Interest Earned $400,000; Special Ed Reimbursement $275,000 and State Aid $250,000. "Unlike most school districts that have State Aid as their number 1 source of revenue, District 126 received only 5% of its total revenue from State Aid," reported Ken Wassberg, Board Member. "It is a minor revenue source," Wassberg concluded.

The overall 1982-83 budget is balanced according to Sue O'Dwyer, Board Member. "Our expenditures each year do not exceed our revenues," said O'Dwyer. She also noted that this is being accomplished with a recent tax reduction from 2.26 to 2.15. Expenditures for 82-83 in all 10 funds will total $4,793,715 while cash balances and revenue will total $5,312,500.

Comerford announces 'fast track' for scheduling cases

Chief Circuit Court Judge Harry G. Comerford has announced that the second step in the new "fast track" system of scheduling cases in the Cook County Circuit Court's Law Division was implemented July 28, when notices were mailed to attorneys on cases filed October 1, 1980. These cases will be heard by one of five judges sitting in the new Pre-trial Section on their second anniversary date of October 1, 1982.

Judge Comerford said the new procedure conforms with the acceptance by the court of recommendations contained in the report of the Caseflow Management Committee composed of bar, civic, and community leaders which he organized to study ways to deal with the inventory of cases in the Law Division.

The ultimate goal of the "fast track" system will be to reduce the average time from complaint to disposition by any means to 24 months of the date of filing, and to dispose of cases by jury verdict within 30 months of the date of filing.

The Progress Call was established on July 1 to hear cases six months from the date of filing instead of the former 12 month period, to insure that they receive adequate attorney attention on behalf of all parties to the litigation.

Judge Comerford also announced the appointment of Judge Benjamin S. Mackoff as Supervising Judge of the new Pre-trial Section, effective October 1. Judge Mackoff now supervises six judges hearing the "300,000" series in the First Municipal District.

Four associate judges will be assigned to the new Pre-trial Section: Samuel S. Berger (Oak Lawn), John W. Gustafson, William Kelly and Anton J. Valukas.

Having necessary information will speed Social Security benefits

People in the Evergreen Park area who are planning to apply for Social Security retirement benefits soon can help speed the application process if they get some information together first, Mrs. Rosalie Thompson, Social Security district manager in Evergreen Park, said recently.

A person will need proof of his or her age. The best evidence is a public or church record of birth record of the number.

Also requested are W-2 forms for the past 2 years, or, if self-employed, copies of self-employment tax returns and proof of filing for the past 2 years.

If the worker's wife or husband is also going to apply, she or he will need the same documents. Thompson said it would be a good idea to have the marriage certificate available. Birth certificates should be available for any eligible, unmarried children as well as their Social Security numbers.

Other documents may be needed in some situations, but these will be enough in most cases, Thompson said.

For more information about applying for Social Security benefits, contact the Evergreen Park Social Security office, located at 9730 S Western Avenue. The phone number is 239-1200 in Chicago and 594-2876 in the suburbs.

Huskey notes financial help for those who have medical need for cooling

State Representative Herb Huskey (R) says financial help is available to needy persons who have a medical need for cooling.

According to Huskey, the cooling energy utility grants are part of the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program (IHEAP) being administered by the state Department of Commerce and Community Affairs. The grants range between $60 and $180, with amounts varying according to income and geographic location.

"To be eligible, persons must have a medical condition which would be improved by cooling," Huskey explained. "These include severe respiratory and cardiovascular problems, respiratory allergies requiring filtered air, asthma, severe obstructive lung diseases, severe stroke damage, and any medical condition of a non-ambulatory patient."

"The medical condition must be certified by a licensed physician," he stated. "Moreover, the applicant must meet IHEAP's income and other requirements, too."

Additional information is available from the Community and Economic Development Assn of Cook County, Inc, 624 S Michigan Avenue, Chicago 60605 (435-6900). CEDA has various intake sites thruout Cook County operating the energy assistance program, among these is PLOWS Council on Aging, 9526 S Cook, Oak Lawn, (422-6722).

The Sertoma Center for Communicative Disorders to Palos Heights offers a unique therapy program for adult stutterers. For those completing this program, the result has been fluent speech in a variety of situations.

The Adult Stuttering Program involves a two year therapy plan. During the first year, clients receive individual therapy twice a week and meet once a week as a group. All sessions are one hour in length. Individual sessions focus on teaching the client the mechanics behind his/her own speech pattern, for all stutterers do not stutter in the same way. Following this, the client learns to change those speech patterns to produce more easy relaxed speech. The second year of the program focuses on systematically decreasing the number of therapy sessions while teaching the client to transfer his/her newly acquired fluent speech to a variety of speaking settings. This enables the client to become more independent in his/her production of fluent speech and gives him/her experience using it in difficult situations.

Other aspects of this program include family involvement in home assignments and occasionally in group discussions. Friends and family are always encouraged to participate in the adult stuttering program.

The Adult Stuttering Program at Sertoma Center for Communicative Disorders provides aid for the persons who stutter. All services are available regardless of race, creed, sex, age handicap, national origin or ability to pay.

The program will be starting a new group in September of 1982. For further information please call the Sertoma Center at 361-2121.

Blood costs can increase

Medicare costs

The cost of blood and blood components, and the cost of blood processing and administration, can add appreciably to the cost of medical care. For patients covered by Medicare, however, the program can help meet these costs.

With one exception, the hospital insurance portion of Medicare can pay for the cost of blood received by an individual while a patient in a hospital or skilled nursing facility. The one exception is the nonreplacement fees charged in each benefit period for the first three pints of whole blood or units of packed red cells.

The patient is responsible for the nonreplacement fees for the first three pints of blood furnished by a hospital or skilled nursing facility. However, a patient who is charged nonreplacement fees has the option of either paying the fees or having the blood replaced. If he or she chooses to replace the blood, it may even be done thru a blood assurance plan such as is sponsored by a number of employers and religious and fraternal organizations.

The medical insurance part of Medicare can help pay for blood and blood components a person receives as an outpatient or as part of other covered services, with the exception of any nonreplacement fees charged for the first three pints or units received in each calendar year. After a patient meets the $75 annual deductible, medical insurance will pay 80% of the dialysis at home unless it is provided as part of a physician's services or is needed to prime the dialysis equipment.

If you have any questions about how the new law may affect your benefits as a patient covered by Medicare, you should call the Social Security office. The phone number is 239-1200 in Chicago and 594-2876 in the suburbs.

Child custody and visitation laws legislation sent to Governor

The General Assembly has approved and sent to the Governor legislation sponsored by State Representative Herb Huskey which makes major changes in Illinois' child custody and visitation laws.

"One section of House Bill 2039 gives the courts authority to allow joint custody of children in divorce cases," Huskey said. "However, both parents must agree to this custody arrangement, and it must be ruled by the court to be in the child's best interest." According to Huskey, the current law is unclear about joint custody arrangements.

"When appropriate, joint custody can fulfill a child's right and need to have both parents contributing to his/her growth and development," Huskey said. "Important decisions like schooling and religious training can be addressed by both parents."

"Joint custody can also be in the best interest of the parents," he stated. "Sometimes the custodial parent uses the custody provision to keep an ex-spouse and child apart for purely selfish reasons. No one, especially the child, benefits from that arrangement."

House Bill 2039, Huskey says, also permits the courts to grant visitation rights to grandparents if their own child dies, and their grandchild is living with the surviving parent. The present law does not address a situation where only one parent dies.

"The death of a parent is a severe shock and adjustment for a minor child," Huskey says. "This provision attempts to keep the child's family life as stable as possible by allowing grandparents to visit. Again, this only applies if the court rules it to be in the child's best interest."

"It also makes it more difficult for a daughter-in-law or son-in-law to unfairly shut out a grandparent after the spouse dies."

Huskey says he is "confident" that House Bill

1029 will be signed into law. Additional information is available from him at 424-5000.

Cosentino endorsement

A group of 17 leaders of the independent political movement, including former IVI-IPO Chairman Lee Rayson and a dozen recipients of the IVI-IPO "Best Legislator" award, Tuesday endorsed State Treasurer Jerry Cosentino for Illinois Secretary of State.

In addition to Rayson, the group included Congressman Harold Washington (1st), 43rd Ward Alderman Martin Oberman, Sanitary District Trustee Joanne Alter, former 43rd Ward Alderman William Singer and "Best Legislator" award winners Senators Dawn Clark Netsch (13th), Earleen Collins (21st) and Richard Newhouse (24th) and Representatives Eugenia Chapman (3rd), Aaron Jaffe (4th), Terry Steczo (9th), Ellis Levin (12th), Alan Greiman (15th), Barbara Flynn Currie (24th), Daniel Pierce (32nd), Glenn Schenider (41st) and Helen Satterthwaite (52nd).

Moraine budget hearing August 24

Moraine Valley College's tentative budget for the 1982-83 year was unveiled at the July board of trustees meeting. The $20 million-plus budget shows all major college funds beginning and ending in the black.

The budget is available for public inspection in Room L244 on the college's Palos Hills campus. A public hearing on the budget is scheduled for 7 pm on August 24 in Room L243.

The board's regular August meeting was rescheduled to begin at 7:30 pm after the hearing. The change was made so the board, having fulfilled legal requirements on the tentative budget's period of public display and public hearing, may have the opportunity to take action on the document that night, according to Trustee Lee Harris, board secretary.

The board also approved rescheduling its regular September meeting a week to September 28. This change was made to avoid a conflict with the new college foundation's golf outing and dinner, now being planned for September 21 at Silver Lake Country Club in Orland Park.

This will be the foundation's second fund raising event. The first was the July 17 auction of the college's large accumulation of obsolete and unserviceable items. The college sold the items to the foundation for $1 and the foundation received the auction profit of $9,817.

In reviewing the successful outcome of the auction, Trustee James Smith noted that the innovative idea had come from Joe Ferencak, the college's director of plant maintenance. It was noted that the auction sale of the three houses saved the college thousands of dollars it would have otherwise cost to have them wrecked and hauled away.

MORE CONGRATS FOR CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

I want to commend Police Chief John Haberkorn and Fire Chief Elmore Harker for the way they and their men handled the crowds when Oak Lawn celebrated the Centennial. The citizens of our community owe the professional policemen and firemen a vote of thanks for both the handling of the parade and crowd control of the celebration.

Although they worked long, hard hours during the celebration, the men were courteous, pleasant and efficient at all times. This indicates well trained, professional policemen and firemen, and certainly a credit to Chief Haberkorn and Chief Harker.

Continued financial plight for Illinois School Districts

Illinois School Districts are in a continued financial plight because of inadequate State funding according to School District 126 Supt William Smith. He noted that in 1975 the State of Illinois provided 48% of the fiscal support for schools. In the past 7 years State support has declined to 40%.

The trend for less State and more local support for schools is further shown in the recent action of the Governor and the Illinois General Assembly to withhold this years last State Aid Payment from School Districts. "With operating costs still going up, the State expects us to make do with less than full funding," said Sue O'Dwyer, District 126 Board Member.

Federal monies are also declining. Frank Tatum, District 126 Special Education Coordinator reported that the Special Ed Federal law 94-142 funds will be significantly reduced in 82-83. Carol Rangel, District 126 Title I Coordinator summarized a similar reduction in the Title I Federal funding. "Five years ago we received $90,000 in Federal funding, but in the coming year we'll receive only $55,000," said Supt Smith.

Ken Wassberg, 126 Board Member reported that while the Constitution of Illinois clearly states that the responsibility for education rests "primarily" with the State of Illinois, the State does not provide the major or majority share of funds for Illinois schools. In fact, Wassberg noted that in District 126, General State Aid from Illinois is only the 5th source of revenue. Local taxes are No. 1 with Replacement tax No. 2, Interest Earned No. 3, Special Ed reimbursement No. 4 and General State Aid No. 5. "That is hardly taking a primary responsibility," said Wassberg.

Legislation would ban use of policemen as bodyguards

State Treasurer Jerry Cosentino said recently that he will propose legislation in the next session of the General Assembly to ban the usage of state policemen as bodyguards for all state officials except the Governor.

"It is an affront to the people of Illinois to expect them to subsidize chauffeur and valet service by the state police for the Secretary of State and others," said Cosentino. "Also, state officials should be forbidden from taking their bodyguards on vacation with them and making the taxpayers pick up the tab for airfares and hotel expenses."

Provisions in Cosentino's legislation will specify that all constitutional officers seeking security protection, except the Governor, must jewelry, pans, pots, appliances, glassware, etc.

All proceeds from the fair will go to help the needy. Please bring yourselves, relatives, friends and neighbors.

Bates joins McCarthy Foundation board

Thomas J. Bergen, President of the Senator Joseph R. McCarthy Foundation, has announced that Michael M. Bates of Oak Lawn has been elected to the foundation's board. The McCarthy Foundation is a non-profit organization dedicated to honoring the memory of the late Wisconsin senator. Other board members include Congressman Larry McDonald of Georgia and nationally syndicated columnist M. Stanton Evans.

According to Bates, "25 years after his death it is more apparent than ever that Joe McCarthy was right; there was substantial Communist influence in the government. Virtually by himself, McCarthy focused America's attention on the serious menace of internal subversion. Instead of being vilified, Joe McCarthy should be recognized and courageous patriot he really appreciated for being the was."

Yourell asks nurse scholarship funding

State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell (D), recently said that he is urging Governor Thompson to sign House Bill 2399, which will provide over $380,000 for nurses' scholarships. The bill, co-sponsored by Yourell, passed both Houses of the Illinois General Assembly with overwhelming support.

"We have sent a strong message to the Governor that we want these appropriations," Yourell said.

"We want them because we know nurses need and deserve more scholarship aid to get the education they need and to pursue their goals," he said.

Yourell said that the bill will not only provide incentives to study nursing and thus help close the current nursing shortage, but also contains provisions to encourage nurses to enter their profession after they receive their degrees.

"I believe that nurses are largely unrecognized, and often underpaid," Yourell said.

"The fate of nursing education loans in Illinois now rests with the Governor," Yourell said.

"I encourage nurses to make their feelings known to him on this issue," he said.

The U.S. Capitol Building with its famous domed center section is where the laws of the land are written. The meeting place of both will be included to distinguish official duties from other non-security tasks such as running personal or political errands.

"If a state official feels he needs an errand boy or 'gofer' he should hire one out of his own budget because state policemen should be out chasing criminals," Cosentino said.

Cosentino also will ask the Legislation Audit Commission or the Auditor General to conduct an immediate comprehensive audit of the executive security section within the state police budget.

25 mile per hour signs for residential area

In April, 1979, Midwest Consulting Engineers completed a comprehensive traffic study for the Village of Oak Lawn. One of the conclusions of this study was that the speed limit on all residential streets should be reduced to 25 mph. In an attempt to address this recommendation, the village applied for a federal grant thru the Illinois Dept of Transportation for a sign upgrading program in January of 1980. The program was designed to replace outdated and wornout existing signs and to install new 25 mph speed limit signs for all residential streets in the village. The grant was approved in January, 1982.

Village crews are now installing 1155 of the new speed limit signs on Oak Lawn residential streets. In addition, the crews are installing new break away poles.

These poles are easier and less time consuming to replace if they are knocked down. All residential streets should be posted with the new speed limit signs by the end of 1982.

Yourell receives senior recognition

State Rep Harry "Bus" Yourell (D-Oak Lawn) has been presented with a certificate of recognition by the Illinois Dept on Aging in appreciation for his support for appropriations bills that will support the dept's work on behalf of Illinois Senior Citizens.

"I am pleased to be recognized in this manner," Yourell said, "but there is much more the General Assembly could have done to improve the lives of our state's Seniors."

Rep Yourell mentioned the failure of House Bills 918 and 1222 in particular, which would have given rebates to senior citizens for energy cost increases and pharmaceuticals, respectively.

"These measures are needed to protect senior citizens from inflation in energy costs and from the high costs of medicines they need," Yourell said.

"But they were blocked by Republicans in the House."

"I am sure the Dept on Aging is pleased to have its appropriation renewed, but it takes more than such appropriations to give substance to our duty to protect senior citizens," he said.

Lower insurance rate for seniors becomes law

Legislation sponsored by State Representative Herb Huskey (R) to implement an auto insurance rate reduction for senior citizens has become law. The measure, House Bill 2095/Public Act 82-920, was signed by Governor Thompson on August 16.

According to Huskey, qualified drivers over age 55 who successfully complete a specified defensive driving course can obtain a discount for their liability insurance premium. To date, he says, the Secretary of State has approved and accepted the National Safety Council's Defensive Driving Course and the American Assn of Retired Person's (AARP) 55 Alive/Mature Driving Program for the discount.

"I urge senior citizens to participate in the new insurance discount program," Huskey said. "It's a wonderful way to check and upgrade driving skills, and at the same time save money."

Huskey says he has copies of the laws creating and implementing the new senior citizen auto insurance rate reduction available for area residents. Requests can either be sent to him at 2061 Stratton Building, Springfield, IL 62706, or called to his Oak Lawn office, 424-5000.

Yourell claims rates 'unfair'

State Rep Harry "Bus" Yourell (D-Oak Lawn) said that he found recent Blue Cross insurance rate increases "unfair and unjustified" at a hearing sponsored by the Illinois Dept of Insurance held August 10 at Alliance-Talman Savings and Loan in Oak Lawn. The hearing was held to evaluate Blue Cross cost containment performance.

"We have been told that cost containment has been a major effort at Blue Cross, at a cost of over $8 million," Yourell said.

"What this shows is that Blue Cross cannot even contain the cost of cost containment."

Yourell noted that Blue Cross rate increases for state employees have been as high as 26.5%, which he said will cost Illinois taxpayers $20 million.

"Health care costs have gone up, but not as high as 26.5%," Yourell said. "Where is the rest of the money going?"

Yourell referred to Blue Cross as a "massive, top-heavy bureaucracy" that is "secretive and unresponsive".

"When a person can get insurance cheaper from a private carrier than from a group policy, something is wrong," he said.

To have . . . . or have not?

That is the question that has come up regarding the recent successful food fest. The problem facing Mayor Ernie Kolb and the trustees is whether or not they should undertake a repeat performance for next year.

Oak Lawn, for the most part, has seemed staid, unbending and all business. . . or politics. No doubt you have heard several times that "the village is too political". Then came the greatest celebration of all times. . . Oak Lawn's 100th Year Centennial Celebration -- and did everyone celebrate! People from outside the village came by horse, buggy, sled, ran, walked, but they came.

The teamwork was the talk of the town. People were brought together, to work together, to laugh together in a way where their paths would have never crossed. It brought the residents to town in a way that nothing has brought them together before.

How could anyone conceive not having a food fest for Bob Gaul and Jim Pirman, who gave of themselves until they bled. They and the other members of the Special Events Committee worked together like well oiled gears meshing together. There was never any discourse as they were all working for the same good.

The Special Events Committee has many thoughts and ideas on the subject and how to cut down on the overhead. On Tuesday, September 14, the board will decide whether "to have. . . or have not". Shame on them for even talking about not having another food fest.

What do you think?

Sweden has drunk driver cure

There will be no Labor Day picnics or parades for 630 Americans this year. They were killed in motor vehicle accidents last Labor Day weekend. According to the National Safety Council, 346 of those deaths can be attributed to alcohol.

Many Americans have come to accept the holiday drunk driving toll as inevitable. That perception may be correct.

As Northwestern U's Robert Sekuler puts it: "Drivers with as little as half the legal limit in their systems are accidents waiting to happen." Sekuler, professor of psychology, ophthalmology and neurobiology/physiology, has conducted extensive research into blood levels and driver reaction.

In Illinois, the legal blood-alcohol limit is .10%. "My research has shown that just half of that amount could impair driving," Sekuler stated. (Almost half of the states have a legal limit of .15%.)

For most people, particularly inexperienced holiday drinkers, it takes a lot of liquor to reach .10% blood alcohol. For example, a 160 pound person would have to drink five one-ounce glasses of hard liquor in an hour.

"If I drank that much, I'd have real trouble even finding my car," Sekuler said. "And that's just the legal limit. Less than that would be legal under the law, but could be lethal on the highway."

He said, "Even small amounts of alcohol reduce the driver's ability to react to slow-moving objects such as a child running into the street, a car breaking ahead or cars changing lanes on an expressway."

Glare recovery is a factor in night driving: how fast a driver takes to recover from oncoming headlights. Sekuler found that even small amounts of alcohol significantly affect the time it takes to recover complete vision. "These people are driving blind for a few seconds, even if they drink very small amounts."

Drunk drivers tend to stare fixedly ahead instead of looking around at the road. Sekuler said, "This cuts out a whole section of their vision and probably contributes to accidents." He said it may help to look around, consciously trying to pay attention not only to the road, but to what else is going on.

Sekuler sees two possible solutions to the problem: education and enforcement. "Drunk people shouldn't drive. But maybe we can cut down on accidents by educating people how to drive better when they've been drinking." Sekuler advises drinkers avoid coffee. "It disguises the fact that you are drunk and stimulates you into a false sense of being awake."

Tough enforcement of drunk driving laws is crucial, Sekuler said. "Contrast the attitudes of people in the United States and Sweden. If you are found driving with a certain amount of blood-alcohol in Sweden, there are no excuses. You lose your license and go to jail. In the United States, some police won't file charges against drunk drivers because of the paperwork. Juries won't convict drunk drivers because they picture themselves in the same circumstance. And there are some lawyers who make a good portion of their living getting drunk drivers off in court."

You can make the drinking age any level you want, but it's not going to change anything unless the police, judges and juries start to enforce the law and make it stick. Sekuler believes if enough people get mad, such as the Mothers Against Drunk Driving they can change the attitudes and do something about the problem.

The penalty for a first time Driving While Intoxicated offender in Illinois is driver's license suspension for six months. A second conviction results in a one-year suspension. If a drunk driver causes an accident, the court can suspend his license or jail him up to one year and fine him up to $1000.

The Swedish Consulate General's office explained the difference in the Swedish laws. There are two classifications in drunk driving offenses: drunken driving proper and driver's insobriety. The first charge, involving over .15% blood alcohol, carries an automatic jail sentence and loss of license. The lesser violation, .05% to .15% blood alcohol, carries an automatic fine.

When drivers get caught in Sweden, they know they will be in trouble and will be disgraced. When they go to a party, one person is designated as the non-drinker who will drive everyone else home. They take turns. At the next party, that person knows he will be able to drink.

In Sweden, roadblocks are set up at random to check for drunk drivers. "I'd like a dollar for every drunk driver you would catch with a roadblock on Lake Shore Drive on a Saturday night," Sekuler said.

Education and enforcement can have an effect, especially on the local level. Sekuler points to the changes in laws and enforcement in California as an example.

California now has a tighter law that makes prosecution more certain, but it's still not like the threat of being in prison the next morning. People in the United States have to realize that driving is not a right, it's a privilege.

Bill would weaken clean air laws

Representative John Dingell of Michigan has drafted a "new" Congressional bill which would substantially weaken clean air laws, reports Chicago Lung Assn. officials. "The bill is touted as a 'compromise measure' to his old Clean Air Act proposals," said Diane Sipe, an air pollution specialist for the Lung Assn, "but in fact the package contains the same old unacceptable goods under a new name."

The Lung Assn is especially concerned about the proposals to relax controls on automobile emissions and toxic air pollutants. The proposed amendments to the federal Clean Air Act call for doubling the allowable carbon monoxide (CO) emissions from automobiles from 3.4 to 7.0 grams per mile. This would save auto makers $30 - $60 per auto. "This amount is hardly a reasonable price to pay for deteriorated health of Chicago area residents," remarked Sipe.

"Carbon monoxide has long been a problem in Chicago's Loop. This year, on 13 occasions, Chicago's air reached unhealthy levels because of high CO concentrations," said Sipe. "In 1981 there were only three reported violations of this health standard, so the problem is not getting better. High concentrations of carbon monoxide can worsen the condition of those with heart disease, and may affect athletes, the elderly and children, as well."

In addition to the CO increase, Chicago Lung Assn reported that the amendments would weaken the already ineffective controls on other toxic air pollutants. To date only four toxic air pollutants have been regulated while a host of toxic, carcinogenic and hazardous air pollutants are emitted into our skies virtually uncontrolled. Experts estimate that toxic air pollution is at least partially responsible for 10-20 percent of lung cancers. Representative Dingell's bill would make it even more difficult to regulate these toxic air pollutants and would extend the time for controls to be instituted.

Sipe commented, "Chicago's air was recently rated as seventh worst in the nation by the Council on Environmental Quality. It is apparent that clean up efforts need to continue, and that a weakening of the Clean Air Act will translate into poorer health for area residents. We urge Illinois Congressmen to support aggressive measures to clean up Illinois' unhealthy skies; the Dingell amendments hold little hope for expedient clean-up."

Hard times fell Essay-Poster Contest

Economic hard times have felled the six-year-old Justice Day Essay and Poster Contest.

Circuit Court Clerk Morgan M. Finley, co-chairman of the civic group, which sponsored the contest, said that the state of the economy had made fundraising for the $10,000-a-year contest impossible.

The program had awarded over $60,000 to 6th, 7th and 8th grade students in public, private and parochial schools thruout Chicago and the suburbs since it began.

Students were asked to write an essay or create a poster reflecting a positive aspect of justice.

The contest got its start when Finley sought a way for young people to consider the positive aspects of justice as a way to balance the negative views of justice they receive thru the media.

Each year thousands of essays and hundreds of posters were submitted. Attorney volunteers from the Young Lawyer section of the Chicago Bar Assn went to schools to discuss justice as a way to assist the students in preparing their entries.

The funds were raised thru a 35-member Justice Day Committee, a not-for-profit corporation especially established to handle the contest. Eugene Heytow, chairman of the Amalgamated Bank and Trust Co was also co-chairman.

"We are disappointed that we can no longer sponsor this excellent program because it gave a great many young people a chance to expand their learning. We met hundreds of bright young people and their parents and teachers and were impressed with the quality of their education, their intelligence and their upbringing," Finley said.

He earned all-conference special mention in football as a senior and served as the captain of the basketball team that same year.

"Unfortunately, we could no longer raise sufficient funds to carry the program on."

The committee had

Illinois Planning Commission provides factbook information

A new statistical report of Chicago and its suburbs has been released by the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission. The 160 page document includes a variety of detailed and summary data describing population, housing, economic activity, energy, transportation, environment and local governments in the six counties of northeastern Illinois (Cook, DuPage, Kane, Lake, McHenry, and Will counties).

The "Economic Factbook" for Northeastern Illinois is intended to provide information of use to public officials, planners, investors, analysts, students, teachers, and the general public. The factbook's predecessor, the "1978 Regional Data Report", became a valuable tool for government and business decision-makers and individuals interested or responsible for keeping track of social, economic, and population trends.

Very little 1980 census information is contained in this factbook since most of the census data is available from the commission in other documents.

The Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission is the comprehensive planning agency for the six county Chicago metropolitan area. In addition to planning, the agency provides technical and research assistance and reviews federal grant requests for local governments.

Copies of the factbook can be obtained at a cost of $15 plus $2.30 postage from the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission at 400 W Madison Street, Chicago, IL 60606. The 1978 Data Report is also still available.

Fourth visit for Carter at Russo fundraiser

The Russo for Congress Committee recently announced that former President Jimmy Carter will be their guest at an October 4 fundraiser to be held at the Condesa del Mar Restaurant, in Alsip.

This will be the former President's fourth visit to the Third Congressional District and his first fundraising appearance in the midwest since he was defeated in 1980. Each of these visits has been on behalf of, or at the suggestion of Congressman Russo, beginning with the then former Governor of Georgia's first appearance in 1974.

"One of the great resources that this nation too often disregards," said Russo, "is the expertise of its former presidents. The record of decency, fairness, honesty and intelligence brought to that office by President Carter is one repeated but rarely, in history. We need to use all of these qualities to best advantage in charting a steady course through one of the most difficult transitional periods in our nation's history."

Congressman Russo's association with President Carter has, at times, been a rocky one, since they often disagreed on issues, but at the root of their association has been a mutual respect evidenced by these appearances.

Tickets for the event, to be held from 6 to 9 pm on Monday, October 4 are $50 each and can be purchased by contacting Joe Cari at 630-4473.

Sertoma Center seeking tucked away hearing aids

You may have a key forgotten, tucked away in a box on a shelf or in a drawer - the key that would unlock an entire new world for someone.

That key is an unused hearing aid, according to Dana M. Phillips, executive director of the Sertoma Center for Communicative Disorders in Palos Heights. The center maintains a "hearing aid bank" to help area persons who require but cannot afford, new units.

"Hearing impaired persons who have changed or updated their units frequently keep the old ones; relatives of deceased persons who utilized aids may have retained them; persons who no longer require them - these are the people we are appealing to - through their generosity we can use a new world of laughter and music for someone else," Phillips says.

In addition to the great satisfaction realized in the knowledge that one is helping someone else to hear, donors also receive income tax deduction receipts.

Anyone with a hearing aid to donate may deliver or mail it to the Sertoma Center for Communicative Disorders at 7330 College Drive, Palos Heights, 60463; or call 361-2121. The center can send a staff member to pick up a unit and express the thanks of someone who will soon enjoy the key to a more fulfilling life.

SS benefits for students to resume September

Social Security benefits to students 18-22, which were stopped last May, will begin with the September check, which will be issued in early October, Rosalie

Thompson, Social Security district manager in Evergreen Park, said recently.

In addition, the amount of the September checks will be about 25% lower than they were last spring. These changes are the result of a new law that went into effect this year, Thompson said.

Students will receive a "beginning of school year" report during the first weeks of the fall term. The report asks about school attendance and work. The student should complete the top part of the form and then give it to the school registrar to complete and mail to Social Security.

If the report is not completed and returned promptly, benefits may be stopped.

Students should also remember that their benefits may be affected if they worked during the year and have earned more than $4440 this year or expect to earn more than that amount by the end of the year. Earnings a student had during months he or she did not receive benefits count toward this limit.

In general, $1 in benefits is withheld for each $2 of earnings above $4440.

Benefits to students 18-22 who are still eligible will continue until they reach 22 or April, 1982, whichever comes first, said Thompson.

People now becoming eligible for benefits can receive benefits until age 19 as long as they are full time high school students.

More information about Social Security benefits for students can be obtained at the Evergreen Park Social Security office, 9730 S Western. The telephone number is 239-1200 in Chicago and 594-2876 in the suburbs.

Evergreen bank puts customer first

Dr. Robert C. Wall graduated with honors from the Stonier Graduate School of Banking, Rutgers U, having completed three years of extension work and a thesis, "Bank Management in a Changing Environment" which was selected for special merit.

Dr. Wall's concept of bank management is based on the systems approach designed to solve the management problems of the American space program in the 1960's. "A systems approach views change as presenting problem-solving situations with many potential interrelationships to be considered. Once a problem is identified, many related parts of the bank will be affected by the changes planned as part of the problem's resolution."

In writing the thesis, Dr. Wall set two objectives: first, that the subject matter would be of significance to him and the bank, and secondly, that the thesis deal with an important dimension of the banking industry today. Dr. Wall has succeeded in writing a thesis that is theoretical, yet practical and solution oriented in that it provides techniques to help management and managers resolve problems as they cope with the financial challenges of the eighties.

Dr. Wall received his Ph.D. from Illinois U in Urbana. Formerly Superintendent of Schools District No 124 (Evergreen Park), he joined First National Bank of Evergreen Park as Senior Vice President in 1977. He was appointed to his present position of Executive Vice President in 1978.

The First National Bank of Evergreen Park is the largest bank south of the Chicago Loop with assets over $375 million; the 18th largest in the State of Illinois and in the top 500 nationally. Currently growing at an annualized rate of over 18% a year, the First National is the lead bank of the "Evergreen, Evergrowing Banks." Dr. Wall attributes the rapid growth of First National to a solid reputation for conservative, secure money management and for the bank's philosophy of putting the customer first.

You can do it-of course you can

The Honorable Marty Russo had a resolution to the great lady Celia Dumke read into the Congressional Record in the House of Representatives, which was presented to her on her recent birthday celebrated at the Holiday Inn - Oak Lawn. The reading entitled "A Tribute to Mrs. Celia Dumke" was so fitting that we thought it should be shared with our readers. It read as follows:

MR. RUSSO: Mr. Speaker, today, I would like to pay special tribute to a truly outstanding and beloved woman from my district on the occasion of her 90th birthday. Mrs. Celia Dumke, of Oak Lawn, has been a source of inspiration to all those whose lives she has touched through her examples of strength, determination, and accomplishments.

This beautiful lady, weighing less than 90 pounds, possesses the boundless energy of a teenager, the relentless drive of a bulldozer, the indomitable courage and optimism of a missionary. She has lived her life as a prime exponent of "positive mental attitude" long before that phrase became a popular slogan. If a successful life is measured in terms of achievement, love, and respect, then Celia Dumke must be acknowledged as a resounding success.

Ceil, as she is known to her countless friends, was born in Chicago, August 18, 1892. She married, making her home on the South Side where she gave birth to two children, Fred and Lucille. Though only of modest means, she still managed to open her heart and her home to encompass another daughter, Marie, into her family circle.

When her son was not quite a year old, he contracted polio, which resulted in the loss of the use of his legs. With uncompromising pride, guidance, and abundant love, she was determined Fred would not surrender to his handicap. She prodded him, encouraged him, and imbued in him a spirit that would not accept defeat or give in to a mere physical impairment. Her favorite rallying cry was, "You can do it - of course you can." One day, returning from work, she noticed Fred on his crutches watching on the sidelines as the neighborhood kids played sandlot ball. She scolded him. "Why aren't you playing?" She ordered him up to the plate with the words. "You hit the ball, your sister will run for you" - and hit it, he did.

She never let Fred ever think he could not do everything he wanted to. Fred left his special school as a teen and enrolled as a regular student at Parker High School with Ceil adamantly insisting to school officials he could do it. He did. Fred Dumke went on to a successful career in business and then achieved an outstanding record in municipal government as a trustee and, finally, as mayor of Oak Lawn, the second largest village in Illinois.

During the devastating tornado that ripped Oak Lawn in 1967, Mayor Dumke's dynamic leadership was acknowledged by the media as being a primary factor in the village's swift recovery. Reporters following the ubiquitous mayor around the stricken village were amazed at his energy and command of the situation. One reporter commented, "He's everywhere - you forget he is on crutches". Ceil had done her job well.

Even though she had three children to raise, alone, and held a full-time job as a clerk, she still devoted time and energy to many projects which benefitted handicapped children. For many years, Kiwanis, Lions, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars recognized Ceil as one of their most dedicated and tireless volunteers.

For the past 25 years, she has been the leading volunteer for the Kiwanis Club's Peanut Day. Dubbed the "Peanut Queen", she takes her post at 95th and Cicero - the busiest intersection in the village - at 5:30 am and works til dusk and no one dare move into Ceil's territory. Needless to say, she has been No. 1 in sales since she began. Her efforts have been instrumental in helping fund the Kiwanis camp in Plymouth, Ind., Garden School, Park Lawn, and Arrow School.

She has adopted Park Lawn School in Oak Lawn as her very special project. Through her efforts, she has succeeded in raising over $125,000 for the benefit of this school for special children. She has supplied the energy and the driving force behind many endeavors - her annual birthday party, fireman's concert, and raffles all for the benefit of her kids at Park Lawn. She is at present undertaking a new goal to raise funds for Park Lawn's new residence which will open in October.

This valiant lady has had her share of setbacks and sorrows, but she possesses the resiliency and inner strength of a willow tree bending temporarily to the wind, but always coming back strong and upright again.

This spirited lady has given so much to her family, her friends, and her community. She has set a standard of excellence in every task she has undertaken which will be difficult for anyone to equal. I know my colleagues join me in sending most sincere wishes to Ceil Dumke to have the best birthday ever and keep having many more.

You can do it - of course you can.

Fahner warns of pyramid schemes

Illinois Attorney General Ty Fahner said recently that a decision from the Winnebago County Circuit Court "makes it clear once-and-for-all that pyramid schemes are deceptive per se and a violation of the Illinois Consumer Fraud Act."

Judge John C. Layng ordered Eather M. Woolbright of Pecatonica to pay a $5000 civil penalty to the state and to pay $19,500 to the Attorney General as a receiver for the purpose of repaying identified losers in Woolbright's "chain". The court order also permanently enjoins Woolbright from promoting pyramid schemes.

Judge Layng's ruling resolved a 3-year legal battle which followed the filing of a Consumer Protection lawsuit on July 30, 1979 by the Attorney General. The suit alleged that pyramid schemes were deceptive per se and enumerated various misrepresentations, such as indicating that the scheme was legal when in fact it constituted an illegal lottery.

Elrod plan would charge low breakers for training peace officers

Legislation to expand the program of charging law breakers for the training expenses of all peace officers was called for recently by Cook County Sheriff Richard J. Elrod.

Speaking before the Cook County Democratic Party Platform Committee in Mt. Prospect, Sheriff Elrod requested that the platform include his plan which would change the rules for reimbursement of training funds to cover all peace officers, not just police officers.

Sheriff Elrod currently required training for all sworn personnel - correctional officers, court services deputies and police officers - and is one of the few sheriff's departments that mandates training of all sworn personnel. However, reimbursement by the state is only for training of police officers.

"Largely thru the support of the Illinois Sheriffs' Assn and the Illinois Assn of Chiefs of Police, the State has established the 'Traffic and Criminal Convictions Surcharge Fund,'" Sheriff Elrod said.

Effective this year, the Illinois Local Governmental Law Enforcement Officers complained to the Consumer Protection Division in 1979 that Woolbright and his partner, Thomas Walsh, induced them to participate by saying that the Attorney General had said the scheme was "legal". Actually, for three years the Attorney General had issued warnings against "chain-letters" and pyramid schemes.

The Woolbright-Walsh Winnebago County "Circle of Platinum" operation was believed to be the introduction into Illinois of a similar scheme from Boston. From there, variations of the scheme were spun off to practically every county in the state, eventually resulting in the loss of millions of dollars to several thousand Illinois residents. The fad ran its course in 1980 due to bad publicity, arrests by local authorities, and exhaustion of the supply of potential participants.

The pyramid scheme operated in the manner of old-fashioned "chain letters", but involving the gathering of participants at parties, rather than using the mails.

Training Board receives funds from the surcharge levied on offenders of the law. However, Sheriff Elrod said, this surcharge is only to reimburse for the training of police officers in Illinois.

Sheriff Elrod's plan requests that (1) reimbursement for training by the state be extended to correctional officers and deputy sheriffs and (2) that the cost of that reimbursement be borne by the surcharge fund.

Sheriff Elrod is responsible for the Cook County Sheriff's Police Dept, the third largest department in the state; the busiest county jail in the country; and the largest court system in the nation. A strong advocate of training, Sheriff Elrod has established training academies for the sworn personnel who staff these departments. He requires training for all correctional officers and deputy sheriffs as well as police officers.

As chairman of the Illinois Sheriffs' Assn Training Committee, he was instrumental in establishing training courses thruout the state in courtroom security, civil process, hostage negotiations, corrections and management.

Yourell endorsement Taj Mahal 'A love poem set in marble'

Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell (D) has been endorsed for re-election to the Illinois State House by SNAPI (State Nurses Active in Politics in Illinois), the political arm of the Illinois Nurses' Assn.

"Rep Yourell has consistently demonstrated strong support for professional nursing and for quality health care issues," said Barbara Goldsberry, Chairperson of SNAPI.

"He has assisted INA in promoting important health measures in Springfield and understands that affordable health care for Illinois citizens must be a priority for public officials," Goldsberry went on to say that Rep Yourell has also been active on behalf of critical labor and women's issues.

The Illinois Nurses' Assn., the professional organization representing the state's registered nurses, established SNAPI to provide nurses with a means to become politically active on behalf of candidates who have supported nursing goals in the Illinois legislature.

"As the largest group of health providers, nurses have a great interest in decisions affecting health care," Goldsberry said.

"One in 44 women voters is a registered nurse. We are pleased to put our strength behind candidates who have worked for an equitable and compassionate health care system."

Yourell expressed his appreciation for the endorsement.

"The importance of nursing to our health care system is very great," he said. "I have worked hard to support the nursing profession in the State Legislature because I recognize this and believe in doing something about it," he said.

Truly one of the most awe inspiring sights in the world is the mammoth white marble structure known as the Taj Mahal. Begun in 1630, the 243' high Taj Mahal has been called "A love poem set in marble". It was built by an emperor as a tomb for his beloved wife.

Located on the banks of the Jumna River in Agra, India, the Taj Mahal is an architectural and sculptural masterpiece. Its striking lines and lavish attention to detail can almost hypnotize the visitor who's viewing the structure for the first time. The white marble surfaces display delicate carvings and are inlaid with lovely patterns made of semi-precious stones - each of which was cut and set by hand.

It took 20,000 workers almost 20 years to build the Taj Mahal. Skilled craftsmen were brought in from all over the world. It has been estimated that the cost would be $70,000,000 to reproduce the Taj Mahal today.

Are you looking forward to viewing world famous structures, golfing on challenging, well-known courses, dining at some of the world's great restaurants? Whatever your travel preferences, World Travel Mart, 5615 W 95th Street, Oak Lawn, will be glad to see that you enjoy the vacation that's just right for you. Stop in or call them at 636-7800.

INTRODUCING THE NIGHT SHIFT.

Maybe you never noticed it, but during the day people use a lot of electricity.

It usually takes everything we've got, even our expensive oil burners, to keep up with the demand. So electricity costs a lot more to make. And people have to pay more for it.

That's why Ice Storage, a revolutionary cooling system for big buildings, is better than regular air conditioning.

It works at night instead, when the demand for electricity goes way down and our main generating stations, the ones that run on low-cost coal and uranium, hardly work up a sweat. And electricity costs up to four-and-a-half times less to make.

All night long, it creates ice. And cold. And more ice. And more cold. Enough to keep an army of Eskimos feeling right at home. So when 8 a.m. rolls around and the day shift is ready to face another hot one, all that cold is ready too. Ready to circulate through the building and keep everybody cool till the sun goes down.

For sure, we'll all be a lot better off when there are more innovations like the Ice Storage system. That's why we're researching and developing other ideas to slow the growing daytime demand for electricity, especially in the summer.

In the meantime, if we can all do a little something to put off using electricity during the day, like not running the dishwasher or clothes dryer until 9 or 10 p.m., it can make a difference now.

Shifting some of the demand to night can keep costs down. And just maybe, help us all get some control over tomorrow.

The forum is designed to create a greater understanding of epilepsy, for

by John Hogan

News Information Supervisor
Commonwealth Edison Co.

Cook County's Environmental Control Department has reported that the air is the cleanest it's been in 19 years. At Commonwealth Edison, we've reduced sulfur dioxide emissions from our stations by more than two-thirds over the past dozen years. Since 1969, it has cost us $2.2 billion to improve the quality of the environment. The source of that money is the electricity customer, who now pays an average of $70 a year for environmental quality. That's 17% of the average residential bill, and higher for industrial customers.

Meantime, the experts are divided on how acids are formed, where they come from, how far they travel and most importantly, what can be done to control them. According to one study, acid formation may vary more with temperature, humidity, and air movement than with emissions.

The sensible course is to everyone. Remember, epilepsy can happen to anyone, at any time. The more we can learn about it, the better. For information, call Mrs. Quinn at Epilepsy Services, 332-4107.

define the problem, take far less costly interim actions, then tackle the causes -- not indulge in multi-billion dollar experiments financed by electricity users.

The problem of acid rain continues to receive widespread media coverage, with some politicians and editorial writers calling for massive expenditures by utilities to correct the situation. Much of the rhetoric has reflected the view that we face imminent environmental peril if massive control action is not taken immediately. Unfortunately, however, the logical approach of first determining whether or not a problem exists, then defining its nature and scope, is not being followed in the acid rain debate.

The only adverse effect of acid rain which has been documented is the acidification of certain local water bodies. As the General Accounting Office has noted, many allegations of serious ecological impacts either "do not reflect the current state of knowledge or exaggerate available evidence."

The causes of the acidification which has been documented are not clear. Moreover, what contribution, if any, power plant emissions lend to the problem is not known. As a result, it is not known whether emission reductions would retard or reverse the acidification. Requiring the electric utility industry to further substantially reduce power plant emissions would impose a great economic burden on our already weak national economy without any assurance of equivalent benefits to the public. Just to put scrubbers on Commonwealth Edison's generating stations that burn coal would cost customers an additional $1.4 billion -- an enormous burden when air quality in the Chicago area has continually become better, not worse.

Reagan declares 'National Lupus Week'

President Reagan has declared the week of October 17-23, 1982 as "National Lupus Week". The Lupus Erythematosus Society of Illinois was formed nine years ago to unite those individuals with Lupus for the purpose of education and support. The Lupus Erythematosus Society of Illinois is conducting an awareness campaign thruout the state of Illinois in keeping with this week.

Lupus Erythematosus is a chronic, inflammatory disease whose cause and cure are currently unknown. It affects nearly one million Americans. This disease can involve many different organs of the body as well as the skin. It is a serious and life-threatening disease which can be difficult to diagnose and treat. The symptoms vary with each individual, depending on which organ is involved. Common symptoms are fever, fatigue, weight loss, joint pain and a butterfly rash which extends over the bridge of the nose and cheeks which is usually sun-sensitive. The prognosis today, is much better than it was even ten years ago. Increased awareness of the disease and improvement in diagnostic tests makes early diagnosis possible, thus making possible the initiation of treatment before damage is done to a vital organ.

The Lupus Erythematosus Society of Illinois, which is the second largest chapter in the United States, will be sponsoring a statewide meeting, which is free and open to the public. Membership in the society is open to anyone interested in becoming more aware of Lupus and the society. Members receive the latest information about Lupus research, including a newsletter which is mailed regularly.

Yourell asks public hearings on in-home care rules

State Representative Yourell (D) recently called upon the Department of Aging to hold public hearings on new rules restricting eligibility for in-home care, and said he and his constituents would exercise their rights under a new law mandating public hearings on rules changes when 25 interested persons request it.

"The new eligibility criteria for in-home care for the elderly will cut off over half of the current case load," Yourell said. "The chore housekeeping, bathing, administration of medication, and meal preparation needed by thousands of our elderly will no longer be available to them."

Under the new rules, no individual making over $630

per month and no couple with an income over $812 per month would be eligible for in-home care. Clients who do earn less and are thus eligible may have to pay as much as 45% of their incomes for the services.

"These rules would disqualify many of the people on the current waiting list, many of whom have been waiting for months and years for the services," Yourell said.

"Of the current case load of about 10,000 only 4,800 would be eligible."

Yourell said that the Department on Aging "alleges that the new rules are justified by a Federal District Court ruling requiring the Department to clear up its waiting list." But they have not used resources available to them to provide the services our elderly need. For example, the Reagan Administration made funds available to states for in-home care, but the Illinois Department on Aging has never applied for the funds.

"Many senior citizens in my district have joined me in directing a letter to Peg Blaser of the Department of Aging, demanding a public hearing to call this inhumane and unnecessary change into question," Yourell concluded.

Phoenix meeting

The Fourth Annual "Day of the Phoenix" conference for separated, divorced and remarried Catholics will take place on Saturday, October 23 at Mother Guerin High School in River Grove.

The conference will include a choice of 3 workshops and lunch or 4 workshops and no lunch, coffee and rolls, a Liturgy and a wine & cheese party.

For more information on the "Day of the Phoenix" contact the Phoenix Office, 751-8353. Registration closes October 15. There is no registration at the door. The conference fee is all-inclusive.

OAK LAWN SAVES LIVES AND $'s WITH FIRE PREVENTION

by Richard Champlain

During 1981, 6,700 people died in the United States as a result of fires. Along with these tragic losses, approximately 30,450 people were injured and over 6½ billion dollars worth of property was destroyed. These figures do not include firefighter deaths and injuries, firefighting costs or indirect fire costs such as, loss of business, jobs lost because of a fire in a manufacturing plant or loss of tax revenue when a business closes.

In Oak Lawn, our statistics are not as glaring. Through the combined efforts of the people of Oak Lawn, our elected officials and the Oak Lawn Fire Department, we have managed to significantly reduce our fire losses. Our figures through August of this year show no fire deaths, ten fewer fire related injuries than in 1981 and $200,000 less property lost than in 1981. We have also had 149 fewer fire responses when compared to 1981.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who lives in Oak Lawn, works here or owns a business for their help in reducing our losses and to ask for their continued help.

This year, Fire Prevention Week runs from October 3 thru October 9. Fire Departments traditionally use this time to stress fire prevention more than we usually do, and we in Oak Lawn are no exception. During the last week of September, Fire Department personnel will be distributing posters to our local merchants for display in their shop windows. Also, Fire Prevention programs will be conducted at Venture, 95th and Pulaski on October 2 and 9, from 1 to 4 pm and at Marshalls, 95th and Cicero on October 3 from 1 to 4 pm.

The Fire Prevention Bureau also uses this week to kickoff our programs for elementary school children. Every year, every child in elementary school receives a learning experience in fire prevention. Due to the sheer numbers of students involved, we usually do not complete these programs until the middle of December.

Please join us in learning not to burn wherever you are and remember, "Smoke detectors save lives - don't stay home without one."

Queen of Peace offers Practicum in Politics

In keeping with the trends of the times, Queen of Peace High School, located Director, Moraine Valley College; on October 26 at the Chicago Ridge Mall, "College and Continuing Education Fair", sponsored by OLCHS, Reavis High School and Evergreen Park High School Counseling Depts.

For additional information call the Pupil Personnel Services Dept, 425-5200, ext 54.

at 7659 Linder in Burbank, is offering three additional courses this year to challenge students to meet their futures now. Practicum in Politics is not new to the curriculum, but it is new to students this fall. The Social Studies Department offers this course during election years to give both junior and senior students firsthand knowledge of the American political process.

Students are asked to find a candidate, Republican or Democrat, who is seeking office at the county, state, or congressional level in the November, 1982 general election. Students maintain a journal of their activities during the nine weeks they actually work out of the candidate's office. A minimum of 6 hours per week, or a total of 55 hours, is required during the election campaign.

In the classroom, one or two political figures per week will be brought in to talk to students and to answer their questions about political issues. Plans are also in the works for a trip to Springfield in late fall to see the Illinois General Assembly in session. A trip to the Chicago City Council and the Chicago Board of Election is also on the roster. Several classic films about American politics will be viewed and discussed by students. Among the selections are "Mr Smith Goes to Washington", "The Last Hurrah", "The Candidate" and "Advise and Consent".

IT'S ABOUT TIME TO HANG UP THE GLOVES.

Sure, you hate to see summer go. You'll miss mowing down the grass. Wiping out the weeds.

But think about the benefits.

No more getting knocked out by the heat...

the humidity. No more getting knocked out by the high cost of air conditioning either. At least not till next summer rolls around.

After all, autumn winds cool things down a lot. Air conditioners don't have to work as hard. Or as often. The demand for electricity goes down. Way down.

Since we have to make less, it costs us less to make.

So on or after September 14th, whenever your meter's read, it'll cost you less to buy. About a penny and a half less per kilowatthour. Down from nearly nine cents to roughly seven and a half cents. Which is more than a 15% savings.

It almost makes you glad to see winter come.

Commonwealth Edison
Don't take tomorrow for granted.

Grant approved for Midway

Congressman Marty Russo announced that the Department of Transportation has awarded an Airport Improvement grant of $517,500 to Midway Airport. This money will be used for land acquisition purposes.

"The revitalization of Midway Airport is the key to the development of the southwest side of Chicago. With the cooperation of the City of Chicago, I have worked to have funding, such as this, awarded in the hope that it will help reinforce our drive to bring businesses back to our area."

This money will be used to acquire permanent easement rights for equipment placement in preparation for the installation of a full instrument landing system (ILS). This landing system will provide an improved flight approach to Midway which should reduce delays into the airport and increase the margin of safety during inclement weather.

"This is the first step in the redevelopment of Midway Airport. I'm really gratified that the Dept of Transportation recognized the essential nature of this project. The Third District can be assured that I will continue to support federal funding that will be used to benefit our area."

Visit World Travel Mart for traveling facts

Try to avoid running out of money, many people do. It costs the same to travel in the States as abroad, so figure accordingly. Where you may think accommodations may be low, don't be surprised to pay regular deluxe rates. So always take more than you thought you might spend. Don't forget your charge account plates and check book. They may come in handy.

Don't make the mistake of taking along too much clothes. Take your favorite clothes. Three or four day-time outfits and evening clothes should cover your needs for a three-week trip.

Don't complain about things that are not the same as at home, because after all the reason for your trip is to get acquainted and become involved with different people and places. Enjoy the contrast, it's great!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

What do you know about Chapter 91½?

Now I am sure that not too many people know what that means.

I know for sure that there are some who are really acquainted with this Chapter. In fact, live every day of their lives with Chapter 91½ of the Illinois State Statute.

This Chapter deals with mental health. Now a lot of people, myself included, really don't give much thought to the Illinois State Statute's. To help others understand the last sentence, the Illinois Statutes are the laws we live by in the State of Illinois, and to most of us, 91½ is just a number in this book.

A number, that is, until a few days ago. Let me start back on that day.

I was working on trying to get people to register at the polls, so that they can exercise a great right they have, and that is the right to vote. When I spoke to a woman about how many members she had in her family that were voting age, she told me, but I knew of one she didn't include -- a 23 year old daughter. I asked her why she didn't include her. She said she is mentally handicapped.

I told her I didn't believe that was reason enough to prevent her from exercising her right as an American Citizen. She said she just didn't know.

So I took it upon myself to look it up and, verified my findings with the authoritative people who know the answers, and sure enough, there it was under Chapter 91½:

"That unless the Court ruled you incompetent, you have the right to vote."

I relayed my information to this woman, who now fully intends to allow her daughter to exercise this right.

I now hope that the many other parents who find themselves in this position, follow this woman's footsteps, and add yet another ray of light into the tunnel that for so long was dark.

A letter to the residents of the 14th District from Senator Jeremiah Joyce

For the past several weeks I have been campaigning throughout the 14th District trying to address and respond to the issues that affect our communities. I have tried to present my public record and to give an accounting of my term in office. My opponent, J. Theodore Meyer (who lives in Chicago), and his campaign manager, (whose business in Frankfort, Illinois recently received a $150,000.00 contract from the Mayor of Chicago), are, however, trying to wage a different campaign. Theirs is a campaign which seeks to pit the people of the suburbs against the people of the city. I think this is wrong.

For the past eight years, I have been involved in a constant battle to preserve our excellent southwest communities. In this effort, I have had the support and encouragement of literally thousands of our residents. We have stood up to, and actively opposed anyone who was not acting in the best interest of our communities, and that includes public officials, several downtown real estate developers, zoning lawyers, land speculators and many others.

I believe I have accomplished much and I am proud to speak of my record. I do not have to set up a "REPUBLICANS FOR JOYCE COMMITTEE" to do that. I will continue to speak out on issues that affect the people I represent and what I say in one part of the 14th district will not differ from what I say in another part of our district. I believe all residents of the 14th district, Democrats, Republicans and Independents, should be able to support my candidacy solely on the basis of my record and I submit it to you for your review and consideration.

Thank you,

Senator Jeremiah Joyce

by John Hogan

News Information Supervisor
Commonwealth Edison Co.

Now that the 1982 election campaign is in full swing, Commonwealth Edison makes the following appeal to all candidates and their supporters, regardless of party: please don't tack posters, notices or the like on utility poles. The same plea is addressed to people who want to promote garage sales or reach the public for any other reason.

Anything tacked on utility poles can cause trouble for the line crews. Too often, utility workers suffer cuts and gashes from encounters with nails and tacks used to affix the posters. The hardware lurks, awaiting a chance encounter with an unsuspecting line-man's hands or legs on a dark, stormy night when he is restoring power to an area that has had service interrupted.

Although utility crew members carefully inspect each pole before climbing, it's easy to miss a nail or tack in the dark of night. Climbing spikes need the soft wood of a utility pole to be effective, but nails and tacks defeat them, often causing the wearer to slip and injure himself. This can delay the restoration of service.

So please, Mr and Ms Campaign Worker: do your best to get out the vote, but don't tack anything on a utility pole.

By being observant and reporting abnormal conditions to Commonwealth Edison, the average person can help avert a possible service interruption or correct a potentially dangerous situation.

Anytime you see a downed power line, report it immediately. Failure to do so could result in serious injury or even death. Never touch a fallen line, and caution children to stay away, too.

Anytime you see anyone shooting at or committing other acts of vandalism to power lines or electrical equipment, call the police immediately.

Likewise, keep an eye on equipment located atop poles. If you notice any leaking fluids, this should be reported to Edison.

Edison has a substantial amount of equipment mounted outdoors and protected by fences and locks. Give a call if you observe broken or missing locks or sections of fence. Children are curious and could wind up hurting themselves.

Broken meters are something else that should be called to the company's attention.

This list is by no means all-inclusive. In a system as large as Edison's, covering more than 11,000 square miles in northern Illinois, equipment problems can and do occur. Obviously, company employees can't be everywhere, so that's why Edison counts on members of the public to keep an eye out for trouble situations and report them by calling the local Edison office listed in the white pages of the telephone directory.

If you do report a problem, chances are you'll be helping yourself and your neighbors as much as the utility.

Trinity to hold phonathon drive

The Office of College Development at Trinity Christian College, Palos Heights, is planning an October drive aimed at year-end giving. "Many of our constituents wait until the fall to distribute their charitable contributions. In the past, some have wondered why Trinity did not conduct a drive in the fall," explains director Keith Vander Pol. The drive will not replace the more extensive annual Loyalty Drive which is held each spring.

A high point of the drive will be a phonathon on the evenings of October 19-21 and October 25-28. Callers will gather at the First National Bank of Evergreen Park for a time of fellowship, fun, and support. Faculty, staff, administrators, and students are gearing up to make this event, not only successful, but rewarding to the participants as well.

Trinity Christian College is a four-year, liberal arts, Christian college located at 6601 W College Drive, Palos Heights, IL 60463.

OL Leaf Program

The Village of Oak Lawn, Public Works Department, 1982 Leaf Program will commence on October 19, 1982. There will be a decided change in the program this year from services rendered in previous years. The Village of Oak Lawn will be offering, to the single family residents, large plastic bags at twenty cents (20¢) each - sold in lots of ten ($2.00). In conjunction with the purchase, the village will give each homeowner ten (10) free bags. A maximum of twenty bags will be sold to each family resident. The bags can be purchased after October 13, at the Village Hall, 5252 Dumke Drive, in the Public Works Office, lower level. These bags are to be used for the purpose of packaging leaves and should then be placed out for Meyer Bros. Scavenger Service on the regular refuse pick up day each week during the fall season. With the increasing cost of gasoline and dump charges, the village can no longer offer a weekly loose leaf pick up. There will, however, be two loose leaf pick ups for each area during the period commencing October 19 and ending November 24. The schedule is as follows:

Residents with refuse pick up on Mondays will be serviced on October 19 and 20, and again on November 3, 4 and 5.

Residents with refuse pick up on Tuesdays will be serviced on October 21 and 22, and November 8, 9 and 10.

Residents with refuse pick up on Wednesdays will be serviced on October 25 and 26, and November 11, 12 and 15.

Residents with refuse pick up on Thursdays will be serviced October 27 and 28, and November 16, 17 and 18.

Residents with refuse pick up on Fridays will be serviced on November 1 and 2 and November 22, 23 and 24.

There will be no branch pick up after this program begins. This schedule indicates the dates that the village forces intend to be in each area for loose leaf pick up, weather permitting. We ask that the residents cooperate with the pick up dates so that all will be served.

Residents are again reminded that the burning of leaves is absolutely prohibited in the Village of Oak Lawn, with penalties provided under the law for violation. Residents are also reminded that the quickest and least costly removal of leaves is to bag them for refuse pick up. If you have any questions, please contact the public works department at 636-4400, ext 256 or 257.

A MIDWINTER NIGHT'S DREAM.

Imagine a midwinter night. A nasty, cold night.

Now, if that prompts you to ask why we're showing you a man in a rumpled suit who looks like he's someplace in the Sahara where it's a hundred in the shade, the answer's simple.

Because even on a nasty, cold night in northern Illinois, so nasty it's zero outside, there's still a whole lot of heat from the sun in the air. Eighty-two percent of the heat that's there when it's one hundred degrees.

As a matter of fact, the only time there's absolutely no heat in the air is when it's Absolute Zero. And that's 460° below 0° Fahrenheit.

Since people can't feel all that heat, most of them let it go to waste. Let it blow away with the wind. And that's a crime.

You see, there's a machine that can capture it. That can pull heat out of the air and bring it inside.

The Electric Heat Pump.

Night and day, rain or shine, all-year 'round, it just gives what the sun's already put there. All for the price of a little electricity to run on.

Which, of course, is very nice, considering the cost of natural gas has gone up 48 percent faster than electricity since 1967. And oil has gone up 90 percent faster. And even that could look like small potatoes when natural gas gets deregulated or OPEC turns the screws a few more times.

In other words, the Electric

Heat Pump is flat out the most energy-efficient heating system money can buy today or tomorrow. So efficient it gives you more energy (heat) than the energy (electricity) it needs to run on. While it keeps you feeling so nice and warm, you'll probably think you're in another part of the world.

With a conservation dream like that, and the sun up in the sky, tomorrow can definitely be a lot easier to take.

Commonwealth Edison
Don't take tomorrow for granted.

Fire Department announces new tornado warning system

The Oak Lawn Fire Dept is pleased to announce that a new tornado warning system will be in place by April of 1983, to be operated by the National Weather System at its facility in Marseilles (which serves the Chicago/Metropolitan area). The acquisition of this new radar called "DOPPLER" was a result of the efforts of the Metropolitan Fire Chiefs Assn and the Northeastern Illinois Fire Chiefs Assn. Through the efforts of both of these bodies a total amount of $500,000 was raised, contributed to by the National Weather System, City of Chicago, and County of Cook Government.

This new radar will be considerably more accurate in predicting tornadoes than anything they have had in the past and the Fire Chiefs feel it will contribute toward saving of lives in the future.

If you have any questions, please call the Oak Lawn Fire Dept at 422-6440 or 423-7717.

Please remember these devices are unvented heaters. They require oxygen in order to operate and they produce toxic gases such as, carbon monoxide. ## Park Lawn opens new school

The members and staff of the Park Lawn Assn, 10833 LaPorte in Oak Lawn, have reason to celebrate. After years of planning, they have now opened their residential center for mentally retarded adults.

The newly renovated facility located at 5831 W 115th Street in Alsip will house 41 adults from Chicago and the south-southwest suburbs.

Although the center is beautifully appointed with special equipment to deal with the handicaps of the clients, many things are still needed in order for the building to become home-like to those who live there such as plants and finished macrame plant hangers in earth tones.

Program needs include craft items and supplies - felt markers and pens, glue, stationery, magazines and also paper products - cleaning and toilet tissue, paper napkins and towels. A vehicle such as a van or truck is also needed.

A letter to the residents of the 14th District from Senator Jeremiah Joyce

For the past several weeks I have been campaigning throughout the 14th District trying to address and respond to the issues that affect our communities. I have tried to present my public record and to give an accounting of my term in office. My opponent, J. Theodore Meyer (who lives in Chicago), and his campaign manager, (whose business in Frankfort, Illinois recently received a $150,000.00 contract from the Mayor of Chicago), are, however, trying to wage a different campaign. There is a campaign which seeks to pit the people of the suburbs against the people of the city. I think this is wrong.

For the past eight years, I have been involved in a constant battle to preserve our excellent southwest communities. In this effort, I have had the support and encouragement of literally thousands of our residents. We have stood up to, and actively opposed anyone who was not acting in the best interest of our communities, and that includes public officials, several downtown real estate developers, zoning lawyers, land speculators and many others.

I believe I have accomplished much and I am proud to speak of my record. I do not have to set up a "REPUBLICANS FOR JOYCE COMMITTEE" to do that. I will continue to speak out on issues that affect the people I represent and what I say in one part of the 14th district will not differ from what I say in another part of our district. I believe all residents of the 14th district, Democrats, Republicans and Independents, should be able to support my candidacy solely on the basis of my record and I submit it to you for your review and consideration.

Thank you,

Senator Jeremiah Joyce

Views on Tuesday's election

Following are a few comments about the election on Tuesday, November 2, 1982. Our readers are well aware that we do not endorse as we believe endorsements are controlled by the feelings of the moment; polls have also been so far off that they have lost credibility. Our only exception to the above rule has been the constant endorsement of CONGRESSMAN MARTY RUSSO, who is a candidate on the national level and has served us well.

We have never condoned material that stabs another in the back. We have not printed news releases from several candidates because they never spoke to the issues but spoke only of the opponents faults. Most of this is trash and the public is well aware of all the rhetoric during a campaign. We have either forgot, forgiven or know what to do at the polls. If the opponents have not told us what they would do differently we can assume they like it the way it is. Patronage, nepotism and donations have been around for a long time and will not change as it is - "The name of the game".

All of the candidates are basically good people or they could not have come this far without their past catching up with them. We do have a few thoughts of our own that we would like to toss out for whatever they may be worth.

The strength of GOVERNOR JAMES R. THOMPSON in these rough times is an asset. The AAA bond rating for the state that he has maintained isn't all that bad either. NEIL HARTIGAN is more than qualified for Attorney General against his lack-luster opponent whom no one knew until a tragic affair brought his name to the public.

SENATOR JEREMIAH JOYCE, now in the 14th Senatorial District which includes Oak Lawn, has fought with the tenacity of a bulldog to preserve the southwest communities. JAMES KEANE, after two terms in the state house and now caught up in the redistricting that takes in the east side of Oak Lawn, has been a responsive representative with experience on his side.

HARRY "BUS" YOURELL and HERB HUSKEY, both in the 27th District have both been responsible for excellent legislation for the state, county and the district. Both are committeemen chosen by their peers. If the voters particularly favor one of the candidates they better get out and vote as this is a close race.

GEORGE DUNNE, candidate for retention as President of the Cook County Board, is well liked and respected by both parties and has run a clean campaign. It would also be well to remember that RON LARSON is the only commissioner from Oak Lawn seeking re-election to the Cook County Board.

SHERIFF RICHARD ELROD is a competent administrator - why change ships if one is sailing in the right direction? There is no question about THOMAS HYNES as Assessor of Cook County, why rock the boat? STANLEY KUSPER, JR., Clerk of Cook County has a good grasp on the tons of paper work and handles the job in a very professional manner. EDWARD ROSEWELL has done a superb job as Treasurer of Cook County with an office run like clock work. He was the first to place funds in various banks where the county received the highest return of interest on the investment.

The judges usually don't draw votes even though they are responsible for the execution of our laws. Among several "recommended" by the Chicago Bar Association are: JUDGE ROBERT C. BUCKLEY, JUDGE FRANK ORLANDO, JUDGE MICHAEL F. CZAJA and JUDGE JAMES S. QUINLAN, JR.

PLEASE VOTE TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2.

Huskey public hearing proves fruitful

The testimony of area residents at a public hearing was "instrumental" in prompting the Illinois Dept of Insurance to initiate action against Blue Cross Insurance Company, reports State Representative Herb Huskey (Oak Lawn).

Huskey hosted the hearing in Oak Lawn to give Blue Cross subscribers an opportunity to voice their views on "exorbitant" health insurance premium increases. Dr Kenneth Tannenbaum of Health Systems Group, Inc, Ann Arbor, MI, served as the hearing officer. The Illinois Dept of Insurance and Blue Cross also participated in the hearing.

"Beginning November

1st, rates for 165,000 Blue Cross group Health Improvement Assn (HIA) subscribers will be temporarily rolled back," Huskey said.

"The Insurance Dept's Order stipulates that rates included in bills sent after November 1 must be returned to the June 30 level plus an allowance for increasing medical costs of about 22%," he noted.

According to Huskey, Blue Cross has until December 31 to present the Insurance Dept with a new method of rating the HIA group.

The Insurance Dept is also ordering Blue Cross to present specific standards and timetables to focus and Speaking to the Evergreen Park Study in Action Association Klein said "Metropolitan Sanitary District tried to say their 1981 taxes would increase only 7%. The SunTimes revealed that the true increase was 31% and that this 31% would increase 18% next year. My calculations are that the bonding and interest re-

Yourell and O'Connell urges 'yes' vote on bail amendment

Two suburban Democrats are urging their constituents and supporters to vote in favor of a Constitutional Amendment concerning Bail which will be on the ballot in the November 2nd Election.

State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell (D-Oak Lawn), candidate for re-election in the new 27th District, and State Representative John T. O'Connell (D-Western Springs), candidate for re-election in the new 47th District, say that the amendment provides that dangerous criminals will not get out on bail and continue to threaten their communities.

The amendment states that bail will not be granted in cases when a defendant is charged with an offense for which a sentence of life imprisonment may be imposed as a consequence of conviction. According to Yourell and O'Connell, the amendment will ensure that those accused of serious crimes will attend their trials; it will protect the public from those criminals who are awaiting trial; and it does not infringe upon civil liberties.

"Our constituents have had enough of crime committed by habitual and dangerous offenders who are out on bail," the candidates said in a joint statement.

"This amendment gives all of us an opportunity to improve our bail system to keep closer guard upon those charged with the most serious offenses, and we strongly urge its passage."

Sertoma Center asks for 'TTY' volunteers

The Sertoma Center for Communicative Disorders in Palos Heights is presently seeking volunteers who wish to use their time and skills to greater advantage.

Need for the volunteers has been occasioned by the center's new "TTY" relay system, thru which deaf persons may communicate by phone line typing keyboards in their homes. Their messages are then relayed or "translated" into voice by a Sertoma Center volunteer. In order to keep in constant contact with its TTY "Family", the Sertoma Center needs more of these helpers.

All that's required, according to volunteer coordinator Doris Propp, is the desire to help others, and the freedom to devote a few hours a week on a regularly scheduled basis. Volunteers should be over 18.

Anyone interested is asked to phone Propp at 361-2121, or stop in at the Sertoma Center, 7330 College Drive, Palos Heights.

you and me and every other taxpayer in the Metropolitan Sanitary District's territory will double in just a few years. The increases thereafter look even worse for the taxpayers because the Metropolitan Sanitary District has an indebtedness of over a Billion Dollars and wants to issue $200 million dollars a year in additional bonded indebtedness each and every year," Klein said.

What the Metropolitan Sanitary District also has failed to disclose is that TARP was designed for the purpose of relieving the City of Chicago from the costs to replacing its combined sewers with separate storm and sanitary sewers. Klein said "The suburbs with their expensive separated sewer systems are being forced to pay for this erroneous solution to Chicago's inaction.

Larson seeks re-election

Cook County Commissioner Ronald R. Larson (Oak Lawn), seeking his third term as a suburban Republican member of the Cook County Board, recently called upon the voters to support his candidacy for re-election to keep full-time active representation in the south and southwest suburban areas.

Larson stated, "Until recently, I was the only member of the County Board representing all of suburban Cook County south of 39th Street. With the appointment of Bernie Carey (South Holland) to the Board this provided the south-southwest suburban area with two out of six representatives. I feel it is vital that we keep a geographical balance."

In addition to serving on all major committees of the County Board, Larson was appointed to the Cook County Hospital Joint Conference Committee in March of this year. He also serves on the Oak Forest Hospital Sub-Committee.

In seeking re-election on November 2, 1982, Ronald R. Larson, a former Mayor of the Village of Merrionette Park and Worth Township Supervisor, now resides in the Village of Oak Lawn. Larson's 100% attendance record at all regular meetings of the County Board and legislative record have earned him the endorsement of the United Hellenic Voters of America, the John Ericsson Republican League, Cook County Republican Central Committee, the ## Rights of senior citizens Hartigan concern

A major emphasis in the office of attorney general in the multi county Chicago suburban area will be to become an advocate of the rights and dignity of senior citizens, promised Nell Hartigan, Democratic candidate for Illinois attorney general.

He said thousands of suburban elderly must be protected from crime ranging from consumer fraud to violence, restriction of their rights in nursing homes and elsewhere and in medical help. Hartigan stated:

"I want to make it clear that in Illinois the Suburban Republican Organization of Cook County and many other local political organizations in suburban Cook County.

last person to pick on would be a senior citizen." He added:

"As attorney general I

TOM Hynes

ASSESSOR

CHICAGO
Sun-Times

Tuesday, October 12, 1982

The voters have heard more than the usual amount of political demagoguery on property taxes this year, but not from Cook County Assessor Thomas C. Hynes.

Hynes has, instead, offered reasonable proposals to make the property-tax system fairer and more understandable to the homeowner. This calm, professional approach is characteristic of the way Hynes has run his office for four years—and it's why we recommend his re-election.

Choices
★ ★ ★ '82

This year, for example, he won passage of a bill giving him the right to reassess the same piece of property every two years, rather than every four. That won't keep property taxes from rising, but they'll rise gradually; reassessments will become less burdensome to the homeowner.

He also pushed successfully for the Truth-in-Taxation Act, which forces local governments to publicize their spending increases. Another bill to limit a government's right to cash in on higher assessments was, unfortunately, beaten back by the local-government lobby.

Hynes has made the assessor's office more accessible to the public. His taxpayer's advocate helps homeowners challenge their assessments, and he has sent aides throughout the county to describe the tax system and hear complaints.

After the collapse of efforts to negotiate a tax break for a Hilton hotel in the North Loop, he submitted a well-researched plan to improve the county's tax incentive ordinance. It is designed to spur business development in slum neighborhoods as well as in the central business district.

For assessor: Hynes

One of the easy choices on the Nov. 2 ballot is that for county assessor. Democrat Thomas C. Hynes clearly has earned re-election. He has gone well beyond mere competence in handling his office, even beyond improving it. Under him the office has been turned into a tool for tightening up other government functions—county assessment procedures, Chicago's blithe way of offering huge tax incentives for redevelopment, local taxing methods throughout the state.

Mr. Hynes has done this by insisting that taxing decisions should be based on rules instead of expediency. In the long wrangle over plans to build a flagship Hilton hotel in the north Loop, for example, Mr. Hynes caused shock and dismay by demanding that City Hall and Hilton prove their case before he would grant the 13-year tax break they wanted for the project.

The case was not proved and the hotel will not be built. But one good result is that the tax incentive has remained subject to strict standards instead of becoming a grab-bag for well-connected developers.

The assessor's office has speeded up access to information by computerizing its operations; simplified and standardized procedures for homeowners and small businesses, so that they no longer need to hire an appraiser or a lawyer to appeal, and installed a "taxpayers' advocate" to check out complaints.

TODAY THIS HOUSE IS JUST SMART. TOMORROW IT'LL BE BRILLIANT.

Nobody has to tell you what's happening to the cost of energy today. It's all up, up, up.

So if you're looking for a new house, it makes a whole lot of sense to look for one with an Energy Smart sign out front. One that uses energy like a miser. That keeps the cost down, down, down.

That means a house with double-glazed windows.

With ceilings insulated to a minimum rating of R-19.

With walls insulated to at least R-11.

With exterior openings carefully weather-stripped and caulked.

And with an Electric Heat Pump instead of a central air conditioner and furnace.

That's the key. The Heat Pump.

All summer long it works just like central air conditioning. But in the winter it reverses itself. It takes heat from the air outside and pumps it inside to keep you warm.

What's more, the Heat Pump does that so efficiently it provides at least 50 percent more energy (heat) than the energy (electricity) it uses.

And that's very, very smart when you consider that the cost of natural gas has gone up 52 percent faster than electricity since 1967, and oil has gone up 113 percent faster.

Better yet, it'll be downright brilliant when natural gas gets deregulated or OPEC bumps up the price of oil a few more times.

The Energy Smart house. It can make tomorrow a lot easier to live with.

Lion's need help to reach fund goal

Oak Lawn Lions' Len Pearson and Bill Strickfaden were at the groundbreaking ceremonies for the Lions of Illinois Eye Research Institute, a medical eye research facility being donated by the Lions of Illinois to the University of Illinois at Chicago.

The institute will be at Taylor and Wolcott Streets, Chicago, in the university's Health Sciences Center.

The groundbreaking ceremonies included a keynote address by Everett J. Grindstaff, an attorney from Ballinger, Texas, and president of Lions Clubs International, the parent organization of Lionism.

Following a long tradition of service to the blind and visually impaired, the Lions, in May, 1980, began to raise funds to build the institute. This campaign is one of the largest ever undertaken by Lions anywhere in the world. Of a $5 million goal, $4.1 million has been raised.

Nuclear and solar natural partners

One of the many myths that has grown up during our national energy debate is that nuclear and solar energy are in competition with one another. In fact, there are some who believe that nuclear has to be phased out to give solar a chance. This simply is not true. On the contrary, nuclear and solar are natural partners.

Nuclear plants are intended to operate around the clock at a constant output to supply what is known as base load. In most parts of the country, for example, utilities have to supply about twice as much energy during the day as they do in the middle of the night. The base load power supplied by nuclear and newer coal-fired plants is supplemented during the day by more coal power (usually from older, less efficient units).

Sunshine is available only during the day, so obviously that is the only time solar energy can be generated. This is also the time when the most electricity is needed. Consequently, solar could be used to decrease the use of the utilities' units which use the scarest and most expensive generating fuel - oil. So if solar were in competition with anything, it would be oil, which at Commonwealth Edison costs about four times as much as nuclear.

By contrast, Commonwealth Edison's nuclear stations in 1981 produced electricity at a cost of 2.0 cents per kwh, compared to 4.2 cents per kwh for the company's large coal-fired stations. Fuel costs alone for oil-fired units (excluding manpower or investment costs) were about 8 cents per kwh.

Utilities have never argued that nuclear energy could do the job alone. The key to solving our energy problems is diversity, with each form of energy performing the role it does best. Again, in this context, solar and nuclear are partners.

Nuclear plants produce energy at less cost to the consumer than the alternatives, and new nuclear stations will save the customer money on his or her future electricity bills. Thus, stopping construction of these plants would mean higher bills, leaving less money available to the homeowner or business person to invest in solar energy.

To reach the fund target, the Lions Clubs are seeking tax-deductible gifts from the public. For information call Lion Len Pearson, 4244 W. 99th Place, Oak Lawn, at 424-3428 or Lion Bill Strickfaden, 9820 Pulaski Road, Oak Lawn, at 422-7671.

The campaign is being held under the auspices of the Lions of Illinois Foundation, 1515 N. Harlem Avenue, Oak Park, the charitable arm of the state's Lions Clubs.

'Working' at Oak Lawn High

"It's about a search for daily meaning as well as daily bread, for recognition as well as cash... for a sort of life rather than a Monday through Friday sort of dying." This is Studs Terkel's explanation of his book, "Working" and the musical created from it.

"Working" is not a story but rather the hopes and inner feelings of ordinary people like us: people wishing to be remembered, to have a sense of personal worth, to have pride in doing a good job. It's a celebration of the average Joe whose daily life touches ours without our being aware of it.

The Oak Lawn Comm High School Theatre Arts Dept will present its fall musical "Working" on November 4, 5, and 6 at 8 pm and on November 7 at 2 pm in the Little Theatre.

This production features a cast of thirteen students, each of whom portray some personal thoughts of people working in today's world. Director Tom Dzurison is being assisted by choral director, Jim Detloff, and by conductor, Laurel Osterman. The student directors are Pam Ryan and Donna Egan.

Tickets are available at the school, 94th and Southwest Highway, Oak Lawn, 424-5200 and are priced at $3.50 for adults and $2.75 for senior citizens and students with a proper I.D. Tickets can also be purchased at the Little Theatre box office the night of the performance.

Vincent Cainkar, Democratic candidate for Cook County Commissioner, announced the signing of a multi-million dollar contract for a new shopping center in Burbank. Under the agreement with Super Valu Stores, Inc., a 65,000 square foot grocery store will be built on a 29-acre tract of land owned by the city.

Vincent Cainkar, Burbank City Attorney, developed a financing plan which included the use of industrial revenue bonds and tax increment financing that fostered development of the new Cub Food Store and shopping center. "The Cub Food Store alone will mean 300 permanent jobs and millions of dollars in taxes for the southwest suburban Cook County area. In addition the food prices are approximately 20% less than other stores in the area, so that everyone will benefit from this development," Cainkar said. ## Edison reports customer nuclear power dividend

by John Hogan

Manufacturers' rebates are a fine way to save a few dollars, but wouldn't it be even better if we could just pay a little less at the checkout counter instead of waiting for the rebate check to come in the mail?

That's one reason why Commonwealth Edison is pleased to report that customers are receiving a nuclear power dividend right on this month's electricity bill. Last month we tallied our actual production fuel costs for June, July and August, and found that we had burned less oil and more uranium. Since nuclear fuel costs about one-eighth as much as oil, that means a $1.14 difference in favor of the typical customer using 525 kilowatt-hours per month.

The second reason why this is so satisfying is that it is the first time since 1969 that we have been able to lower our customers' bills with a fuel adjustment credit. It also underscores what we have been saying for years: nuclear power is holding down the cost of electricity in northern Illinois.

Our customers used about 60 billion kilowatt-hours in 1981. Our nuclear power plants accounted for about 26 billion kwh of the total. If we had used coal instead of uranium for the nuclear share, our fuel costs would have been $540 million higher -- oil would have cost $2 billion more.

In 1969, before the clean air laws passed by Congress had a chance to affect fuel prices, we could generate a kwh with less than a half-cent's worth of fuel. By the end of the 1970s, and after the 1973 oil embargo, the same amount of fuel cost more than four times as much -- even with the expanding role played by low-cost nuclear fuel.

One-third of the cost of electricity today can be traced directly to the costs of the fuel needed to run our power plants. The fact that about 45% of the electricity used in northern Illinois comes from uranium has been a tremendous help in holding the line on what we all pay for power.

"I told you so" is a phrase that should be used sparingly, but this is one time I just can't resist. I hope to be able to use it a lot in the future, too, because our newest nuclear generating unit, at LaSalle County Station, soon will be in commercial operation, and it will replace $219 million worth of oil and coal in its first year of operation.

With the new LaSalle unit in operation, and with five other new nuclear units nearing completion, by 1986 we should be able to

Stone Church International Dinner

The annual Stone Church Missions Convention will begin on November 13 with an International Dinner in the multi-ministries building, 6330 W 127th Street, Palos Heights. Former Stone Church pastor Rev. Owen C. Carr will be the featured speaker. Special music for the dinner on Saturday will be provided by Rev. Ray Ludwig, who formerly served as organist with the Jimmy Swaggart evangelistic team. Dinner will be served at 6:30 pm.

Included among the mis-supply two-thirds of northern Illinois' electricity with the least expensive generating fuel available.

Local TV host, Sandy Dorgan, snagged the Southwest Bar Association to present a Mock Trial on drunken driving. The program aired on channel 4 Metrovision, November 5, with a repeat performance on November 7.

Courtroom drama was enacted, by attorneys, who are members of the Bar Association, in a real courtroom, presented to a real judge and jury, with an audience to boot.

Cast members as they appeared for the first time on TV are: Judge Thomas P. Durkin, Attorneys John Buckley, John Schaller, James O'Grady, Vincent O'Grady, Craig Miller, and Officer Tom Kelly of the Oak Lawn Police Department. Moderator of the program was Anthony Barrett, President of the Southwest Bar Association.

In the past, the Southwest Bar Association has presented a similar Mock Trial at meetings of various organizations to help them better understand the system. It has been done informally, with questions asked anytime during the program.

"I try very hard," said Sandy Dorgan, "to bring programs into peoples' homes that are not only entertaining, but educational and timely. This subject is important and the interest is there."

The public is invited to attend these special meetings.

Help for tinnitus patients

Ever try to sleep, understand a conversation, or read the paper when an air raid siren is on? People with tinnitus (head noise or ringing in the ears) have to try. It is annoying, irritating, and frequently results in loss of sleep or the inability to concentrate.

There is help for people who suffer from tinnitus according to David J. Rompala, audiologist at the Sertoma Center in Palos Heights. "Researchers have developed a tinnitus masker, a device similar in appearance to a hearing aid, which has proven itself to be a great help in moderate-to-severe tinnitus," Rompala says.

At the Sertoma Center, a highly-trained staff of audiologists can evaluate tinnitus cases and aid in their correction. Prior to having the tinnitus evaluation, however, a person should have a complete medical examination in order to rule out any physical causes for the condition. Sertoma Center staff can evaluate the tinnitus and make appropriate recommendations for a masker. All tinnitus maskers are available on a trial basis so that clients may judge the degree of relief before final purchase. Further information about tinnitus and tinnitus maskers may be obtained by calling Sertoma Center in Palos Heights at 361-2121.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO THE FRIENDS OF THE HOSPITALIZED WAR VETERANS:

Thank you from the blind and disabled veterans, the committee and myself. Due to the hard work of our Fund raising Chairman Gene Swanson and the excellent help of Hank Latas, we are able to continue for another year.

So far, we have had picnics, a boat outing on Lake Michigan, dinners, visit to the hospital and, of course, the not-to-be forgotten Oak Lawn Centennial Parade that these men enjoyed.

The committee and I also want to thank everyone who donated their time and efforts, especially the businessmen who helped with the distribution of the food served the veterans at this outing. Our additional thanks for the bus used in transporting our veterans on this excursion and the candy, cakes, etc. provided by our many residents in an effort to provide our veterans with some homemade desserts.

With the holidays fast approaching, we are formulating plans for the Thanksgiving and Christmas visits to the hospital and future outings during the long, lonely winter months ahead. Your continued support will be deeply appreciated.

Hideouts in Antigua

Extensive resort construction in the Caribbean hasn't eliminated intimate hideout hotels. There are small, informal places on the island of Antigua with many "rooms" available among them and in their own unobtrusive way are quite excitingly housing interesting people from all over the world.

With all the large, modern facilities going up around the islands, people tend to overlook the small places that made the Caribbean popular in the first place.

These smaller hotels may be away from it all, but there is no question of "roughing it". They have all the amenities, and many have pools or are on the beach -- those that have neither will provide free transportation to and from the beach areas. And actually, in Antigua, you are really never far from the beach, regardless of where you are staying.

Make your dream vaca-

James Buschbach

tion come true. The trip you've always dreamed of taking -- someday -- can be yours right now. Visit World Travel Mart, 5615 W 95th Street in Oak Lawn, soon for a perfectly planned itinerary to some of these 'hideouts' in Antigua.

There are many more good ideas available at World Travel Mart for that 'getaway' vacation trip you've often thought about. They would like to tell you more about these travel ideas, you may call them at 636-7800.

FSC announces fresh news in yesterday's newspapers

With a little bit of ingenuity you can take an old Moline Daily Dispatch, a Chicago Daily News and even an ancient Chicago Tribune and turn them into tomorrow's Sun-Times. Field Enterprises uses the process to supplement the traditional paper-making from pulpwood.

It happens every day at the FSC Paper Corp's mill at suburban Alsip. The mill is devoted exclusively to reclaiming old newspapers and turning them into rolls of paper to make new ones.

Waste paper is delivered to the plant in bales and dumped onto a floor on the receiving deck to sort out glossy paper magazines that have crept into the deliveries by mistake. (Sunday magazines such as Midwest are acceptable in small quantities.)

The fork-lift trucks that brought in the bales then bulldoze the sorted paper into a huge square "bucket" that carries it to a whirling container known as a batch-pulper for its first treatment. The paper is reduced to a pulp and almost completely de-inked under a flood of water and chemicals identified only by secret formula codes as RBS-60, RBS-100, RBS-200. (RBS stands for Richard B. Scudder, publisher of the Newark News, who first developed this process.)

The pulp passes through cylinders that remove staples, paperclips and other foreign matter. The ink remaining from the first treatment is then pressed out and filtered away to sewers. The pulp is washed once more, refined and washed again until it comes out like thick porridge that is 4% fiber, 96% water.

This ratio is raised to 0.5% fiber, 99.5% water by inundating the "porridge" with 15,000 gallons of water per minute. With the air taken out of the water by a deculator to avoid holes in the paper, the resulting mixture is ready for the actual paper-making process.

This is "simply" a matter of removing the water from the mixture by draining, suction and pressing. During this process fibers knit together in a mat that passes over rollers to dry under steam heat and smooth its surface on a stack of vertically placed rollers. The paper is rolled and cut into reels and stamped for delivery.

The final stage of the operation is left to a machine known as the "kicker." The reels edge their way down a chute to be nudged one by one by the gentle kicker along a runway into the arms of a waiting fork-lift truck which stacks them for transportation to the Sun-Times.

That's it, from old paper to new in a matter of two hours or so.

(Story by Jack Altman reprinted for Midwest Magazine.)

Yourell, fellow Dems vote against tax repeal

State Rep. Harry "Bus" Yourell recently voted against Governor James Thompson's repeal of the state property tax multiplier, even though the Governor had said the repeal would help prevent tax increases and force "local governments to show that they are acting responsibly and for the benefit of their taxpayers."

Despite Yourell's vote, the Governor's amendatory veto of House Bill 2485 was upheld by the minimum 89 votes he needed, sending the bill to the state Senate.

When he amended the bill to abolish the multiplier in August, the Governor said his action "leaves nothing for local officials to hide behind when they decide to raise property taxes by spending more money than the years before."

"The multiplier was originally intended only to act as an 'equalizer' between counties," Thompson said. He said that if the Senate concurs with the vote in the House, the action will retain the equalizer's function of preventing one county from drawing more than its fair share of state school aid by deliberately under-assessing property while homeowners in other counties pay more.

"This plan will only succeed if members of the General Assembly agree," Thompson said when amendatory vetoing the bill. "Property taxpayers need to know between now (August 1st) and November who their friends are, and by simply pledging to accept this amendatory veto, the choice would be clear."

"As stated in recent editorials, it is the request of local officials for more money that causes property taxes to climb - not the imposition of the state multiplier," Thompson said. "By eliminating the effect of the state multiplier on property taxes, the spotlight will be on local governments to show that they are acting responsibly and for the benefit of their taxpayers."

Yourell joined several other Democrats who voted against Thompson's amendatory veto.

Firemen's Pension Fund level due to investment policy

The Illinois Department of Insurance has notified the village that the Oak Lawn Firemen's Pension Fund is 104% funded. This was determined by an actuary, and means that as of December 31, 1982, the Pension Fund has sufficient assets to meet its future pension benefit liabilities. This finding is based upon a continued level of funding by the village, and a projected rate of return on pension fund investments.

A simple comparison with which everyone is familiar is the Social Security situation. Part of the problem that you read about in the papers is that the Social Security system is paying out the revenues received in benefits as soon as they are collected and are unable to build up reserve funds.

The Village of Oak Lawn thru the actions of the Board of Trustees, and an aggressive investment policy, has been able to establish the necessary reserve funds. Beginning in 1977, the Board of Trustees states that it was their duty to adequately fund Police and Fire pension funds and not just pass this burden on to their children, and future residents of the village. The trustees therefore made it a village policy to levy property taxes sufficient to generate the revenues suggested by the Illinois State Department of Insurance as necessary to properly fund the pensions.

The high interest rates available to the village over the last years have also benefited the funds. The Fire Pension Board, and members of the village's Department of Administrative Services, have instituted, and constantly monitored an aggressive investment program. In 1981, this program generated $886,011 in interest income. In 1982, it is estimated that the interest income will exceed $1,000,000. The residents of the Village of Oak Lawn have reason to be proud of the funding level of the Firemen's Pension Fund. The Village of Oak Lawn is only one of a handful of communities which are 100% funded.

Candy-striper of the Year honored at Monticello

Joyce Hrabec, Administrator and Harry "Bus" Yourell present the Candystriper of the Year Award to Patricia LaMontagne at Monticello's Annual Recognition Banquet.

To honor employees and candystripers for their high calibre of care, Monticello held its annual Recognition Banquet recently at the Oak Pins rewarding 5, 10, and 15 years of dedicated service were presented to employees by Joyce D. Hrabec, Administrator of Monticello.

In the last 11 years, candystripers and volunteers have dedicated over 100,000 hours of work at Monticello of Oak Lawn. Combined with Monticello's large, dedicated staff, it's easy to see why they call it "quality care and quality living".

IRS has unclaimed refunds

The Internal Revenue Service is trying to locate some area residents who are due a refund from their 1981 Federal Income Tax Returns.

According to J. Robert Starkey, IRS District Director for northern Illinois, 2,132 refund checks worth $902,646.84 were returned by the Postal Service as undeliverable in this area. The refund checks are for individuals only.

Starkey says the taxpayers may have moved or changed their last names during the year and failed to notify the IRS, or the handwriting may simply be illegible.

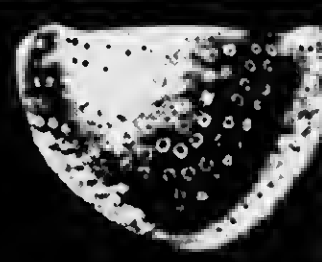

When a refund is returned by the Postal Service, the IRS attempts to find the taxpayer and deliver the checks, but there are always some who cannot be found. If you think you may be due a refund and have moved or changed your name during the year, contact the IRS.

Chicago taxpayers should call the IRS at 435-1040 to claim their refund. All other northern Illinois taxpayers should call toll-free 800-972-5400.

Undelivered refund checks for residents of Oak Lawn include, Thomas, Patno, Gerald & Caroline Ryan, Shawky Shelby, Olga Solla and Ann Wehrman.

Angelic Christmas idea

A project to keep little devils out of mischief during the holiday season — let them join in the finger-licking fun of making this "Littlest Angel."

It's easy to assemble and will leave very little mess for mom to clean up afterwards. The body is made from Hostess Twinkies, always a favorite with the kids. Just add frosting and candy decorations and they'll have the ingredients for a whole afternoon of creativity. Here's all you need for this mini angel:

- 7 Hostess Twinkies
- toothpicks
- 1 6-inch styrofoam cone
- 1/2 can ready-to-spread white frosting
- silver cake decorations
- 2 cloves
- 1 Hostess doughnut

Cut Hostess Twinkies in half length-wise, separating flat bottoms from curved tops. Leave overnight to stale slightly. Fasten halves with toothpicks vertically in two tiers around the cone. Toothpick two halves together for each wing and skewer to the top tier.

SURPRISE YOUR own little cherubs with a special holiday dessert, a pretty Christmas angel made from Hostess Twinkies. It's so easy to assemble that you might want to let them make it themselves for a holiday project that's both fun and delicious.

Frost the cakes and sprinkle with silver cake decorations. Use cloves to make eyes in the styrofoam ball. Toothpick doughnut to ball and ball to cone.

A MIDWINTER NIGHT'S DREAM.

Imagine a midwinter night. A nasty, cold night.

Now, if that prompts you to ask why we're showing you a man in a rumpled suit who looks like he's someplace in the Sahara where it's a hundred in the shade, the answer's simple.

Because even on a nasty, cold night in northern Illinois, so nasty it's zero outside, there's still a whole lot of heat from the sun in the air. Eighty-two percent of the heat that's there when it's one hundred degrees.

As a matter of fact, the only time there's absolutely no heat in the air is when it's Absolute Zero. And that's 460° below 0° Fahrenheit.

Since people can't feel all that heat, most of them let it go to waste. Let it blow away with the wind. And that's a crime.

You see, there's a machine that can capture it. That can pull heat out of the air and bring it inside.

The Electric Heat Pump.

Night and day, rain or shine, all year 'round, it just gives what the sun's already put there. All for the price of a little electricity to run on.

Which, of course, is very nice, considering the cost of natural gas has gone up 48 percent faster than electricity since 1967. And oil has gone up 90 percent faster. And even that could look like small potatoes when natural gas gets deregulated or OPEC turns the screws a few more times.

In other words, the Electric

Heat Pump is flat out the most energy-efficient heating system money can buy today or tomorrow. So efficient it gives you more energy (heat) than the energy (electricity) it needs to run on. While it keeps you feeling so nice and warm, you'll probably think you're in another part of the world.

With a conservation dream like that, and the sun up in the sky, tomorrow can definitely be a lot easier to take.

Don't take tomorrow for granted.

Student enrollment up in District 126

Student enrollment in District 126, the Alsip, Hazelgreen and Oak Lawn Elementary Schools has increased from last year. Superintendent William Smith reported that November '83 enrollment is 1559 students, or 5 more pupils than one year ago. "After 12 years of steady decline in enrollment, we are now on the increase," said Smith.

In 1970 District 126 had 2522 students in its 5 schools. Enrollment declined to a low of 1553 in 1982 and now is on the increase. "All 4 district schools have more pupils today than they had last year," said Board Member Ray Arthurs.

Present school enrollments are Lane School, 276; Stony Creek, 568; Hazelgreen, 325; Prairie Junior High, 390. "However even with no decline in our enrollment, our State Aid is less this year than last," commented Sue O'Dwyer, Board Member. "We have more students, yet will receive $7000 less in State Aid," she noted.

"Let the Buyer Beware" is a warning that is stressed over and over by the Better Business Bureau and government agencies concerned with protecting the consumer from buying items that do not live up to the manufacturer's advertising claims.

Commonwealth Edison Company also is issuing a warning to its customers who are thinking of purchasing special discs that promise either to extend the life of a light bulb or to save electricity.

The U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) has recently completed a study that found these various bulb discs have the potential of saving some energy, but they substantially reduce the efficiency of light bulbs.

These two devices, which are inserted between the light bulb and lamp socket fall into two categories - the diode and thermistor type "button." The diode is designed to convert alternating current to direct

TREASURES OF TIFFANY EXHIBIT

By request, Moraine Valley College will offer a second opportunity for a private viewing of the Treasures of Tiffany exhibit at the Museum of Science and Industry. The group will leave the campus at 6:30 pm on Tuesday, December 21 to have dinner at the museum, see the multi-media show which introduced Louis Tiffany's career and work, and view the three floor exhibit. Cost is $25 complete. Reservations may be made with the Center for Community and Continuing Education at MVCC. Call 974-4844 for information.

current and thus, allows the bulb to operate at a lower voltage and consume fewer watts. The DOE did agree that this device reduced electricity usage from anywhere between 40 and 45%, but it also reduced the bulb's light output between 50 to 60%. For example, a 100-watt light bulb operated on a diode will produce light similar to a 40 watt bulb. However, it consumes nearly 60 watts.

The second device, the thermistor type button uses a temperature-sensitive resistor that limits current surge when a bulb is turned on. The use of this device reduces light output by 12 to 16%, bulb consumption by 2 to 3% and bulb efficiency by 10 to 15%.

Tests have proven that the use of the thermistor increases bulb life 1 1/2 to 2 times by reducing line voltage to the filament. However, there are some safety hazards with the use of this device. These could include higher bulb socket temperatures due to the 3 to 4 watts that the thermistor consumes and the exposure of the metal bulb base due to the insertion of the thermistor in the light bulb socket.

Both types of devices are widely advertised as extending bulb life. They are effective in extending bulb life since the bulb filament temperatures are lowered, reducing thermal stress. However, filament failures are often due to mechanical shock or vibration.

While the bulb buttons may be used to reduce early bulb failures in hard to reach locations, the bulb buttons may not be cost effective and are certainly not energy efficient. Since they sell for $2.50 to $4.00 per unit, they should be used on a limited basis.

Richards doubles team enjoy win

The girls tennis doubles team, Beth Buckley and Kathy Parz, moved on to state competition after taking third in districts.

Richards High School hosted the districts on October 22 and 23, with 15 schools participating and the first three place winners advancing to state.

"I'm happy and excited for us to be state qualifiers, I hope that we can do well and be successful," said Beth Buckley, senior.

Buckley and Parz defeated teams from Luther South, 6-1, 6-0 and Mother McCauley 6-4, 6-1. They then lost to Shepard 4-6, 5-7, to put them in third place, but they defeated Oak Lawn, 6-2, 6-3, which made them state qualifiers.

"My hope became a reality and we're on to state with success optimistically. It has been one great delight, that there are more successes than there were failures and now we are looking to the fall season of '83," said Coach LeRoy Buffett.

Conference was held on October 15 and 16. The team was tied for fourth place out of eight schools who participated.

The varsity team ended their season with a record of 1-6 and junior varsity with a record of 2-5.

"The highlight of any varsity competition is ad-

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas

*The Birthday of the Saviour is here, and we are once again reminded that Christmas is a family day . . . a day of reunions and feasting, and a day of joyous gifting. But let us not forget, as we fill the stockings and surround the tree with packages, the most important gifts of all
. . . the gifts that bear neither price tags nor gay wrappings, yet are of infinite value. These are the gifts of kindness, tolerance, consideration and compassion. Let us hope that this Christmas will revive the true spirit of giving that began with the Birth of a Holy Child . . .
to bring peace and good will to all.*

Monovision is subject of Drs. Nolans' research and lectures

Pictured are father and son team, Dr. Joseph (r) and Dr. John Nolan, Optometrists, whose practice is located at 11412 S Harlem Avenue in Worth. This past month, Dr. John lectured at the annual Contact Lens Congress of the National Eye Research Foundation in Las Vegas and a week later Dr. Joseph spoke to the Congress of the European Optometric Society in Rome, Italy. In both cases, the subject was Monovision. Monovision with contact lenses has been used for many years but the Drs. Nolan have recently developed guidelines for fitting Monovision with glasses, allowing a person who cannot or will not wear contact lenses the opportunity to enjoy all the advantages of Monovision. Drs. Nolan were the first to have their Monovision research published and several more articles have been accepted for future publication.

Monovision is the fitting of lenses in such a manner that allows one eye to see at a distance and the other eye see clearly for close work and reading. This system applied to the middle-aged person who is having or starting to have trouble seeing clearly for reading. Monovision eliminates the need for bifocals or reading glasses. One of the points that the doctors make in their lectures is the need for proper correction when driving a car. Some patients feel safe driving with their Monovision system, however the Drs. Nolan believe that when wearing a reading lens in one eye, not only are you blurred in that eye, but your depth perception is altered. Likewise when you look from side to side or use rear view mirrors, you are often depending on the information from the blurred eye. When you look to the right or left when changing lanes, the nose interferes with the distance eye, thus you are making a judgement on the vision from the blurred eye - 25% of the field of vision is blurred. This same situation may occur when you use the outside or inside rear view mirrors; add to this the fact that you almost always see more clearly when using both eyes properly corrected for distance vision.

In their lectures they address the question of whether contact lenses or glasses are better for Monovision. Although the Monovision system with contact lenses is easier to fit, and many times more successful than glasses, the inconvenience of changing contact lenses for driving must be considered. It is much easier to change glasses. In their practice they are currently researching the use of driving glasses that are to be kept in the glove compartment and used only when the Monovision contact lenses are worn. The driving glasses correct the eye that has the reading lens, allowing that eye to see clearly

Chesterfield takes landscaping award

Chesterfield Federal Savings and Loan's Frankfort office has been awarded the Orchid by the Northeast Illinois Chapter of the American Institute of Architects (NEIAIA). The Orchid honors outstanding community projects and Chesterfield's Frankfort office has been recognized for excellence in landscaping. "This is the kind of project that sets a good example for others to follow, and we hope others will," asserted the NEIAIA.

Chesterfield Federal Savings and Loan was selected along with 6 other winners from over 40 nominations spanning the suburban areas of DuPage, Kane, Kendall Counties and suburban Cook County. "We are extremely proud to be awarded this honor. It is not only a reflection on our office but on the community as well," said Hugh Waldier, Vice-President of Chesterfield Federal's Frankfort branch. "When Chesterfield Federal moved into the Frankfort area, it was our intention to represent the community in the very best way possible. The Orchid distinction confirms that we are headed in the right direction."

Campaign opens for Oak Lawn board

During this past week fillings took place for seats open when the terms of three trustees expire in District 1, District 3 and District 5, on the Oak Lawn Village Board of Trustees.

Filing in District 1 is incumbent Lester E. Anderson, William P. Heska and Janet L. Slattery.

Filing in District 3 is incumbent Charles J. Meloun and Michelle Collings.

Filing in District 5 is incumbent John F. Petrozza, George M. Morissey and Joseph D. Vogrich.

Vogrich, who was on the board from 1975 to 1979, is seeking to regain the seat now open to challenge.

Vogrich served his constituents well during his term in office. He was innovative with many of his ideas still in effect in the Village

Hynes offers help for flood damage victims

Cook County Assessor Thomas C. Hynes announced that Cook County residents with property severely damaged from the recent floods may be eligible for a reduced property assessment.

"We sympathize with the burden placed on the many Cook County residents who suffered heavy damage to their homes or businesses", of Oak Lawn.

The election will take place in April of 1983.

said Hynes. "Our offices are ready to assist these people in applying for a reduced property assessment."

Eligible property owners are those who have suffered structural or substantial damage to their property. Included is damage to the foundation, shifted or broken, to the house or garage; the flooring in the living area; or the central heating or air conditioning units.

Hynes noted that his office cannot grant a reduced assessment for damage to personal property, such as furniture or for normal weather damage. The damage would have to be substantial enough to effect the property's market value or selling price.

For information in applying for a reduced assessment call any of Assessor Hynes offices: downtown, at 118 N Clark Street, 443-7550; Maywood, 1500 Maybrook Square, 865-6032; or Markham, 16501 S Kedzie Avenue, 596-8000, ext 620.

Callers should request the guidelines for flood disaster complaints and an "assessment valuation complaint" form. They are to return the form, by mail or in person, with photographs and a written description of the damage, and any other information that would expedite their application.

Afterwards Hynes will send a deputy assessor from his office to inspect the damage in person.

"We wish to render whatever relief possible to these residents," said Hynes.

Broad power to Thompson to cut state budget

On the final day of the fall veto session legislators approved an emergency measure granting Governor Thompson broad powers to further cut the state budget, according to state Representative Herb Huskey (R-Oak Lawn).

The budget cutting powers were needed because state revenues are expected to run up to $200 million below earlier predictions. At the close of November, Illinois had a general fund balance of $43 million.

Financial experts recommend the state should always maintain a $200 million balance.

Lawmakers also approved a one-time plan to speed collection of utility taxes due the state. The plan does not increase any tax, but merely requires utilities to turn the money over to the state on an accelerated schedule.

A third proposal to boost the state general fund -- an increase in liquor taxes -- was not passed.

Mothers to march for March of Dimes

The 1983 March of Dimes Mothers March fund raising campaign is set for the week of January 23-30. This annual event will mark the 33rd year since this door-to-door fund raising drive began its fight against birth defects.

Each year more than 250,000 children are born in this country with birth defects. The Mothers March campaign is dedicated to the challenge of securing a healthy birthright for every child. In doing so, the Mothers March seeks volunteers who will help in collecting contributions from communities in the metropolitan Chicago area.

Volunteers always play a key role in many of the March of Dimes events, and this year serving a second term as the Honorary Mothers March Chairman is Linda Yu, co-anchor newscaster at WMAQ-TV Channel 5. Yu's role as honorary chairman reflects her concern in the fight to eliminate birth defects. She has been involved with the

March of Dimes for the past few years, and has worked on various activities for the metro chapter.

With a substantial increase in the Mothers March volunteer force, a goal of canvassing more than 300,000 homes in the metropolitan Chicago area has been targeted. "Our ultimate goal is to raise $75,000 and surpass last years total. Thru good volunteers and community support, I believe this goal can be attained," said Janice Kissner, Associate Director and Mothers March Coordinator for the March of Dimes.

Once the campaign gets underway, the March of Dimes believes that every community can help in the fight against birth defects. "Thus, when a Mothers March volunteer knocks on your door during the week of January 23-30, remember that your contribution will help the children of tomorrow have a healthy start in life," said Yu.

Kraft, Inc. is assisting in underwriting the campaign.

Keep the Wreath Red

The six foot wreath as shown above during the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade will now be placed on the village hall. The wreath will have seven red bulbs and for each fire determined to have been caused or originated from holiday decorations a bulb will be changed to white.

The Oak Lawn Fire Department Bureau of Fire Prevention was honored by the Illinois Fire Inspectors Association as having the most outstanding fire prevention program in the State of Illinois.

be watered daily and discarded when it ceases to absorb water or becomes noticeably dried out. Artificial trees should be labeled "Flame resistant".

All trees should be kept away from heat sources such as TV sets, fireplaces, heat vents of all types, and open flames. Never locate your tree where it might block your exit path.

Inspect light sets carefully for worn insulation, loose bulb sockets, and broken plugs. If the sets are damaged, replace them with lighting sets which carry the label of an approved testing agency such as Underwriters Laboratories.

Lights should be connected to circuits no larger than 15 amperes. Extension cords should be used sparingly and never in places where they interfere with foot traffic.

Indoor electrical equipment is not safe for use outdoors. For outdoor lighting, use only fixtures, lighting sets, and extension cords specifically approved for outdoor use.

This holiday season, as in the past, the Oak Lawn Fire Department will have a lighted wreath on the outside of the Village Hall. The wreath will be lit by red bulbs. For each fire incident that we have which is holiday related, one red bulb will be changed to white.

They ask all of you to join them in making this a safe and happy holiday season and do your part to help them "keep the wreath red".

IT HAS BEEN AN HONOR TO SERVE YOU
IN 1982

The Oak Lawn Fire Department's Fire Prevention Bureau offers the following hints to help keep you and yours safe for the holidays.

Selection of a Christmas tree is a crucial matter. Natural trees should be deep green, have a strong pine scent, no loose or falling needles; and the butt of the tree should be sticky with sap. Cut off at least one inch from the bottom of the trunk to allow good water absorption. The tree should

Social Security to review disability claims

Continuing disability investigations represent an attempt by the Social Security Administration to assure that only those people entitled to disability insurance benefits actually receive them.

A 1981 General Accounting Office report showed that as many as 584,000 beneficiaries, about 18% of all those on the rolls, did not meet the eligibility requirements for disability. Similar reviews done by Social Security showed as many as one third of those on disability may no longer be disabled. Estimates of incorrect disability payments from the Social Security Trust Funds range as high as $2 billion a year.

Congress mandated that Social Security begin a review of disability cases in January, 1982. The Administration decided to begin the review in March, 1981 due to the serious nature of the problem.

Currently, the disability review begins with a face-to-face interview by Social Security personnel of the disabled person. This allows Social Security to explain the reason for the review, and explain the review

Speak Out for children

Children 9 to 10 years of age can improve their ability to speak in public by taking Speak Out! at Moraine Valley College for 8 weeks beginning February 5. The class is held from 9 to 10:30 am on Saturdays on the college campus for a fee of $35.

In Speak Out! children will gain experience in expressing their views, confidence in presenting oral projects and pleasure in being able to put thoughts into words.

Registration is with the college at 10900 S 88th Avenue, Palos Hills, 60465. Further information is available at 974-4844.

Quit Smoking - For Health & Wealth

Cigarettes are bad for your health and the new tobacco tax is bad for your wealth! Christmas Seal contributions to the American Lung Association are used to assist adults to stop smoking and to warn teenagers never to start.

process to that individual.

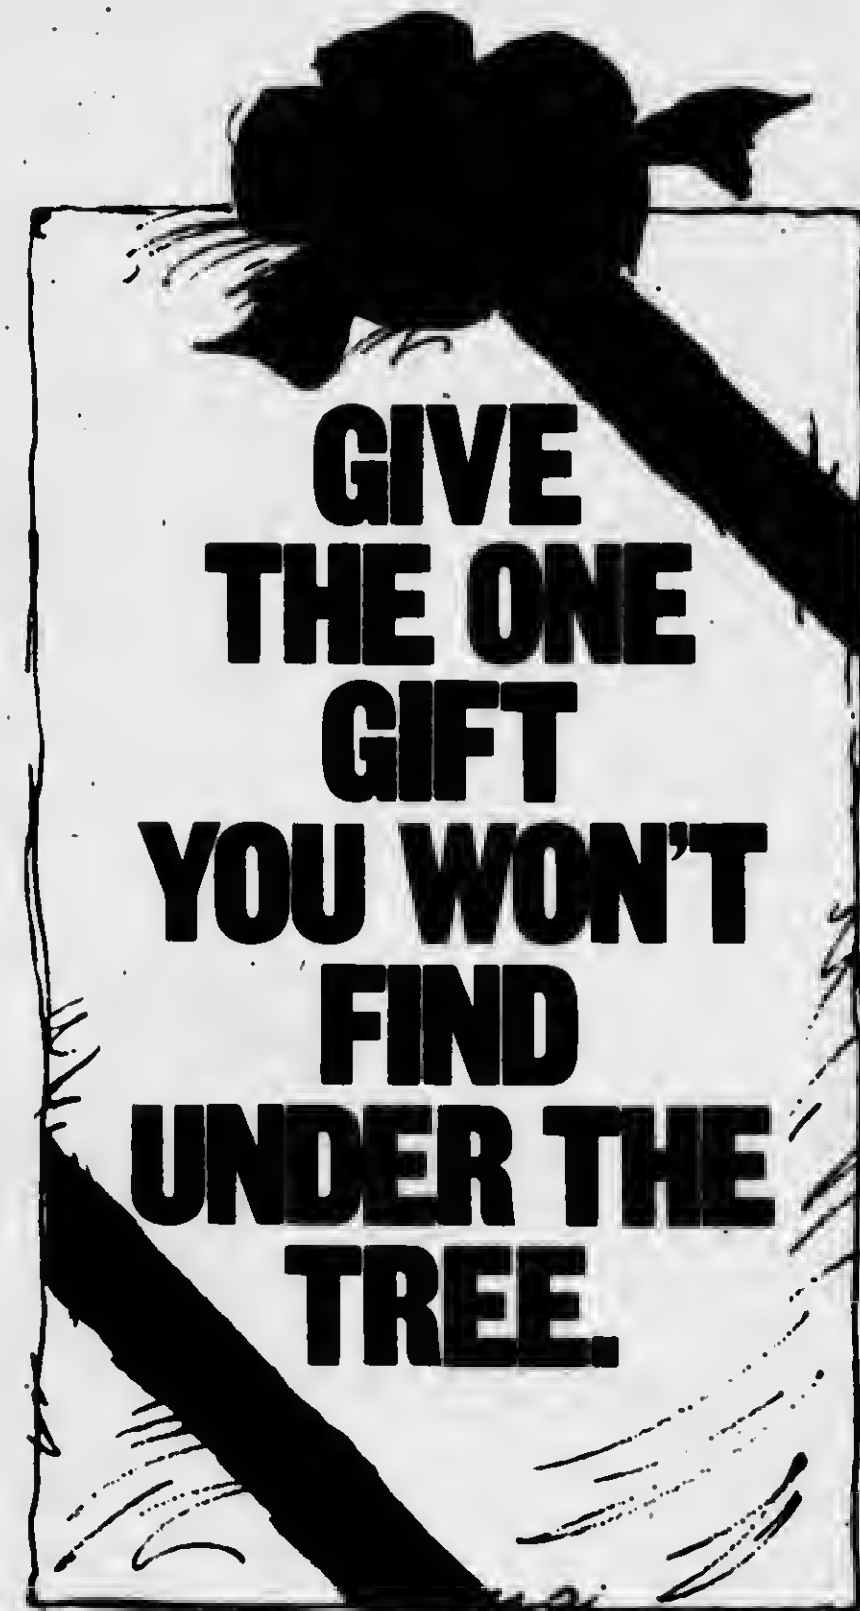

Social Security obtains information from the disabled person concerning his current medical condition and treatment. This information is reviewed for Social Security by an agency of state government, to determine if the disability continues. If the state agency needs more current or additional information, a consultative exam of the disabled person will be arranged at the government's expense, to obtain this information. Once all medical information is received, it is evaluated under Social Security rules and regulations to determine if the disability continues.

Social Security beneficiaries who are found not to be disabled are given advance notice of the proposed decision. The notice allows the beneficiary ten days to submit additional medical evidence of his disability. This time period may be extended if more time is needed.

If after submitting additional evidence, the beneficiary is still not found to be disabled, he or she is notified, and benefits are terminated. The beneficiary can request a reconsideration of this decision within 60 days of receiving the notice of termination. This review is conducted by personnel of the state agency not involved in the initial determination.

In summary, the continuing disability investigations program provides Social Security a way to assure that all those receiving disability benefits meet the requirements of the program, while insuring that those beneficiaries under review have every opportunity to present their case for continued payments.

Brother Rice Christmas Concert Sunday, December 19th

The Brother Rice High School Music Department will present its annual Christmas Concert at 3 pm Sunday, December 19 at Mother McAuley Auditorium, 3737 W 99th Street.

The multi-faceted band, under the direction of Leo J. Henning and Patrick J. Henning, and the 130 member mixed chorus, under the direction of Br. David X. Perkins, have put together a complete Christmas program encompassing classical, contemporary, traditional and popular music. Included are selections by Bach, Mendelssohn and Handel plus tunes from the all-time hit musical "Annie".

This will be the first concert of the year after a successful season by the marching band who marched in the Labor Day and Columbus Day parades, performed at football games and Open Houses, and completed in the Stagg Band Jamboree and the Music Bowl III in which they captured a first place trophy.

Tickets for the concert are $3 and may be purchased from a band member or at the door at the time of performance.

The Three Kings at Beverly Art Center

On January 7 and 8 at 8 pm there will be three kings - THE Three Kings - Melchior, Kaspar and Balthazar, on stage at the Beverly Art Center, 2153 W 111th Street, Chicago, in Gian Carlo Menotti's "Amahl & the Night Visitors". This beautiful one act opera in English will be directed by Greg Schmit, longtime solo performer and choral conductor in the midwest. The opera is enhanced by a live orchestral accompaniment.

The Three Kings follow the mighty Star, and seek a night's shelter with a poor widow and her crippled son, Amahl. The story of love, trust and faith unfolds musically and dramatically as Amahl and his visitors become acquainted during their brief encounter, culminating in a warm moving dramatic ending that makes a perfect finale to the festivities of the Christmas season.

Tickets at $5, $3 for students, are priced to enable whole families to attend, or to be used as stocking stuffers for friends,

Early reservations are urged for this venture into the interesting culture of often-overlooked Milwaukee.

Further information on all trips is available thru the college's Center for Community and Continuing Education, 974-4844.

Chinese winter melon soup

Soup steamed and served in a whole winter melon is a flamboyant way to start any meal.

For steaming, the melon must be mature, according to the new Ortho book, "Adventures in Oriental Cooking." Size is no clue; look for frosty white wax on the skin.

Winter Melon Pond Soup — for Company

Steaming a big melon takes logistics. You may need to improvise a steamer by placing a dishtowel on the bottom of a canning kettle, with custard cups on top to support a rack. If the melon thrusts its head over the top, the Ortho book recommends capping it with a basket, draped with towels. It's unorthodox, but it works.

- 8 dried mushrooms
- 1 piece dried tangerine peel, about 1 1/2 inches in diameter
- 1/2 cup dried lotus seeds (optional)
- 1 winter melon, 12 to 15 pounds
- 2 cups diced raw chicken meat
- 2 cups diced raw pork
- 1/2 cup diced ham (trim off fat)
- 1/2 cup diced bamboo shoots
- 1/4 cup diced water chestnuts
- 1/2 cup canned ginkgo nuts
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce
- 2 teaspoons salt
- Chicken stock (approximately 8 to 10 cups)

1. Soak mushrooms, tangerine peel, and lotus seeds in water for 30 minutes. Slice mushrooms and remove stems. Scrape off inside of tangerine peel.

2. Wash winter melon and scrub peel with a stiff brush to remove waxy surface. Cut off top and reserve; scoop out seeds and stringy portions.

3. Set melon in bowl or in the middle of a dishtowel (which will act as a sling). Place on a steaming rack in a large kettle. Put mushrooms, tangerine peel, lotus seeds, chicken, pork, ham, bamboo shoots, water chestnuts, ginkgo nuts, soy sauce, and salt inside of the melon.

Heat chicken stock and pour inside melon to fill three-fourths full. Stir once to separate diced meat.

4. Put top on melon and add water to kettle to come to bottom of steaming rack. Cover and steam for 3 or 4 hours or until melon meat is tender.

5. Lift melon out of kettle with the sling and carefully transfer to a large chop plate. Remove tangerine peel. Taste; and add salt if necessary. Spoon some of the soft melon out and mix with soup when serving.

Serves 8 to 10.

Winter Melon Soup — for a Family Meal

- 3 1/2-pound slice winter melon
- 4 cups chicken stock
- 1 piece dried tangerine peel, about 1 inch in diameter, presoaked and scraped
- 3 dried mushrooms, presoaked and thinly sliced
- 4 water chestnuts, cut in half and thinly sliced
- 2 teaspoons soy sauce
- 1 egg, slightly beaten (optional)

1. Peel winter melon, scrape away seeds and stringy portion, and cut crosswise in 1/4-inch-thick pieces.

2. Bring chicken stock to a boil and add melon, tangerine peel, mushrooms, water chestnuts, and soy sauce. Simmer for 15 minutes or until melon is soft. Taste and add salt if necessary. Add egg and stir until it cooks in long threads. Serves 4 to 6.

A New Year message from Mayor Ernie Kolb

As I reflect upon 1982, the Village's Centennial Celebration stands out as a symbol of what the Village has tried to achieve. The Art Fair, Foodfest, Parade and associated events were an unparalleled success because you, our residents, gave unselfishly of your time and efforts. The events allowed Oak Lawn residents to come together, to meet their neighbors, and to rekindle a feeling of community. It is my hope that the legacy of the Centennial will be the rebirth of Community spirit and involvement.

Your Village Government has worked hard on several fronts to reinforce this rebirth of community spirit. During a recessionary period, the staff has strived to strengthen our revenue bases, maintain our level of services, and reduce costs whenever possible. In an attempt to accomplish these goals, the Village has converted all of our police squad cars to natural gas. Not only is natural gas less expensive than gasoline, but it is also a cleaner burning fuel. This increases the life of engine parts and reduces maintenance costs.

During a time when the trend is for car dealers to go out of business, the Village of Oak Lawn has been able to attract three new dealerships. Two of these dealers are now open and the third will open in 1983. The faith that these companies have in our Community speaks well of the strength and vitality of the business community in Oak Lawn. The Board of Trustees realizes the importance of a strong business community and through its Public Relations Committee is attempting to strengthen the lines of communication between the sectors.

Through the use of an innovative financing plan, the Village was able to begin construction of streets, curbs, and storm sewers in the northwest area of the Village. Phases I and II were completed in 1982. Phase III will be finished in 1983. New street signs for the entire Village were made possible by a Federal grant. This grant administered through the Illinois Dept of Transportation enabled the Village to post all residential streets with 25 mile per hour speed limit signs. This posting was recommended in a 1979 comprehensive traffic study. The program also allowed the Village to replace outdated and worn out existing signs.

During 1982, the Village signed water contracts with Orland Park and Citizen's Utility (Westhaven). When the connection with Orland Park is completed, this will bring to six the total number of communities receiving Lake Michigan water through the Village of Oak Lawn.

The Village Administration deserves special recognition for their management of the Firemen's Pension Fund and for receiving a Certificate of Conformance from the Municipal Finance Officers Association. During 1982, the State of Illinois Dept of Insurance informed the Village that the Firemen's Pension Fund was funded at 104%. This is a significant accomplishment because only a handful of pension funds in the State of Illinois are 100% funded. The Certificate of Conformance is the highest form of recognition in the area of governmental financial reporting.

In order to be awarded a Certificate, a government must publish an easily readable and efficiently organized Annual Report, whose contents conform to program standards, generally accepted accounting principles, and applicable legal requirements.

The year 1982 has been a productive one in the Village of Oak Lawn. With your continued support and involvement, this program will continue and the quality of life which caused you to make Oak Lawn your home will be maintained.

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, the Village Staff and myself, I wish all of our residents a happy, healthy and prosperous New Year.

/s/ Ernest F. Kolb
Mayor

Top spot candidates selected by lottery

On December 28, at the regular meeting of the President and Board of Trustees of Oak Lawn, a lottery was held for placement position for the April 12, 1983 election.

In District 1, Janet L. Slattery took the top spot out of three candidates running for the seat. William P. Hefka was the name drawn for second place and incumbent Lester Anderson took the bottom slot.

In District 3, incumbent Charles J. Meloun will be in the top spot and Michelle Collings in the second spot. There are only two candidates in District 3 and 5.

George M. Morrissey took the top spot in District 5 and Joseph D. Vogrich will be last on the ballot.

Filing for the Oak Lawn Library Board will take place from January 24 thru January 31.

Trustee John Petrozza removed from ballot

On Wednesday, December 22, the Municipal Officers Electoral Board of the Village of Oak Lawn convened to discuss objections to the nominating petitions of 5th District Trustee John Petrozza. The objector was Warren R. McArthur also of the 5th District.

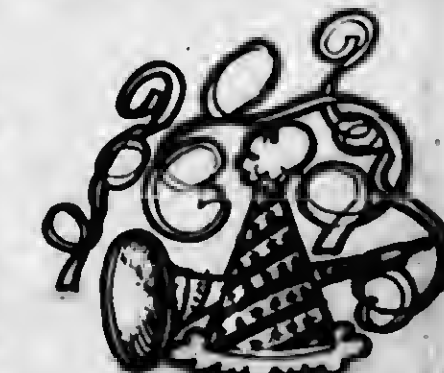

result being an insufficient amount of signatures on the petitions for Petrozza to remain on the ballot.

Although Petrozza argued over the validity of several of the signatures under question he then declined the suggestion of Anderson to delay any discussion until the board could subpoena these persons as witnesses along with the young man who obtained the signatures.

The board voted unanimously to remove the name of John Petrozza from the ballot for the election that will take place on April 12, 1983.

Serving on the board were Chairman Ernest Kolb, Village Clerk Jayne Powers and Lester Anderson, who has served the greatest number of years on the Board of Trustees.

Several mistakes were found and verified; the end

Rotary hosts handicapped

The Rotary Club of Oak Lawn held their Annual Christmas Party Luncheon for the Handicapped for the 18th consecutive year at the Oak Lawn Holiday Inn on Monday, December 6. This year was the largest Christmas Party Luncheon ever sponsored by the Rotary Club.

In attendance were 68 students from the Garden School for the Handicapped, the Park Lawn School, the Church of the Nazarene and St Germaine Church, along with several instructors and counselors, Rotarians, and Rotary Annes.

Entertainment was provided by Corny the Clown and Mr Cy Race on the organ. Christmas music was played during the luncheon, followed by the singing of Christmas Carols and the superb performance of Corny.

Finally, Santa Claus made his appearance and personally selected gifts were distributed to each student by the Rotary Club members.

Join Youth Advisory Council

Would you like to be a part of the Youth Advisory Council (YAC)? Before you say no, let them tell you a little about it. If you are between the ages 13-21 and like having fun with your fellow youths, you are just the person they want.

The Youth Advisory Council participates in community activities as well as offering many of their own. Some of the programs are leisure trips, fundraising for local charities, working with the younger youths, and many more special events. It is with great honor that the Rotary Club of Oak Lawn sponsors this annual event, which grows larger each year. And, judging by the smiles on the students' faces, it is very gratifying indeed.

The YAC meetings are held every two weeks. (Usually 6:30 pm on a week night.) If you are interested in becoming a part of their family and meeting new friends, call the Oak Lawn Youth Commission at 636-2929 and ask for Marybeth. They hope to hear from you soon!

Russo explains gas tax vote

The House approved a highway reauthorization bill that has since been approved by the senate and includes a five cent per gallon increase in the gasoline tax. Proceeds from this tax will be used to finance a $5.5 billion a year program in job-creating highway, bridge and mass transit improvements.

While expressing dissatisfaction with the mechanism used to finance the program, Rep Marty Russo said he supported the measure because it will create desperately needed jobs and fund essential improvements in America's highways, bridges and mass transit systems.

"Despite my objections to the gas tax," Russo said, "circumstances compelled my support for this bill. Too many talented and skilled Americans are in desperate need of work, and this legislation will provide jobs for 320,000 of them. Too many of our roads and bridges are in terrible states of disrepair, and the funds generated by this bill are going to help upgrade them."

Numerous studies produced in recent years have described the deteriorating condition of America's infrastructure; the roads, bridges, and public transit systems that are a critical part of this country's economic foundation.

"Almost 10% of our Interstate Highway system will require resurfacing or replacement in the very near future," Russo said. "Forty percent of our nation's bridges are over 40 years old, and the design life of most bridges is 50 years. If we don't take some steps now, to repair our crumbling highways, we and our children will be forced to bear far greater costs in the future. What good is the billions spent on defense if we allow our transportation system, one of the foundations of a strong economy, to collapse."

"I am pleased to point out," Russo continued, "that for a change the Midwest, and Illinois, is receiving its fair share of funds. When we send a dollar to Washington, we get a $1.50 back. Over the next year alone, we're going to have some $450 million flow into our state in highway and transit revenue. It's been estimated that about 26,000 of our residents are going to be put to work because of our action today."

"I do regret that to get this money, to get these jobs, to get these improvements, the best the Administration had to offer was this approach. The consumer and average taxpayer keep getting more and more burdens placed on them. But this bill was the quickest way to get at one of the most serious problems facing our country. And it represented the only alternative presently available to the Congress."

The gasoline tax is now four cents a gallon and will increase to nine cents April 1st.

Career Development Faire

Five hundred private corporations, civic and social organizations, unions and government agencies will participate in the Chicago Career Development Faire, January 29 and 30, 1983 at McCormick Place West.

The two day career development/resource Faire is the first in a series of 25 nationwide summits designed to wage war on joblessness by providing realistic, exciting new resource opportunities and career alternatives for the unemployed, underemployed and small business owners.

Two hundred thousand Faire attendees will gain exposure to a viable networking system of vocational counseling, skills and training information and human services assistance.

Special emphasis will be placed on resume and application writing skills, career advancement, information on financial assistance for small business, employment contracts, new job training programs and advice on starting "at home" businesses.

Participating corporations, organizations and agencies are supporting the Faire thru purchases of booths, block sales of tickets, providing speakers for training seminars/counseling sessions and underwriting the cost of promotional materials.

Organizations interested in participating in the Faire may contact the Chicago Career Development Faire at 640 N LaSalle Street, Suite 610, Chicago, IL 60610, 744-5041.

Kid-power from St Gerald's Parish

It was kid-power at its best when the children's bowling league of St Gerald's Parish, Oak Lawn, scored a strike against Muscular Dystrophy during their first Bowl-a-Thon. The event was held on December 11 in Oak Lawn.

The Bowl-a-Thon to benefit MDA was organized by Jim Powers, League President, and his wife, Judy, League Vice President; in the name of Mrs Powers nephew, 25 year old Thomas Hughes who succumbed to Muscular Dystrophy on February 19, 1982.

Of the 100 children in St Gerald's League, 41 bowled in the "Jerry Lewis" Bowl-a-Thon and raised a whopping $110 by obtaining sponsors to donate so much per pin in a 3 game series.

A representative of MDA was on hand to award prizes which ranged from watches, back packs and t-shirts to patches, iron-ons and certificates. First and second place winners also received trophies. 1st place went to Robert Elitzer who collected $209 in pledges and the 2nd place award was received by Peggy Powell whose total was $101.50.

Combine herbs for tasty seasoning

This holiday season eat, drink and be healthy by reducing the amount of salt in your diet. For some people, too much salt may lead to high blood pressure which may cause heart disease, stroke and kidney failure.

"As well as being nutritious, meals that are low in salt can be quite tasty," says Linda Van Horn, chairman of the Chicago Heart Assn Nutrition Subcommittee. "A simple way to cut down on salt is by using substitute seasonings which enhance the flavor of many foods."

"Herbs and spices are flavorful alternates to salt," she said. Paprika, chives, dill, pimento and oregano can perk up many vegetables.

Van Horn recommends making an herb shaker to be used instead of salt. Combine ½ teaspoon of cayenne pepper, one tablespoon of garlic powder and one teaspoon of each of the following ground seasonings: basil, marjoram, thyme, parsley, savory, mace, onion powder, black pepper and sage.

To prepare a healthy holiday menu, follow these suggestions from the Chicago Heart Assn for a meal that is not only low in sodium, but is also low in fats and cholesterol.

Highway Commissioner Tony Esposito speaks of improvements

Worth Township Highway Comm Tony Esposito has announced that after completing his first year as Highway Commissioner he felt that many of the promised improvements have been achieved. With the residents needs in mind, he initiated new programs and strived to find ways to improve services while at the same time cutting costs.

The two changes initiated to eliminate costly contractual obligations are: using full time department employees whenever possible rather than hiring private contractors; purchased a new dump truck for the department in order to avoid the high cost of renting.

The Highway Dept entered into a Joint Purchasing Program with the State of Illinois, reducing costs of supplies and equipment. Established a purchase order control system; established an intra-department communications system, established regular schedules for street sweeping, branch pick-up and preventative maintenance of storm sewers, culverts, ditches, streets and curbs. One such program is the crack sealing of streets which will last the life time of the street; scheduled regular routes for snow and ice removal; installation and maintenance of all poles and street signs.

Esposito stated that he would like to thank the residents of Worth Township for their fine cooperation and pledged to continue these programs of improvement and to keep the Highway Department working for them.

Can't wait? Set a date?

Most important, decide as early as you can when you plan to make a trip. Space on airlines are at a premium at peak periods of the year. It is getting more so, because more people are taking trips at different times of the year - some twice a year. World Travel Mart doesn't want you to be disappointed because you cannot leave at the time you wish, or to the places you wish to go. With today's travel-load and demands, some reservations are hard to obtain without advance notice. So this is uppermost in their minds, get the desired reservations for when and where you wish to go. Why not be happy from the start - go where you wish at the time you prefer.

There is no problem making early reservations because they may be cancelled if something comes up, that you can't leave. Better to have reservations than not; space may not always be available.

Going to a foreign country? Remember you'll need certain documents and

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO ALL RESIDENTS OF DISTRICT III, OAK LAWN

I would like to express my appreciation to all the residents of Oak Lawn District III that were kind enough to sign my election petitions for the position of Village Trustee. My motive for seeking the position was to provide District III residents with aggressive representation at the Village Board level.

With two persons having filed for the position, I now feel the District's needs will be addressed and have chosen not to file. My active interest in our Village will continue in gratitude for the privilege of living in such a fine community.

needed by the Air Force along with intelligence, computer programming and site development specialists," James said. Recruiters may offer these critically needed specialists their former rank if they have not been out of the service for more than four years.

"Other specialists are also needed, but aren't on the critical skills list," James said. Anyone with prior military service interested in re-enlisting in the Air Force should call their local recruiter or Sergeant James at 815-424-2052 to determine if their specialty is on the critical or needed skills list.

Library has new computer catalog

A library computer catalog, the touch of the future, has just been installed at the Oak Lawn Public Library, 9427 Raymond. The library board approved the purchase of 9 terminals which eventually will replace the drawer-type card catalog of library materials. The new service was inaugurated on Monday, December 6, with a cluster of terminals on the first floor and also terminals in the Children's Department and in the Fine Arts Department on the second floor.

The addition of the terminals will help patrons in locating information about the library's collection of approximately 115,000 volumes. In addition, the computer will provide information about 465,000 volumes owned by other libraries in the Suburban Library System data base.

The public will be able to search the catalog simply by touching the face of the terminal. Typing and spelling ability are not necessary. Books can be searched by author or title. Subject searches will be added in the future.

The computer catalog terminal will tell the patron whether the book is on the shelf in the library or out in circulation, whether it is on order, whether or not it is available from any of the other libraries in the Suburban Library System. Books that are not available at the Oak Lawn Library can be obtained from another library.

Installation of the terminals and the computer catalog will give the library a cost savings because it will no longer be necessary to maintain the card catalog, an extremely expensive service. Some libraries have estimated this cost at $30,000 per year. The computer catalog also offers the opportunity to place terminals throughout the library, so that there will be access to the entire collection in each department. In addition, the knowledge of what is available at other libraries for resource sharing is a decided advantage in times of limited budgets and higher priced books.

Library personnel will be on hand to assist patrons and answer questions. Call 422-4990 for additional information.

PIXIE REGISTRATIONS

Registration for the winter term of Pixie School will be accepted at the Worth Township Building, 11601 S Pulaski, from 9 am to 9 pm daily.

The program is open to area children between the ages of 3 and 5 years,

by John Hogan

News Information Supervisor
Commonwealth Edison Co.

Heavy snow, ice, high winds and frigid temperatures are enemies of reliable electric service. So before -- and after -- winter storms rip thru our area, knocking out power, there are a number of steps you should take to help you and your family thru any outage.

If your lights go out, check to see if power is out in the neighborhood or if only your house is affected. If it seems to be affecting only your house, call the local utility office and report the problem. Otherwise, wait a few hours before calling to avoid overloading the switchboard. Chances are, the crews are already on their way.

Do not try to operate a furnace which requires a blower while the power is off.

Unplug or turn off appliances such as toasters and televisions. Also, keep doors and windows shut and drapes and curtains drawn.

If you spot a fallen power line or burning transformer, don't hesitate to give the utility a call. However, do not attempt to move the power line yourself and do not step in nearby puddles. Extra care should be given so that children do not wander near fallen lines.

Always keep a fresh supply of batteries on hand and place a flashlight in a convenient location so you can find it quickly. Transistor radios come in handy, too. Stay tuned to local stations to keep informed about the outage and when the utility expects to have power restored.

Food will stay fresh in a freezer for up to 24 hours but for less time in a refrigerator. It's a good idea to keep refrigerator and freezer doors closed as much as possible so the cold air does not escape. If it appears that the outage may be lengthy, you might want to put dry ice into the refrigerator or remove the contents altogether and store them at the home of a friend or relative who does have electricity.

While electricity is usually restored within a few hours, damage caused by severe winter ice storms may take longer to repair. This is because heavy ice may cause large sections of wire to fall, and crews must exercise extreme caution when working under these dangerous conditions.

Remembering and practicing these few suggestions will help you and your family thru a power outage.

"Everyone -- is reading it!
Just like you..."

Churches to hold 'engagement' in OL

"It's sort of like celebrating an engagement," said Ken Kilne, pastor of the Hometown Christian Church, when he and Pastor Edward Goltz of Pilgrim Faith United Church of Christ of Oak Lawn announced plans for a combined worship service Sunday morning, January 23 to mark "Covenant Sunday". Three years ago their respective denominations began talks exploring a possible merger and, reaching the half-way point, have urged local congregations of the Disciples of Christ and the United Church of Christ to get acquainted with one another.

Hometown worshippers will travel, some in carpool and vans, to Pilgrim Faith because it has the larger sanctuary. The Oak Lawn church will change its service to 10:30, Hometown Christian's usual hour for worship. The service will include combined choirs, a shared pulpit, Holy Communion and, following the service, refreshments in Colonial Hall.

Any merger of the two denominations could come no earlier than 1986, following 3 more years of exploratory talks and studies, and votes of acceptance by both the United Church of Christ and the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ.) National church boards, agencies and commissions would be the first groups affected while local congregations would continue to operate within their own traditional formats. The United Church of Christ is, itself, the result of a 1957 merger of the Congregational Christian and the Evangelical and Reformed Churches. Such mergers are seen as steps toward unity and reconciliation within the Christian faith and a way to witness more effectively in national and international concerns.

Holiday Inn Hotel hosts Chamber Installation Banquet

Hometown Christian Church was organized after World war II when the City of Hometown was built by real estate developer Joseph Merriam. Pilgrim Faith began before the turn of the century as the First Congregational Church of Oak Lawn, and in Brainard's Faith United Church, which merged in 1970 to form the present congregation.

The two churches have cooperated for several years in operating "The Pantry", an emergency food service for area residents in need. Sharing an extensive common boundary and school system, the neighboring communities of Oak Lawn and Hometown have a tradition of working together on mutual problems. Other contacts between the two local churches will be planned as denominational merger talks continue at the national level.

The cocktail hour is from 6:30 to 7:30 pm in the beautiful Lord Nelson Room. A prime rib dinner served in the English manner, unparalleled in the southwest suburbs. After the Installation ceremonies the evening will be topped off with an "open bar" and music by the well known Variety Pak for your dancing pleasure.

Installation Officer Mayor Ernie Kolb will install as 1983 President, Bob Gaul (Oak Lawn Pet Center); First Vice President Linda Macfarlane (Concordia Federal Savings & Loan); Second Vice President James Buschbach (World Travel Mart); Treasurer Jim Pirman (Bootleggers Pub - Submarine City) and Secretary Joyce Hrabec (Monticello Convalescent Center).

The banquet chairpersons Linda Macfarlane and Milt Andersen (Oak Lawn Camera Shop) want to remind you that this gala affair is not for members only but the invitation is extended to all persons who wish to attend.

Tickets are $30 per person (all inclusive) for this great celebration. For information, or reservations call Marilyn at the chamber office, 424-8300.

Make your first stop at World Travel Mart

On trips to other countries, shopping is one of the great pleasures. But in unfamiliar surroundings it's good to get advice on where to go. Local knowledge is what's needed. Just as with stores in your own city, prices will vary depending on the items, the quality of workmanship, or intrinsic value. The "Best Buys" for each city are the products indigenous to the country. Well worth considering, since in other countries their price might be higher. But - as at home - compare before you buy.

World Travel Mart recommends that you leave some empty space in one of your suitcases, for packing your purchases. Loose packages can be lost or forgotten. TIP: Clothing sizes may differ in other countries - the best idea is to try on, if possible. Keep an accurate purchase record of items and prices for customs declaration on your return home. Try to familiarize yourself with custom regulations before you leave on your trip.

Your first stop is World Travel Mart, 5615 W 95th Street, Oak Lawn, they like to help plan and if they don't know all the answers they can find them. . . fast. They can plan a good itinerary to give you the most pleasure, the most convenience - at the lowest cost. And this service is without extra charge to you. TRY THEM.

Puppets and stories at Oak Lawn Library

The Melikin Puppet Theatre is coming to the Oak Lawn Public Library at 2 pm Saturday, January 15 with a great show, "Shoes, Ships and Sealing Wax". The program is sponsored by the Children's Department.

What is it really about? It's about poetry, but is presented in a special way that dramatizes the stories for the enjoyment of young audiences. One character, known as the Dream Peddler, communicates directly with the audience. He is the host and master of ceremonies. However, he also is a dreamer, and he shares his dreams with his audience and another puppet character, Darlene.

The Melikin Puppets were founded in 1967 by Mel and LaVerne Biske. They have been entertaining and educating young audiences with full-length productions ever since. Last year, they entertained the Puppeteers of America National Festival for the eighth time. For the sixth summer, they were the "artists in residence" at the Detroit Institute of Art Youtheatre. During the year they also perform for two weeks at the Tampa Theater in Florida.

"Shoes and Ships and Sealing Wax" features "The Pied Piper of Hamelin", "Casey at the Bat", a special guest appearance by Edgar Allen Poe, and great readings by the popular puppets Woofer and Fldrick.

STORIES AND STUFF

Master story tellers, Melody Robb and Evan Blake, are bringing their "Stories and Stuff" to the Oak Lawn Public Library at 10:30 am Saturday, January 29. The program, which is sponsored by the Children's Dept, is open to children of all ages. However, special emphasis is given to the younger audience.

Robb and Blake tell stories in an innovative and artistic manner. They use some of the classics and some of their own original tales. If story telling was becoming a lost art, they have revived it. According to those who have seen and heard them, the audience always becomes involved with the stories and characters. Children are captivated by the presentations. Rapt attention, broken only by laughter and signs of enjoyment, demonstrate the quality of the program and the talent of the story tellers.

The above programs will be held in the lower level community room, 9427 Raymond. Additional information is available from the Children's Dept, 422-4990.

Repotting

When do you need to repot a plant? Probably not as often as you think. Many plants grow best when their roots are a bit crowded; this condition tends to force top growth. Check drainage holes on the pot to see if roots are growing through; if they're not, the plant probably doesn't need repotting.

Santa and his helpers flash smiles of "a job well done"

Do you know where your money is tonight?

Greatness is knowing your money is secure. Think about it. High yields are wonderful, but what about safety and availability? What about the responsibility we all share to keep our business community healthy and strong?

Your cash fund may sound big and glamorous but can it ever give you anything but interest? Is your money invested in the community in which you live or work... Is it even in our country?

Maybe working together and helping one another grow isn't important to you, but it's very important to Oak Lawn Trust & Savings Bank... and it has been since 1925.

A great place to live

After wrapping up 1982 and plunging right into 1983 we should take the time to sit back and think about Oak Lawn and why it is a good place to live.

At a recent meeting of the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce, Mayor Ernie Kolb made the statement that the sales tax was up in the village this past year. This means, although the population is not up, more people are buying in Oak Lawn. This is important for all of us because it helps to keep our taxes down, making us the beneficiaries.

A few years back many of us deplored the fact that we lost a huge shopping center. Instead, we were attracting many discount stores to the dismay of the residents. Many of the shopping centers are in trouble because of slow times and the discount stores are breaking records for all time highs because they can still provide the majority of us with the necessities of life at prices we can afford.

Once, the lack of large pieces of property for industry was a huge drawback to the village. It was assumed that without industry a village could hardly be successful because of the large amounts of lost taxes derived from these operations. We see industrial plants closing, or moving, leaving empty buildings and unemployment in its wake.

Oak Lawn has many strip stores built in the past couple of years which gives us the advantage of diversity and an ease of parking. They have filled a lot of empty land in the village with not only the gain in property tax but we also have the advantage of the sales tax from the shops.

Two new car dealers, with a third expected, have just opened their doors in the village. Cars are big business and not fly by night operations, they could have built some place else cheaper but instead chose Oak Lawn. There has to be good reasons.

According to Mayor Kolb we are getting a new and larger train station plus a covered platform for the comfort of the commuters.

The Oak Lawn Fire Department and the Oak Lawn Police Department are considered the finest, and most advanced, in the area. The fire department works endlessly to make the residents aware of the hazards of fire and how to avoid them. The police department gives us complete protection and the ease of living in a village where we need not be afraid to come in or out of our homes.

This past Monday on Channel 5, Linda Yu gave a report on Oak Lawn's controversial smoke detector law. She said it was the strongest in the country and has been upheld in over 50 court challenges. Fire Chief Elmore Harker explained the law where all new, and existing, apartments and condos must have smoke detectors. This law also applies to new single family homes that must have wired in detectors. This law is not to protect the fire department but to further protect the residents of Oak Lawn.

Our Oak Lawn Park District has something for everyone. Your new program book just came in the mail and should be read thru to find offerings for the young, middle-aged and seniors.

Everytime you make a purchase remember that part of the sales tax goes back to the village. If you shop in another village those dollars go there - shop in Oak Lawn and your tax dollars return here and help keep the village strong.

What do you think?

The sneak thief of sight-Glaucoma

You may be going blind right now without knowing about it. The reason? Glaucoma. Glaucoma is called the "sneak thief of sight". It is an eye disease marked by an increase in fluid pressure within the eyeball. If unchecked and untreated, that increase will damage the eye and can cause blindness.

Glaucoma is one of the leading causes of blindness today, particularly among those at least 35 years old and older.

If found early and treated medically, chances are excellent that glaucoma can be halted. To make sure that every adult in Illinois has an opportunity to escape the ravages of glaucoma's effects, the Illinois Lions Clubs sponsor a Mobile Glaucoma (Eye) Screening Unit. With the cooperation of the Lions of Illinois Foundation, 1515 N Harlem, Oak Park, the charitable arm of the state's Lions, the clubs sponsor visits by the unit to their communities to offer free screenings for glaucoma and visual acuity (how well you can see how far).

The visual acuity screening is done on Titmus machines manned by Lions Club volunteers. The glaucoma screening is done by a licensed medical doctor, an ophthalmologist (medical eye specialist) furnished by the University of Illinois' Abraham Lincoln School of Medicine. Anesthetic drops which do not dilate the pupils or affect vision are administered by a nurse. Then the doctor measures the pressure within the eyeball in a fast, simple, painless procedure with an instrument called a tonometer. If pressure is elevated, the person is urged to seek medical help immediately. Persons failing the visual acuity screening are encouraged to seek a complete eye exam from an ophthalmologist or optometrist.

Funds for the screenings come mostly from Candy Day, held statewide the second Friday of October.

Air Force wants select nurses

The United States Air Force has established an internship program for nurses in key Air Force Medical Training Centers. Selected nurses enter active duty shortly after passing state board exams. The program provides five months training designed to foster the concept of independent practice in the clinical setting.

The new Air Force nurse is encouraged to expand and integrate his/her basic theoretical knowledge and professional nursing skills thru an individualized clinical nursing practicum.

While participating in the program, each nurse is assisted in identifying his/her potentials. Emphasis is placed on the development of a spirit of inquiry which encourages nursing excellence and a continued quest for education. The program aids the nurse in developing leadership and organizational skills in order to establish patient care priorities in the management of nursing care.

To be eligible, nurses must be currently enrolled in an approved BSN

Mothers to march for March of Dimes

The 1983 March of Dimes Mothers March fund raising campaign is set for the week of January 23-30. This annual event will mark the 33rd year since this door-to-door fund raising drive began its fight against birth defects.

Each year more than 250,000 children are born in this country with birth defects. The Mothers March campaign is dedicated to the challenge of securing a healthy birthright for every child. In doing so, the Mothers March seeks volunteers who will help in collecting contributions from communities in the metropolitan Chicago area.

Volunteers always play a key role in many of the March of Dimes events, and this year serving a second term as the Honorary Mothers March Chairman is Linda Yu, co-anchor newscaster at WMAQ-TV Channel 5. Yu's role as honorary chairman reflects her concern in the fight to eliminate birth defects. She has been involved with the

March of Dimes for the past few years, and has worked on various activities for the metro chapter.

With a substantial increase in the Mothers March volunteer force, a goal of canvassing more than 300,000 homes in the metropolitan Chicago area has been targeted. "Our ultimate goal is to raise $75,000 and surpass last years total. Thru good volunteers and community support, I believe this goal can be attained," said Janice Kissner, Associate Director and Mothers March Coordinator for the March of Dimes.

Once the campaign gets underway, the March of Dimes believes that every community can help in the fight against birth defects. "Thus, when a Mothers March volunteer knocks on your door during the week of January 23-30, remember that your contribution will help the children of tomorrow have a healthy start in life," said Yu.

Kraft, Inc. is assisting in underwriting the campaign.

Youth Network Council receives grant

The Youth Network Council has been selected as one of 40 agencies in the United States to receive a $500 grant from the newly founded National Fund for Runaway Children. Youth Network Council is a not-for-profit coalition of 135 community based agencies. The Southwest YMCA is a member of this coalition and provides temporary foster homes for runaway youth. The grant money is being distributed to the 60 volunteer foster families of Chicago in the form of a Jewel or Dominick's gift certificate as a small token of gratitude for their services. Agencies in the city and suburbs of Chicago are happy to receive this grant because it will enable them to say thank you to the foster parents who have done so much children.

The National Fund for Runaway Children began operations in September, program and meet all other commissioning criteria. Those interested in obtaining further information concerning the Air Force's Early Commissioning Program should contact Capt Leola McNeill at 263-1207. Call collect.

1982 following an article on runaways by Dotson Rader, in "Parade Magazine" entitled "Who Will Help the Children?" The National Fund is administered by Act Together, a national, non-profit agency that promotes comprehensive services to "high-risk," troubled youth. The National Fund activities to date have been staffed by volunteers who are responding to the massive national outcry of concerned citizens who want to help runaway and homeless children.

People across the country responded quickly to the appeal made for funds. This money is being turned back to the community. During this holiday season, when thoughts are on families and homes, perhaps your family could help by opening up their hearts and homes to a teen on a temporary basis. The Southwest YMCA serves the southwest suburbs and surrounding area. With an estimated one million runaways each year, homes are needed as a short refuge until counselors are able to assist the youth and family in reunification. Wouldn't you like to help. For information call Wendy Rutkowski, 385-6700.

Currently they are the host group on WLNR (fm 106 Lansing, IL) each Friday from 4:05 to 5 pm, where they feature gospel music. They have recorded 9 LP albums. Their aim is to lift up the name of Jesus, be a witness for our Lord, and use the talents He has given each of their members for His honor, glory, and service.

Many are taking advantage of the scholarship program for National Guard personnel which pays tuition and fees for any state supported university or community college.

Members of the band will also conduct clinics with the Oak Lawn band students during the day. Capt Floyd Hendricks, their conductor, will rehearse both the concert and varsity bands and will be joined by other band members for special sessions on brass and woodwind techniques.

The concert, which is free to the public, will be held in the junior-senior lounge at the high school and will begin at 8 pm. Anyone who enjoys band music or big band jazz should find the evening an exciting one.

Commonwealth Edison Co.

Even though this column comes out once a week, 52 weeks a year, there never seems to be any shortage of ideas because the energy field is so diverse, so fascinating. In fact, a number of potential subjects have been gathering on my desk for several months. In time, I hope to address each one individually, but this seems a good time to do a roundup of general observations.

*During 1982 nuclear power produced about 45% of Edison's output at about half the cost of the next most economical alternative -- coal.

*In 1982, Edison customers began seeing a fuel adjustment credit on their monthly bills for the first time since 1969, thanks in large measure to our extensive use of nuclear energy.

*As each of Edison's new nuclear generating units under construction comes into service, approximately $200 million in fuel savings will flow back to our customers on an annualized basis.

kits available. All new prizes, for money collected, will be awarded. If you have any questions, call the Oval, at 748-8180 or MDA at 986-8540. This event is open to people of all ages, and the money collected will be used to provide relief and care for muscular dystrophy patients in the Chicagoland area.

*****

*Electing rather than appointing members of the Illinois Commerce Commission would turn the complex business of setting fair and reasonable utility rates into a political circus.

*Approximately 53% of the rate relief Edison was granted in 1982 will go to pay local, state and federal taxes.

*The average Edison residential customer pays about 15% of his or her bill -- about $70 a year -- for environmental costs.

*Edison customers pay about $30 million a year in exorbitant coal "severance taxes" to the states of Montana and Wyoming.

*The Cook Co. Dept. of Environmental Control has reported that the air in the country is the cleanest it has been in 19 years.

*Since 1970, Edison has reduced sulfur dioxide emissions at its coal-fired generating stations by more than two-thirds.

*The experts are divided on how acid rain is formed, where the acids come from, how far they travel, and most importantly, what can be done to control them.

*Did you know that the Island of Pago Pago in the Pacific Ocean -- about as far as you can get from any industrial activity -- has a higher average acid rainfall than the northeastern United States?

*Much is being written about the decline of our nation's infrastructure -- roads, bridges, transit, sewers, etc. -- but the quality and dependability of electric service in northern Illinois is as good as ever.

With those thoughts, it's time to close the books on '82 and look forward to the New Year. Best wishes from all of us at Commonwealth Edison for a healthy and prosperous 1983.

Smith tells of less state aid

The School Board of District 126 heard a December 15 report on less State Aid from Superintendent William Smith. "While the State is supposed to be primarily responsible for funding education, each year the State provides less and the local taxpayer must share a bigger portion of the burden," said Board Member George Lehman.

Supt Smith cited the 6 specific 1982 actions by the State which have reduced State Aid to District 126. The June 1982 State Aid was withheld and then 82-83 State Aid was reduced $7000. The State School Board on December 9 recommended further cuts in general state aid, the elimination of the free text book grant, a reduction in both special education reimbursement and gifted funding.

According to Board

Member Clark Alford these reductions will result in a loss of more than $50,000 of State revenue to District 126. It is a shock to learn halfway thru the school year that the State is withdrawing $50,000 of its aid," said Alford.

'The Crucibles' at Oak Lawn High

Is a man's independence threatened by mass pressure to conform? Can a town rid itself of repressed guilt at the expense of others? Should a young girl be allowed personal vengeance?

Oak Lawn Community High School's winter play "The Crucible" contains all these elements: persecution, guilt, and revenge. It is a moving drama about the Salem witch trials of 1692, a grim time in history. The plot explains not only how the witch trials occurred but also why. In unfolding how mass violence is allowed to rule a town due to one girl's petty jealousy, it is revealing story of man against man.

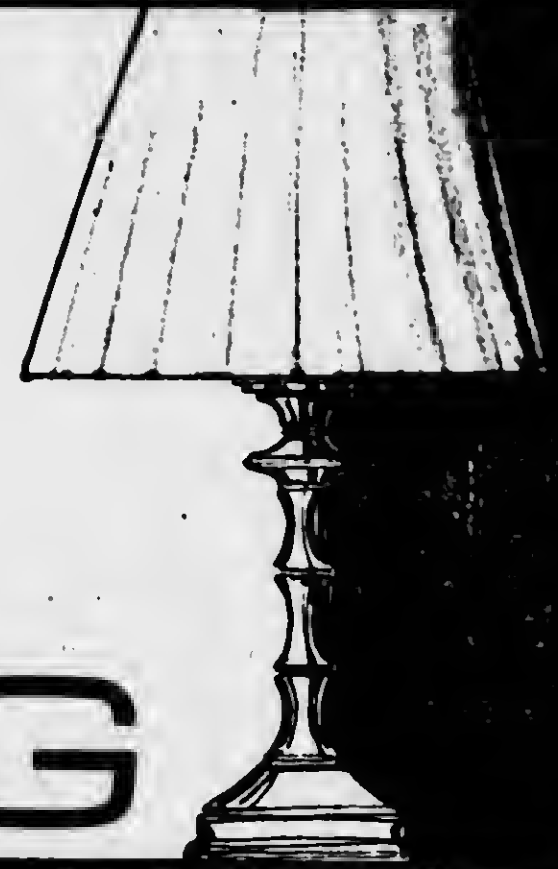

The Oak Lawn Community High School Theatre Arts

Department will present its winter drama "The Crucible" on February 3, 4 and 5 at 8 pm in the Little Theatre.

This production under the direction of Mr. Tom Dzurison and student directors Lisa Spero and Laura Walsh features Jeff Wierus (John Proctor), Donna Egan (Abigail Williams), Carolyn Daum (Elizabeth Proctor), Scott Carollo (Rev. John Hale) and Vince LoRusso (Rev. Parris).

Tickets are available at the high school, 94th and Southwest Highway, Oak Lawn, 424-5200 and are priced at $3.50 for adults and $2.75 for senior citizens and students with a proper I.D. Tickets can also be purchased at the Little Theatre box office the night of the performance.

'Dutch Heritage Center'

Most of the older people seem to know that the area around us was inhabited by many Dutch families. Though the numbers seemed to be fading as children marry and leave, the families retain their homes and are very proud of their heritage. Everyone seems to feel the need to find their "roots" at one time or another and now there is a place that will pique your interest and get you started on your way.

A brand new addition, less than 2 years old, at Trinity Christian College is the "Dutch Heritage Center". Already its name has become familiar and its potential for growth and service to the community is increasingly becoming more visible. "Much needed, and long overdue," aptly describes the Center.

The first Dutch settlers arrived on the shores of the Little Calumet in 1847. In 1849 15 families landed in Roseland. The land had its impact upon the people; and the people shaped the land, raised their livestock and planted their crops. They built their churches, schools, farms and businesses. Here was another classic beginning of ethnic history.

The Center fills a need peculiar to the area. It is precisely that history the Center aims to preserve in word, picture, and artifact. A small beginning has been made. Already pictures, and narratives few knew existed are coming together.

The Center invites anyone to participate in its program. It is interested in preserving various documents: histories, journals, note books, diaries, church and school anniversary booklets, photographs, letters in Dutch or English both to and from Holland; and artifacts. The Center already has on crates everybody in Chicago has heard about, but few have seen. Hendrik Sliemers, college librarian and curator of the Center, invites your inquiries. And visitors, of course, are always welcome.

sentative with Financial Planners Corp. She has a Master's Degree in business. Recently she has appeared on local cable television and as the speaker with several organizations in the southwest suburbs.

Admission is open to the public without charge. However, registration by January 31 is required in person or by phone, 422-4990.

The meetings will be held in the library's lower level community room.

Older Americans Act information available

The Suburban Cook County Area Agency on Aging for the multi-year planning period commencing October 1, 1983 is distributing all Requests for Proposals and applications for receipt of Older Americans Act and State of Illinois General Revenue Funds exclusively to organizations, agencies and corporations who register with the area agency. This is a new policy of the area agency for the next multi-year area plan (expected to be 2 years in length). The registration process is open to public, private-not-for-profit and proprietary (for-profit) businesses, agencies, organizations and institutions incorporated or permitted to operate in the State of Illinois.

The purpose of this registration process is to reduce duplication of information on an applicant's capabilities and to reduce mailings and the costs of distribution of Request for Proposals. The registration process is open to all interested organizations and is intended to simplify the application process.

Heating bill help for needy and handicapped

Worth Township Republican Committeeman Herb Huskey says needy persons can now obtain help paying their home heating bills through the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program (IHEAP).

"Illinois has received a $101 million energy block grant to help qualifying persons," Huskey said. "IHEAP gives special emphasis to senior and handicapped residents, but other persons with qualifying incomes may also receive this assistance on a first come, first serve basis."

According to Huskey, one-time individual household assistance payments range from $90 to $435. The actual amount of assistance is based on the total number of persons living in the household and the total household income for the 90 days prior to filing for heating assistance.

A 1-member household could have a maximum income of $1347 for the 90 day period. The maximum allowable income for a 2-member household is $1783; 3-member household, $2187; 4-member household, $2668; 5-member household, $2956, and 6-member household, $3231. For households with more than 6 members, an extra $180 of income is allowed for each additional person.

The Community and Economic Development Association (CEDA) of Cook County is the administering agency for IHEAP in suburban Cook County. CEDA has various intake sites where residents can file the heating assistance applications. Included is PLOWS Council on Aging, 9526 S Cook, Oak Lawn, 422-6722.

"The intake sites only accept the assistance applications," Huskey stated. "CEDA then has 30 days to review them and determine eligibility for the assistance."

Additional information is available from CEDA, 435-6900; a toll-free energy hotline, 1-800-252-8643; operated by the Illinois Dept of Commerce and Community Affairs; CEDA intake sites, and Huskey at 424-5000.

IHEAP is under the jurisdiction of the Illinois Dept of Commerce and Community Affairs.

Although the film is geared primarily to college students, it can be enjoyed by any age group. There will be no admission charge, but there will be a free will offering taken. For information persons may call 597-3000, ext 31.

organization for planning and funding senior services in Cook County exclusive of Chicago. The Illinois Dept on Aging currently channels to the area agency Federal Older Americans Act Title III-B, Title III-C, Title V funds, and State of Illinois General Revenue Funds. The area agency develops a multi-year area plan and awards grants and/or contracts for provision of services to responsible organizations serving the planning and service area (suburban Cook County). Funds are awarded by issuing "Requests for Proposals". This is a competitive process which is performed by the area agency's board of directors and advisory council. Funds are usually awarded prior to the commencement of a fiscal year, but at times, there are additional funds available during the fiscal year, necessitating that a Request for Proposal be distributed. All awards are subject to federal and state requirements.

The Fiscal Year 1983 Request for Proposals is scheduled to be issued on February 1, 1983. For more information contact Betty Cyko, Suburban Cook County Area Agency on Aging, or call (312) 559-0616.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CLEMENCY NOT FOR UNITED STATES

Pope John Paul II has condemned capital punishment and recommended clemency for prisoners sentenced to death. Clemency may be appropriate in some nations, but not in the United States, where only those guilty of heinous crimes are placed on death row.

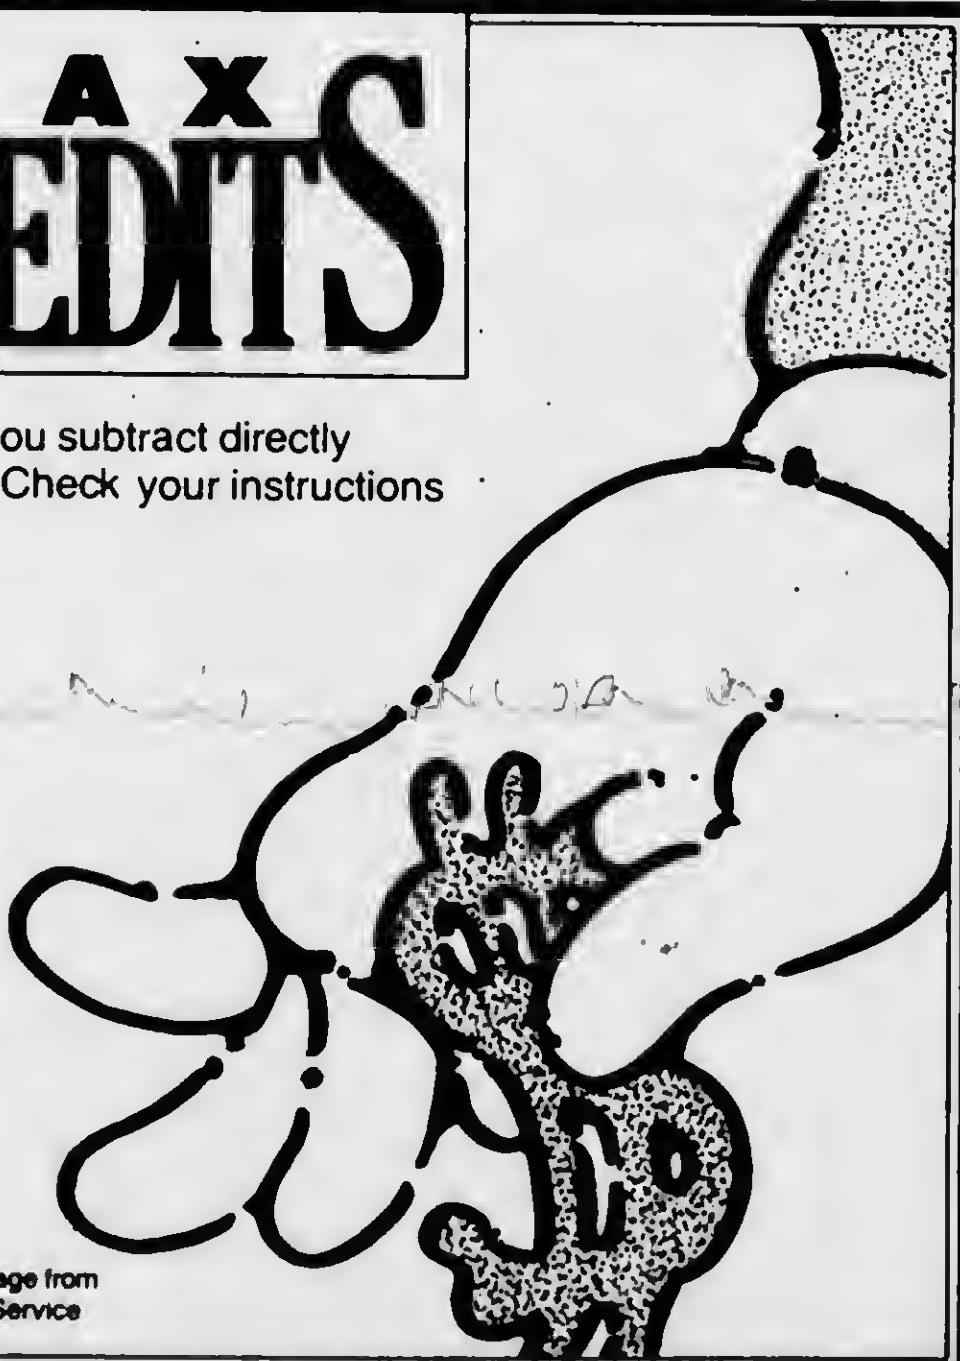

Capital punishment is the ultimate penalty for the ultimate crime. By abolishing it, society ignores the sanctity of the lives of the victims.

During the last several decades we have seen a steady abandonment of the death penalty. It is no coincidence that, at the same time, homicides have increased. When murder is no longer thought serious enough to warrant the ultimate punishment, respect for life is diminished.

After 25 years, the federal role in insuring the public against financial loss from nuclear power plant accidents has ended, with the nation's utilities and private insurers now underwriting all the protection required by law.

The U.S. Government automatically phased out of the program with the granting of a commercial operating license last month to the San Onofre-3 nuclear power plant in southern California. In becoming the nation's 80th licensed plant, San Onofre-3 will contribute sufficient additional premium payments and commitments to the private insurance pool to cover the entire $560 million in liability required by the Price-Anderson Act.

In the 25 years since enactment of Price-Anderson, which provides insurance protection to the public in the event of a nuclear accident, there has never been a claim involving federal moneys. Up to 1978 all liability claims against nuclear plant operators totalled only $630,000; this represented the operating experience not only of power plants, but also research reactors, fuel fabrication facilities, equipment suppliers, shoppers and transporters.

Following the 1979 Three Mile Island accident liability claims rose sharply, and now total about $30 million. Even in the wake of the nation's worst nuclear accident, no government moneys have been paid out because the funds available from the private sector have exceeded the total of the claims.

Liability insurance under Price-Anderson is separate from the property insurance carried by utilities to protect their investment in event of an accident. Nearly $1 billion in property insurance fully underwritten by private firms, is now available to nuclear utilities.

The liability insurance program, which began in 1957, is organized in three layers. The nuclear liability insurance pools (American Nuclear Insurers and the Mutual Atomic Energy Liability Underwriters) provide the first layer, which eventually reached $160 million, with premiums paid by the utilities. The Secondary Financial Protection plan would assess each reactor owner which has an operating license the sum of $5 million for liability payments should the need arise.

The third layer, to make up the difference between the totals in the first two layers and the $560 million limit of liability established by Price-Anderson, was provided by the government. Issuance of the 80th operating license means that the second layer is now $400 million (80 reactors at $5 million each); this plus the $160 million first layer totals the $560 million Price-Anderson limit, so the third, government-supported layer is no longer necessary.

Keating puts Monmouth College in competition with more noted universities

New Medicare charges

Medicare medical insurance payments are based on what the law defines as reasonable charges. These charges may be less than those actually billed by doctors and suppliers. Medical insurance then pays 80% of the approved charge, even if it is less than the actual charge.

The approved charges for covered services and supplies are determined by the Medicare carrier under a procedure outlined in the law. The carrier reviews the actual charges made by doctors and suppliers in a given geographic area and, based on this review, establishes new approved charges that become effective about July 1.

These approved charges are based on "customary" and "prevailing" charges. "Customary" generally refers to the charge most frequently made by each doctor and supplier for each separate service or supply provided patients during the course of the previous calendar year; "prevailing" refers to the amount of the charge for each covered service and supply that is high enough to cover the customary charges in three of every four bills submitted during the previous year for each service and supply.

When a medical insurance claim is submitted, the carrier compares the actual charges listed on the claim with the customary and prevailing charges for that particular service or supply. The charge approved by the carrier will be the lowest of the customary charge, the prevailing charge, or the actual charge.

From the village blotter

An "advisory referendum question" will be put to the voters of Oak Lawn in the April 12, 1983, election. Against the better judgment of Trustee Jay Bergamini of the Legal and Ordinance Committee the voters will be asked if a Citizens Utility Board (CUB) should be formed. The group would represent the citizens to fight the rising cost of utilities. The proposal calls for a volunteer fee to subsidize the operation of CUB. Calling it an "exercise in futility" Bergamini voted to approve placing the referendum on the ballot.

At an earlier board meeting, Trustee Ron Stancik said that it would be a duplication of the services of the Illinois Commerce Commission who represent the citizens now. Disagreeing was senior group leader John Hayes. Nancy Czerwec well known for her interest in civic matters, said that she believed the voters should be better informed before voting on the issue. Mayor Ernie Kolb said that he could not possibly see how this could be accomplished except through the news media.

Two major actions by the board this past month have been the letting of large contracts at far below the estimated cost, according to Norm Bacon, Director of the Office of Quality Control.

The cost of providing mains to Orland Park, the newest purchaser of Oak Lawn water, was estimated at $1,200,000 and was let to Abbott Construction Company at $969,760. The second contract related to the paving and draining in the northwest area was let to Ready Paving Company at the recommendation of Norm Bacon and Village Manager Dick O'Neill. This work was estimated at $2,247,000 and the low bid was $1,441,031. Bacon said that after a few minor costs the public benefit was $610,000.

While still on contracts there is a proposed bid letting in March on the sorely needed traffic control lights at 103rd & 52nd Avenue.

Bergamini reported that the proposal for the Natural Gas Project is moving forward. The proposal to test the compressed natural gas would include a $7,800,000 grant to Oak Lawn. The gas which is now being used in the Oak Lawn squad cars, and proving successful, was brought to the board by Oak Lawn Police Chief John Haberkorn. Bergamini said it would take several weeks to evaluate the proposal and the village should get a reply in April or the early part of May.

On other topics a resolution from State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell, and passed by the House of Representatives, to the "Oak Lawn Fire Prevention Bureau", was presented by Joseph Ferencak. The Oak Lawn Fire Department has been cited many times as leaders in the field of professional firefighters. Just recently Trustee Stancik commented on the Smoke Detector Ordinance, recognized as the strongest in the State of Illinois, featured on Channel 5 News.

With regards to the Oak Lawn Fire Department and the Oak Lawn Police Department employees, who have requested raises in amounts not included in the budget, Mayor Kolb said that their wages are determined from figures on monies coming into the village and not on a national scale. He said that it would be April before any final decision can be made.

Village Clerk Jayne Powers has announced that five candidates have filed for seats on the Oak Lawn Library Board. After a flip of a coin by Trustee John Petrozza, William Roche took the top spot on the ballot followed by incumbent Leon Stevens. Others who filed later are Dave Gallagher, Randolph Greene and James Kuzel.

For those of you that just simply want fun, good times and meeting with friends, the Special Events Commission has been working on the plans for another Oak Lawn Food Fest to be held on the weekend of July 8, 9 and 10.

Abandoned assets wait for claimants

Worth Township Republican Committeeman Herb Huskey has joined efforts with the Illinois Department of Financial Institutions to locate area residents who may have abandoned assets.

"Various residents have personal property in excess of $100 waiting to be claimed," Huskey said.

"It can consist of abandoned payroll checks, dividends, accounts receivable, checking and savings account surpluses, and other personal property of value, such as safe deposit box contents," he said. The state will hold property still abandoned after April 18th until the rightful owners claim it.

"The department and I are trying to put these owners in direct contact with the financial institution holding their property," Huskey explained. "We do not know how much, or what kind of, property is involved for any individual."

Anyone on the abandoned property list should write directly to the Illinois Dept of Financial Institutions, Unclaimed Property Division, 421 E Capitol, Room 205, Springfield, IL 62706. All correspondence should include a name, current address and county of residence.

Oak Lawn area residents on the abandoned property list are: Edward J. and Juanita England, James W. Bauml, George Gleason, Ann B. and Ronal J. Dermody, Scott D. Krneta, Frances Thiel, Grace Lauten, Clara A. Bates, Aloizy J. Bebak, E. Cosby, Fred G. Daily, Vincent M. DeVito, Maureen A. Evans, William McNutty, D. L. ## Financial crossroads

Illinois, at a financial crossroads, is approaching the crucial decision-making process which will determine the fiscal future of the state. It is essential that those decisions be based on sound, sensible policies which will spur economic growth without sacrificing budgetary stability. To explore the multiple facets of these issues, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois is sponsoring a major conference: "Illinois at the Brink: Where Do We Go From Here," Friday, February 25, at the Palmer House from 9 am until 2 pm, Federation Chairman William C. Terpstra announced recently.

Highlighting the conference will be two open panel discussions examining various aspects of Illinois finances from a wide range of perspectives.

Moderated by Dan Miller, Editor of Crain's Chicago Business, the "State of the State Today and Tomorrow" segment will allow state government representatives to discuss exactly where Illinois stands today.

A second panel entitled "Tug of War - Who Gets The Pot?", moderated by Terry Savage, Financial Reporter with WMAQ-TV, will examine how factions in the private and public sectors are competing for a finite amount of tax dollars (tax incentives versus special needs). Both panel discussions will encourage participation and questions from the audience.

Luncheon speaker at the conference will be nationally syndicated columnist Michael McManus.

Reservations for the conference can be made by contacting the Taxpayers' Federation at 525 W Jefferson Street, Springfield, IL 62702 (phone 217-522-6818). There is a registration fee of $50 to cover costs, including lunch.

Judge Jemilo had high praise for Sheriff Richard J. Elrod of Cook County for allowing Chicago State University's Correctional Courses to be held at the Markham Court and other sights that have been made available by Sheriff Elrod.

In addition to the Markham Circuit Court location, the extension courses are held at Valley View Correctional Center at St. Charles and the farm at Stateville in Joliet. These locations have been chosen to accommodate the students and staff, and for making it convenient for those involved in the programs to pursue their courses.

A PACKAGE TOUR is a prearranged itinerary which has been put together to appeal to people interested in visiting a certain place or places or people who share a common interest—such as ski enthusiasts, theater goers, or art lovers. These tours may be either escorted or unescorted.

THE ESCORTED TOUR takes advantage of low group rates. This is a good way for the first time traveler to see a country, since a tour director travels with the group and handles all details (reservations, transportation, baggage, customs, etc.)

THE UNESCORTED TOUR enables the traveler to purchase a prearranged package complete with transportation, hotels, transfer, etc., yet he travels alone instead of in a group.

The GROUP TOUR is one in which a number of people from a club or organization travel together. Traveling in such a group brings lower prices.

TODAY THIS HOUSE IS JUST SMART. TOMORROW IT'LL BE BRILLIANT.

Nobody has to tell you what's happening to the cost of energy today. It's all up, up, up.

So if you're looking for a new house, it makes a whole lot of sense to look for one with an Energy Smart sign out front. One that uses energy like a miser. That keeps the cost down, down, down.

That means a house with double-glazed windows.

With ceilings insulated to a minimum rating of R-19.

With walls insulated to at least R-11.

With exterior openings carefully weather-stripped and caulked.

And with an Electric Heat Pump instead of a central air conditioner and furnace.

That's the key. The Heat Pump.

All summer long it works just like central air conditioning. But in the winter it reverses itself. It takes heat from the air outside and pumps it inside to keep you warm.

What's more, the Heat Pump does that so efficiently it provides at least 50 percent more energy (heat) than the energy (electricity) it uses.

And that's very, very smart when you consider that the cost of natural gas has gone up 52 percent faster than electricity since 1967, and oil has gone up 113 percent faster.

Better yet, it'll be downright brilliant when natural gas gets deregulated or OPEC bumps up the price of oil a few more times.

The Energy Smart house. It can make tomorrow a lot easier to live with.

In general, an untrained person should never attempt to move or handle any overhead wiring that has fallen from its normal supported position due to a storm or other cause. This is true even when the wire is not arcing and appears to be "dead", and even when the wire is insulated and unbroken.

First of all, even though it is considered safe to handle lamp cords and appliance cords in your home when they are in good condition, utility wires that have been in service for many years, exposed to sunlight and all kinds of weather, may have develvictims of this illness and their families. Information may be obtained by calling 831-3438 or writing: ANAD, Box 271, Highland Park, IL 60035.

oped bad spots in the insulation and you could come in contact with the live bare wire. Also, much of the utility wiring, other than the wires coming directly to your house, could be at a very high voltage - many thousands of volts instead of the 120 or 240 volts present on house wiring, and this increases the risk of injury from electrical shock enormously.

Another thing to remember is that "dead" wires don't always stay "dead". If a short circuit occurs when the wire falls, automatic equipment, which the utility has installed on their lines, may operate to disconnect the electrical power and then automatically operate again to restore power to the lines. This is done to restore service to as many customers as possible, as soon as possible, in case a fault cleared itself.

It is also a good idea to stay completely clear of fallen wires especially when the ground is wet or covered with snow. You could be electrocuted while standing in a puddle of water in which the wire is also laying.

The best action to take in the case of a fallen wire is to call the utility and report the problem; then stand guard to warn others of the danger. This would be a service to your unsuspecting neighbors.

In case of a dire emergency, where a person is already in contact with the wire and undergoing electrical shock, a long wood pole can be used to move the wire or the person. You may be part of the problem, rather than part of the rescue attempt, if you ignore such precautions.

District 126 report on levies

School District 126 in response to County Clerk Kasper's concern over "Balloon" Tax Levies by taxing bodies, issued a full resume of their tax levies. Over the past 4 years, since 1979, 32 of the 40 fund tax levies have remained the same, been lowered or totally eliminated, according to Ken Wassberg, Board Member. He noted that 8 of the 40 levies, only 20%, were increased.

Rather than overlevying or increasing our tax levies, the report indicated that the Alsip, Hazelgreen and Oak Lawn Elementary Schools has decreased in actual dollars their levies since 1979. Eight levies were increased +$302,500 but 19 were decreased -$376,000.

In only 2 of the 10 funds have tax levies increased twice in the past 4 years. The Transportation Fund increases were due to the use in diesel fuel costs. The Life Safety Fund increases were due to roof improvements at Lane, Stony Creek, and Prairie Junior High and handicapped access work at all schools. According to Janet Dal Ponte, school board secretary, "In 4 funds there has been no increase and in 4 funds there has only been one increase in 4 years."

In addition to reducing our tax levies, board member Ray Arthurs noted that the 126 tax rate has also steadily declined. "In just 3 years, the 126 tax rate has been dropped from 2.52 to 2.15 for a reduction of 15%," according to Arthurs.

The negative impact of increased tax levies results in increased tax rates. Supt William Smith noted that because of decreased tax levies the 126 tax rate is now 20% lower than in 1973. "Our 2.15 rate is the lowest of all the elementary school districts in "orth Township."

New pastor at Pilgrim Faith

Pilgrim Faith United Church of Christ, Oak Lawn, has welcomed to its staff the Rev. Joyce L. DeGraaff, who was ordained into the Christian ministry and installed as Associate Pastor there. She has special training in ministering to children and youth but will share full pastoral duties with senior clergyman Edward R. Goltz, preaching, administering the sacraments, visiting the sick and working with adults.

Pastor DeGraaff's ministry began in the mission field many years before her recent seminary graduation. In 1969, in Caracas, Venezuela, she taught English in a Presbyterian school, founded a community library and participated in ecumenical youth work with the Roman Catholic clergy.

Since her return to the United States she has been a high school teacher, wife of a clergyman, mother of two daughters and, while a seminary student, served a struggling rural Indiana church for 2 years. Under her leadership it grew strong enough to call its first full-time pastor in 47 years. She graduated in March from McCormick Theological Seminary and was interim pastor to a Chicago Korean congregation until her call to Pilgrim Faith.

Educated and ordained in the Presbyterian church, Pastor DeGraaff will retain her membership in that denomination while serving Pilgrim Faith Church, a United Church of Christ congregation. Her husband is the Rev. Henry DeGraaff, pastor of Trinity Presbyterian Church, Oak Lawn. They and their daughters, Jennifer and Erin, have been Oak Lawn residents since 1980.

Pastor DeGraaff can usually be found in her office at 9411 S 51st Avenue but escapes occasionally to her hobbies of bowling, antique collecting and family camping. She is also participating at a seminar on preaching where she is the youngest student and one of two women in the group.

St Paddy's Day Celebration 'The Wearin' O'The Green'

'Tis a fact that Oak Lawn Mayor Ernie Kolb used his gnarled Irish walking stick to call to order the Mayor's Coalition Committee to invite everyone to "The Wearin' O' The Green".

'Tis going to be a grand party, "The Wearin' O' The Green". Pin on a shamrock, get out your shillelagh or just come the way you are. . . sure and everyone is invited.

Mayor Ernie Kolb and the Mayor's Coalition Committee have planned a great St Paddy's Day Celebration that will rock the hall of the O'Holiday Inn, 4140 W 95th Street, Oak Lawn.

'Tis a very special treat they have for your pleasure. The ever popular Dave Coady Show, with himself from Waterford, Ireland, to entertain you. Coady has a warm personality and his powerful voice has filled the rooms of area cabarets and pubs for several years.

Mayor Kolb, Village Clerk Jayne Powers and Trustees Jay Bergamini, Bob Bruce and Ron Stancik also invite you to meet and chat with Joseph Vogrich, the Mayor's Coalition Party candidate for Trustee in the 5th District.

The merriment will begin at 8 pm on Friday, March 11th. You'll be enjoying hors d'oeuvres galore, cocktails a plenty, and singing and dancing the evening through for the wee donation of $15 per person.

All the lads and lassies on the committee hope "the wind will be at your back" as you hurry to the phone and call Jayne Powers for tickets at 636-4400.

VFW blood drive

A blood drawing for the Third District VFW Posts and Auxiliaries will be held at the Johnson-Phelps VFW post hall, Saturday, March 12, 9 am to 1 pm. This is open to all residents and if one is a member, one pint will cover the whole family indefinitely and non-members who donate a pint of blood will be covered for a year. The Blood Bank is administered by the Beverly Blood Bank. All those who participate will receive a free breakfast of eggs, sausage, pancakes and beverage.

Marvin Boulter and Dorothy Hejl, chairmen for the post and auxiliary, said this is open for those aged 18 thru 65 years and point out that those who had malaria more than ten years ago with no recurrent attacks during that time are now accepted. The only restrictions are those who have had hepatitis or are on blood thinners, and since there is a severe blood shortage, everyone is urged to make a contribution. Vic Hayes is post commander and Shirley Abdulbaki is auxiliary president.

Assessor Connors takes new position

William Connors, Worth Township Assessor, was elected Director of the Cook County Assessor's Assn recently. Connors said he was delighted to have the backing of his fellow Assessors in his new position.

Connors added that the position of director would enable him to have a more influential voice in the direction of the association and he hoped it would aid him in his 4 year battle with the state over what he considered the unfair application of the State Equalizing factor. Connors said it has been his position that this factor distorts residential property values and adds an unfair tax base for taxing bodies to levy against.

Yourell legislation would raise circuit breaker benefits

State Rep Harry "Bus" Yourell (D-Oak Lawn) has introduced legislation to raise the maximum qualifying income for circuit breaker benefits to $15,000 a year.

"While the cost of living has gone up, the income cap for seniors and disabled persons receiving circuit breaker benefits has stayed the same," Yourell said.

The current maximum household income to be eligible for circuit breaker benefits is $12,000. The circuit breaker program provides grants to persons 65 years or older and disabled persons to help pay property taxes or rent.

"Although some seniors and disabled persons have been fortunate enough to receive a small increase in their retirement incomes, those increases have not kept pace with inflation," Yourell said. "The inflationary impact of previous years is only now being felt in form of higher property assessments which only means higher taxes."

Yourell said raising the income limit will bring back into the circuit breaker program many seniors and disabled whose income has been pushed into a higher bracket yet are still having trouble meeting rent and tax payments.

In other legislative action, Yourell is co-sponsoring legislation that expands the Parental Responsibility Law to make parents and guardians of minors liable for any damages resulting from willful or malicious acts by the minor. Present law limits the liability to only medical expenses.

"If parents and guardians are forced to pay for property damage as well as bodily harm caused by their children or wards, they might keep a tighter rein on their youngsters," Yourell said.

Chesterfield announces major breakthrough in new low cost home mortgages

A major breakthrough in home financing has been announced by Chesterfield Federal Savings and Loan Association. Chesterfield has created and developed a new home mortgage program called "CO-OP" that will help people afford their own home by substantially lowering the cost of financing. The CO-OP name, which stands for "Chesterfield's Opportunity to Own Property", refers to the basic idea of the program - that it is a cooperative arrangement. The key to the special CO-OP home mortgage is that a portion of the total mortgage balance is deposited into a Chesterfield Federal savings account by the home buyer, their parents, relatives or anyone with the available funds. The funds are deposited into a savings account and will continue to earn daily interest. The larger the percentage of deposit to mortgage balance, the lower the rate. Depending on the amount deposited, the rate can be as low as 9.9% with the rate guaranteed for 25 years.

Michael E. DeHaan, the President of Chesterfield, originated and developed the CO-OP home mortgage program. DeHaan stated, "We're excited about the new CO-OP home mortgage because it's the first major step any financial institution in the area has taken towards achieving low fixed rate financing with terms as long as 25 years. It's definitely a viable and low cost alternative to renegotiable or balloon mortgages. We think that it's about time interest rates came down to a sensible level so that the American Dream of home ownership can be realized by more people."

William A. DeHaan, Chesterfield's Chairman of the Board added, "We feel the CO-OP home mortgage is an important breakthrough for low cost home financing. Not only will the CO-OP mortgage benefit the home buyer, it will benefit the entire local economy from real estate sales, to brokers, builders and tradesmen."

Sheriff Elrod asks law enforcement agencies join 'Cops for Kids' bowling event

Sheriff Richard J. Elrod is requesting all Chicagoland law enforcement agencies to take part in the "Cops for Kids" bowling event on March 13 and 20. Last year this bowlathon raised nearly $10,000 for Big Brothers - Big Sisters of Metropolitan Chicago. Big Brothers - Big Sisters is the only youth-serving organization in the Chicago area based upon one-to-one friendships between adult volunteers and children from single parent families who are in need of special attention. For many of the children in the program, the 4 to 6 hours spent with them each week by adult volunteers makes the difference between leading a normal life or having serious problems.

"Cops for Kids" is an opportunity for law enforcement personnel to help in this very worthy undertaking. Participating officers secure money pledges from sponsors for high game scores. After bowling, the money is collected. Officers bowl as individuals or on departmental teams, and the 3 games are free. Prizes and trophies are awarded. Bowling dates and locations are: March 13 - Brunswick Northwest Bowl, Palatine. March 20 - Brunswick Western Bowl, Chicago Hts.

Sheriff Elrod, who is a member of the Board of Directors of Big Brothers - Big Sisters, and Bowling Chairman, has requested maximum participation from suburban police departments as well as divisions of the Sheriff's Office. This year federal law enforcement agencies are also being invited to participate. There are more than 300 young people on Big Brothers - Big Sisters waiting lists and it is hoped that the "Cops for Kids" event will help provide volunteers for many of them.

New Great Books fiction series

A new fiction series of Great Books discussion group will begin on Wednesday, March 8 at 1:30 pm in the EP Community Center and meets on first and third Wednesdays each month.

The Great Books program is based on the idea that people can help one another to learn, by reading and then discussing some of the best books that have been written. The Great Books offer a challenge and a reward. They are challenging because they ask us to think hard about the essential questions of human life. They are rewarding because the more deeply we explore the essential questions, the better we understand ourselves and the world around us.

The most lasting benefit of the program may be the realization that reading and reflecting on what some of our best authors have thought and said can be a source of pleasure and enlightenment throughout life. There will be a charge for materials. To register call the OCS at 422-8776.

Traffic revenue down in Oak Lawn

Cook County's suburbs continued their 18 year tradition in 1982 by bringing in a record amount of revenue from traffic tickets.

A report issued by Circuit Court Clerk Morgan M. Finley showed that the 131 communities and units of local government within suburban Cook County shared $9,215,029 in court revenue last year compared to $8.9 million in 1981.

It was the 18th straight year that the suburbs increased their revenue thru the court system, although the increase was the lowest in recent years. Finley attributed the lowered rate of increase to last winter's severe weather.

"Court revenue is critical to many villages because it comes from a source outside the real estate tax," Finley said. "That's why it is important for residents of suburban communities to be aware of their town's court income."

He said that the amount of revenue garnered by any particular town is related to population, the number of arterial highways passing thru the town and the severity of enforcement of the local police.

Last year, for the first time in the court's history, a town made more than $300,000 thru the courts. That town was DesPlaines, the number one revenue producer for the last two years. 1982 income for DesPlaines was $322,097, a jump of 27% from the 1981 total of $252,758. Other towns in the top 10 were:

Palatine, $269,141 (1981 $216,624); Rolling Meadows, $241,621 ($170,412);

Oak Park, $237,914 ($215,101); Elk Grove Village, $237,603 ($200,809); Schaumburg, $230,267 ($168,350); La Grange, $216,581 ($248,345); Evanston, $196,841 ($216,624); Arlington Heights, $188,485 ($182,322); Oak Lawn, $176,069 ($183,967).

Yourell supports Citizens Utility Board

State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell said he is co-sponsoring legislation that will create a Citizens Utility Board (CUB) to represent Illinois consumers during rate hearings before the Illinois Commerce Commission.

"Anyone who has to pay a utility bill every month knows how necessary this legislation is to consumers," Yourell said. "It would provide consumers with a much needed voice in the hearing process."

Yourell explained that CUB would be comprised of residential utility customers who contribute a $3 membership fee to the organization, allowing consumers to pool their resources to employ experts to testify on their behalf in utility rate hearings.

"Anyone who has ever appeared at a hearing before the ICC knows how difficult it is for the average citizen to compete with the high priced legal talent hired by the big power companies," Yourell said. "The passage of this bill - House Bill 75 - would remedy that problem."

"There's no doubt in my mind that substantial public support for this bill exists," Yourell said. "And I'm urging everyone in my district who is concerned about the high cost of utilities to write to all their elected officials to urge passage of this legislation."

Social Security rate same-base increased

The 1983 Social Security wage base - the maximum amount of annual earnings on which Social Security taxes are paid - has increased to $35,700. Rosalie Thompson, Social Security district manager in Evergreen Park, said recently. The 1982 base was $32,400.

Since the Social Security tax rate remains unchanged at 6.7% for 1983, most people will not pay more in Social Security taxes this year unless they have higher earnings than in 1982, said Thompson. People who earn more than $32,400 in 1983 will pay more in total Social Security taxes.

People who earn more than $35,700 in 1983 will pay total Social Security taxes of $2,391.90, which is $221.10 more than the $2,170.80 they paid in 1982.

Employers match the Social Security taxes paid by employees.

Also increasing in 1983 is the amount of annual earnings required to earn a "quarter of coverage," the measure used to determine eligibility for benefits. In 1983 a person will earn one quarter of coverage for each $370 in annual earnings up to a total of 4 quarters of coverage if annual earnings are $1480 or more.

The number of quarters a person needs to be eligible for benefits depends on his or her date of birth. No one can become eligible with fewer than 6 quarters of coverage and no one will ever need more than 40 quarters.

More information about Social Security taxes, quarters of coverage, and benefits can be obtained at the Evergreen Park Social Security office. The people there will be glad to answer any questions. The office is located at 9730 S Western Avenue, phone 239-1200 in Chicago and 594-2876 in the suburbs. Calls to this number are monitored, however the calling party has the right to request that the call not be monitored.

Assessor Hynes urges return of ## exemption applications

Cook County Assessor Thomas C. Hynes has announced that his office has mailed applications for the 1982 Homeowner's Exemption to Cook County homeowners.

The Homeowner's Exemption, sponsored by Hynes in 1978 while serving as President of the Illinois Senate, provides an annual property tax savings of up to $333 to qualified homeowners.

Last year the exemption saved 913,000 Cook County homeowners more than $200 million.

Before granting the exemption, the Assessor's Office by law must have proof that the homeowner applying for it qualifies. An eligible property is a single-family home, co-op, condominium or apartment building of six units or less which was occupied by its current or previous owner as of January 1, 1982.

Senior citizens already qualified to receive the 1982 Senior Homestead Exemption will automatically receive the 1982 Homeowner's Exemption. Therefore, they will not receive the application and will not have to apply for it.

"I proposed this legislation for homeowners to offset the rising costs of owning a home," said Hynes. "These expenses are especially burdensome during the current economic slowdown. With the exemption, homeowners can save on property taxes."

The Homeowner's Exemption eliminates from taxation any increase in the taxable value ("equalized assessed value") of a home up to $3000 over what the taxable value was in 1977.

Hynes has also strongly urged that the benefits of the Homeowner's Exemption should be increased and will be presenting that proposal to the Illinois legislature in its current session.

Hynes cautioned that if a homeowner's property tax bill is mailed to his or her lending institution, the exemption application is also mailed there.

Applications should be signed and returned to Assessor Hynes' office by April 1, 1983.

Savings from the exemption will be in the form of a deduction on the second installment tax bills scheduled to be sent by the Treasurer's Office this summer.

Any residential property owner who has not received the application should contact the Assessor's Office for a duplicate form. Applications can be obtained on the 3rd floor of the County Building, 118 N Clark, Chicago 60602, 443-7500 or at the Worth Township Assessor's office, 11601 S Pulaski, Alsip, IL 60658.

Rabies cases increase

A 9 week old puppy, that lived on West Barry Avenue in Chicago was diagnosed rabid by the Illinois Department of Public Health Laboratory on Friday, February 4.

Fourteen people were exposed to this puppy and are currently undergoing treatment with the New Human Diploid Cell Rabies Vaccine. Cases of rabies were also diagnosed the previous week in 3 poodles from Deerfield and 1 cat from Franklin Park.

Dr Robert J. Keough, the Administrator of the Cook County Department of Animal Control advises all cat and dog owners whose pets are not currently vaccinated to do so immediately. He also warns that all cats and dogs must be leashed when out of doors.

It is a violation of the law not to have your cat and dog vaccinated against rabies or to allow your cat or dog to run uncontrolled. Violators can be fined up to $500 for each offense.

Bates urges Russo to repeal withholding tax

Third District Conservative Caucus Co-Director Michael M. Bates has urged Congressman Martin Russo (D-3) to support legislation that would repeal the 10% withholding tax on interest and dividends scheduled to take effect July 1.

"This provision is an expensive and unnecessary burden on savers and investors," said Bates. "The compensation to financial institutions doesn't begin to cover compliance costs. The difference will be passed on to customers.

This measure will allow the government the use of money to which it is not entitled. A 1981 IRS study reported that compliance could be raised to 97%, without withholding."

According to Bates, "Withholding will particularly hurt the elderly. Our senior citizens have made many contributions to our society and nation and it's unfair to penalize them for saving the fruits of their labor."

author of "The Good Buy Book"; Susan Richards, founder and president of Hawthorne Financial Advisors; and Richard J. Evans, Travel Coordinator for AAA Chicago Motor Club.

Annie Moldafsky pointed out that the key to saving substantial dollars was "buying smart". She emphatically warned people to never pay anyone for membership in a "discount" buying organization; the consumer should be his or her own researcher and not pay for somebody else to do his or her work.

Susan Richards stressed that a secure financial future depends on careful planning, budget setting, and wise investing. She said that two of the most common financial mistakes were inappropriate or inadequate insurance and a lack of a systematic savings arrangement. She also stressed the importance of having an IRA, ATSA or both.

Richard Evans discussed how vacations need not cost a small fortune in order to be exciting and worthwhile. "Auto touring is still an economical and pleasurable way of traveling, in any country."

Each seminar in the continuing "Art of Living" series is provided free of charge to the public by Chesterfield Federal Savings. Thousands of people have attended these free seminars designed to help individuals understand themselves in a constantly changing world.

The next program sponsored by Chesterfield is called "The Art of Self Development: Continuing Education, Academic" and is to be held Wednesday, March 23 from 7:30 - 9:30 at the Beverly Art Center, 2153 W 111th Street, Chicago, 60643. ## NEW AUTOMATIC HEARING AID

A truly advanced and innovative sound amplifier.

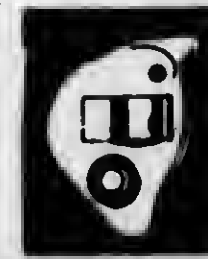

The AUTOMATIC SOUND PROCESSOR (ASP) was developed especially for those people who have difficulty in hearing speech in noisy environments. For years, hearing aid wearers have avoided restaurants, theaters, church and parties because of the inability of an ordinary hearing aid to control background noises.

The A.S.P. is simply and uniquely designed to normalize background noise so that speech is more easily understood.

We also dispense all other types of hearing aids - FREE testing. Batteries at low prices - and repairs at fair prices.
We also make house calls.

Connors saves seniors $110,000

An investigation conducted by William Connors, Worth Township Assessor has prevented 820 senior citizens from being removed from the Cook County list of property owners eligible for a Senior Homestead Exemption. Connors added that based on an average savings of $135 per exemption this equates to a savings of $110,000.

Connors said, senior citizens must send in the Homestead Exemption renewal card that they receive from the county every year. He went on to say that the county records showed no renewal application for these Worth Township Senior Citizens, therefore, they were going to be dropped from the rolls. Connors said the county

'Walk and Talk Program'

"One of the greatest tools that a police department has at its disposal is developing good public relations and communications with the citizenry. Usually the first impression the public gets relative to its police department is the lasting one."

The above was a quote from the general order approved by Oak Lawn Police Chief John Haberkorn in reference to the newly instituted "Walk and Talk Program".

The intent of the program is to make it possible for the officer in a squad car to park and walk in areas around stores, in the parking lots and also enter stores for a cursory observation.

It is thought that since the automation of police departments thruout this country, the personal contact with the public has been somewhat lost and with the implementation of this program there will be a greatly improved attitude towards the police departments on the part of both the citizens and the merchants. By being congenial with the public, the officer will develop a rapport with the citizens of a very positive nature.

Sergeants will assign at roll calls on the second and third watch's the area that each squad will conduct the walk and talk program, along with what time the squad will conduct it. Said assignments will be monitored by the shift sergeants. Officers will be no further away than one block from their squad in case of emergency calls. The communications center, when giving an emergency call to an officer in the program, will also assign a second available unit to the call.

When the beat car is on the walking patrol their purpose is two-fold. One is to give the citizens of Oak Lawn a greater feeling of security and projection by both the physical and visual contact with a patrolman outside of his squad car. Secondly, the mere presence of a police officer in the area, should and will, have a deterring effect on those persons who prey on unsuspecting victims, whether it be shoplifting, purse snatching, armed robbery, battery, assault, theft from auto, malicious criminal damage to property or auto, or any other crimes that occur where there are extra ordinary amounts of people in the area.

According to the order signed by Haberkorn the program will not be in effect during inclement weather with the decision being made by the Watch Commander.

Yourell blasts Governor's budget

State Rep Harry "Bus" Yourell called Governor Thompson's proposed "worst case" budget "a sham and a deception designed to force a tax increase."

"I will not be blackmailed by the Governor," Yourell said. "Thompson is using scare tactics and heartless budget cuts to force a tax increase on the people of Illinois."

"If Thompson seriously feels we need a tax increase then why doesn't he give us reasonable and responsible arguments in favor of his tax proposals?"

"Instead he has resorted to irresponsible and brutal cuts in human services and education to bring the helpless and the sick to their knees begging for a tax increase."

Yourell noted that Democrats have said for some time that the state was in a precarious financial position that demanded responsible fiscal action. Instead, Thompson, to preserve his re-election, refused to face facts and take the necessary steps to preserve the revenues needed to provide a decent level of services to the

Marty Russo to serve on Congressional Steel Caucus

The chairman of the Congressional Steel Caucus announced the appointment of Representative Marty Russo to serve on the Executive Committee of the Caucus.

Chairman John P. Murtha (D-PA) said, "With steel industry unemployment at nearly 50%, and domestic production hovering just above 40%, the caucus is facing one of its most challenging years. But, I am confident that with the help of members such as Congressman Russo, the caucus can continue its active role in the search for long-range solutions to the problems that plague the domestic steel industry."

One of the most active bipartisan groups on Capitol Hill, members of the Steel people of Illinois.

"As a result, the state has been forced into a no-win situation of choosing between raising taxes by nearly $2 billion or cutting the heart out of programs vital to the survival of our children, the poor, the elderly and the sick," Yourell said. "I am deeply saddened about the choices."

Caucus seek to promote and expand the economic viability of the domestic industry and the jobs of its workers. In recent months, members of the caucus have led the battle against unfair foreign imports now flooding the domestic market, created public awareness of the problem and supported legislation to help bring relief to the industry. Other accomplishments include the adoption of stronger "Buy American" language in the Gas Tax bill, and support of legislation to extend the deadline for industry compliance under the Clean Air Act.

As a member of the executive committee, which is the key working group of the caucus, Cong Russo will join 14 other members of the caucus in reviewing proposals by individual caucus members, and in making policy recommendations to the full Steel Caucus.

"Knowing of Rep Russo's active interest and knowledge in matters involving the domestic steel industry, his appointment can only serve to enhance the effectiveness of the work of the caucus," Murtha said.

Lions would rename March 'Miracle Month'

Illinois Lions Clubs want to rename March the "miracle month".

"Signing an eye donor pledge card can lead to the miracle of sight, and we intend to obtain as many signed pledge cards as possible during the month of March to help end a shortage of eye tissue for corneal transplants," said Roger Brunner, state chairman of the Lions of Illinois Foundation Eye Donor Registry program.

Under the program, interested adults sign a pledge card. When that person dies, his or her eyes are used for medical purposes. All eyes can be used, no matter what the condition. Eyes in good condition are used in a variety of ways, with the corneas used for corneal transplants to restore sight. The sclera, or white portion of the eye, is used for grafts. Even the fluid within the eye is used in surgical procedures. Eye tissue not suitable for direct medical needs is utilized in research and education so that it, too, contributes to the fight against blindness.

The month of March was chosen for the campaign by the state's 30,000 Lions in more than 670 clubs because March has been designated as National Eye Bank Month by the Eye Bank Assn of America.

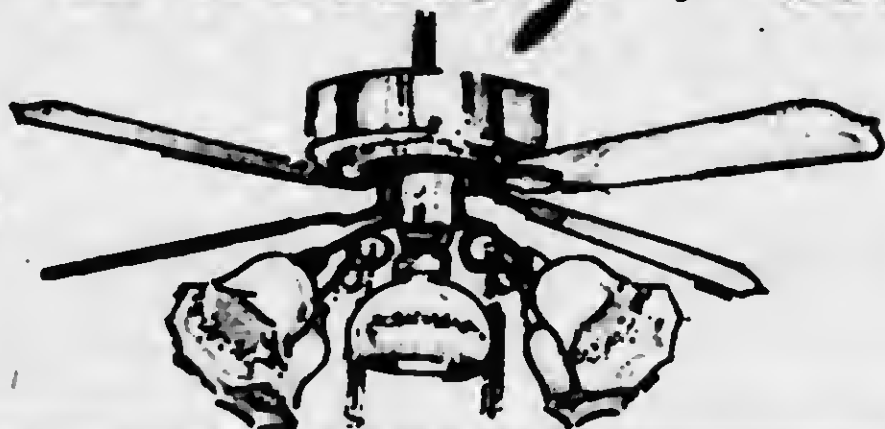

Pledge cards are signed and witnessed by two non-relatives. Although the card is a legal contract, the decision to donate eyes may be revoked by the donor at any time during his or her lifetime. The signer is given a permanent plastic "identification and authorization" card for wallet or purse.

The Lions do not charge any fee for the registry. It is a non-profit voluntary humanitarian service funded by contributions on Candy Day and from other private contributions.

For information about the program, contact your local Lions Club or the Lions of Illinois Foundation, 1515 N Harlem Avenue, Oak Park.

Chesterfield Federal's new CO-OP Home Mortgage can open the door to your new home

with guaranteed 25 year rates as low as 9.9%!

If you've been looking to purchase a new home, but have been discouraged by high interest rates, it's understandable. Home mortgage rates have been too high . . . until now. Chesterfield Federal Savings has found a way to make that home more affordable for you.

We've developed a special home mortgage called "CO-OP", which stands for Chesterfield's Opportunity to Own Property. It's designed to help people afford their own home by lowering the cost of financing, not an easy thing to do in today's economy, but we're committed and we're doing it!

We're excited about the new CO-OP home mortgage because it's a major step towards achieving low fixed rate financing with terms as long as 25 years. It's definitely a viable and low cost alternative to re-negotiable or balloon mortgages. We think that it's about time interest rates came down to a sensible level so the American Dream of home ownership can be realized by more people!

The key to our special CO-OP home mortgage is to have a portion of the total mortgage balance deposited into a Chesterfield Federal savings account by the home buyer, their parents, relatives or anyone with the available funds. The larger the percentage of deposit, the lower the rate. So depending on the amount deposited, the interest rate can be as low as 9.9%! The rate is guaranteed for 25 years and remember, the funds deposited will continue to earn daily interest.

So now you can own the home of your dreams through the revolutionary CO-OP home mortgage from Chesterfield Federal. For complete details, talk to a Chesterfield Mortgage Officer. Come in today, because only a limited number of these special mortgages can be made.

Special Events Commission plan Food Fest

The Special Events Commission, who will again bring an Oak Lawn Fest to the village, has announced a special night at the White Sox Park, Wednesday, May 11, when the Sox host the Toronto Blue Jays. Commission Chairman, LeRoy Corradino, presented this as the first in a series of events created for the residents, leading to the July Fest.

A special contest will be held for a bat boy or bat girl for the game. Sponsorship can come from any not-for-profit civic or church organization, with the winner resulting from the largest amount of tickets sold by the sponsoring group for the game. Contestants must be from 10 to 14 years of age, and he or she must be a resident of Oak Lawn. The Commission requests that all organizations begin planning their selection now for this most honored and recognized position.

Another feature of the event will be the awarding of 4 tickets to the 50th Anniversary All-Star game to be held in Sox park this coming July 6. Applicants, which may be individual, business or organization, must send a sealed minimum bid of $100, with an accompanied certified check to be eligible for selection. All envelopes must be addressed to the attention of: LeRoy Corradino, Oak Lawn Village Hall, 5252 Dumke Drive, Oak Lawn, IL 60453. All sealed bids will be opened May 23, with the winner selected on that date.

Other special features of the game will be the singing of the National Anthem by an Oak Lawn resident, the throwing out of the first ball by Mayor Ernie Kolb, plus recognition of groups and dignitaries present on the large scoreboard.

The Commission suggests all groups begin making plans now, as the season is rapidly approaching. Transportation to the game must be made on an individual basis. Bus lines available are: Suburban Transit, 422-0081; Kickert Bus Lines, 758-4740 or the Cook County Bus Company, 425-2900.

Join with Oak Lawn for a great night of fun, recognition and baseball at Sox park. Game time is 7:30 pm.

Mayor Kolb went on to say, "Because of Joe's past experience as Trustee and his vast knowledge of the workings of the Village of Oak Lawn, he will prove to be a valuable addition to the board."

Joe Vogrich helped start and organize the Citizens Coalition Party in 1977 and saw members Mayor Ernie Kolb, Village Clerk Jayne Powers, Trustees Jay Bergamini and Ron Stancik elected to their respective offices. Bob Bruce of the 4th District was elected Trustee in April of 1981 when the slate was re-elected.

distribute some 18,000 pieces of campaign literature, one for each home and family in Oak Lawn."

Representative payee responsibilities

An individual who is appointed representative payee for a person entitled to monthly benefits has the responsibility to properly use the benefits, report use of funds when asked, and to report changes that may affect payments. All funds must be used for the beneficiary's present needs, or if not presently needed conserved for future needs. Basic needs include food, shelter, clothing, and personal items.

Further information is available in the Social Security pamphlet, "Your Duties as a Representative Payee". These are available at any social security office, or by phone: 239-1200 for Chicago residents and 594-2876 for suburban residents.

One of the most common inquiries received by the Social Security Administration is "When is it necessary to have a representative payee?" Or, in other words, when should someone be appointed to receive a check on behalf of another individual?

There are generally only four circumstances in which an individual is determined to need a representative payee:

1. The beneficiary is under age 18 (with some exceptions).
2. The beneficiary has been judged to be legally incompetent by a court.
3. For the Supplemental Security Income Program - if the beneficiary has been medically determined to be a drug addict or an alcoholic.
4. The beneficiary is determined to have a physical or mental impairment which prevents him from managing his funds in his best interest.

The last of these circumstances is generally the most common instance when a representative payee is needed. In most instances, a doctor must certify the individual as incapable of handling his funds.

In order to become a representative payee for an individual, an application must be filed. There is a priority list of payees which often is used when more than one payee application is filed on behalf of the same beneficiary. The decision as to who should be appointed representative payee is made by Social Security.

Voters of Evergreen Park

April 12 will give you a chance to elect a Trustee who in my opinion, is one of the most qualified men for any government office that I have ever known in all my years in public service.

The man is Anton Bejcek, (commonly known as Tony) who is the most patriotic man I have ever met. He is a natural leader of young people proven by his ideas of programs that have been used to help the youth of the community to keep busy and off the streets. He is a fine family man who exemplifies the true American family, an ideal father and grandfather.

Tony has been a member of various boards in Evergreen Park where he has served well. He was president of our Republican Party in Worth Township for three years, and was held over by the members longer than anyone else in the history of the Worth Township Republicans. Tony has also helped many Democrats who have sought his counsel.

You will do yourself a favor by voting for Anton Bejcek for Village Trustee of Evergreen Park.

Capitol's IRA Gives you two tax shelters

Capitol Federal's Individual Retirement Account offers a double tax shelter and other advantages to help you and yours to build a comfortable nest egg for retirement.

1. The money you contribute to your Capitol IRA is tax-deductible from your gross income.
2. The interest your IRA earns is not taxed until you withdraw it.

It's as smart an investment as you can possibly make - saves in taxes now, builds a big nest egg for the future - and is safe: Your Capitol IRA is insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC.

Any wage earner under 70½ years of age can open a Capitol IRA. You can do it even if you are already covered by a pension or profit sharing plan. And you can contribute from $250 to $2,000 to your account (and, as we said, deduct it from your gross income). Married working couples can contribute up to $4,000 per year.

But time is of essence. If you wish to take the tax advantage on your tax return for 1982, you must establish your Capitol IRA by April 15th.

Call us at 636-6000 for more information.

Vogrich endorsement

VILLAGE VIEW has only one endorsement for the Tuesday, April 12th election, JOSEPH D. VOGRICH for Trustee in the 5th District.

Vogrich was a conscientious and hard worker during the years he served on the Oak Lawn Board of Trustees. He instituted many changes in the policies, government, and operations still in effect and for the betterment of the community as a whole.

However, this is not our main reason for the single endorsement. Others, both in and out of office, can be credited with many of the same accomplishments. The basis for our reasoning lies solely with his opponent George M. Morrissey.

Morrissey has two more years to complete on his 6 year term with the Oak Lawn Library Board and is aware that he will have to resign should he be elected trustee. He is also seeking a judgeship and has gone on record as having said that should this appointment come thru he will resign from the Oak Lawn Board of Trustees. It would appear that Morrissey is indulging in self interest rather than the best interests of the community and makes a mockery of the election process.

REFERENDUM NUMBER 1 ON BALLOT
Should the members of the Illinois General Assembly representing the people of this Village vote in favor of legislation establishing an Illinois Citizens Utility Board to represent consumers and oppose utility rate increases before the Illinois Commerce Commission?

PLEASE TAKE THE TIME TO VOTE
TUESDAY, APRIL 12, 1983. THANK YOU!

Yourell bill would elect ICC

State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell announced that he is sponsoring legislation to elect the Illinois Commerce Commission.

"Something must be done to give the consumer a stronger voice on the ICC and I believe that election of the commissioners is the best way to accomplish that goal," Yourell said.

House Bill 10 enlarges the ICC from 5 to 7 members and requires a commissioner to be elected from each of the seven appellate court districts. Presently, the ICC members are appointed by the Governor.

"The current appointed ICC seems to be more concerned with protecting the profit margins of Illinois utilities than with making sure that electricity and gas are delivered to the consumer in the most cost-efficient manner," Yourell said.

"By requiring election of the ICC commissioners, we will make them answerable to the consumer at the ballot box," Yourell said that support for the election of the ICC is gaining momentum throughout the state. "The people are getting tired of constant utility rate hikes and they want change now," Yourell said. "The people understand that if the commissioners are answerable to them and not the big utilities, they will get fairer utility rates."

Yourell added that the utility companies are gearing up to stop his bill. "The big utilities are afraid they will lose their stronghold on the ICC commissioners and they will be going all out to defeat my bill."

Northern Illinois Gas warns of impostors

Northern Illinois Gas (NI-Gas), warned customers to be alert for persons posing as employees.

Most service calls are made only at the customer's request. Occasionally, employees may need admittance to obtain a meter reading, exchange a meter, relight pilots, check gas appliances or turn service on or off during main construction.

When this occurs, customers are encouraged to ask for caller's identification card to confirm the person is a NI-Gas representative. Each employee carries a card with a photo, name and signature. Since any charges are included in regular bills, employees never collect money from customers for services work performed.

If the caller cannot be confirmed as a gas company employee, contact local authorities or nearest NI-Gas office listed in the phone directory, advises the company.

Prudential cuts auto rates in Oak Lawn

Prudential has cut its average auto insurance rates for Oak Lawn by 21%. The premium reductions reflect the company's "generally good claim experience" in the area.

Prudential said that the 21% rate cut here applies to a typical package of personal liability and physical damage coverages chosen by an average auto policyholder.

Actual changes in specific cases will vary according to a number of individual factors. These include the use of the vehicles, as well as the type and limits of the component coverages selected.

For example, drivers carrying higher limits of liability are likely to enjoy a more significant reduction.

Kolb sets Smoke

Detector Day

Mayor Ernest F. Kolb designated Smoke Detector Day. That day was set aside to make residents more aware of the life-saving capabilities of smoke detectors.

It is a fact that 90% of the fire deaths in Illinois, of which there were a total of 444 last year, could have been prevented with the installation of smoke detectors, home escape planning, and practice of the latter.

To help make Smoke Detector Day more effective the Oak Lawn Jaycees and the Oak Lawn Fire Department conducted a sale of smoke detectors at the McCastland Fire House, 103rd Street and Kostner.

Physically handicapped persons and/or those without means of transportation may call the firehouse at 636-2050 to make arrangements to have their smoke detectors delivered.

Smoke detectors can still be purchased at the Village Annex Building, 9630 Southwest Highway, on Monday thru Friday from 8:30 am to 5 pm. Battery operated detectors may be purchased by single family dwellers for $10. This offer will continue for the rest of the year.

Would you hold up this train for $500,000,000?

It comes from mines in Montana and Wyoming. Twenty-eight times a week.

And the cargo it carries is coal. Low-sulfur coal. The fuel for close to half of the electricity northern Illinois runs on every day.

In case you don't think that's worth a whole lot, think about this. Using coal to make the other half would have cost an extra five-hundred-million dollars last year.

That's what we saved by using uranium instead.

The fact is, it takes a mountain of coal—over one-hundred-thousand tons—to equal the energy we get from just one ton of uranium.

If that's hard to picture, imagine a train ten miles long. Car after car after car after car. Nine-hundred-ninety-six cars in all, each filled to the top with coal. Versus just one car, empty except for one small corner of uranium.

In terms of savings, the difference is just as enormous. We weren't exaggerating. Five-hundred-million dollars last year alone. Or sixty dollars every year for a typical residential customer.

It's not chicken feed. But it's not enough either. The more of those twenty-eight trains a week we can hold up, the more you can save.

Have the right thyme?

Back in the days of King Arthur, when a King's castle was his home, they didn't have wood floors or fancy rugs, so they used a carpet of fragrant herbs. And one of the favorite herbs for the royal feet was thyme.

Today, we don't use plants for rugs, but the pleasant aroma of thyme still graces many gardens and homes.

In Spain, you can find thyme growing all along the Mediterranean coast adding its sweet smell to the picturesque countryside.

For your own garden, grow it in lots of sunlight and dry soil; and when in full bloom, clip the tops and use them, sparingly, in soups, stuffings, and with just about any meat.

Thyme is one of the most versatile herbs and can also be used with vegetables, according to the Ortho garden book, "All About Vegetables," in many creative and unique ways.

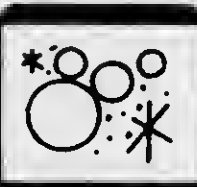

Not only will thyme add taste and smell to practically any meal, but it can give you the pride and pleasure of knowing that you grew it yourself.

News Information Supervisor
Commonwealth Edison Co.

If you are starting to get cabin fever as winter 1982-83 winds down, you and your group may be looking for a novel idea for an outing. The Visitor Center at Commonwealth Edison's Dresden Nuclear Generating Station may be just the thing.

The center offers, free of charge, an inside look at the way nuclear energy is produced. While security regulations prevent visitors from touring the actual plant, a trip to the center can be just as informative - if not more so. The "tour" is on film, which shows areas of the plant that would be off-limits, even if visitors were allowed inside. The one and one-half hour program also includes a short talk about Dresden by an experienced guide, a discussion of nuclear energy issues and a visit to an exhibition room, where various displays and models are explained. Free educational material is also provided.

When the weather gets better, you may want to pack a picnic lunch to enjoy at nearby Goose Lake Prairie State Park. If the "great indoors" is more to your liking, there are many fine restaurants in the area. There are no luncheon facilities at the center.

The center can accommodate up to 80 persons at a time, and there is no minimum number requirement. Visits are by appointment only. Normally, the center is open from 8 am to 4:30 pm, Monday thru Friday. In special cases, groups can arrange a visit on a Saturday, Sunday or in the evening. The center is not open on holidays.

To arrange a visit, either call or write to Tour Director Don Bromley as far in advance as possible. The address is Dresden Nuclear Generating Station, Rt 1, Morris, IL 60450. The phone number is 815-942-2920. Dresden is located just north of Lorenzo Road, four miles west of I-55.

Requests for tours should include the following information: desired time and date of visit; number of persons in group, makeup of group (senior citizens, scout troop, etc.); name, address and phone number of person in charge.

In 1982, the center played host to 2943 visitors, about the same as the 1981 total. This year, the center is again looking forward to greeting approximately 3000 guests.

All types of groups visit Dresden, including grade school, high school and college students, scout troops, service clubs, church organizations and visitors from numerous foreign countries.

If you can't get to the Visitor Center, Bromley or another Edison spokesperson will be glad to pay your group a visit, talk about nuclear energy and answer your questions. Give him a call at the number above or call the District Superintendent at your nearest Edison office listed in the white pages.

Saturday evening, March 26 was the night the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce honored their selection for this year's Citizen of the Year, Merrill Stenbom, (l) at a gala affair held in his behalf at the Oak Lawn Hilton. Stenbom was unanimously chosen because of his numerous involvements thruout the Oak Lawn area. His enthusiasm and selfless efforts have been apparent in his participation and accomplishments. It was therefore only fitting that he be rewarded by being the chamber's choice for 1983. Pictured with Stenbom is Bob Gaul, President of the Oak Lawn Chamber, (Oak Lawn Pet Center) presenting the chamber's appreciation plaque.

Bill would benefit firefighters/officers

Congressman Marty Russo is a cosponsor of legislation that would provide death benefits for federal law enforcement officers and firefighters who are killed in the direct line of duty while fighting crime, protecting the lives and property of the public and fighting fires.

"This bill would provide simple justice to federal firefighters and law enforcement officers," Russo commented, "by providing them with the same federal death benefit which is already provided to state and local law enforcement officers and firefighters under the Public Safety Officers Benefits Act of 1976.

"But there are other, important reasons for supporting this bill. Law enforcement and firefighting are hazardous occupations and too often, police and firefighters are called upon to sacrifice their lives for the protection of the lives and property of others. We are deeply indebted to them.

"Also, it is often the youngest of them who confront on-the-job hazards. Since younger officers generally have lower salaries, their workers' compensation benefits are often inadequate for their young families. This financial inequity has led to difficulties in attracting and retaining qualified police and firefighting personnel.

"The death benefits under this bill would help to provide federal police and firefighting personnel with the security which comes with the knowledge that in the event of their death in the line of duty, their families will be provided for. The cost to the taxpayers of this security is minimal and there are strong safeguards built into the program to insure against expansion of the program beyond the intention of the Congress."

The Congress has passed similar legislation before but the measure was vetoed by the President. The bill has been referred to the Education and Labor Committee in the House.

Yourell advises grants available

Rep Harry "Bus" Yourell (D-27) recently urged all students in the 27th Legislative District to apply as soon as possible for grants from the Illinois State Scholarship Commission.

"I know that April isn't the best time to ask a student if he or she plans to go to college next September," Yourell said, "but because of the budget cuts Governor Thompson has proposed, 30,000 less scholarships will be available for next school year.

"Fewer scholarships will mean stiff competition for remaining scholarship funds, and if students in my district are to have a fair chance at those funds, I advise them to apply to the Scholarship Commission as quickly as possible."

New MVCC Scholarship honors handicapped student

The inspirational example set by a former handicapped student at Moraine Valley College in Palos Hills has been memorialized thru the creation of a $600 annual scholarship in his honor.

Dan Creer, a student from Orland Park, fought a successful battle against muscular dystrophy long enough to complete his first year at Moraine Valley before dying last May.

The scholarship was approved by the Moraine Valley Board of Trustees at its March meeting. Dan's early childhood was like most children's until he was about four years old, when his parents noticed that his leg muscles were not as strong as they should be - that they had begun to atrophy.

Dan was diagnosed as having muscular dystrophy. His condition progressively declined. By the age of 11 he was confined to a wheelchair. Throughout elementary and high school, Dan had many teachers who encouraged him to continue his education and to work toward achieving his goals.

After graduating from Oak Forest High School, Dan enrolled at Moraine Valley. His dream was to become a doctor, but his goal was to major in science with the hope of entering the field of medical research.

Even though Dan was confined to a wheelchair and had very limited mobility, he still was able to maintain an excellent grade point average of 3.25.

At the Student Activities Banquet held last May, Dan was awarded the TASC Club Scholarship in recognition of his sincere desire to pursue a college degree and his inspirational personal commitment and courage.

The day after classes ended, at the age of 19, Dan passed away. "Dan was not able to meet his goal, but now, thru the scholarship, other physically disabled students will be encouraged by Dan's example," said Moraine

Buiding permits up in Worth Township

William Connors, Worth Township Assessor, in a report to the Township Board, reported that his Valley President, Fred Gaskin. "They will be helped to complete what he could not."

The scholarship will be offered each spring to the physically disabled student completing an Associate's degree program with the highest grade point average. In the event of a tie, the scholarship will be split.

To be eligible for the scholarship, a student must have a physical functional disability which may, in specific situations, substantially limit one or more of life's major activities.

The scholarship will be funded in equal portions by the Therapeutic Recreation Club, the TASC Club, the College Activity Office and the Moraine Valley Board of Trustees.

office processed 1625 building permits in 1982 for a total of $32,198,676 in property improvements. This was in comparison to $23,808,819 in 1981.

Connors praised his staff, Deputy Geri M. Doeslaere and Deputy Irene K. Krull for an outstanding effort for this and other services they provided to the public. He said that in early 1982 his office, which was located in the former township building, was being torn down around their heads. Connors said, "We had to move to our present location but no provisions had been made by the township board for the assessor's office." As a result we were working out of a store-room and out of boxes and at great inconvenience to the taxpayers. In spite of these abominable conditions his staff remained courteous and helpful (to the public) and placed service to the public above their comforts. Connors added that he considered it a great shame that the board members don't always recognize what is happening in their own township.

MARRIAGE & FAMILY THERAPY

... living life as a total experience.

JOSEPH J. MCCARTHY, Ph.D.

You and I are beginning an experience which will benefit you and our neighbors in the Oak Lawn area. This column will appear in each edition of the Village View and will attempt to answer your questions and give viable alternatives to destructive behavior. In your life as man, woman, wife, husband, child, teenager, widow or widower, we, me and my associates, will discuss the myriad of problems in that role and suggest paths of greater reward and productivity for you.

The procedure will be for you to write your questions in a note to the clinic and we will select those common topics and use a representative letter to answer in the column. Your confidentiality will always be maintained and letters will be destroyed when used or answered. Some topics you may wish to explore are marriage communication, parenting techniques, sexuality development, drug and alcohol addiction, sexual dysfunction, aging and the extended family, stress, anxiety, phobias, pain control, weight control, body image and some areas of medical disease categories such as Sexually Transmitted Disease (STD), terminal illness in your family, senility, abortion and adoption.

McCarthy and Associates is a group of Clinical Therapists approved by the American Association for Marriage & Family Therapy. There are two Psychiatrists and a Clinical Psychologist who along with two family counselors specializing in Teenage addiction and school adjustment concerns will respond to your questions with our combined expertise.

A professional marriage and family therapist spends from six to eight years in college and graduate school to earn the required advanced degrees in marriage and family therapy or in an allied mental health profession such as clinical social work, psychology (clinical, counseling, or pastoral) and/or psychiatry. The therapist then must get at least two years of specialized training as an "intern," doing marriage and family therapy under direct supervision in an approved training center. This internship includes supervision by veteran marriage and family therapists whose background may also include psychiatry, psychology, and/or social work. It is only after several hundred hours of such experience and "seasoning" that the therapist learns how best to use the knowledge and techniques he or she has acquired.

In states which license marriage and family therapists (presently California, Georgia, Michigan, Nevada, New Jersey, and Utah) a qualified therapist must have passed the state licensing examination. Moreover, this license must be renewed periodically. And in order to meet the high standards of membership in AAMFT, therapists must complete a certain number of hours each year in "continuing professional education" programs. By studying at workshops, conferences and clinical meetings, they maintain and update their professional skills.

In addition, members of the AAMFT must meet the most rigid standards of training and experience, and subscribe to a strict code of professional ethics.

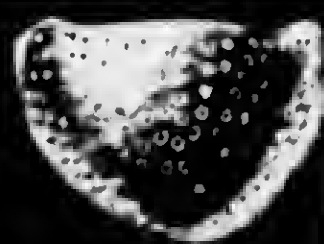

Not everyone who claims to be a "marriage counselor" has this training or these qualifications. There are, for example, many competent and legitimate persons in the "helping professions" who have not had specialized training in marriage and family therapy. In states that do not license marriage and family counselors, sketchily trained (or totally untrained) "lay counselors" are allowed to offer their services to the public. And unfortunately, in many communities out-right charlatans and quacks prey on gullible and troubled couples.

Any individual or couple seeking marital therapy should not hesitate to inquire in detail about a counselor's background and qualifications. The legitimate therapist always welcomes questions about his or her training, experience, methods, and fees.

As the time moves on I will give you a brief resume of each therapist and his or her qualifications, suffice it now to assure you of the highest quality of training, caring and respect for you, and your life, from we therapists at the clinic.

Please write your questions clearly and precisely, indicating important information such as age, duration of problem and anything already done to bring about a solution, we'll do the rest. Anonymous letters will not be answered, if you wish only initials and home town indicated sign your letter that way.

This should be exciting, informative and helpful for all of us, send questions, comments to: McCarthy & Associates, Inc., Joseph J. McCarthy, Ph.D., 4550 West 103rd Street Oak Lawn, IL 60453

National Volunteer Week named by Elrod

April 17-23 is National Volunteer Week. According to a March, 1981 Gallup Poll Survey, 53% of our teenagers and 52% of our adults volunteered during a one year period. Since more than half of our teenagers have volunteered, this week is an excellent time to thank not only the adults, but also the youth who have given gifts of their time and talent and to encourage their continued participation in community life.

Today's teenagers are suffering from the economic woes of our nation. In the fall of 1982, 16 to 19 year olds had a 23.6% unemployment rate in the state of Illinois; the statistic is even higher for minority youth in the city of Chicago (1982, Bureau of Labor Statistics). With fewer and fewer employment opportunities, we need to consider volunteerism as an excellent way to help youth feel useful, needed, and involved in responding to the vital problems of our communities.

Young people can do wonderful things if they are given a chance. Thruout the country, they are working in tutoring programs, energy relieve the overcrowding passengers have experienced occasionally during the morning rush hours and provide extra seating for people who would like to take advantage of this express service.

For information concerning RTA carriers call the RTA Travel Information Center at 1-800-972-7000 from the suburbs; 836-7000 from Chicago.

Kolb to host meeting of mayors April 28

Mayor Kolb will host a meeting of mayors from all of the neighboring communities for the purpose of discussing RTA's plans for a June 1st reduction in fares and improvements in the bus routes. This will be held Thursday, April 28 at the Oak Lawn Village Hall.

This promises to be an exciting and provocative program and the public, especially members of the clergy, is encouraged to attend and participate in the discussion. Refreshments will be served. Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for persons under 18.

Because of renovation to the Castle, WOMANSPIRIT will also present its May 17 program on "Feminism and the Family" at St Xavier College.

conservation projects, health services, daycare and companionship programs, and as assistants to parks and recreation departments. In addition, youth serve on boards of directors of social service agencies, religious institutions, and political organizations and provide formal input to boards of education.

National Volunteer Week is your opportunity to help young people participate in meaningful ways in their communities. If your group does not presently include young people, think about inviting them to join your efforts. If you need information, training or technical assistance on how to involve young people in your group, write or call the Cook County Sheriff's Youth Services Department at 1401 S Maybrook Drive, Maywood, IL 60153 (865-2900).

The Youth Services Dept will provide you with a package of information that describes how to operate projects that include youth and adults, where to get assistance in developing such programs, and places to recruit young people.

Remember: when you need helping hands, think youth. Chances are that one out of two of them will help you if only you ask them.

Parents!

If high interest rates are putting the dream of home ownership out of your son's or daughter's reach . . .

Owning a home. What used to be the American dream for you and your parents is now a veritable nightmare for your children. High interest rates continue to keep home ownership out of reach for your young adults. Until now!

Chesterfield Federal's revolutionary CO-OP home mortgage can substantially lower the cost of home financing making it easier than ever for your children to purchase a home. And it has one key ingredient . . . YOU.

The Larger Your Deposit, the Lower Their Interest Rate

Here's how the CO-OP program works. You deposit a portion of the total mortgage balance into a Chesterfield Federal savings account. We will reduce the interest rate of the mortgage proportionate to the amount of your deposit. The larger the deposit, the lower the rate. And not only will your offspring be getting a great interest rate, your deposit will be earning interest.

Seven of 30 community residents receive "Art of Living" certificates for successfully completing Chesterfield Federal's pilot 8 week money management course (l to r) Shirley Costello, Chester Dolata, Linda Dolata, Kennie James, Barbara Thompson, Dorothy Brandner, and Bob Miller with Jeanne and Gerald Vaver, Personal Budget Advisors and Michael E. DeHaan, Chesterfield Federal President.

'Art of Living' seminars to continue at Chesterfield

Thirty community residents are a lot more than penny-wise after completing Chesterfield Federal Savings' pilot 8 week "Money Management Course for Adults". Students met on 8 consecutive Saturdays for 2 hour sessions to learn more about the multitude of personal financial considerations we are faced with everyday and common sense ways to handle them.

Topics covered in the money management course ranged from wages, taxes, shopping, and credit, to insurance financial services, and real estate. The instructors for the course were Gerald and Jeanne Vaver, personal budget advisors who have assisted in previous "Art of Living" workshops.

Peg Lowery, community service director for Chesterfield Federal Savings, said, "The money management course evolved from an overwhelming interest in practical, personal finance as expressed in a survey handed out during our March "Art of Living" workshop. It is our wish to continue to be responsive to the needs of the community and offer assistance and advice on matters of everyday importance such as personal finance".

Seminars in the continuing "Art of Living" series are provided free of charge to the public by Chesterfield Federal Savings. The second session of the 8 week basic money management course has already begun and plans are being set for a third session in September. For more information call Chesterfield Federal Savings and Loan at 239-6000.

Pilgrim Faith presents different kind of night

Looking for a different kind of "Saturday Night Live"? Live big-band sound, vaudeville turns, impersonations, even a live "Tootsie" contest, are all on stage and a Chicken Kiev dinner is on the menu Saturday night, April 30 when the Odd Couples present their "Foolish Follies" at Pilgrim Faith Church, Oak Lawn.

Performers with a soft shoe or hot trumpet have been recruited from their more conventional places in the church by talent-spotters from this fellowship group for young couples. The club is sponsoring a dinner show for everyone's enjoyment and to benefit the mission budget. Low ticket prices, $5 for dinner and the show, $2 for the show only, encourage a good attendance.

"The Odd Couples" is the latest name for a group first organized simply as the Young Couples' Club. Its membership grew so rapidly that a second group was needed and was called, for a time, the "Younger, Young Couples". To end this confusion each group chose a name are now "Odd Couples" and "Caring Couples". Pastors Edward Goltz and Joyce DeGraaff each informally sponsor a club.

Pilgrim Faith Church, a congregation of the United Church of Christ, is located at 9411 S 51st Avenue, Oak Lawn. For information call 422-4200.

Yourell legislation would eliminate 'lemons'

New car buyers who get stuck with a "lemon" would either get their money back or receive a replacement car under legislation co-sponsored by State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell.

House Bill 64 requires that a car manufacturer must give a refund or a replacement to a consumer if the company is unable to repair defects in a new car after a reasonable number of attempts.

"When you buy a new car, you expect it to work, and when it doesn't work, you expect some satisfaction from the manufacturer," Yourell said. "We need to protect the little guy from getting ripped off by the big auto companies when his car is a lemon."

Yourell's auto consumer protection bill is modeled after "Lemon Laws" in Connecticut and California that require manufacturers to live up to their warranties.

"Under my bill, if an auto dealer is unable to repair a defect within four or more attempts or is unable to make the car conform to warranty terms, the consumer could either request a refund of his full purchase price less an allowance for normal use or accept a replacement car of equal value," Yourell explained.

"Without my law, the consumer has no recourse or protection except to bear the cost of additional repairs or suffer a substantial loss in value on his car."

The legislation is awaiting action in the House Judiciary Committee.

When to retire is common problem for seniors

People approaching retirement age generally find themselves left with one major decision after having weighed all the pros and cons of retirement. That is, exactly when to retire.

As far as Social Security is concerned, that division can make a difference in how well the program meets your needs, including the amount of your check as well as the total amount of benefits you can expect to receive over the period of your retirement.

The earliest you can retire is at age 62. However, Social Security benefits are reduced 5/9 of one percent for each month you are retired before you reach age 65 - amounting to a reduction of 20% if you retire about the same in total benefits over the longer period of time they will be getting benefits.

People who delay their retirement past age 65 may expect to have their retirement check increased by 3% for each year that they don't get checks after age 65. A person who retires at age 68 will have his or her check increased by 9% over what it would have been at age 65.

The age at which a person retires also makes a difference in how much they can earn without affecting their Social Security benefits. People age 65 and over may earn up to $6600 in 1983 without affecting their Social Security benefits. People under age 65 may earn up to $4920. Earnings over the limit result in $1 in benefits being withheld for each $2 in excess earnings. Starting in 1983, earnings by people 70 and over are not affected by the earnings limits, also known as the "retirement test".

During the first year of retirement a monthly test is applied. This enables a person to retire any time during the year and collect full benefits for any month in which he or she does not earn over the monthly limit and does not perform substantial services in self-employment, regardless of total earnings for the year.

You should apply for Social Security benefits at least 3 months before the month you plan to retire to give Social Security time to process your claim so that your checks begin with the month you plan to stop working.

For more information about retiring, Chicago residents may call 239-1200 and suburban residents may call 594-2876. Calls to this number are monitored, however the calling party has the right to request that the call not be monitored.

Keane sponsors legal awareness

Legislation sponsored by Representative James Keane, requiring that local governments be notified of all laws which have a direct impact on them has been a long-time coming. When we think of new laws we are inclined to think negative. This is not always so - there have been times when a new law may benefit a local community and can be overlooked for several years or until some happening and the legislation is uncovered accidentally.

Under the proposed legislation by Keane, the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs would annually notify local governments of all state legislation which has taken effect during the preceding 12 months which, in the department's view, significantly affects the functions of local governments.

"Illinois has over 6600 local governments by far the most of any state in the country," said Keane. "Yet we have no system for informing local governments of new laws that may affect them."

"There are various local government associations that do an excellent job of keeping their members up-to-date on new laws pertaining to them," Keane said. "But there are still many local governments, particularly smaller ones, that fall thru the cracks."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THANKS FROM ANDERSON TO VILLAGE VIEW

My sincere thanks to all the workers who gave so much of their time and energy to my campaign for re-election. Also to all those who voted for me, thanks for your support.

Your newspaper gave all of the candidates fair representation during the campaign and this was appreciated too.

The votes have been counted and now those elected will have the opportunity to fulfill the promises made to the voters.

As for the Community Action Party, we have an even greater responsibility than we had before. There is need for a two party system in Oak Lawn and we pledge to meet this need. We will continue to support the most qualified candidates running for public office and in the year ahead we plan to expand our membership village wide.

/s/ Les Anderson

TO THE RESIDENTS OF OAK LAWN'S 1ST DISTRICT

I extend my grateful appreciation to all who participated and elected me Trustee of our District.

During the next four years I intend to follow through on my platform as presented during the campaign.

No one achieves everything on his own; your continued input is necessary to attain the goals we have set.

Again, a very warm and sincere thank you!

"This bill is based on testimony presented before the legislative Local Accounting Task Force," said Keane. "It is obvious from the recommendations made to the Task Force that local officials need more and better information regarding the laws that affect them."

The Local Accounting Task Force has been examining local government financial procedures and has held public hearings across the state to improve local fiscal management and to increase decision-making capabilities of local officials.

Rep Keane (D-Chicago) is the Chairman of the Task Force.

Crime Victims' Fund supported by Hartigan

Illinois Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan recently testified in Chicago before a Congressional subcommittee in support of legislation that would create a Federal Crime Victims' Compensation Fund.

Calling the bill "long overdue," Hartigan said: "For years, we have spent our money and concern on our Criminal Justice System and the perpetrators of crime. It is time that we created a 'Victim's Justice System.'"

Hartigan lauded Illinois Congressman Marty Russo, sponsor of the federal legislation, at a joint press conference in the Dirksen Federal Building prior to the subcommittee hearings.

Hartigan noted that the subcommittee hearings on the Russo legislation coincided with National Victims Rights Week which began April 17.

Cong Russo's legislation calls for using a part of the existing federal excise taxes on gun sales to establish the new Federal Crime Victims' Compensation Fund. Taxes on rifles, shotguns and ammunition would continue to fund wildlife habitat management, but excise taxes currently collected on handguns would be used to establish the new federal Victims Trust Fund.

Attorney General Hartigan also announced a series of new state legislative measures which he is seeking to improve the Illinois Crime Victims Compensation Act administered by the Attorney General's Office.

"Society tends to forget that victims exist, but they do and they are our family, our friends, our co-workers, our neighbors -- they are us. The attorney general's office, thru this new legislation, will be able to increase the help we give victims and alleviate the double trauma of being victimized twice -- once by the criminal and a second time by the criminal justice system," Hartigan said.

The attorney general pointed out that his office has doubled the number of claims processed for crime victims statewide during the 3 months he has been in office and that his goal is to continue to eliminate the backlog until all current cases are being processed on a timely basis.

ICC introduces legislation to benefit consumer

Legislation has been introduced in Springfield which would allow the Illinois Commerce Commission to require the natural gas distributors of the state of Illinois to interconnect with each other. The intent would be to have the lowest possible priced gas for all gas utility customers.

NI-Gas is the largest natural gas distributors in the state and has lower cost gas than most all other utilities. As such, NI-Gas must be concerned that its customers' costs are not increased. At the same time, whether or not the proposed legislation is passed, NI-Gas will be pleased to

Homeowner's Exemption deadline May 31st

Cook County Assessor Thomas C. Hynes extended the deadline for filing Homeowner's Exemption applications to May 31.

"More than 200,000 homeowners," Hynes said, "have not yet returned the applications we mailed recently for the Homeowner's Exemption. We are extending the application deadline until May 31 so that all those who are eligible for this important tax relief will have every opportunity to receive it."

"We are also proposing legislation to provide further relief for homeowners by increasing the amount of the exemption from $3000 to $3500."

The Homeowner's Exemption results in tax savings of as much as $300 by eliminating from taxation any increase in the taxable value ("equalized assessed valuation") of a home up to $3000 over what the taxable value was in 1977.

Eligible properties are single family homes, condominiums, cooperatives and apartment buildings (six units or less) whose current or previous owner occupied the property as a principal residence as of January 1, 1982. It can be granted, however, only if the owner returns a signed application verifying owner occupancy.

Senior citizens already qualified to receive the 1982 Senior Homestead Exemption will automatically receive the 1981 Homeowner's Exemption. Therefore, they were not mailed applications and do not have to apply for it.

Homeowners who have never received an application, or who have misplaced their original, can obtain a duplicate by contacting Assessor Hynes' main office (County Building, 118 N Clark, Chicago 60602, 443-7500) or branch offices (16501 Kedzie, Markham 60426, 596-8000 ex 620 or 1500 Maybrook Square, Maywood 60153, 865-6032). Applications can also be obtained at the local Township Assessor's offices in suburban townships.

YMCA offers help for 'running' young people

"Do you know where you're going to? Do you like the things life is showing you?" Some teenagers don't know where to go, especially when life at home and school becomes stressful. As a last resort in an unheard cry for help, the young person runs, even if there is no particular destination.

As adult members of the southwest area of the city of Chicago and surrounding suburbs, we can help youth in our locality find out where to turn to for help. The Southwest YMCA offers temporary housing for a period of one day to two weeks. Volunteer families, couples, or individuals, open their homes and hearts to these teens, as YMCA staff members work with the family to overcome difficulties that sent the teen searching for a better way.

by John Hogan
News Information Supervisor
Commonwealth Edison Co.

On May 1, Commonwealth Edison will mark the first anniversary of a special program to assist customers with hearing and speech impairments, and by all accounts, the venture has been a success.

Using a specially equipped phone, Edison customer service representatives are able to communicate with the hearing and speech impaired. A teletypewriter, known as a Telecommunications Device, makes it possible for the customer to type a message over the phone and receive an answer the same way.

In order for the hearing impaired customer to have easy access to Edison, a toll-free number, to be used only in connection with the special equipment, is provided. That number is 1-800-572-5789. A customer service representative using the equipment is available to answer calls to this number from 8 am to 4:30 pm on regular business days.

The new equipment displays messages on a digital readout and printout and then transmits this information over telephone lines to a similar receiver. The Chicago Hearing Society estimates there are about 3000 to 5000 teletypewriter units in the metropolitan Chicago area. They also report there are from 40,000 to 60,000 hearing impaired people in the greater Chicago area. Edison feels this service is important to these customers.

When the customer dials the toll-free number, the phone is answered and immediately attached to the Telecommunications Device. The customer service representative is then able to provide the service requested. Generally, the majority of calls are related to connecting or disconnecting electrical service, and questions about bills or service.

To obtain information about the Telecommunications Device, customers should contact their local telephone company office.

Russo supports repeal of TEFRA

Congressman Marty Russo has announced his support for the repeal of the withholding provisions contained in the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 (TEFRA).

In doing so, Russo, a member of the House Ways & Means Committee, stated that he expected that body to consider the repeal of withholding early this week.

Congressman Russo expressed his satisfaction that negotiations between the members of the committee and the supporters of repeal had created a climate in which the obvious public concern about the effect of withholding could be responded to as quickly as possible.

"Ever since the adoption of TEFRA last August," Russo said, "many of us who had deep misgivings about withholding, but who supported it as part of an overall package to reduce the federal deficit, have been actively searching for a solution which would strike the withholding provisions of the bill, while at the same time providing for the substitution of the lost revenue."

Marty Russo

But, as the date for implementation draws near, it has become increasingly clear to me that we have to act now if we are to avoid subjecting the American people to an unwieldy and confusing tax measure."

Under the threat of a Presidential veto, the Senate has adopted a proposal that would delay the implementation of withholding to 1987. Russo said that he preferred and would support an immediate repeal of the provision, thus ending for the foreseeable future any possibility that withholding on interest and dividends would be a part of this nations tax policy.

Huge civil penalty for 'pyramid' schemes

One of the bills in Attorney General Neil Hartigan's consumer package adopted recently makes so-called "pyramid" schemes a violation of the Illinois Consumer Fraud Act, carrying with it a maximum civil penalty of $50,000. The bill also makes pyramiding a criminal offense with a maximum prison sentence of up to one year in jail and a fine of $1000.

Hartigan pointed out that Illinois and other states have been plagued with pyramid schemes for many years. Literally hundreds, and maybe even thousands, of citizens have lost huge

Rotary donates to Picnic Bench campaign

Oak Lawn Rotary Club President Tom Stanek is shown above presenting a check to LeRoy Corradino, President of Oak Lawn Trust & Savings Bank and member of the Oak Lawn Special Events Committee, as a donation to the Oak Lawn Park District Picnic Bench campaign. The funds are to be used for the purpose of purchasing 10 picnic benches for the village. Several participants of the Oak Lawn Centennial Celebration are contributing portions of their proceeds to this campaign, as is the Oak Lawn Rotary Club as a result of their beer booth operation during the celebration. Contributions are being solicited from village residents and businesses alike.

amounts of money as a result of these deceptive schemes. "Chain letters" involving money are considered pyramids, as well as the "golden opportunity" meetings prevalent in pyramiding, Hartigan said.

The other consumer bill passing committee increases the civil penalties for violations of the Consumer Fraud Act. It changes the penalty from $50,000 a person to $50,000 per violation.

If a person is found guilty on three counts, for example, a fine of up to $150,000 would be possible instead of $50,000 as is now the law, Hartigan said.

MARRIAGE & FAMILY THERAPY

...living life as a total experience.

JOSEPH J. MCCARTHY, Ph.D.

The response to this article is truly amazing. I will try and answer as many of the questions as possible. I will often use a "sample" letter, one which represents a great number of similar letters, and answer that one specifically.

When available resources for further information or services are known we will indicate them, also if one of my associates joins me in the answers that will also be noted. Please keep sending your questions or comments, they are all valuable and help identify areas where McCarthy & Associates can concentrate our answers and spend more time in exposition of all aspects of the alternatives we suggest.

Dear Dr McCarthy,

I am a new mother who is now going back to work. I have a college degree and am intelligent. I haven't been off work too long (about 6 months), and had a good work record for four years before our first baby last December. I am in a new company but doing relatively the same work. But, now I can't make a decision without almost crying or screaming because of my fear of being wrong. I never felt this way before, does having a baby do that?

/s/ M.G., Oak Lawn

No, having a baby does not do that! I would suggest you check your diet for proper nutrition, your sleep habits for proper amounts of relaxed sleep and discuss this with your husband. Anxiety can be very draining of stamina and mental alertness so good food and rest are essential. If there are other significant anxiety producing factors such as; a good baby-sitter, guilt about leaving baby, financial concerns within your marriage or others, you are fighting a losing battle. You must prioritize your efforts. You must put what is most important first, then see if it is the job causing you anxiety or all of the factors beating you. Either way you should approach your employer and explain these factors and show him/her you are also aware of diminished productivity by yourself and that you are working on a solution. An employer who doesn't positively respond to you may not be worth your anxiety, one who responds positively is deserving of your loyalty and honesty. Lastly, on your next visit to the Ob-Gyn doctor mention this behavior.

Yourell/Steczo bill eases petition requirements

Legislation that would make it easier to circulate petitions for statewide referenda has been introduced by State Representatives Harry "Bus" Yourell and Terry Steczo (D-Posen).

House Bill 1558 amends the requirement that a petition must be signed by voters from the same election jurisdiction at the petition circulator.

"We retain the requirement that all petition signers must be from the same election jurisdiction, changing only the requirement on who can pass the petitions," Yourell said.

"This small change will make it much easier to circulate petitions for statewide referendum questions, thus making it easier for voters to voice their opinion on questions of public policy," Steczo added.

Harry "Bus" Yourell

The legislation also eliminates a tactic used by some local officials to prevent the public from submitting policy questions for the ballot. Because current law limits the number of policy questions on a ballot to three, some officials would load up the ballot with their own innocuous questions to stop petition drives they oppose. The Yourell-Steczo bill changes the law saying that limit applies only to questions initiated by petition.

"As Lincoln said, government is 'of the people, by the people, for the people,' therefore we should not limit the people's ability to request a popular vote on important questions of public policies," Yourell said.

"Limiting the people's right to petition their government is a direct assault on the spirit of our democratic rights," Steczo said. "We should encourage this right, not limit it."

'From the Mouths of Babes'

GUEST EDITORIAL by Lou Novinson

"From the Mouths of Babes"

"I really don't know when the phrase was first used or who even used it. But, in this case, it is certainly appropriate," said Lou Novinson.

"On Friday, May 27 at Sward School, 98th and Brandt in Oak Lawn, 12 actors and actresses will take to the stage and present a play titled "Lady Detectives". What makes this group unique is that they wrote the play. It was written by Mary Novinson and Elise Kirar," Novinson continued.

"This play first came to light in the fall of '82 when it was written for themselves and would be presented in the backyard for a few friends.

"In the meantime they heard about a Food Pantry at their school and they asked if they could get some of their friends together and put the show on to raise money to help the Food Pantry grow," he continued.

"When it was explained that it takes more than just standing on a stage and reading some lines from a book -- that they would need many things like a director, scenery, props, tickets, etc., you'd think they would have been discouraged. They were not.

"They knew of a student teacher whom they all agreed was the best. Armed with a name and an idea of where to find her, they then made contact and Miss Blair Pronites became their Director," said Novinson.

"Things began to happen at a faster pace now. The Principal of Sward School, who originated the Food Pantry, secured the gym at the school for them.

"Fred Kautz, who they knew to be a man of ideas, was next. They got him to build props and, as he has always done, he jumped right in to help further.

"Another resident, Jack Harnedy, donated t-shirts with their names as well as the name of their group on them," Novinson said.

"As each day went by, the story spread. People came from all over: mothers to sell and take tickets; fathers helping in any way they could; merchants donating money; elected officials supporting them and school officials backing them.

"May 27 will not be just a night that a play will be presented," said Novinson, "but one of the few times that the entire village will be brought together.

"Oh, yes," Novinson went on, "the Food Pantry will benefit from this as will the group putting on the show. But the real winners will be Oak Lawn as they will gain thru all of this in ways that will not show up that night but for many future nights to come.

"Oh, before this article is ended," Novinson concluded,

"the reason this article started with "Out of the mouths of Babes" is that the Sward Players Groupe, who will present this original play, range in age from 6 to 9 years old."

EDITORS NOTE: We are proud to have known Lou Novinson for many years. He has been involved with and helping the children of Oak Lawn from the innocent, to those having very serious problems, since he was a very young man. Novinson is truly "A Man For All Seasons".

Legislation would require public thoughts on ICC

Assistant Senate Majority Leader Terry Bruce of Olney introduced legislation recently requiring public deliberations of the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) in utility ratemaking cases.

Senate Bill 849, introduced at the request of Attorney General Neil Hartigan, eliminates the current provision in the Open Meetings Act which exempts the ICC from meeting in public "during deliberations for decisions."

Hartigan said, "This deprives citizens from knowing the rationale for decisions that increase their gas and electric rates. "It is not enough that the final vote of the Commerce Commission must be public. Preliminary meetings held to discuss rate increase requests also should be public. Presently, those deliberations are held behind closed doors."

Hartigan noted that other quasi-judicial public bodies in Illinois are required to deliberate their decisions in full public view. "The Illinois Commerce Commission should not be an exception," he concluded.

Recently, Hartigan's office publicly opposed

Small Business Division introduced by Keane

Legislation has been introduced in the Illinois House which would create a Small Business Division within the Illinois Dept of Commerce and Community Affairs to assist small businesses in the state.

House Bill 238, sponsored by Rep James Keane, D-Chicago, would require the department to:

Coordinate the activities of all state agencies performing functions affecting the operation of small businesses in the state; help attract new businesses to Illinois by streamlining business license and application procedures; provide counsel to small businesses in their dealings with federal, state and local governments; assist small businesses in obtaining available managerial, technical, and financial assistance; and develop a guide on the purchasing procedures and practices of state agencies.

"Small business has been a major factor in the political, economic and social development of Illinois," said Rep Keane. "It is no secret that small businesses provide the bulk of all new jobs.

"And with 240,000 small businesses in Illinois it is imperative that we promote and encourage the growth and expansion of small businesses. The economic well-being of our state depends on it."

The proposed legislation would also require a Small Business Advisory Council to be formed within the Small Business Division. The council would be composed of 10 members, appointed by the Governor, who are representatives of small businesses.

Functions of the council would be to serve as a source of expertise and information on small businesses and keep the division informed of problems affecting small businesses.

Yourell's bill to maintain health insurance passes committee

The House Insurance Committee has recently approved and sent to the floor a bill that would allow unemployed workers to maintain group insurance coverage for up to six months after they are fired or laid off.

State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell, co-sponsor of the legislation, said House Bill 403 is simply a humane way of helping those who lost their jobs to deal with the trauma, especially during difficult economic times.

The committee approved the measure by a vote of 8 to 4.

According to the terms of the bill, employees would be required to pay the premiums for maintaining insurance for up to six months. During that time it is expected the employee will have had a chance to find another job and suitable hospital and medical coverage.

"A recent New York Times survey showed that more than 16 million Americans have lost health insurance coverage when they lost their jobs," Yourell said. "And many others are postponing medical treatment until they can get new insurance which could be unwise and even harmful in some cases."

"Those who oppose this bill are afraid of losing money. The unemployed who have to convert their policy or purchase a new policy are paying much more for far fewer benefits," he said. "With the number of unemployed in our state today we need to provide some security to ease the financial and psychological burden our people are faced with.

"If we don't take care of them when all they need is a little time to get back on their feet, we will be paying a higher price later on when they make their way into the welfare system," Yourell said.

legislation weakening the Open Meetings Act. House Bill 651 was defeated in committee after Shawn Denney, Chief Attorney in the Attorney General's Office, testified against the measure.

Hartigan also is working with Senator Bruce on a state Open Records Act which would further open up government to the public.

"A fascinating nostalgic romp, covering one of my personal favorite historic periods... the 50's"

"A delightful potpourri of memorabilia, funky 50's sounds, exaggerated movements and 'cool & tough' dialogue"

So says Dick Clark, the perennial teenage disc jockey, about one of his

The musical gives a wonderfully exhilarating view of lifestyles in the 50's. Yet it appeals to anyone who has gone to high school, fallen in love, or just done crazy stunts for acceptance.

Oak Lawn's Food-A-Rama for good family fun

"It was a venture - and we knew it," Lenore Colson, a Commissioner of Special Events, and Chairman of this year's Food-O-Rama portion of the Fest said, "but with more than three hundred thousand people turning out, we felt it necessary that the village responded again this year."

And Oak Lawn has. Not only in areas already developed, but expansion beyond. The Food Tents are loaded to capacity - well ahead of last year; and not only that, additional variety of foods have been added to entice not only those who attended last year - but the curious newcomers as well. When the Board of Trustees and Mayor Ernie Kolb stamped approval last November, the word was go! Go - in all directions.

"We were not borrowing from the 'Taste of Chicago'," LeRoy Corrodino, Chairman of the Commission responded. "Instead we were developing a strong base on Chicago-lands southwest side that would entice thousands from the entire area to participate. Our portions are larger, our prices are better, and we have worked out facilities right here in the 'heart of our village' second to none!"

With four large tents, which protects those attending from the elements, the Special Events Commission has structured a Gigantic Food-O-Rama Fest which should appeal to everyone.

Each tent has an appealing variety for everyone's taste, yet each is not overpowered with the same type food. In fact, those attending will find only one variety of its type existing under tents one, two, three and four.

You can travel to Great America, Six Flags - or downtown Chicago this summer, but when you put them all together for good family fun, the Village of Oak Lawn believes its own Fest, created and designed to entertain you will be a "must" on your list of casual enjoyment. It will take place July 8, 9 and 10 - and it's all existing for you! Tremendous - just tremendous!

Pizza, Polish, Spanish, Bohemian, Greek, Chinese, German, American - ribs, beef, corn-on-the-cob, chicken, ice cream, hot dogs, elephant ears, cookies, candy - a blend, you name it, you've got it! See you there!

Bill would pay interest to winning party in law suit

There is a bill now before the Illinois Senate calling for pre-judgment interest that you may have missed but that the Illinois Insurance Information Service thinks deserves your attention:

Quite simply the bill, S.B. 87 says that any defendant in a lawsuit must pay interest to the person who sues him and wins from the day the suit is filed until the day the verdict is returned.

They think it is a bad proposal because it makes false assumptions and is patently unfair.

For example, it assumes that a defendant automatically is wrong and when sued ought to give up immediately because he'll have to pay interest if he loses.

It assumes, too, that all court delays are caused by defendants who refuse to cave in when they're sued, even if they feel the suit is unfair or the demand is excessive.

To cite an example in the media, if the bill becomes law it would mean that a newspaper or a TV or radio station that resists a libel or slander suit it thinks is unfair is, in effect, guilty of delay and ought to be "fined" in the form of interest payments.

Thus, in that famous Alton Telegraph libel case, the newspaper would not only have to pay the $9.2 million judgment against it but pre-judgment interest, too.

Again, the Illinois Insurance Information Service thinks this is clearly unfair. If you have any questions call 321-0653.

nicate, requiring the use of a hearing aid, sign language, fingerspelling, lip reading, or speech. All campers must be ambulatory and able to perform self-help skills.

The program at Camp Lions "Ravenswood" is aimed at the younger child from northern Illinois. There will be one 2 week session, from July 24 to August 5.

House Bill 2274 would exempt from state income tax any interest earned on savings instruments that are exempt from federal taxes. Currently, only "All Savers" would qualify for this exemption.

"All Savers were given federal tax exempt status to encourage investment by small savers and generate

"Many small investors bought these certificates to get the substantial federal tax break. Unfortunately, they had to add back that interest income when they paid state income taxes. My bill removes that penalty."

If you'd adjust to summer, we might not have to.

Starting the day your meter is read after May 15, electric rates will go up for the summer. To just under 10¢ per kilowatt-hour. That's because people use so much electricity in the summer that it costs us more to make. And your costs reflect our costs.

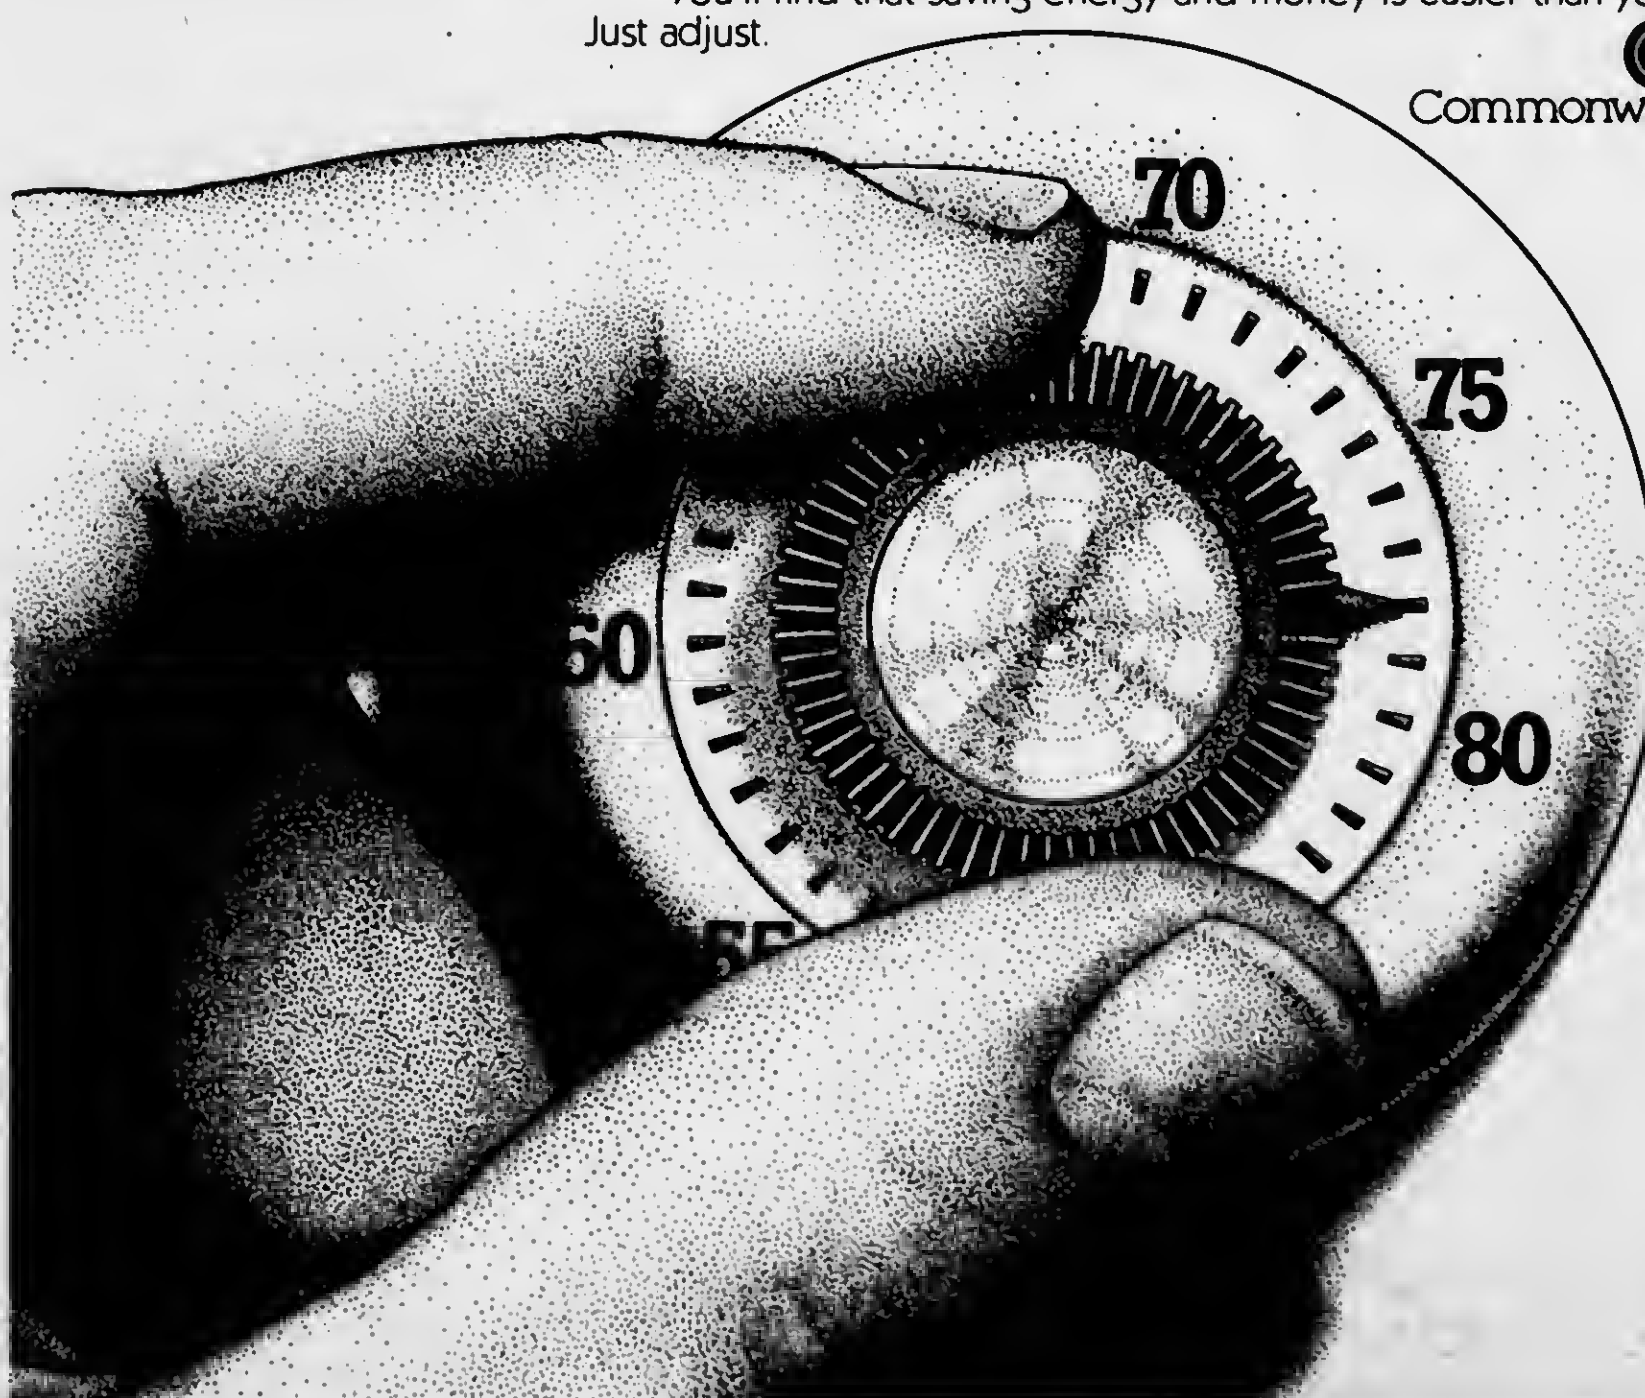

So use a little less air conditioning—a little less electricity. Simply keeping your home at 78 degrees would help a lot. Help keep your summer bills down and still keep you comfortable.

Of course, your rates are lower (just under 8¢ per kwh) the rest of the year to compensate. Which lets people without air conditioning actually save money over the year.

We've put the best summertime energy-saving tips we know—especially for people about to buy air conditioners—into a booklet called Saving Energy Dollars With Air Conditioning. It's yours free if you write to: Energy Information, P.O. Box 767, Chicago, Illinois 60690.

You'll find that saving energy and money is easier than you think. Just adjust.

A message for the Graduates

Best wishes to the graduates on their very special day. May all the good things in life be theirs as they step into their wider horizons that now await them. VILLAGE VIEW has not listed all the names of the many, many graduates as we tend to think in terms of high school and forget about the little "kindergarteners" that have graduated to 1st grade — the elementary grads that have left 8 years behind them — the high school grads that will leave their homes, towns and villages to go to various colleges all over the country. Last but surely not least, those grads who have completed college and may be coming back to where it all began.

The list of names would be prohibitive.

We do want them all to know that the persons, businesses and organizations on these pages of VILLAGE VIEW are very proud of all of them and wish them "Godspeed" in all of their future endeavors whether it is continuing on the higher education or going into the world of business.

MARRIAGE & FAMILY THERAPY

...living life as a total experience.

JOSEPH J. MCCARTHY, Ph.D.

One of the most frequently asked question's "How does Marriage and Family Therapy Actually Work?"

In most cases therapy begins with an interview during which husband and wife outline their problems and say why they are seeking help. At this session the therapist usually sets aside some time to gather information on each partner's personal and family background, and on the marriage. The more such facts a therapist knows, the better able he or she is to understand a couple's current situation and relationship.

In succeeding sessions the therapist and the couple explore specific issues and problems in the marriage. The main goal always is to seek out fundamental causes of tensions between the partners, and to help them find constructive and positive ways to deal with them. Now with a question from our readers:

Dear Dr McCarthy,

We have been married for six years. We have two children who are perfect angels. My husband is a good provider, a great father to the boys, and a handsome and loving man. All my friends tell me how lucky I am to have him, I guess I am, but I am very uncomfortable having any kind of sexual contact. This has been going on for almost a year and it is starting to cause small arguments to become big ones. How can I make our marriage better if I don't learn how to enjoy sex again?

/s/ J.H.C.
Palos Hills

Women frequently despair that they have little or no interest in sex, and their appeals for causes are just as frequently met with misinformation - the most common being that women have lower sexual drives than men do. That, of course, is absurd! Women do not have less intense or frequent desires than men, and they can indeed enjoy sex without pretending. Without understanding these facts, women may condemn themselves for some sort of supposed inadequacy and suffer the consequential anxiety and inhibitions.

The truth of the matter is that psychological, physical, and emotional factors can take their toll on anyone's sex drive. And alcohol, medications, and drugs can produce a lack of desire in either partner. Further, we need to recognize that freedom to express any anxiety or discomfort which can impede comfortable sexual arousal and release is necessary. So is providing opportunities to express concerns about getting pregnant, contraception, and fear of painful or unfulfilling intercourse. Moral values, along with the anticipation of sexual failure, are important for worrying about being unable to please, inability to climax (have an orgasm) or being unable to meet one's partners sexual expectations can lead to anxiety, discomfort and lack of interest in sex.

Perhaps one of the greatest motivators of disinterest in sex is being pressured for time. Because we are too busy, too tired, or too anxious, sex often gets pushed onto the back burner to be enjoyed "later". Another aspect which can affect sexual functioning is unresolved anger, certainly an anti-erotic emotion, be it conscious or unconscious, immediate or long-standing.

In essence, a common cause of sexual disinterest may be something as basic as lack of communication which has resulted in resented "giving in" becoming routine. If you will first be examined by your physician for physical problems and if none are found, be assured that, being human, the reason is probably only human and is certainly reversible.

News Information Supervisor
Commonwealth Edison Co.

One of the questions most frequently asked of Commonwealth Edison's News Information Dept. or the company's Speakers Bureau is, "Can a major blackout occur in Chicago or northern Illinois?" It's certainly a logical question, since blackouts have occurred in many diverse areas of the country over the years, often with devastating effects.

The likelihood of a blackout happening in the Chicago area is extremely remote, due principally to the strength of Edison's transmission interties with neighboring utilities. The company belongs to the Mid-America Interpool Network (MAIN), a group of 16 interconnected utility systems in Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri and Upper Michigan with a combined electric power capacity of more than 40 million kilowatts.

The high capacity transmission lines that bind MAIN systems to each other are the arteries that help keep the lifeblood of electric power flowing to homes, farms and businesses thruout the network's 170,000 square mile area. They are the superhighways over which large blocks of power can be wheeled to relieve local power emergencies. They also are the transportation, grid for routine power purchases or diversity exchanges which help members economize in supplying power, provide backup for maintenance programs and utilize energy producing facilities in the most efficient manner. Power exchanges are important in maintaining reliable service during emergencies -- when nature or an accident suddenly knock out important transmission lines, or when a generating unit unexpectedly is shut down, or when a prolonged hot spell builds up demand for heat relief devices.

In all, Edison has 28 high voltage transmission ties in all directions, including one 765,000-volt and 15 345,000-volt lines. If there is a problem or failure anywhere in the transmission or distribution network, these strong interconnections with Iowa utilities and with the American Electric Power System (AEP) to the east. In fact, MAIN is only one of nine regional networks covering the entire United States and part of Canada.

The hub of MAIN's day-to-day operations is the network's coordination center in Lombard. Here, personnel monitor network-wide power supply conditions on a continuing basis. Through a teletype communications system, twice-a-day reports are compiled and issued on the composite of expected power demands, generating capacity, reserves and scheduled power exchanges among members and outlying systems.

Thus, the principal reason why a major blackout has never occurred in the Chicago area or northern Illinois can be summed up in one four-letter word -- MAIN.

Somewhere in the village is the queen and her court

Oak Lawn has produced two Miss Illinois winners, and somewhere in the village is another. A good stepping stone to this event is the current contest to select a reigning Queen of Oak Lawn Fest, taking place in the village July 8, 9 and 10 in the "Heart of the Village".

This contest, the first held in conjunction with the Annual Fest, will take place along with opening ceremonies beginning at 5 pm on Friday the 8th, and a panel of judges is being selected to pick a winner.

The contest provides an excellent opportunity for village businesses and organizations to sponsor a contestant. The winner will preside over fest activities, and along with her court, which consists of the 4 runnerup positions, will lead the big parade on the following Sunday. In addition, the queen will receive cash and prizes valued at more than $1000.

Any female resident of Oak Lawn between the ages of 17 and 21, who has never been married is eligible to enter. She must submit 2 photographs, one a facial photo, and the second body length, in bathing suit or dress. No photographs of her in jeans or gown will be considered. Additionally, a written background of her current position, along with descriptive copy of weight, height, and physical measurements must accompany the photos.

Entry deadline is July 1. Entries are available at the Oak Lawn Village Hall, but a contestant may send in her entry separate from the form. Entry forms are also available at the Oak Lawn Chamber of Commerce. All entries must be sent or delivered to the Village Hall in care of: Queen Contest Oak Lawn Fest, c/o Commission of Special Events, Oak Lawn Village Hall, 2nd floor, 5252 W Dumke Drive, Oak Lawn, IL 60453. An entry fee of $25 must accompany all submitted material.

From those entering, 5 finalists will be selected and notified, along with instructions prior to public judging on the 8th. Contestants will be judged on personality, appearance and stage poise and presence. Public judging will be bathing suit and gown competition, along with a question and answer segment.

Already entrants sponsored by the Red Lobster and the Oak Lawn Lions Club denotes community interest in the contest.

To any young lady aspiring to become another Miss Illinois or even a Miss U.S.A., becoming

St Gerald's Julie Mueller is Art Fair contest winner

Although the drawing is not visible on the photograph, it was none-the-less winner in the graphic contest depicting the annual Oak Lawn Fest, run in conjunction with the Art Fair, as part of the big 3 day event being held July 8, 9 and 10.

The drawing has been reproduced, and is available, for students who wish to color it at the Oak Lawn Village Hall. They will also be available at the village booth during the Fest.

Meggan Trant named US Art Award winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced that Meggan Trant of Oak Lawn has been named a 1983 United States National Art Award winner.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American high school students. Meggan, who attends Mother McAuley High School was nominated for this award by art teacher, Mrs Donna Hughes.

Meggan's name will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally. The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy.

Announce opening of Farmer's Market

Oak Lawn will be holding its first Farmers' Market this summer and fall. There will be a wide variety of fruits and vegetables fresh from the farm and the orchards of Michigan. Mushrooms, gladiolas, honey and various plants will also be available to round out your seasonal shopping needs.

Each week will also feature the added attraction of characters like Garfield Goose, Brewster Rooster, Billy Bob Bear, and more.

The market will open on Wednesday, June 29 and continue thru October 19th (with the exception of July 6, when the market will be closed due to the Oak Lawn Food Fest). The hours will be from 7 am to 2 pm. The location of the market is on Wabash Avenue (approx 9600 South) between Cook and 52nd Avenue, across from the VFW parking lot.

Library Friends Book Sale

The Friends of the Oak Lawn Library will accept donations of paperback and hard cover books and magazines beginning this week for their 5th annual Book Sale to be held on June 22 thru 25. Members of the "Friends" may come Tuesday, June 21, 7 - 9 pm.

Mrs Dee Kopf will be in charge of this week-long project and needs volunteers to sort and classify the materials on Monday and Tuesday, June 20 and 21. Please call her at 422-0488 if you can spare an hour or two to help.

Books are to be brought to the library during regular working hours. Proceeds of previous book sales have provided video cassettes, and 8 mm and 16 mm projectors for circulation to library patrons, photographic equipment for the Local History room and the Fine Arts Department. This years sale will provide a Listening Center for the Children's Department.

At the recently held annual dinner of the Friends of the Friends of the Library the officers elected for the coming year were Dorothy Wolf, president; Dee Kopf, vice president; Dorothy Bergstrom, treasurer; and Jeanette Fowler, secretary. There is a need for a program chairman and a publicity chairman.

Queen of the Oak Lawn Fest is a popular portfolio stepping stone, and with less than 1 month remaining to enter, the commission urges all those interested to act immediately.

Community residents will find this a good way to kick off their attendance at the fest, where four large food tents, a market place of varied wares, continuous entertainment and a carnival will keep them active. Seeing an attractive young lady from the Oak Lawn Community become Queen of the Fest, is a good way to start off the fun filled weekend.

Youths dinner to honor hospitalized war vets

Mint, the perfect garnish, grows fast in a shady spot

Greek legend claims that Pluto, the lord of the Underworld, loved a nymph named Menthe. Pluto's wife, Persephone, was the last to find out, but when she did, she changed Menthe into a sweet smelling plant.

Menthe's lot was not too bad because she quickly became a favorite with the Greeks, the Romans — and now us, in the form of mint.

There are more than 20 varieties of mint, according to the Ortho garden book, "When the Good Cook Gardens," each with its own fragrance and flavor.

Favorites of this popular perennial include spearmint and peppermint, but there are other popular varieties, such as orange mint, which has the slight taste and smell of oranges, and apple mint, which is like spearmint, only more delicate.

"A Father's Day Prayer"

Build me a son, oh Lord, who will be strong enough to know when he is weak, and brave enough to face himself when he is afraid; a son who will be proud and unbending in honest defeat, yet humble and gentle in victory.

Build me a son who will know Thee: And that to know himself is the foundation stone of knowledge. Lead him, I pray, not in the path of ease and comfort, but under the stress and spur of difficulties and challenge. Here let him learn to stand alone in the storm. Here let him learn compassion for those who fail.

Build me a son whose heart will be free, whose goal will be high; a son who will master himself before he seeks to master other men. Let him learn to laugh, yet not forget how to weep. Let him reach into the future, yet not forget the past.

And after all these things are his, add, I pray, enough of a sense of humor so that he may always be serious, yet not take himself too seriously. Give him humility, so that he may always remember the simplicity of true greatness, the open mind of true wisdom, the meekness of true strength. Then, I, his father, will dare to whisper, I have not lived in vain.

Dog center recruiting canines

The Department of Defense Dog Center at Lackland AFB, Texas needs help recruiting canines to meet the government's needs.

The Armed Forces use dogs to stand watch at military bases and to search for contraband and explosives. Other federal agencies, such as the Secret Service and Federal Aviation Administration, have an ever-growing need for special dogs.

The dog center will pay up to $250 for dogs that pass physical and psychological evaluations. Dog recruits must pass aptitude tests, physical exams and vigorous training. Recruits that fail are returned to their owners at government expense or placed in private homes.

German Shepherds or variations of the breed are sought. The center also will evaluate breeds such as the Bouvier or Rottweiler.

Operation Able Job Fair

For the 4th consecutive year, WMAQ-TV/NBC, the Private Industry Council of Suburban Cook County and Operation ABLE are jointly sponsoring a JOB Fair for Workers Past Age 50, in cooperation with Triton College and the Oak Lawn Hilton Inn. There will be 5 fairs thruout the metropolitan area.

The objective of the Job Fairs is to bring together employers, senior employment counselors from 40 community-based centers, and employable men and women over 50 years old. These potential employees are returning to the work force, changing job focus or entering the market for the first time. The fair, which is free, offers them a unique opportunity to learn about current or future job prospects in a relaxed setting. They will be able to determine their own potential thru the guidance and workshops provided by the senior centers' job counselors at each fair. Employers, of course, have an excellent opportunity to recruit, if they choose. More than 200 employers will have representatives at the fair's 5 sites to discuss current or future job opportunities. Over the last 3 years some 15,000 older workers have been helped to find jobs.

Responsible for the basic organizing are the North-Northwest Area Job Development Committee, the Chicago Metropolitan Steering Committee, the West Suburban Job Fair Coordinating Committee, the Southwest Suburban Job Fair Planning Committee and the South Suburban Council on the Aging.

The following sites will host the Job Fairs on Tuesday, June 21 from 9 am - 1 pm. The Holiday Inn-Holidome, Skokie; Bismarck Hotel, Chicago; Triton College, River Grove; Hilton Inn, Oak Lawn; and the Holiday Inn, Harvey.

Mark your calendar for Oak Lawn Food Fest

Happiness is shown on the faces of Oak Lawn Fest Commissioners Lenore Colson, Sharyn Guerin and Shirley Pierce - all members of the Special Events Commission. The reason for this elation? The last spot in the four food booths has just been filled making Oak Lawn Fest '83 even bigger than last year.

Ethnic food will be served including seafood, brats and kraut, ribs and chicken, Polish and Italian sausages, Greek pastries, corn and watermelon, ice cream and many, many more. Beer, wine and soft drinks will also be available in all the tents.

Be sure to mark your calendar for Oak Lawn Fest '83 July 8, 9 and 10. There will also be continuous entertainment thruout the fest and a spectacular parade on Sunday. Make this a community affair and join in the fun!

Announces candidacy

Circuit Court Clerk Morgan M. Finley has announced that he will run for re-election in 1984.

He made the announcement recently at a fundraising cocktail party at the Midland Hotel.

Finley has been Clerk since 1974 when he was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Matthew J. Danaher. He was elected to 4 year terms in 1976 and 1980.

"These are frustrating and confusing times for the Democratic Party," Finley said in making his announcement. "The old rules that an elected official who has done a good job can expect the continued support of his party seem to have disappeared.

"To ensure that no one is confused about my intentions, I decided to announce my candidacy now, 11 months prior to the primary Morgan M. Finley elections.

"I am proud of the way this office has been conducted. I am proud to be a Democrat. I have always supported the Democratic Party and I expect it will continue to support me."

Finley, 57, is the Democratic Committeeman of Lyons Township. He and his wife, Betty, live in Burr Ridge.

GOP Republicans elect new officers

At recent concurrent meetings of the Evergreen Park Regular Republican Organization and the Original Republican Club of Evergreen Park, both the oldest and only official state-chartered Regular Republican groups in Evergreen Park, operating as such for the past several decades, the following line officers were unanimously elected to both for year ending June, 1984: Geoffrey Layhe, President; Robert J. Pechousek, Vice-President; Ferdinand J. Bronzell, Secretary; Richard DeBoer, Treasurer; and Walter Gajewski, Sgt-at-Arms. In addition, Village Clerk Hamilton B. Maher, Raymond J. Mosiej and Robert Telander were elected as Directors for 3 year terms ending June 30, 1986.

The first meeting of the new fiscal year will be held Wednesday, September 7 at the Village Community Center, 3450 W 97th Street at 8 pm with the newly elected Geoffrey Layhe presiding.

Update of programs and plans previously announced, or in the making, in connection with general elections will be considered, especially in view of the new Legislative Districts in Evergreen Park and in Worth Township. All residents not now registered at their present address for voting are urged to do so at the Village Clerk's Office, 9418 Kedzie Avenue in order to qualify for voting privileges in all elections as they occur. Hours 9 am to 5 pm daily except Wednesday and Saturday until noon only. Advice to all is not to wait until the "last ditch" day available when other important business or events prevent appearance.

Bridging the gap - ageless friendships

"I waited for those letters every week."

"I was kind of scared at first, but I was looking forward to meeting my pen pal."

The pen pals are students at Rosa Parks Middle School in Dixmoor and senior citizens at the South Suburban Council on Aging Senior Center in Harvey. Both groups participated in a unique, intergenerational program sponsored by the Cook County Sheriff's Youth Services Department and partially funded by the Suburban Cook County Area Agency on Aging.

The month long pilot program was developed to diminish the negative stereotypes and alienation between younger and older people and to build alliances and caring relationships across generations.

The results were extremely positive.

Groups interested in developing an intergenerational program can receive educational materials and expert advice from the Cook County Sheriff's Youth Services Department (865-2900).

Hearing Aid measure moves toward passage

One of the most significant pieces of legislation to benefit to the state's senior citizens cleared another hurdle in the General Assembly on Wednesday, June 1, according to a chief proponent of the bill, Attorney General Neil Hartigan.

The proposed Hearing Aid Consumer Protection Act (HB 1121), part of Hartigan's legislative package this session, was approved by the Senate Executive Committee. The measure, which provides for stringent regulation of hearing aid sales in Illinois, is under Senate consideration after earlier passing the House of Representatives. Rep John Dunn of Decatur introduced the bill and guided it thru the House; Senator Robert Egan of Chicago, Chairman of the Executive Committee, is the lead Senate sponsor.

The legislation is designed to combat the few disreputable hearing aid dispensers who take advantage of the fact that Illinois presently does not regulate the business, Hartigan pointed out. The respected Illinois Society of Hearing Aid Specialists, representing legitimate business interests, strongly supports the measure.

The Hearing Aid Consumer Protection Act provides that the State Department of Registration & Education must certify hearing aid dispensers, based on exams and continuing education requirements. Certain conditions and disclosures at the time of sale are required, and deceptive sales practices are banned.

A Hearing Aid Consumer Protection Board is established to police violations. Up to $50,000 in civil penalties may be sought by the Attorney General or the Registration and Education Department, under the Consumer Fraud and Deceptive Practices Act.

style on a 2 hour riverboat cruise aboard the paddleboat, "The Betsy Ann", which will cruise along the city's lakefront. (The Betsy Ann was on TV's "Real People", signifying the opening of Chicagofest last year.)

Women's group committee report

The Third District Women's Advisory Group met recently in Oak Lawn to present to Congressman Marty Russo (D-3) their final committee report - An Agenda for Women.

The membership of over 100 area women has met in committee numerous times thruout the year to review existing legislation, to study and discuss pending legislation and, finally, to make their recommendations to the Congressman.

Speaking to the gathering, Dorothea Hoch, Moderator of the group and Russo staff member, said, "The comradeship and the sharing of ideas which has evolved thru our committee meetings has convinced us these are not the worst of times as long as we continue to work together."

Speaking for the Peace Committee, Nancy Taylor urged the Congressman to support House Resolution 15 to establish a Select Committee on Hunger and H.R. 1249 which would establish a Peace Academy.

Nadine Filipiak, addressed the problems of unemployment and urged support for a second job creation program (Phase II - H.R. 1036).

Rosemary Burgess, speaking for the Social Security Committee, reported that the Department of Health and Human Services has been mandated to furnish a report to Congress by 1984 which would call for changes in the system whereby a married couple's income would be computed under new rules, giving each an equal share.

Carol Baulos, speaking for the Rape/Child Abuse/Domestic Violence Committee, stated, "We would like to see passage of a Federal Domestic Violence Act. We would like to see federally mandated compliance with volunteer Rape Advocacy by private hospitals thruout the nation."

Carol Cerniuk, noting that 60% of Pell Grant recipients in 1982 were women, urged support for educational funds and expressed appreciation for Russo's concern and interest in all vital matters of education.

Susan Zaczek, representing the Health Committee, reported that the Medicaid program must be made more cost effective while remaining a humane program that provides adequate care for the disadvantaged and the elderly.

Congressman Russo thanked all the members of the Women's Advisory Group for their involvement and interest and said he would take all their recommendations under consideration. He participated in a question and answer period covering topics including Central America, the MX Missile, flat tax rate, 10% withholding and Social Security.

Senior package passes

A package of legislation sponsored by House Democrats to give senior citizens tax relief, pharmaceutical assistance, home-based care and a living will Tuesday passed the Illinois House according to State Representative Harry "Bus" Yourell (D-Oak Lawn).

"This is a comprehensive package designed to help seniors who live on fixed incomes to be self-sufficient and to live with dignity and pride," said Yourell who co-sponsored the package.

Among the provisions included in the Democratic package are:

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION — Raises the exemption for persons 65 years or older from $1500 to $2000, thus giving additional property tax relief (House Bill 24);

PHARMACEUTICAL ASSISTANCE — Allows seniors who receive circuit breaker benefits to take part of their benefits as assistance on their pharmaceutical purchases (House Bill 424);

ALTERNATE NURSING CARE — Directs the state to establish guidelines for non-institutional services to help keep seniors out of nursing homes (House Bill 1490); and

LIVING WILL — Allows the terminally ill to authorize discontinuance of medical treatment.

"Government should not drive seniors out of their homes and into sterile nursing homes," Yourell said. "We should encourage programs that will help seniors to take care of themselves, in their own homes, where they can be near their families and friends."

IHR for Brother Rice Tim Moran

A total of 332 Illinois schools and some 28,000 students participated in this exam and Tim was one of the top 20 scorers in the state. He was invited to compete further and sat for the American Invitational Math Exam which was offered to those students with scores of 95 or above on the AHSME. Tim's score was 116.

Placed on the Illinois Merit Roll as a result of the AHSME was Thomas Kosinski, a Brother Rice sophomore from Chicago.

Rice varsity bowlers named '83 Catholic League Champs

Phil Nowak had the league high series of 698 and high game of 268. The team bowled high individual games of 1057 for five men. Rich Wozniak was an All-Catholic First Team selection.

With a little superstition and a lot of talent, the Brother Rice Varsity Bowling Team continued in its championship tradition by winning another Catholic League crown.

When Brother Rice bowling coach, Joe Johnston, was asked why the team doesn't wear bowling shirts, he said,

"Sixteen years ago, when I took over the bowling team, they had team shirts and the worst record in the Catholic league. We voted to eliminate the shirts and since then we have won 15 Catholic championships. When our athletic director, Mr Kellogg, offered us shirts, we said, 'no thanks' - we will never wear matching shirts as long as I am coach."

In 19 years of competition, the Brother Rice bowling teams - both varsity and junior varsity - have won 26 south section championships and 9 Catholic League championships.

Mike Steinbach, a graduate of 1976, is on the pro-bowlers tour and has appeared on national television.
